How to follow a hematinic sale with repeat business

One way is to recommend Zentinic, a hematinic that provides results. It contains recognized important hematinic factors needed to treat iron deficiency as well as certain nutritional deficiencies of the B complex—factors like 100 mg. of iron as well-tolerated ferrous fumarate. Zentinic also has a generous 200 mg. of vitamin C, an essential nutrient in its own right that gives further assurance of the absorption of iron. A safe quantity of folic acid has been added to the formula to provide the beneficial effect of this blood-building vitamin. Finally, the other B complex vitamins are included for normal red-blood-cell formation and general nutritional support. In total, a comprehensive array of antianemia factors. And because they work in anemia, your customers come back for more.

THE ORIGINAL PIGGY-BACK CHILDREN'S VITAMINS

(Over 2 Million Sold; Still Going Strong)

Others seem to like the piggy-back idea too. (We've seen quite a few of them around recently). The point is, our Bonus Pack is just one of the ways Abbott is working to make Vi-Daylin® a real volume item for you. Others:

1. Meaningful consumer premiums. (Have you seen our beautiful National Heritage map?)
2. Large-scale taste studies. (Vi-Daylin was decisively preferred over the six other leading products).
3. Up to 52% profit on volume buys.
4. Handsome and compact floor and counter displays.
5. A potency-guaranteed product that doesn't go musty in the bottle. (Credit our double-coating process).

Vi-Daylin has long been a leader in children's vitamins. In the pharmacy. And in the physician's office. A natural for your store.

POLITICAL MEDICINE IS POOR MEDICINE

The political climate in Washington indicates that some sort of government-financed national medical care plan may be inaugurated this year. The form and substance of the proposals, still under discussion, are of vital interest to Pharmacy.

During the legislative discussions on "Medicare" in 1964, the NCPA registered its opposition to the proposal to link-up national medical care to the social security system. In expressing its opposition to North Carolina Congressmen, the NCPA offered what it felt to be a better solution to the problem of medical care for the over 65 group—support of the Kerr-Mills Bill, which provides broader coverage than the '64 federal plan, with control at the state and county level.

In recent weeks a proposal to underwrite the cost of a federal health program with a special tax has gained support from some key political leaders who previously opposed a tie-in with the social security system. Whether this proposal or other variations are passed by the present Congress, Pharmacy and all pharmacists need to keep themselves fully informed and express themselves to their Congressmen as the legislation is considered in committee and debated by House and Senate.

Some of the proponents of federal health legislation assert that only a minor segment of the public will be affected; that the free enterprise system will continue in operation in the health field. Initially, this may be the case, but where such systems have been established elsewhere, the pattern is more, not less, government control. In some cases, total control.

So what we see looming over the horizon for the practice of Pharmacy—to isolate the specific phase of medical care with which we are most familiar—is (1) relatively little effect to begin with; (2) stepped up controls, including formularies and price policies; and finally (3) complete dictation in regard to how, when and where you practice your profession. This is an excessive, unnecessary, price to pay for so-called "better medical care for the aged."

Political medicine is poor medicine. As a vote-catching device, it has its points. But as an answer to medical care for the aged and the not-so aged, the public deserves something better.

Steve Roberts New Owner of BM Drug

Stephen Roberts has assumed ownership and management of the Black Mountain Drug Company. For the past 35 years the pharmacy has been operated by Carter Uzzell.

Roberts in a '57 graduate of the UNC School of Pharmacy. After a year of employment in Mars Hills, he accepted a position in Black Mountain about six years ago with the Key City Pharmacy. He continued as pharmacist with this firm until assuming control of the Black Mountain Drug Company.

Duvall Opens New Pharmacy

Clyde Duvall has opened a new pharmacy in Brevard. It is located on North Broad Street adjacent to the Winn-Dixie Supermarket and across from Brevard College.

During the grand opening on December 17, a number of valuable prizes were given away.

Full Circle for Dinsmore Crawford

In 1922 Dinsmore Crawford went to work for the Black Mountain Drug Company—the present location of Key City Pharmacy, Black Mountain.

After a 32-year association with W. A. Ward in Swannanoa and his son, Wilbur, Dinsmore has returned to the Key City Pharmacy after a lapse of more than four decades. Ownership and the name of the pharmacy are different but the location is the same.

Mr. Crawford has been a resident of Black Mountain since 1919. His recent shift in employment came after the two Ward stores were sold.

Rx for M.D.-R.Ph. Understanding

By WILLIAM J. McAULIFFE, JR.

It is indeed a pleasure to be here to address this Annual Joint Meeting of Physicians and Pharmacists in North Carolina.

Across the country there is an increasing interest in joint meetings of this nature. A few days ago I saw a notice of the first joint meeting of physicians and pharmacists in Wayne County, Detroit, to be held on November 2. They were scheduled to discuss the prescription problem. Donovan Ward, M.D., President of the American Medical Association, gave an address entitled "Vital Interprofessional Relations" at the 66th Annual Convention of the National Association of Retail Druggists on October 6, 1964, in San Francisco. On August 5, 1964, the late Norman Welch, M.D., President of the American Medical Association, gave a talk entitled "Unity and Professionalism" at the Annual Meeting of the American Pharmaceutical Association in New York City.

In March of this year the Joint Commission on Medicine and Pharmacy, which is made up of representatives of the American Pharmaceutical Association, the Association of Retail Druggists, and the American Medical Association, sponsored the first National Congress on Medicine and Pharmacy in Chicago. The purpose of this meeting was to examine our mutual problems reasonably and logically. If any of you were there, you will recall the frank and lively discussions which took place. The Congress speakers and panelists dealt with a variety of subjects, such as interprofessional relations, ethics and the law, physician owned pharmacies, prescription renewals, legislation affecting medicine and pharmacy, the economics of health care and numerous other activities of mutual interest.

One of the major purposes of the Congress was to promote practical action at the grass roots level. It was hoped by all concerned that the ideas and mechanisms discussed at the national meeting would filter down to the states and localities.

While some states have made good progress in establishing liaison mechanisms and speaker exchanges between the medical, pharmaceutical, and retail druggists associations, facts presented to the Congress showed that we have much to do in that area. What we need and what we should aim for is an active, effective liaison program in every state and in every sizeable country or metropolitan area.

MR. McAULIFFE IS DIRECTOR OF THE DEPARTMENT OF MEDICAL ETHICS OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

The Joint Commission on Medicine and Pharmacy can provide leadership and guidance on the national level, but maximum results can be achieved only through state and local cooperation. Since the Congress was held last March, there have been definite and tangible results. At least ten state medical associations are planning to hold similar medical-pharmacy conferences.

Physicians and pharmacists are two most important members of the medical team. It is essential for patients that the two professions get along with one another. By and large over the years they have enjoyed good relations.

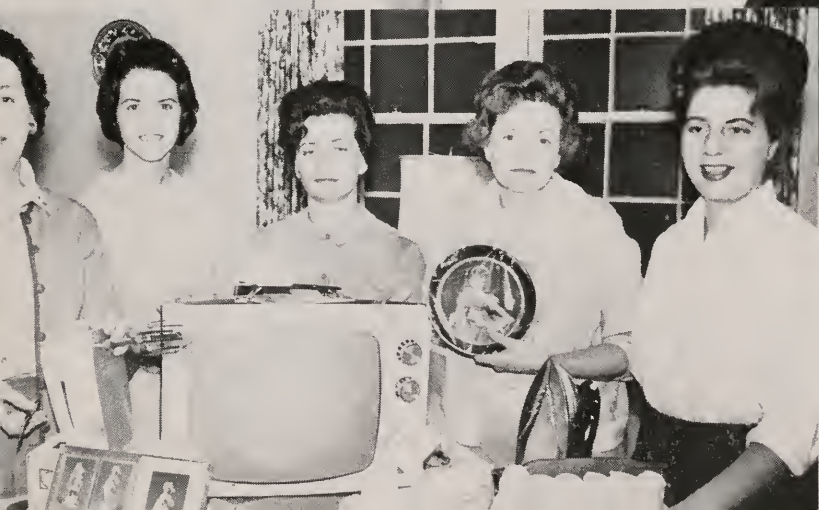

The AMA from its first year has been concerned with problems facing the pharmacists.

AMA policy is determined by its House of Delegates which is made up of delegates

$2,500 Scholarship to Helms

A $2,500 scholarship fund has been awarded to Oscar H. Helms of Charlotte, North Carolina.

Mr. Helms, a salesman for Warner-Chilcott Laboratories was one of eight men selected from around the country to receive a Bobst Scholarship Award in recognition of his professional and private achievements. Each award was in the form of a $2,500 scholarship fund for the children of the recipient.

The scholarships were instituted in 1960 by Elmer H. Bobst, board chairman of Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, parent organization of Warner-Chilcott.

Mr. Helms has been associated with Warner-Chilcott for eighteen years. In addition to his sales work, he has been deeply involved in benefit work for Shriner hospitals for crippled children. He also helps promote the annual Shrine Bowl football game.

He and his wife, Catherine, live at 3150 Windsor Drive with their two children.

THE AMA'S POSITION ON R_x BLANKS

The following letter is in general circulation among medical and pharmacy groups:

This is to advise you that the AMA's Judicial Council, meeting on September 26, 1964, adopted the following opinion:

"It is unethical for physicians to use prescription blanks with the name of the pharmacy printed thereon."

We will very much appreciate your assistance in eliminating this practice.

Sincerely yours,

American Medical Association

We assume the communication reproduced above has been or is being considered by the county/district medical societies of North Carolina (there are about 80 in this state).

Dr. John R. Ashe, Jr., Secretary of the Cabarrus County Medical Society, has mailed this communication to members of the Cabarrus organization:

Dear Dr. ———:

At the December meeting of the Cabarrus County Medical Society held in the Nurse's Auditorium, Cabarrus Memorial Hospital, December 3, 1964, a motion was made and passed unanimously that printed prescriptions with the name of a drug store upon them were unethical and could not be used by members of the Medical Society. This letter is being written to each member of the Medical Society so that they may do away with any such prescriptions in their possession.

The North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association is undertaking to establish local medical-pharmacy committees in cooperation with local-district-sectional medical and pharmacy groups throughout North Carolina. The initial phase of the program starts with the '65 officers of the medical societies. Mutual problems of interest to the two groups can best be discussed at the local level.

Schieffelin Plant Dedicated

The new Schieffelin and Company plant near Apex was dedicated in early December by Governor Sanford, members of the Schieffelin family and others.

The 60,000 square foot plant will manufacture pharmaceutical products for the skin and eyes and the Almay-Hypo-Allergenic cosmetic line. At the present time, 80 persons are employed in the Apex operation.

The company, founded in 1781, became Schieffelin in 1794 and has been managed by seven generations of the Schieffelin family in direct line from father to son, including the present chairman.

DISTRIBUTION—MENJ STYLE

This was labeled the "challenging and deceptive magic formula" by Arthur J. Pellegrino, sales manager of Menley & James Laboratories, in a talk to The Proprietary Association Small Volume Conference held recently in New York City.

Mr. Pellegrino, in discussing "Distribution—MenJ Style," said that pharmacists are the best qualified to dispense health products such as his company's Contac capsules. This decision was made before MenJ introduced the common cold and hay fever medication in the fall of 1961.

A former practicing pharmacist, Mr. Pellegrino added, "We, therefore, decided to confine the distribution of our product to drugstores. We did this in the face of overwhelming facts demonstrating that food stores and other non-drug outlets were capturing a larger and larger share of the cold market each year. Yet, we believed that the product should be sold through drug channels, and we formulated our marketing plans accordingly."

Contac capsules, 18 months after its introduction, became the largest selling cold preparation in dollar volume in the country.

MenJ also decided on a distribution policy of no direct accounts with independent pharmacies, according to Mr. Pellegrino.

"This policy of no direct accounts to independent pharmacists was quite contrary to the general practice in the proprietary business . . . and it resulted in early, strong selling support from our wholesalers, thereby helping us to achieve prompt and comprehensive distribution in drugstores throughout the United States," he said.

Mr. Pellegrino continued, "In turn, by communicating to the pharmacist our desire to confine our product to 'drug channels only' and to not sell to non-drug outlets, again contrary to the norm in the proprietary business, Contact obtained increased support from the community pharmacist in the form of preferential display and personal recommendation."

Citing the influence Contac capsules had on stopping the growing trend of cold medications being sold in non-drug outlets, which was reversed for the first time in marketing history, Mr. Pellegrino said that MenJ also brought more proprietary cold business back to drug wholesaler.

"Most of our major competitors in the cold business did not sell the bulk of their products through the drug wholesaler," he said. "Since Contac has become the number one seller, the drug wholesaler, too, has captured a lot of lost business. As a result, we expect and usually receive maximum wholesaler support for our line."

Menley & James is among the top 10 profit-making companies handled by drug wholesalers.

Mr. Pellegrino concluded his speech by saying, "Yes, we broke the rules. But we are firmly convinced that marketing rules like sales records are made to be broken and improved. Leadership comes to the intelligent, daring and creative innovator."

Diet-Conscious Customer

A diet-conscious customer of Mauney's Drug Store, Murphy, is reported to have requested the addition of two scoops of ice cream to her Metraeal milk shake and while waiting for the diet drink, ate a moon pie and two fig bars. It's those companion sales which build volume, weight-wise and dollar-wise.

"I have enrolled in a Dale Carnegie course in public speaking and human relations, and, since I am required to make a minimum of two speeches each week, my idea is to try and make several talks on our profession—at least the better side.

"So, if you have some material that will help—any prepared talks which I can revise—your cooperation will be appreciated.

"It seems that we pharmacists never contact you except when in need of help. But we do appreciate what you are doing."

from the state societies. Each state society is allowed one delegate for every one thousand AMA members in that state.

A review of the actions of the House of Delegates clearly demonstrates the AMA's interest in the problems of pharmacists.

In 1847—its first year as an organization—the House of Delegates of the AMA adopted a resolution calling upon the AMA's Committee on Education to inquire into the expediency of establishing a school or school of pharmacy in the respective states, for the special purpose of preparing persons for the business of apothecaries.

In 1850 the House adopted a resolution which expressed satisfaction that drugstores had been established in which neither patent remedies, nostrums nor other articles by which the artful and designing impose on the ignorant and credulous, are exposed for sale.

In 1870 the House approved appointment of a committee to report on means "to prevent the renewal of prescriptions by druggists without the consent of the physician ordering said prescription."

In 1872 the House approved appointment of a "committee on the relations between physicians and druggists."

In 1911 the House concurred in recommendations:

(1) "That physicians shall, as far as possible, relegate to pharmacists the dispensing and limit themselves to the prescribing of medicines; also that pharmacists place themselves in position to act in co-operation with the medical profession by refraining from counter-prescribing and recommending medicines for self-medication whether prepared by themselves or not.

(2) "That pharmacists secure higher education.

(3) "That pharmacists and others make efforts to eliminate sale of nostrums.

(4) "That substitution of one product for another without the consent of the prescriber be not approved."

In 1917 the House approved the organization of pharmacists in the Army on the basis analogous to that of dentists, insuring them a definite status in the Army.

In 1921 Doctor Braisted, the President of the AMA, who was Surgeon General of the United States Navy, in his presidential address called attention to the necessity of establishing a closer relationship between the professions of medicine and pharmacy. He said that "This movement has been growing for some time. I have been visited by a number of delegations . . . composed of both professions and have been urged to endeavor to bring about a closer relationship between the two, as pharmacies should be one of the strongest aids in the practice of medicine."

The House of Delegates, when it considered Doctor Braisted's address, stated that it was most important that there be a closer association with the practice of medicine and pharmacy and "that every effort should be made to develop pharmacy as a profession contradistinction to the druggist"

Of historical interest is that Doctor Braisted was the only Surgeon General of the United States Navy ever elected to the Presidency of the Association.

Shortly after his term of office as President of the American Medical Association expired, he retired from the Medical Corps of the Navy with the rank of Rear Admiral and accepted an offer to become President of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science, which position he held until 1926.

Membership in the American Medical Association is available to pharmacists. Presently, the AMA's Bylaws require a pharmacist to be an active member of the American Pharmaceutical Association in order to obtain Affiliate Membership in the AMA. But I believe that this provision will be amended later this month to provide that pharmacists who are members of state and local pharmaceutical societies may obtain such membership in the AMA. Affiliate Members do not pay dues but enjoy the privileges of our Scientific Assembly without the right to vote or hold office. A number of pharmacists presently hold such membership in the AMA.

to improve liaison at the national, state, and local levels, the foundation of our joint efforts has to be professional cooperation between individual pharmacists and physicians in their home communities. This cooperation must arise from an atmosphere of mutual respect and sincere concern for the ideals of public service right in our home towns and neighborhoods.

Among other things, we have to do a better job of communicating with one another and explaining our viewpoints—especially on controversial issues such as physician ownership of drugstores.

It is my understanding that very few pharmacies in this state are owned by physicians. Nevertheless, I should like to explain the AMA's position on this matter because it is of concern to so many pharmacists and physicians across the country.

Section 7 of the AMA Principles of Medical Ethics provides that: "Drugs, remedies or appliances may be dispensed or supplied by the physician provided it is in the best interests of the patient." Under this language it is not unethical for a physician to own or operate a pharmacy provided there is no exploitation of his patients.

The Judicial Council of the AMA has said that this language was adopted to permit both the practicing physician and the local medical societies to evaluate the many situations incident to prescribing and dispensing which are bound to arise in the practice of medicine. Furthermore, the Council has said that under this flexible language, the doctor is permitted to exercise his own best judgment when caring for his patients.

There is nothing inherently wrong with the principle that a physician may own a pharmacy if he does not exploit the patient.

The Judicial Council of the AMA has indicated that a physician would be guilty of exploiting the patient if he:

- (1) Steered his patients to a pharmacy he owned;
- (2) Refused to issue copies of his prescriptions to his patients;
- (3) Prescribed by code known only to certain pharmacies;

(4) Maintained a direct telephone line to certain pharmacies;

(5) Overprescribed; or

(6) Used prescription blanks with the name of a pharmacy printed thereon.

In addition, the Council has ruled that it is unethical for a physician to rent space as a pharmacy on a percentage basis, rather, the rental should always be on a fixed basis.

The AMA firmly believes that just as the patient should have free choice of physician, so he should have free choice of pharmacy.

Any physician who exploits the patient through ownership of a pharmacy should be identified and effectively disciplined.

Doctor Donovan Ward, in his address to the National Association of Retail Druggists, stated that he would do all he could within the AMA to promote effective disciplinary action in this area.

In August of this year the Senate Subcommittee on Antitrust and Monopoly conducted six days of hearings on physician-owned pharmacies, drug repackaging companies, and drug manufacturing companies. This Committee was formerly headed by the late Senator Kefauver. It is now headed by Senator Philip A. Hart, a Democrat from Michigan. Incidentally, Senator Hart was re-elected on November 3.

Senator Hart announced at the beginning of the hearings that they were concerned with unfair trade practices and restraints of trade involving doctor-owned pharmacies, drug repackaging companies and drug manufacturing companies. Senator Hart characterized the patient as a captive consumer when he receives a prescription for a trade-name drug from a company in which the doctor has a financial interest and then is urged by the physician to use his pharmacy. Senator Hart announced that he was concerned about the abuses of monopoly power in the prescription field.

While the great bulk of the testimony was concerned with physician ownership of drug repackaging houses, there was some testimony directed to physician ownership of drugstores.

Doctor Apple, Executive Director of the American Pharmaceutical Association, and Substitution of SKF Products Brings License Suspension

The Pennsylvania Board of Pharmacy suspended the licenses of six pharmacists for ten days each after hearings on charges of substituting, without authorization, the products of other manufacturers for prescribed products of Smith Kline & French Laboratories.

Three pharmacists are from Philadelphia, two from Pittsburgh and one from Arnold.

The charges were filed by Smith Kline & French as part of its continuing campaign against substitution practices in the filling of prescription orders.

Mr. Harmon is a graduate in pharmacy of the University of North Carolina. Prior to locating in Hertford about three years ago, he worked in Washington, D. C. as a pharmacist.

Filto Pipe— The Sweetest Smoking Pipe

Filto Pipes, manufactured by Filto Pipes, Inc. of Burgaw, North Carolina, are gaining steady acceptance throughout the state.

The pipe, utilizing a unique type filter-cooler invented by R. L. Smith, retired officer of the Medical Service Corps, United States Navy, is available in (1) Natural Cob, (2) Native Wild Cherry, and (3) Exotic Briar.

Due to the extensive cooling capacity of the pipe supplemented by the filter-cooler which recirculates the smoke in a double U path, only cool, smooth, full flavored smoke comes through to the pipe user.

For a descriptive brochure of this North Carolina product, write the Filto Pipes, Inc., Burgaw, North Carolina 28425.

Mr. Throckmorton, General Counsel of the American Medical Association, testified on the last day of the hearings.

Doctor Apple pointed out to the Committee that back around 1852 the majority of pharmacies in this country were owned by physicians, that around 1940 physicians were doing quite a bit of dispensing, and that presently the trend is toward physician ownership of pharmacies. He concluded his remarks before the Committee by stating that he was confident that the problems involving physicians could be solved by the representatives of medicine and pharmacy.

Mr. Throckmorton informed the Committee of the past pronouncements of the House of Delegates and the Judicial Council in this area. He pointed out that in 1924 as a result of the decision of the Supreme Court in the Rexall case any person no matter how competent or incompetent or what his training is can hire a physician and exploit him contrary to the situation involving the lawyer, dentist or physician whose services can be sold only by another lawyer, dentist or physician. Thus he contended that of the many non-pharmacists who may own pharmacies, the physician should not be singled out and challenged because of such ownership.

Mr. Throckmorton pointed out that pharmacists seem to be split as to whether pharmacy should be a profession or a business. He said that there are some in pharmacy who want pharmacists to become true professional men—to work in apothecaries selling professional skills and services as does a lawyer or a doctor—but other pharmacists want the pharmacists to be a merchant who can be hired by anyone and put in a store to sell liquor, cosmetics and sundries.

Mr. Throckmorton stated to the Committee:

“The ownership of a pharmacy by a physician cannot in itself be equated with exploitation. The confidence and trust that the patient reposes in the doctor—to use his knowledge, his skill, his judgment in prescribing medicines, and his understanding of the patient’s financial problems—preclude a blanket charge of physician ownership of a pharmacy equals exploitation. There are exceptions to every rule; but the mere opportunity for personal gain, should not in itself condemn.”

Senator Hart read a printed statement immediately following Mr. Throckmorton’s presentation. I say this to point out that he had formulated his conclusions without the benefit of either Doctor Apple’s or Mr. Throckmorton’s remarks beyond their printed statements. Nevertheless, I believe that Senator Hart’s statement should be noted. He said in part:

“For six days we have listened to testimony on the possible ill effects of doctor-ownership of pharmacies and drug companies. We listened as impartially as possible, weighing the right of a doctor to invest his money where he pleases against the possible damage to his patient and competitors.

“Frankly, my conclusion is that if I could stop the practices I’ve heard described during these hearings as of this moment, I would do so.

“For, it seems to me, that there is no doubt that three groups of people suffer from doctor-ownership of these enterprises: the public, independent pharmacies and small drug enterprises and the vast majority of dedicated doctors in the United States. And, I think, that the degree of harm done each group increases in the order in which I named them.

“Clearly, a doctor’s participation in the ownership and profits of pharmacies and drug companies in his geographic area puts a financial decision in front of him each time he picks up a pen to write a prescription. We have heard arguments that ‘per se’ financial interests in these enterprises is not of itself bad. However, we have had detailed for us cases where it has been bad—for the patient and for competitors. Frankly, I must agree with the witness who wondered if the doctor intended no financial benefit from his prescriptions, why didn’t he invest in drug enterprises outside of his own area?

“Apparently there are doctors—and I emphasize that they are a tiny minority—who use monopoly prescription power, which was given by law to protect the patient, in order to exploit that patient, to damage independent businessmen and to enrich their own bank balance.

“The record is clear that if a doctor decides to allow his financial interest in a drug enterprise to influence his prescribing of medication that the independent druggist or company in his area cannot compete. No matter how good his service, his products or his prices, there is nothing he can do to retain or regain his business. While this problem, as was pointed out by the minority at the start of these hearings, is not as important as Vietnam, it is extremely important to the independent druggist or small company in the area affected whose very existence is threatened by the growth of these practices.

“It is to be assumed that once the advantages of doctor-ownership of these enterprises are demonstrated, the practice will grow until those who see this problem as minor today will beg for action on what has become a ‘major’ problem.”

“If nothing else, possibly these hearings will awaken the medical profession to the dangers involved for all by the selfish motives of a few. For our part, I shall forward the transcripts of these hearings to the Federal Trade Commission and the Justice Department for a determination of whether the practices involved violate existing antitrust laws.

“If not, we must determine whether reasonable legislation can be devised to halt these practices.”

At these hearings, both Mr. Throckmorton and Doctor Apple contended that the problem involving medicine and pharmacy can be handled by the two professions.

The best place to work on them is at the local level for individual physicians and pharmacists in an atmosphere of mutual respect and trust and with a sincere concern for the ideals of public service can solve their mutual problems.

Courts Drug Store in New Location

A Chapel Hill landmark for more than 60 years—Eubanks Drug Store—is no longer a part of the Chapel Hill scene. The familiar location on Chapel Hill's main street to countless thousands of University students has been taken over by the adjacent North Carolina National Bank (formerly Bank of Chapel Hill).

Eubanks Drug was purchased last year by Ben Courts and renamed the Courts Drug Store. When NCNB purchased the Eubanks Building, Mr. Courts moved the store next door to Kemp's Record Store, which now places the store close to the University campus—across from Graham Memorial.

Wrike Drug Reaches 1,000,000 Rx Point

Wrike Drug Store, Graham, filled its 1,000,000th prescription on October 17.

For presenting Rx #1,000,000, Mrs. Conway Robertson of Graham received a $50 savings bond.

Wrike Drug Store was established 40 years ago by the late Curtis Wrike. It is now managed by Larry McAllister, co-owner, with the assistance of Pharmacist C. Dale Thompson.

The Spotlight on Mrs. Gretz

The November 26 edition of The Western Carolina Tribune, published in Hendersonville, carried an interesting, illustrated sketch of Mrs. Margaret Gretz, president of the N. C. Society of Hospital Pharmacists and Chief Pharmacist at Hendersonville's Pardee Hospital.

Mrs. Gretz served as an apprentice pharmacist in Koenigsberg, Germany, and following marriage to George Gretz in 1935, came to this country in 1938. She is a graduate of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy.

A daughter, Susan, is a pharmacy student at Chapel Hill.

from the local-sectional pharmaceutical societies

Catawba County

The December 13 meeting of the Catawba County Pharmaceutical Association was held in Conover at Mackie's Restaurant.

Major business transacted at the meeting include

- (1) The Association voted to contribute copies of the pharmaceutical reference book—The Profession of Pharmacy—to all high schools of Catawba County.
- (2) All present officers of the Association were reelected. Charles Campbell of Maiden is secretary of the organization.

Gaston County

Members of the Gaston County Pharmaceutical Society, meeting in Bessemer City on November 19, heard a report on the N. C. Congress on Medicine and Pharmacy by two members who attended the meeting—Jack Friday and Fred Moss, Sr.

Business transacted included a decision to contribute a copy of "The Profession of Pharmacy" to all high school and public libraries of the county; to actively participate in "Career Days" or similar programs sponsored by the high schools; discussed the Kerr-Mills Rx Program; and decided to schedule an interprofessional Dentistry/Pharmacy meeting in early 1965.

Wake County

A detailed explanation of the just-inaugurated state-wide welfare prescription program was the major topic of discussion at the January 5 meeting of the Wake County Pharmaceutical Society.

The meeting, held at the Neuseola Club House near Raleigh, was conducted by Herman S. (Pete) Barbrey, president.

The main points of the programs were presented by W. J. Smith of Chapel Hill, who predicted a monthly volume of 80,000 prescriptions after the program had reached its potential. Some opposition to the program was expressed (the failure to take into account that some of the prices listed in Red Book are not wholesale prices) but in general, a majority of the members of the Wake group expressed a willingness to cooperate.

A suggestion that the Society actively work with the county medical society in establishing a Medical-Pharmacy Committee was approved. Several problems involving the distribution of drugs will be on the agenda for discussion in the event the joint committee is established.

Greensboro Drug Club

Members of The Greensboro Drug Club, at the organization's December meeting, were entertained by Miss Jeanne Flynn Swanner, Miss North Carolina of 1964.

The next meeting of the club will be on January 28. Walter W. Hendrix, Jr. is president.

Cabarrus County

H. C. McAllister, Secretary-Treasurer of the North Carolina Board of Pharmacy, was guest speaker at the January 6 meeting of the Cabarrus County Pharmaceutical Society, held in Concord at the Hotel Concord.

The major theme of Mr. McAllister's talk was reclassification of drugs as presently advocated by the American Pharmaceutical Association.

Methods for obtaining stronger membership support at the local, state and national levels were discussed. The Society also completed plans for distribution of the book, The Profession of Pharmacy, to all high school libraries of the county. Where possible, career talks on pharmacy will be made in connection with the book presentations.

Office Nurse or Attendant Prohibited from Compounding and Dispensing Drugs

The State Medical Society Committee Liaison to the N. C. Pharmacy Association wishes to call to the attention of the Society membership the fact that the North Carolina Pharmacy Law prohibits a nurse or office attendant from compounding and dispensing or selling at retail drugs or medicines.

Among other things, G. S. 90-71 makes it unlawful for any person not licensed as a pharmacist or assistant pharmacist to compound, dispense or sell at retail any drug, medicine, or pharmaceutical preparation either upon the prescription of a physician or otherwise. This section, does however, go on to exempt the legally registered practitioner of medicine in the "compounding of his own prescriptions."

Particularly called to your attention, by the Committee, is the opinion of the Attorney General's office that his exemption applies only to the physician himself and therefore the office nurse or attendant would not be permitted to compound, dispense, or to sell at retail drugs, or medicines as an aid to the physician under his supervision or otherwise.

This does not mean, however that the Statute would in any way interfere with the nurse or attendant administering drugs to the physician's patient, which activities may be properly delegated by the physician under his supervision.

UNC PHARMACY SCHOOL NOTES

The County Chairman plan for soliciting contributions to the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Research Foundation for the benefit of the School of Pharmacy was successful again. This note will serve as a reminder to those pharmacists who did not give or send their checks because a number are always received when thoughts are turned to income tax reports at this time of the year. Contributions are deductible, and the foundation's fiscal year does not end until February 28.

Warmest congratulations are expressed here for the initiation of Alice Noble, Research Historian to the Order of Valkyries, highest women's honorary society at the University of North Carolina, on November 24. This news was received too late for this column last month but was carried elsewhere in the December issue of the CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY.

Two graduate students passed their preliminary oral examinations for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy: Edward D. Sumner on December 2 and Robert Milton Morris on December 7.

The N. C. Pharmaceutical Research Foundation was represented by President F. J. Andrews of Chapel Hill and Dean E. A.

Brecht at the meeting of all foundations supporting the University of North Carolina in the Morehead Planetarium on November 21.

Dean Brecht gave the after dinner speech at the dinner-dance meeting of the Greensboro Drug Club Auxiliary held at the Country Club on November 24. The title, "Facets of Pharmacy," gave ample latitude for a discussion on recent decisions by the Food and Drug Administration.

Dean H. G. Hewitt of the University of Connecticut and Dean George L. Webster of the University of Illinois were visitors at the School of Pharmacy on November 30 and December 1 as consultants in pharmaceutical education.

Miss Alice Noble attended the meetings of the North Carolina Society for the Preservation of Antiquities and the N. C. Literary and Historical Association in Raleigh on December 3 and 4.

Dr. J. C. Kellett, Jr., Assistant Professor of Pharmaceutical Chemistry served as a scientific advisory panelist for the National Science Foundation in San Francisco on December 3 and 4. The panel was concerned with evaluating proposals from various institutions for undergraduate research participation grants.

The Dedication of the new manufacturing plant of Schieffelin & Co. at Apex on December 5 was attended by Professors J. L. Brannon, E. A. Brecht, A. W. Jowdy, and Herman O. Thompson and senior students Ragan Harper, Larry Paul, Downey Purcell, and Sam Sehorn. The plant was impressive for its newness, largeness, and wide variety of products manufactured.

"Twentieth Century First Aid" was the subject of a program presented by Dean Brecht over WUNC-TV on December 8 in the Science and Nature series. Considerable liveliness was added to the program by three students from Alpha Phi Omega, the honorary fraternity composed of former boy scouts, who presented skits on dangerous accident situations.

Pharmacy Senate

By LARRY WARREN

The Pharmacy Senate held its third meeting on November 19. Dr. Margaret Shaw was the faculty guest. Jerry Devereux was program chairman and introduced Mary Lou Johnson who spoke on "The Evils of Medicare," Marilyn Hogsed, who spoke on "The Role of the Woman in Pharmacy," and Solon Minton who spoke on "The Preceptor Program."

Kappa Epsilon

The girls of Kappa Epsilon sang carols at the homes of the pharmacy faculty on December 16. By previous arrangement, they were served refreshments at the home of Professor and Mrs. Jack K. Wier after beginning the evening with a dinner at the home of Dr. Margaret Shaw, faculty adviser.

Kappa Psi

The annual Christmas party honoring members of the faculty was held on December 17.

Phi Delta Chi

By LARRY WARREN

The Brothers and pledges of Phi Delta Chi have had a very busy semester since returning to school. We began with an improvement of the house program. We feel the house is in the best order than has ever been. Some of the improvements include a new coat of paint for the front porch and a new rug.

Congratulations are in order for John Kennedy, Bob Lowe, and Jim Owens who were married this summer.

We are all proud to announce that Alpha Gamma chapter is one of the top ten tied for first place Achievement Award on the National Standing. This is a very important award, and we hope to continue in first place.

Historical Note

By ALICE NOBLE, Research Historian

North Carolina is manifesting a heart warming interest and enthusiasm in its history. I attended the meetings of the state historical societies in Raleigh in December and it was thrilling to hear of all that is being accomplished toward the preservation of valuable records and historic sites. Shortly after I came home a friend lent me twenty-five or more back issues of the State magazine and I have been poring over them ever since. Almost every issue has some mention of early medical care and so-called medicinal plants used as drugs long ago. I quote a few paragraphs which have caught my eye.

"North Carolina had a medicare bill a long time ago. During the Indian wars the Assembly passed a bill for relief of settlers who were wounded and unable to pay for treatment. They were authorized to certify to the facts, physicians were authorized to accept the certificates, extend treatment, and turn the certificates in for payment of taxes."

"Medicine was made by each family from the material at hand—from herbs, roots, barks, etc. Especially favored as cures were whiskey and brandy."

The American Indians knew the therapeutic uses of many plants. Several of these remedies were associated with conjuring, but some of them must have been effective. The State columnist remarks that snake bites were not fatal to Indians.

A great many questions and answers in the magazine were concerned with yaupon. "Almost every medicinal virtue imaginable has been attributed to this shrub since it was first reported, but the Indians seemed to have used it mostly to induce vomiting after a big meal. It was used by white coastlanders as a stimulant, a 'tonic,' and almost invariably given by midwives to their patients. It seems to have been one of those old native remedies 'good for whatever ails you.' As to its value, we cannot say.

"In later years yaupon was used as a beverage as a substitute for coffee or tea. Nowadays the drink has fallen into disrepute on the Outer Banks, because for some reason, it has become associated with poverty. At Kinnakeet, for example, 'yaupon tea drinker' is about as insulting an epithet as one can apply to a native and often leads to a fight . . . Some modern day romanticists have tried to revive the ancient drink revered by Indians and later by settlers. For a while the Carolinian Hotel at Nags Head served yaupon tea, and may still do so on occasion."

Since yaupon (American holly) grows so prolifically on our coast, it is readily available to any who want to attempt to make the tea. Since the brewing is a lot of trouble it is believed that few people will have the curiosity to try the experiment. Here is the recipe given in the September 26 issue of State:

"Cut the twigs that have the larger dark green leaves during the winter season. Chop these twigs and leaves together until the twigs are cut into small pieces and the leaves into about six pieces to the leaf. Heat ballast stones (they are plentiful on Ocracoke as vessels of sail arriving from the sea in the old days dropped their ballast before continuing to mainland river ports with their cargoes) red hot. Place a layer of the red hot stones in a barrel, then a layer of twigs and leaves to a depth of about eight inches. On top of the leaves and twigs another layer of stones heated red hot are placed, and so on until the quantity desired is in the barrel. A cover to make the barrel airtight as possible is placed and the stones are allowed to cool. The cured yaupon is then taken out of the barrel and packed into a sack which is hung in a dry place. To get the full flavor and body of the yaupon is to steep it, not as strong as coffee but darker than the regular Oriental tea. As an alternative when lacking the oldtime implements described above merely chop leaves and twigs as described and place in a roasting pan, heating same in the oven of a stove from 30 to 45 minutes until the leaves turn a rich brown."

Prescription Drug Service to Begin January 1

The State Board of Public Welfare's prescription drug service, including MAA (Kerr-Mills), is scheduled to be implemented, effective January 1, 1965. The most important feature of the service is that it provides legend drugs only; (those which by law require a physician's prescription). The legend drug only policy was adopted, to keep this service within monetary bounds, after consultation with a joint committee from the State Medical Society and the State Pharmaceutical Association. The consensus was that this policy will best meet the patients' needs, interfere least with medical practice and be less complex to administer than other limiting measures.

The physician might find it necessary to prescribe one legend drug and one non-legend drug. The program could pay for the former but not the latter. Physician, patient and pharmacist understanding of the limiting reasons will make for smoother operation.—Reprinted from the Public Relations Bulletin of the Medical Society of the State of North Carolina, December 1964.

Raleigh

The Raleigh Woman's Drug Club sponsored its annual bridge and canasta benefit party at the North Hills Club on November 13th.

The morning session played from 10:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. and the evening session began playing at 8:00 p.m. High score prizes were awarded at each table and in addition there were many door prizes, some of which included a portable television set, portable mixer, steam and dry iron, electric percolator, and electric drill set, etc.

Coffee and doughnuts were provided free of charge in the morning and refreshments were also served at the evening session. There were 88 guests playing at the morning party and 168 at the evening party. The benefit party netted the club a total of $220 which will be used for charitable purposes.

The committee for the benefit was composed of Mrs. John Dixon, Chairman; Mrs. J. C. Warren, Co-Chairman; Mrs. L. D. Morse; Mrs. H. G. Price.

Greensboro

The Greensboro Drug Club Auxiliary held its November meeting in the form of a buffet dinner-dance at the Greensboro Country Club, with sixty couples attending.

Dean E. A. Brecht of the School of Pharmacy at Chapel Hill, spoke on "Facts of Pharmacy."

In the receiving line and at the head table were Mrs. Donald C. Dowdy, Greensboro Auxiliary president, and Mr. Dowdy; Mrs. David W. Montgomery, vice-president, and Mr. Montgomery; Walter Hendrix, Jr., president of the Greensboro Drug Club, and Mrs. Hendrix; David D. Claytor, president of the Society of Pharmacists, and Mrs. Claytor; and Dean Brecht.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Harold King were special guests. Mr. King has been recipient of the Greensboro Auxiliary's scholarship for three years.

Mrs. Montgomery was dance chairman, and Mrs. W. P. Brewer was in charge of decorations.

Charlotte

The Charlotte Druggists Auxiliary met December 8th in the Kirkwood Room.

The revised By-Laws were read and after some additions were made, they were passed by a majority of the members.

Food was donated to a needy Negro family in Charlotte. Christmas gifts were exchanged between the Auxiliary members.

Due to the recent death of Mrs. C. H. Smith's mother, Mrs. Toby Steele substituted as program chairman and introduced two talented ladies of Charlotte, Mrs. Eleanor Ritterskamp and Mrs. Marjorie Nyman. Mrs. Ritterskamp, a member of the Charlotte Opera Association, briefly told some historic facts which she had gathered of Christmas music popular in various countries around the world, and then sang them in her lilt-ing soprano voice. Mrs. Nyman, dressed in a brilliant Mexican costume, pretended to be a 12-year-old girl. She narrated the customs of a Mexican tribe in the southernmost part of that Country where she and her husband worked for some years as part of the Wycliff Bible Translation Society.

After enjoying a traditional holiday meal of turkey and the trimmings, the meeting was adjourned.

Durham

Early in December the Mortar and Pestle Club of Durham was joined by the Chapel Hill Pharmaceutical Auxiliary for a program entitled "Holiday Ideas for Your Home" presented by Miss Judy Steadman, home service advisor of Duke Power Company.

While showing holiday door pieces, wall hangings, table arrangements, gifts and gift wrappings, Miss Steadman told how each one could be made. She also described and exhibited various holiday foods. Following her presentation refreshments made by some of the suggested recipes were served.

The December 14th meeting of the Mortar and Pestle Club was held at the home of Mrs. Ralph P. Rogers, Jr. and was in the form of a Christmas party. Christmas greenery and red candles were used throughout the home for decorations. Featured in the entry was a Nativity Scene, the Figures of which were hand carved of olive wood.

While appropriate recorded music was played, Mrs. Ralph P. Rogers, Sr. gave several inspirational Christmas readings.

Mrs. Ben Bullock, president, presided over the brief business meeting which followed the program. Receipts from a recent bake sale were announced. It was voted to send a contribution to the Salvation Army Christmas Fund.

High Point

Mrs. George Markham, State Auxiliary President, was special guest when the High Point Pharmaceutical Auxiliary met in Thomasville at the home of Mrs. Hubert Coffee.

Another special guest for the evening was Mrs. William Shoemaker of Leaksville, a Thomasville native and former member of the Auxiliary.

Following a 7 o'clock dinner, Mrs. A. A. Koonts presented a devotional program.

Mrs. Terry Pickett, High Point Auxiliary president, introduced Mrs. Markham who spoke on the work being done by other pharmaceutical auxiliaries throughout the state.

The Coffee home was decorated throughout for the Christmas season. The living room and dining room were decorated in avocado green and gold; the lower and upper entrance halls in red and gold; and the family room and playroom in the traditional Christmas colors.

Cabarrus County

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Cabarrus County Pharmaceutical Society held its November meeting at the home of Mrs. Ralph Stevenson, Concord. Mrs. Harry Barringer presided at the session.

In lieu of the program, members presented ideas for Christmas and decorations for the holiday season.

Mrs. Hoy Moose presented the devotions, reading the 100th Psalm. She closed with the "Shortest Prayer For Thanksgiving."

Mrs. Moose and Mrs. Jesse Pike gave some suggestions to the group concerning essay writing, which they had received at the recent Auxiliary Workshop at Chapel Hill.

During the session Mrs. Mickey Watts was welcomed as a new member. Mrs. Moose invited the group to meet at their cabin in Mt. Pleasant on January 24th when husbands of members will be special guests.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated with red and gold grapes. Both dried and fresh flower arrangements were used for the occasion elsewhere in the house.

Rowan-Davie

Mrs. George Markham, State Auxiliary President, spoke to members of the Rowan-Davie Drug Auxiliary at their November meeting. She talked about the auxiliary's state project of placing copies of the book "Profession of Pharmacy" in high school libraries in the state. She pointed out that the auxiliary is sharing the project jointly with the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association.

Mrs. Henry Ridenhour, president, conducted the business session. Mrs. Frank Skinner led the devotions on the subject of "How To Say Thanks."

Trooper W. J. Wright of the highway patrol showed a film "Broken Glass" to club members. This film projected staged wreck situations using dummies, with and without the use of seat belts.

Luncheon followed the program. Mrs. Denham Holshouser, Mrs. Fred Medlin, Mrs. Ridenhour, and Mrs. Benjamin Savoia were hostesses. Mrs. Robert Hoyle won the door prize.

Pharmacists-Health Officials Develop an Acceptable Birth Control Pill Program at County Level

Through the mutual understanding and cooperation of the pharmacists of Alamance County and officials of the County Board of Health, an acceptable, professionally supervised program involving the distribution of Enovid to an approved list of women in the county has been devised.

Initially, Alamance County, like so many other counties in the state, had appropriated funds for the purchase of Enovid (or drugs of the same category), with distribution to be by the county health officer to individuals certified by the county welfare department.

When the pharmacists of Alamance County questioned the distribution arrangement which had been set up, the county health officer asked the pharmacists to submit an alternative plan. In devising the plan, the pharmacist, represented by the Alamance County Pharmaceutical Society, had the support of the Alamance County Medical Society.

The Enovid drug distribution program in Alamance County is now being carried out on this basis:

1. The Pharmacists agreed to purchase the County Board of Health supply of Enovid at cost price (about 4,000 tablets were involved).

2. The pharmacists agreed to supply the drug on authorized prescriptions to eligible beneficiaries at cost plus a professional fee.

3. The pharmacist is reimbursed by the county on submission of statement of prescriptions filled under the terms of the program.

4. After the initial supply of drug has been exhausted, replacement will be secured through normal channels—wholesaler or manufacturer, thus taking the county agency out of the drug dispensing picture.

Alamance County and the members of the Alamance County Pharmaceutical Society are to be commended for initiating a program which assures professional control and direction over a class of drugs which requires professional supervision. As an example of the potential, one county in the state anticipates and has provided funds for 400 beneficiaries of this particular class of drugs.

Since most of the beneficiaries are certified by the county welfare departments, the Kerr-Mills Rx Program (effective January 1) may provide the mechanism for supply-payment. Kerr-Mills utilizes the traditional physician-pharmacist setup, with payment to the pharmacist for his services on the basis of wholesale cost plus a professional fee of $1.75.

Taylors Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Taylor of Roanoke Rapids celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary on November 22nd. The celebration started with a family luncheon on the previous day, and an open house on the 22nd.

1914 was a momentous year for the Taylors. He became associated with Roanoke Pharmacy at that time—and also brought his bride to Roanoke Rapids in November. He served as pharmacist at Roanoke Pharmacy until his retirement.

The Taylors have one daughter, Mrs. Robert F. Long of Raleigh. Their two granddaughters, Robin and Nancy Long, baked and decorated their grandparents' anniversary cake which was served at the open house.

Deaths

ROBERT M. WILLIS

Robert M. Willis, owner/operator of Watson Pharmacy, Southport, died November 21.

Mr. Willis, after receiving his pharmacy license in 1922, worked for various pharmacies in Eastern North Carolina. At one time he was pharmacist in Morganton at the State Hospital.

At the time of his death, Mr. Willis was a member of the Brunswick County Board of Health.

Survivors include a son, Charles Willis of Southport, and a number of nephews and nieces.

J. PAUL BURNETT

J. Paul Burnett, for more than 50 years owner and operator of Burnett's Drug Store, Whitakers, died on November 29.

Mr. Burnett, 72, a native of Northampton County, was a former town commissioner and an active member of the Whitakers Methodist Church.

Among the survivors is a son, J. P. Burnett, Jr., owner and operator of the Sunset Pharmacy, Rocky Mount.

BATE C. TOMS

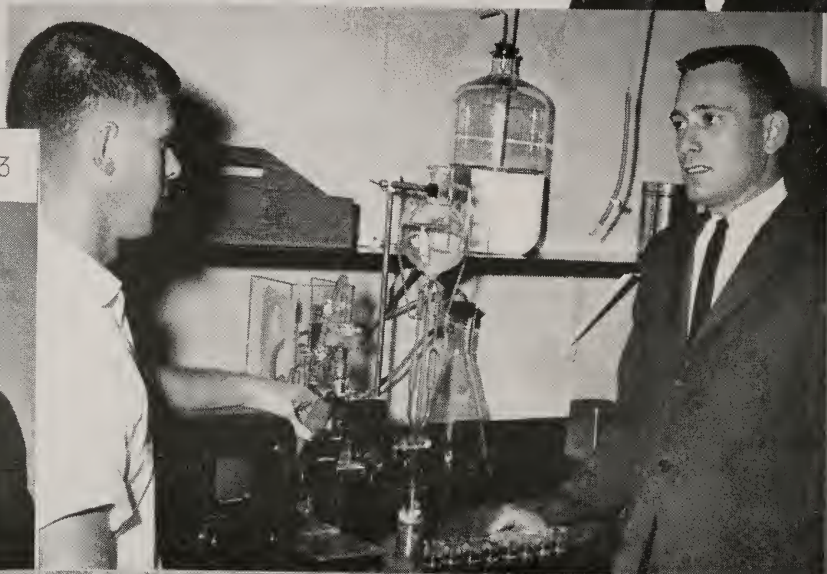

Bate C. Toms, Sr., well known Salisbury pharmacist and former operator of Toms Drug Store, died in Martinsville, Virginia on November 30 following an extended illness.

A native of Rutherfordton, Mr. Toms was born on August 26, 1891. He attended the Horner Military Academy in Oxford, UNC, and Pages School of Pharmacy.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, Dr. Bate C. Toms, Jr. and Dr. Paul Toms, both physicians of Martinsville; a daughter, Mrs. John B. Crudup of Henderson; and a number of nieces and nephews.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Smith,

We acknowledge receipt of your letter of October 5, 1964, giving us the stand taken by the Executive Board of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association on the distribution of aspirin through vending machines. Mr. H. C. McAllister, Secretary-Treasurer of the N. C. Board of Pharmacy, indicated to us in his letter of October 5, 1964, relative to this matter, that your organization also was concerned.

The case you indicate of a child getting a package of aspirin from a vending machine instead of candy is exactly the point of issue with which we have been concerned.

The stand of your Executive Board is a strong asset in curbing this sort of danger. The support of our stand in the matter is appreciated.

In this connection we feel that you will be interested in the enclosed copy of our letter recently written to Mr. Ken Duffer of the Charlotte News, Charlotte, North Carolina.

We concur in the idea that perhaps some very specific law applying to the sale of drugs through vending machines and similar manners where there is no safeguard should be enacted.

Very truly yours,
E. W. Constable
State Chemist

Henley Resigns

John T. Henley, state purchasing officer since July, 1963, is resigning. Mr. Henley said in a letter to Governor Sanford that he wanted the resignation to be effective no later than January 31.

Henley told Sanford in his letter that he accepted the position "with the understanding that I would only be able to serve during the remaining months of your administration for I would need to return to my private business."

Business Good, Extra Good

Sales in all departments of North Carolina pharmacies in December were above average. Front (gift) merchandise moved well; prescriptions came in a seemingly endless stream.

One pharmacist reported the past eight weeks the busiest of his long career. Another reported that, although closed on Christmas Day, eager customers forced their way past his locked door to put $300 cash in the register.

And early January appears to duplicate the December picture. In particular, prescription volume remains at a high level.

NOBODY EVER GOT ANYTHING FOR NOTHING

By Dr. George A. Sehlinger, President of
The Jefferson County Medical Society

The ethical pharmacist has always been an important and trusted member of the medical team. To the physician, he has been a source of drugs through accurately prepared prescriptions. To the patient, he has been a friend, an advisor, and a respected professional man. To the community, he has offered service, credit, and drugs which were backed by his very reputation.

In return all he asked was a reasonable profit so that he could pay his overhead and still have something left to support his family.

Pharmacy has undergone great changes in the past thirty years. Fewer and fewer prescriptions need to be compounded. Concurrently, the price of drugs has risen because of labor, research, and competitive promotion. This has made the drugstore business attractive to people other than pharmacists.

In recent years, there has been an epidemic of discount houses going into the drug business. It is a simple procedure because the only requirement is the employing of a registered pharmacist to dispense the drugs.

Such discount houses are using the drug department to create store traffic to entice the public to buy everything from an abacus to Zwiebach. At the retail prices quoted, the discount house cannot even pay the salary of the pharmacist, much less the other overhead.

This is obvious when one studies prices quoted recently by a discount house. Lilly U-40 Insulin was offered retail at 98 cents when the best available wholesale price is 99 cents. Orinase tablets are priced at $7.98 per one-hundred red tablets. If purchased direct from Upjohn in wholesale lots, the price is $7.32 per one-hundred. Who can run a business on such profit margins unless there is a gimmick?

The medical profession has an obligation to support the ethical pharmacist not only to save an honored and necessary profession but to also protect our patients. The recent reports of the "Fanconi Syndrome" resulting from the ingestion of outdated or degraded tetracycline is testimony to the ever present need of reliable pharmacists.

There is need for legislation which would establish high standards for the licensing of a pharmacy.

Nobody ever got anything for nothing.

The Carolina Journal of Pharmacy is published monthly by the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association, Box 151, Chapel Hill, N. C. Subscription rate: $3.00 a year; single copy, 25 cents. Second Class postage paid at Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

Cornwell Stores Contribute to the Consolidated Pharmacy Fund

The Cornwell Drug Stores (Morganton, Lincolnton, Shelby, Stanly and Newton) have made another contribution to The Consolidated Pharmacy Fund of the NCPA. The money will be used to assist needy-deserving pharmacy students at the University of North Carolina.

Other contributions received for the same purpose have come in from Bob Hall of Mocksville and Rowe Campbell of Taylorsville. These as well as the Cornwell contributions have been assigned to "named funds" within the Consolidated Pharmacy Fund.

In late 1964, as has already been announced in The Journal, a $500 contribution was received from The Justice Drug Company, Greensboro, earmarked for the "P. A. Hayes Pharmacy Student Loan Fund."

Loans to the pharmacy students have and are being made on a continuous basis. If paid within a year after the student graduates, no interest is charged; otherwise, 4%.

Multi-Million Dollar Health Center Will Attract Pharmaceutical Firms

The new multi-million dollar environmental health center to be located in North Carolina's Research Triangle is expected to bring pharmaceutical research units to the area.

Former Governor Sanford, in releasing the announcement about the decision to locate the Center near Raleigh-Durham, cited pharmaceutical houses as the type of "satellite industries" which will find it desirable to locate in the Triangle Park.

With more than 800 Ph.D. researchers and major teaching hospitals (Duke and Chapel Hill's Memorial) within minutes of the Park, Sanford's comment coincides with the facts. The question is: Which pharmaceutical firm will be first to take advantage of this unmatched opportunity?

Watts—Lilly MSR—Invited to National Meeting in Detroit

The Annual meeting of the American Pharmaceutical Association will be held in Detroit, March 29-April 2.

One of the guest speakers will be Lilly MSR Jack Watts of Burlington. Mr. Watts has been invited to discuss the role of the medical service representative as a career opportunity in Pharmacy.

A graduate in Pharmacy of the University of South Carolina, Mr. Watts has represented Eli Lilly and Company in the Burlington area for several years. He is a member and a strong supporter of the Alamance Pharmaceutical Society and state and national programs of interest to pharmacists.

In late January, Mr. Watts spoke to Xi Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority on the subject, "How Poisonings Can Be Prevented in the Home."

New Organization

N. C. Academy of Practical Instruction in Pharmacy

Following a meeting of interested pharmacists in Chapel Hill on January 24, a new pharmaceutical organization, with the primary objective of assisting the State Board of Pharmacy in its intern-preceptor program, was set up.

John E. Mills of Mount Airy was elected president of the organization which will operate under the title—North Carolina Academy of Practical Instruction in Pharmacy.

Serving with President Mills will be Lloyd Whaley of Wallace, vice-president, and Gerald Stahl of Durham, secretary.

A number of requirements for admission to the Academy were agreed upon at the meeting. Included in the requirements relating to the preceptor were (1) He must be a graduate of an accredited school of pharmacy, (2) he must agree to train at least one intern in a 3-year period, (3) he must have practiced pharmacy in North Carolina for not less than three years, and (4) he must be a member of the N.C.Ph.A. and the A.Ph.A.

A committee was appointed to submit a constitution and by-laws at the next meeting of the Academy.

Prior to the election of officers, George C. McLarty, Jr. of High Point discussed the potential value of the proposed organization of preceptors to professional pharmacy. The speaker emphasized the proposed organization would be voluntary, not mandatory, and that it would have no legal status.

The present intern program will remain essentially the same as in the past, Secretary H. C. McAllister of the Board of Pharmacy told the pharmacists, with the exception of daily reports, which will be dropped for a weekly report. A survey conducted among pharmacy interns indicated their major objection to the program to be in the area of the daily reports.

In addition to setting up the new organization and electing officers on January 24, the pharmacists present reviewed a number of intern-preceptor surveys which had been conducted in the state, discussed intern-preceptor requirements in other states, mainly Wisconsin, Michigan and Arizona, and considered methods for utilizing the new manual for internship training (Pharmacy Preceptor's Guide), as prepared under sponsorship of the National Association of Boards of Pharmacy and the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy.

Charter members of the North Carolina Academy of Practical Instruction in Pharmacy, in addition to the officers named above, are:

Kenneth Edwards of Stantonsburg, P. R. Jenkins of Murfreesboro, G. E. Royall of Elkin, J. P. Greene of Boone, Herman W. Lynch of Dunn, and George E. McLarty, Jr. of High Point.

G. B. Propst of Morganton, Fletcher Dean of Lumberton, John M. Pickard of Durham, George Edmunds, Claude Paoloni and A. H. Mebane, III, of Greensboro.

Edward B. Eadie and Gilbert Colina of Charlotte and H. G. Price of Raleigh.

Additional charter members are expected prior to the next meeting of the Academy. Membership certificates for both Academy interns and preceptors are being designed.

SKF's Hilliard Promoted

Transactions of The NCPA Executive Committee

Bill Wells Named Convention Chairman

Major business transacted at the January 13 meeting of the NCPA Executive Committee meeting held in Chapel Hill:

1. Authorized re-employment of NCPA Office Staff for 1965 at same compensation as 1964. Committee to be appointed by President Wolfe to study retirement plan for executive secretary.
2. William P. (Bill) Wells of Durham was designated Local Chairman for the 1965 NCPA annual convention. Mr. Wells is pharmacist owner/manager of The Durham Drug Company.
3. John T. Stevenson of Elizabeth City was endorsed as a candidate for member of the Board of Trustees of the University of North Carolina. Final action will be by vote of the members of the '65 session of The General Assembly of North Carolina.
4. Robert B. Hall was authorized to seek a potential sponsor for a $200 scholarship to be awarded each year in a state-wide pharmacy theme-writing contest. The contest to start in 1966.
5. The committee reviewed the work being done by two committees—Pharmaceutical Education and Standards and Hospital Pharmacy. Committee reports will be ready by early February.
6. Preliminary financial report for 1964 reviewed. Gains in all areas: general, consolidated, endowment.
7. Legislative program discussed. NCPA will support increase in fees to be paid the State Board of Pharmacy and will assist the State Board of Public Welfare in obtaining necessary funds to operate the Welfare Rx Program for two years, beginning July 1, 1965.
8. Insurance: Major Medical (Washington National Insurance Company) set up in five districts (more than 50% membership participation) with two remaining districts now being covered. The new (Jan. 1) Variable Investment-Retirement Plan (Adm. by Daveport-Dillard of Washington, D. C.) being well received by membership. On initial announcement, DD reports twice as many reply cards as normally received from sponsoring groups. Both plans expected to be firmly established by mid-1965.

All members of the committee were present for the meeting. President Wolfe, who presided; Blanton, Boone, Griffin, Hall, Moose, Stevenson and Smith, Secretary.

Committee Recommends Continuation of APhA Affiliation Study

The APhA Affiliation Study Committee, meeting in Chapel Hill on January 13 with all members present, debated the "pros" and "cons" of affiliation for two hours.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the committee unanimously voted to recommend to the incoming president (Mr. Boone) that the committee be continued for another year in order that more study be given to the proposal.

Although the committee had studied an extensive list of bulletins, resolutions, papers and addresses relating to affiliation, as supplied by the American Pharmaceutical Association and the National Association of Retail Druggists, most members of the study committee felt themselves unprepared to give a definite "yes" or "no" answer to the affiliation proposal on January 16.

The committee favors increased cooperation between the two national pharmaceutical organizations as to how this could be brought about on a practical basis. It was pointed out by various members of the committee that the two organizations are excelling with certain projects—NARD with the Federal Excise Tax and the APhA with the Food and Drug Administration.

A suggestion that the Affiliation Study be dropped was not approved by the committee. As was pointed out by one member of the committee, who voiced the majority opinion of the committee: "This is too important to the future of Pharmacy to be dismissed; it will require careful, thoughtful, unbiased study by all members of the NCPA in order that the right decision be made at the most appropriate time."

Past Due Accounts

In this column will be presented an idea, sometimes more than one, calculated to aid you in your operation.

Some of them you may have already tried with varying results. Some of them may be new to you. They all have been tried and somewhere, at some time, they have helped others. They might work for you.

Here is one for those who have charge accounts and do the posting and billing and who do not have an arrangement with a bank or other agency to handle the charge accounts. It is designed for the past due accounts and is a simple wording to be printed on blotter stock and inserted with those statements to the past due accounts.

It was borrowed from Henry Shigley who borrowed it from Daniels Business Service who borrowed it from someone else or did his own creation. It is not copyrighted and you may use it freely.

Did Someone Forget?

Your account has some items that are now past due. As most of our merchandise is billed to us on short dating, our auditor says we must close all accounts that are more than thirty days past due if we want to stay around.

We enjoy serving you and we do want to stay around.

We hope you like our service and want us to stay around and keep on rendering good service to you. So won't you please "blot out" your past due account and mail us a check before we both get in trouble with the auditor?

Thanks,
XYZ Pharmacy

Even a delinquent could hardly take offense at the humorous seriousness of this appeal.

To tie in with the "blot out" verb it is essential that it be printed on blotter stock. The stock may be either all blotter or blotter and coated one side. A consultation with your printer will show you the wisdom of gambling with the little extra cost of rendering statements.

It's worth a try.

CONTAC* NASAL MIST

These 7 merchandising hints—proved successful in thousands of pharmacies—can help you bring even more of the "cold business" profits back to your pharmacy this fall and winter.

1 Maintain window displays of Contac capsules and Contac Nasal Mist, using promotional materials available from your MenJ or SK&F representative. (Or write MenJ Sales Promotion Department.)

2 Use a permanent Contac capsule decal on your front door throughout the cold season. (The reverse side helps you by reminding customers to "buy all your health needs at your pharmacy.")

3 Make sure you display several facings of Contac capsules in your cold products section.

4 Place at least a half-dozen packages of Contac Nasal Mist in your nasal spray section.

5 Use a Contac capsule window decal on telephone booth doors, too.

6 Display both Contac capsules and Contac Nasal Mist near your cash register on the wrapping counter, in the compact, sales-building display packers. (Or use the attractive counter unit included in the Contac capsule fall 2 Gross Deal.)

7 Make sure you have enough stock to last throughout the cold season, and keep most of it on display.

HERE IS AN EXAMPLE OF HOW THE PHARMACISTS OF LEXINGTON ARE CREATING INTEREST IN PHARMACY AS A CAREER. COPIES OF THE BOOK—THE PROFESSION OF PHARMACY—HAVE BEEN PLACED IN THE LIBRARIES OF THE SCHOOLS MENTIONED IN THE NEWS STORY, TAKEN FROM THE LEXINGTON DISPATCH.

Three Local Students Will Receive $50 Each for Essays

Sponsored By Local Pharmacists

Fifty dollars in cash will be presented to each of three students submitting the top papers in a pharmacy essay contest to be conducted at four high schools in this area. The winning papers also will be sent to Chapel Hill to be judged in statewide competition.

The purpose of the contest is to introduce students to pharmacy as a health profession and to acquaint them with the scope of pharmacy and its scientific aspects.

Sophomores, juniors and seniors at Lexington Senior High, North Davidson High, West Davidson High, Dunbar High and Central High schools are invited to participate. Detailed information about the pharmacy award contest is available at the principal's office in each of these schools.

Papers must be completed and submitted, not later than March 1, to any one of the following drug stores: Lexington Drug (No. 1 or No. 2), Peoples Drug, City Drug, Center Street Pharmacy, Community Drug, Welcome Drug or Mann Drug.

The titles and subjects of each paper may be chosen by the student. Suggested as illustrative of topics which might be used are "Discovery and development of a drug," "Objectives and responsibilities of a pharmacy," "penicillin—A miracle drug," "The pharmacist as a member of the health team," "Origin and history of pharmacy," "Pharmacy—a challenging career," "Use and abuse of narcotics," "Better Health and life expectancy of man."

Background information and references materials may be obtained from the guidance counselor and high school librarians. Judges, not yet named, will rate the papers on the basis of originality of thought, clarity of expression, accuracy of data and effectiveness of material presented.

The manuscripts should be not less than 600 words and not more than 1,000 words. No carbon copies are necessary.

Cleveland County #1

As a result of the interest and cooperation of pharmacists and pharmaceutical organizations, a number of North Carolina counties have 100% coverage of their high school libraries with the book—The Profession of Pharmacy.

Tops so far is Cleveland County. The Cleveland County Drug Association paid for the delivery of twenty-three copies of the book to various schools in the county—including in list on page 39.

NEWS

from the local-sectional pharmaceutical societies

Durham-Orange

The significance of a North Carolina pharmacy operations study conducted in 1964 was outlined to members of The Durham-Orange Pharmaceutical Association at the organization's monthly meeting in Chapel Hill on January 12.

Charles A. Chagaris, an associate in the professional relations department of Eli Lilly and Company and Editor of The Lilly Digest, was the speaker.

Present for the meeting were members of the Student Branches of the NCPA and APhA, The Wake County Pharmacists Society, the Alamance Pharmaceutical Society as well as the Durham-Orange group.

Greensboro

Guest speaker at the January 21 meeting of the Greensboro Society of Pharmacists was Sandy Griffin of Burlington.

Mr. Griffin, a vice president of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, discussed the need to up-date the pharmacy laws of North Carolina and to establish a stronger financial base for the N. C. Board of Pharmacy.

A suggested increase in permit and license fees to be paid annually to the Board of Pharmacy was unanimously approved by the Society. It is expected implementing legislation will be introduced in the forthcoming session of the N. C. General Assembly.

A sample of the Society's decal emblem was shown and is now available to members at 50 cents.

Al Mebane, reporting for the membership committee, outlined a plan to bring additional members into the Society.

Following a discussion of the recently inaugurated state-wide Welfare Rx Program, it was agreed that representatives of the County Welfare Department would be invited to attend the next meeting of the Society at which time the subject of welfare prescriptions would be covered in greater detail.

Cleveland County

Ronald Austell was installed as president of the Cleveland County Drug Association at a meeting of the organization held in Shelby on January 24.

Serving with President Austell will be the following officers: Howard Lutz, Kings Mountain, first vice president; Howard Logan, Shelby, second vice president; and Howard Hull, Shelby, secretary-treasurer.

A film on Modern Selling and Merchandising Methods was presented by representatives of the National Cash Register Company.

The Association sponsored the distribution of 23 copies of the pharmaceutical reference book—The Profession of Pharmacy—to libraries throughout Cleveland County. A number of thank-you notes have been received from the librarians.

Surry County

The Surry Pharmaceutical Association held its 9th meeting on January 17 at the Mount Airy Country Club in Mount Airy. Guests of the Association included members of the medical staff of the Northern Hospital of Surry County.

The results of a survey conducted among the staff of Northern Hospital was presented by Dr. Eric Jarrell. Pharmaceutical services and the practices of drug stores, largely favorable to Pharmacy, was the subject of the survey.

John E. Mills, president, presided during the meeting. Guests included Dr. Robert Caldwell, president of the Surry-Yadkin Medical Society, Dr. D. G. Waters of Mount Airy, Dr. Eric Jarrell, chief-of-staff of Northern Hospital, Lacy Lancaster of Square Pharmacy and Paul Taylor of Hollingsworth Drug Company.

Alamance

Details of the new Welfare Rx Program were outlined to members of the Alamance Pharmaceutical Society by NCPA Secretary

W. J. Smith at a meeting of the organization in Burlington on January 20.

The speaker discussed the working agreement which participating pharmacists sign with the State Board of Public Welfare, the procedure for handling prescriptions and completion of the monthly billing forms. Approximately 9 out of 10 pharmacies in the state are participating in the program which, at maximum potential, is expected to run to $250,000 a month in billings.

Sandy Griffin, president, presided during the meeting. New officers will be installed at the Society's February Valentine Party.

Holdup Men Nabbed

Quick action by police resulted in the arrest of three men who slugged a delivery-man for Pike's Drug Store, Concord, and fled with a money bag containing more than $100 in cash.

The robbery took place at the rear of the store. A passer-by gave police a description of the holdup men and the get-away car. The information was put on the police radio and road blocks set up.

Robert Troy Giles, Candor pharmacist, owner/manager of the B & B Drug Company, is the 1965 recipient of the Troy Jaycees "Distinguished Service Award."

Mr. Giles, a native of Greenwood, South Carolina, moved to Candor in June, 1961, as owner of the B & B Drug Company. Since that time he has taken an active part in church, civic and community activities of Candor and Montgomery County.

Here's a partial listing of his activities: Advisor to the Candor Explorer Troop, member and director of the Candor Lions Club, was a leader in the organization of the Montgomery United Services, Inc., director of the Montgomery County Chapter of the Assn. for Retarded Children, active in all phases of work in the Candor Presbyterian Church, where he is a deacon and treasurer.

Mr. Giles attended Brevard Junior College, served in the Air Force from 1948 to 1952, and graduated in Pharmacy from the University of South Carolina in 1957. He was part-owner of a pharmacy in Morven prior to assuming ownership of his pharmacy in Candor.

Herring Purchases Second Pharmacy in Myrtle Beach

Elbert N. Herring, UNC Pharmacy Graduate '54, recently purchased a second pharmacy in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina.

Mr. Herring moved to Myrtle Beach several years ago where he has been operating Herring Rexall Drugs. To this pharmacy has been added People's Drug Company, a Walgreen Agency store.

After graduation, Mr. Herring was associated with the Kerr stores in Raleigh.

Move to Richmond

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ball have moved from Fayetteville to Richmond, where Mr. Ball will represent Eli Lilly and Company.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ball are pharmacists and graduates of the UNC School of Pharmacy. Mrs. Ball is the daughter of Pharmacist L. E. Reaves, Jr. of Fayetteville.

Suggested Changes in Drug Laws

By Walter F. Anderson,
Director State Bureau of Investigation

1. Amend G.S. 90-113.7 Penalties. Provide that the illegal possession for the purpose of sale, the illegal sale, barter, exchange, dispensing or supplying of a barbiturate or stimulant drug shall be a felony. First offense of illegal possession remain a misdemeanor with presumption that a person that possesses (100) one hundred or more tablets or capsules illegally has them for the purpose of sale.

2. Upon the second conviction of illegal possession for the purpose of sale or illegal sale the defendant shall be required to serve a minimum of twelve (12) months in prison without sentence being suspended without parole, work release, or probation. The third or subsequent conviction for like offense, a minimum of five (5) years in prison without sentence being suspended, without parole, work release or probation.

3. Amend G.S. 90-108. Strike word "nurse" from the first sentence. Add the following: "A nurse shall be included in the above-mentioned exceptions while employed and on duty in a hospital, doctor, or dentist office, nursing home or may give subcutaneous injections under the supervision or direction of a physician or dentist when specifically authorized. (Note: There are over 21,000 nurses licensed in North Carolina).

4. G.S. 90-87. Definitions. Add subsection (T) "Nurse" shall mean a registered graduate nurse or a registered licensed practical nurse currently licensed by the State of North Carolina.

5. Require a specific license for any person or firm who sells wholesale, narcotic, barbiturate or stimulant drugs as defined in G.S. 90-87, G.S. 90-113.1 and G.S. 90-113.2. License to be issued by the North Carolina Board of Pharmacy (or if preferred, the State Board of Health). (Note: At present anyone licensed to sell groceries, appliances or any other items wholesale may also possess and sell barbiturate and stimulant drugs wholesale. A recent convicted abortionist had over 30,000 barbiturate and stimulant capsules and tablets in his possession but officers were unable to seize them because subject had a wholesaler's license and sold surgical instruments.

6. Require wholesalers and retailers to purchase their barbiturate and stimulant drugs on serially numbered order forms to be issued by the North Carolina Board of Health. Further, that the order forms be prepared in triplicate. That the purchaser submit the original order form and one copy to the seller when the drugs are ordered. That the seller retain the original for a period of two (2) years from the date the order is filled and send the copy to the North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation. Further, that the order form shall be required only of those drugs that are declared to be habituating and/or addictive by the North Carolina State Board of Health and are frequently found in the illegal drug traffic. Note: Fewer than ten (10) drugs fall in this category at this time. Generally, only the pure barbiturate or amphetamine or a combination of these two drugs would be on the list.

7. Include tranquilizers (Meproamate, et al. to be named by the N. C. State Board of Health as addictive and a health hazard when abused) throughout Article 5A, placing them in the same legal category as the barbiturates and stimulants.

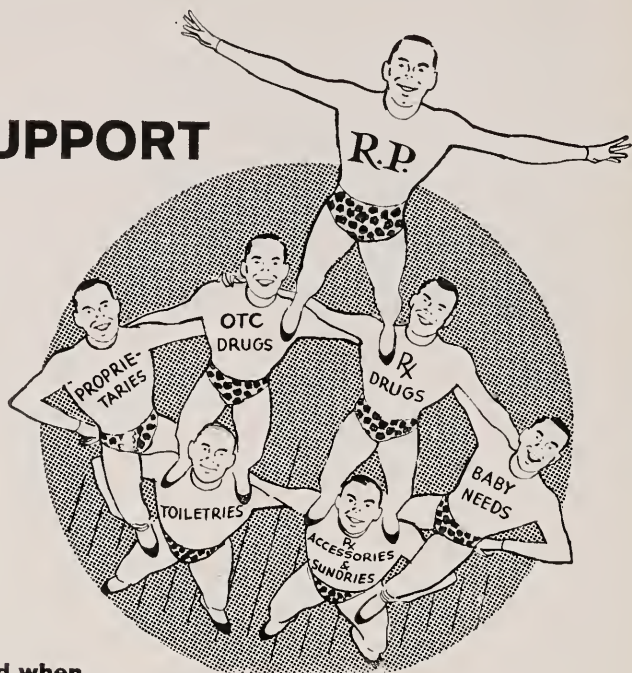

8. Authorize the seizure of any vehicle believed to be used in the transportation of drugs for the purpose of illegal sale or illegal possession for the purpose of sale in violation of Article 5A.

Note: The present law covers narcotics and non-tax paid liquor but not barbiturate or stimulant drugs.

9. Authorize the presiding judge, in his discretion, to give title to a confiscated vehicle to the State Bureau of Investigation when confiscated as a result of violation of Article 5 or Article 5A, for the said vehicle to be used for official investigative work only in drug investigations.

DRUG LAWS

10. Amend G.S. 90-98. Add at end of fourth paragraph, "Except the purchasers of exempt narcotic preparations shall be required to sign their full name and complete current address."

11. Amend G.S. 90-97. And at end of paragraph (b) "That a pharmacist cannot knowingly dispense to any person more than one (1) ounce of the above-mentioned preparations within a period of seventy-two (72) consecutive hours without a prescription. That a person that purchases more than one (1) ounce or receives in any manner more than one ounce of the above-mentioned preparations within a period of seventy-two (72) consecutive hours without a prescription shall be held to be in violation of Article 5.

Note: There are a large number of paregoric and cough syrup with codeine addicts in North Carolina. Narcotic addicts will also "cook down" paregoric and "shoot" the morphine residue.

12. Require the arresting officer to furnish the State Bureau of Investigation a report of the arrest of any person charged with the violation of Article 5 or Article 5A. Further, require the Clerk of Court in the County where subject is tried to furnish a report of the disposition of the case to the State Bureau of Investigation.

Note: The Bureau could keep a more accurate account of the habitual violators and could determine if the drug arrests were increasing or decreasing. If so, the type of drug and the area of the State where enforcement and education was needed the most. Illegal drug activities are comparable to an iceberg, the majority of the problem is hidden from view and the surface appears innocent and calm.

13. Under Article 5A make it a misdemeanor to possess a syringe and needle for the purpose of administering barbiturates and stimulant drugs without a prescription from a doctor.

14. Require nose inhalers that contain primarily stimulant drugs to be on prescription.

Note: Wyamine inhalers (Whammies) are a continuing source of trouble, especially for the Prison Department. Each inhaler contains approximately the same amount of stimulant drug as ten (10) benzedrine tablets of 10 mg. strength. The inhalers sell for about sixty (60) cents each.

15. Revise 90-113.5 to read similar to 90-105. Include provision that failure to maintain records and/or to permit records to be examined constitute a violation.

March 14-20, 1965 Is National Poison Prevention Week

Here is an excellent opportunity to demonstrate your qualifications as a member of the health team. It will take some advance planning and some effort on your part, but the results will be rewarding as a member of North Carolina pharmacists know from previous experience in this area of professional activity.

Poison Control Centers have been established in the State by pharmacists (details on request). Others have in their pharmacies for quick reference the poison antidote book—Clinical Toxicology of Commercial Products. Last year one North Carolina pharmacist made thirty-five (35) talks on poison prevention.

More than 40 aids (brochures, flyers, pamphlets, films, talks, addresses, radio and TV scripts, newspaper copy, ad mats, exhibits, streamers and posters) are available to you to promote National Poison Prevention Week. If you missed your copy of the descriptive list (mailed to all N.C.Ph.A. members on February 12), write the N.C.Ph.A. for NPPW List of Materials.

Available direct from the N.C.Ph.A.: a 43-slide program—GO SEEK AND HIDE—(prevention of accidental poisoning, complete with script) and a 30 minute sound movie (produced in Chapel Hill) on same subject.

For (1) the best single effort during National Poison Prevention Week, and (2) for the best organizational effort during National Poison Prevention Week, the N.C.Ph.A. will award plaques to the winners at the N.C.Ph.A. Convention in May.

The pharmacy will be owned and operated by a corporation headed by Dean Butler and Oneal Benson of Tryon.

Medical Arts Pharmacy Opens in Shelby

A new pharmacy opened in Shelby in late January—The Medical Arts Pharmacy. It is located on Grover Street about a half block from Cleveland Memorial Hospital.

The three principals involved in the pharmacy are:

Pharmacist Howard M. Logan. Mr. Logan formerly made his home in Winston-Salem where he was associated with Hart Laboratories.

Bob Callahan, General Manager. He is a native of Cleveland County and until recently was employed by the S. E. Massengill Company.

John Crawley, Vice President. Mr. Crawley is vice president of the Crawley Chevrolet Company of Shelby.

Ownership/Name Changed

William P. Horton and John W. Gresham are the new owners of Herring's Fairview Pharmacy (formerly Fairview Pharmacy, Inc.) of Wilson. Personnel and management will remain the same.

Distinguished Service Award to David Hix

Recipient of this year's Distinguished Service Award, presented by the Gibsonville Junior Chamber of Commerce, was a pharmacist—David T. Hix.

Mr. Hix is a native of Harmony; a pharmacy graduate of UNC, and co-owner of the Gibsonville Drug Company. He is vice president of the Gibsonville Jaycees and active in all the organization's projects.

Guest speaker for the ceremony was another pharmacist—W. R. (Bill) McDonald of Hickory, now state president of the North Carolina Jaycees

Center Reports 351 Poison Cases

The Poison Control Information Center at Mercy Hospital recorded 351 cases of poisoning last year. This was 82 more than in 1963.

Most cases—262—involved children under five, the center's annual report shows.

The only fatality reported involved a 20-year-old who committed suicide.

"The center's annual report shows an increase in phone calls from persons seeking information. This is good," said Gilbert Colina, center director and chief pharmacist at Mercy.

"It indicates that more and more people are becoming aware that Charlotte has such a center—and probably has helped reduce the number of possible cases of accidental poisoning," Mr. Colina said.

INFORMATION calls increased from 153 in 1963 to 247 last year. Most calls were from fathers and mothers asking how to store and handle poisonous household products safely.

Overdose of aspirin was the leading cause of accidental poisoning among children. There were 129 cases caused by overdose of medicines. These include 42 aspirin overdoses.

The report also shows:

There were 184 males and 157 females poisoned.

Twenty-one persons were hospitalized. Forty were hospitalized in 1963.

Eighty-three persons were treated at Mercy's emergency room. Eleven were treated at emergency rooms at Charlotte Memorial, Presbyterian and Charlotte Community hospitals.

There were 35 cases of intentional poisoning. Twenty of these occurred in the 12-to-30 age bracket.

Commercial products caused 39 cases, household products caused 61 cases, and poisonous plants caused 16 cases.

Cosmetics, usually picked off a mother's dressing table by small children caused 24 cases.

Kerosene and gasoline, usually in soft-drink bottles, caused 12 cases.

"Small children see a soft-drink bottle filled with a combustible such as gasoline and think it contains the beverage. They gulp a large quantity before realizing their mistake," Mr. Colina said.

The center operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week. It operates through the switch-board at Mercy Hospital. Mercy's telephone number is 334-6831.

Four physicians and a pharmacist staff the center along with Mr. Colina. They are Dr. R. T. Lucas, Jr., Dr. E. C. Sweeney, Dr. James C. Parke, Dr. C. O. Chrysler and John Balas, the pharmacist.

An allocation from the local United Appeal pays for the special communications system used by the center. This system enables each center staff member to have a special phone in his home that can be rung through Mercy's switch-board at any time.

The cases reported to the center probably are about one-third the number of cases of accidental and intentional poisoning occurring in Charlotte each year, Mr. Colina said.

The center recorded 197 cases in 1961, its first year of operation.

UNC PHARMACY SCHOOL NOTES

These notes are always a month late due to the printer's schedule and are short this month due to the lack of activity during the Christmas vacation.

The annual Drug Symposium for practicing pharmacists on Wednesday nights began February 3 for five meetings on the subject of dermatotherapeutics. The faculty was provided by the clinical professors specializing in dermatology in the School of Medicine at North Carolina Memorial Hospital. The course was organized by Dr. M. A. Chambers, Assistant Dean and Director of Pharmacy Extension, at the School of Pharmacy.

Miss Noble's book on the history of the School of Pharmacy continues to receive attention. It was reviewed in the November issue of Acta Phytotherapeutica published in Holland and was listed recently in the pamphlet "Books About North Carolina" by The University of North Carolina Press. Copies are available at $5.15 from the N. C. Pharmaceutical Research Foundation, Chapel Hill.

Dr. Claude Piantadosi, Professor of Pharmaceutical Chemistry and Assistant Professor of Biochemistry, received information that a renewal grant at $63,000 for three years was approved by the National Institutes of Health for his research on potential anticancer agents.

Dr. James C. Kellett, Jr., Assistant Professor of Pharmaceutical Chemistry, received a renewal of his grant for undergraduate research participation from the National Science Foundation. The grant carries support for students for the summer and regular academic year.

Mrs. Yung Oh Borodkin passed the final oral examination for the degree of Master of Science on January 15. Her thesis was "Kinetics of L-Glutamic Acid Cyclization." Dr. George H. Cocolas, Associate Professor of Pharmaceutical Chemistry, was the adviser for her graduate study and research. Dr. Saul Borodkin received the Doctor of Philosophy with a major in pharmaceutical chemistry in 1961 and is a Research Scientist for Merck, Sharp and Dohme at Danville, Pennsylvania.

"Potential Anticancer Agents, II. The Synthesis of Some Nitrogen Mustard Containing Sulfones and Thiosulfonates" was a recent publication from the School of Pharmacy by Allen F. Hirsch, Claude Piantadosi, and J. Logan Irvin in the Journal of Medicinal Chemistry, the January issue.

The Annual Industrial Trip for the graduating class will take it to Eli Lilly and Company and The Upjohn Company during the first week of March. It was interesting that travel by railroad was selected by the students even though the cost was higher and slightly more time was required. The choice was made on the basis that many of the students had never traveled by rail.

Student Branches of the N.C.P.A. and A.Ph.A.

Mr. Charles E. Chagaris, editor of the Lilly Digest was the speaker for the meeting on January 12. He discussed an analysis of operations in 67 North Carolina pharmacies as submitted from pharmacies to Dr. A. W. Jowdy, Associate Professor of Pharmacy Administration. There was an excellent attendance with representatives from the pharmaceutical associations of Durham and Orange counties, Alamance County and Wake County.

HISTORICAL NOTE

By ALICE NOBLE, Research Historian

February 14 revives many memories of the late Dean Edward Vernon Howell, of the School of Pharmacy, since Valentine's Day is the anniversary of his death in 1931. Professor Howell is the most distinct personality Chapel Hill has ever known, and he is remembered with deep affection by all who knew him.

The Dean was a versatile scholar with many interests, one of which was the collection of material on folk remedies and superstitions. It is unfortunate that so few of his historical and scientific contributions are available today. He simply did not have the patience to put down on paper the results of his researches; it was almost impossible to persuade him to record his efforts in manuscript form.

A month or two after I began my connection with pharmacy Dean Howell was scheduled to present a paper before an important historical society on "Medical Superstitions and Their Cost." He was enthusiastic over the assignment and every now and then he would tell me about another superstition that he had learned about. He informed me also that he expected me to copy the manuscript when it was completed. The date for the address to be presented drew nearer and nearer and still no manuscript was forthcoming. I had never done any work for Dean Howell and I grew panicky over the "mile-a-minute" typing job that was imminent. Two hours before the speaker was scheduled to leave Chapel Hill for the meeting he brought into the office a thick batch of manuscript in long-hand, casually stating that more was to come. Former students will remember Dean Howell's chirography, but no one will ever know the difficulty I experienced in transcribing this material—written in haste on a subject I then knew very little about. I was a young and inexperienced secretary in those days. I have never forgotten that afternoon and how my fingers flew as I qualified as a speed expert. The finished paper was more than twenty-five pages. Anyway I completed the job at the zero hour and the speaker caught the four o'clock bus, taking with him every copy I had made of the speech. After the meeting Dean Howell misplaced all the beautifully typed material. It was never found, and this valuable research on medical superstitions was lost to posterity. As for me, when I finished my typing job I tottered home and to bed!

I have always been deeply interested in the initial or organization meeting of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association held in Raleigh on August 11-12, 1880. E. M. Nadal, of Wilson, and four other druggists of the town headed the movement to establish the association. It is amazing that as the results of their efforts over a hundred druggists gathered in Raleigh for the occasion. The successful campaign is more apparent when it is remembered that in those days communication mediums were poor and drug store directories were nonexistent.

Raleigh, with 17 registrants, had the greatest number of attendants. Wilmington came next with 10, which included the 4 Munds brothers, J. C., W. C., J. T. and J. D. I wonder if any other family has ever had the distinction of having 4 brothers practicing pharmacy in the same town at the same time. New Bern had 9 representatives, Fayetteville and Charlotte each 6, Washington 5, and Goldsboro 4. Wilson had a 100% attendance, totaling 6. Winston registered 3, and 2 each were present from Tarboro and Durham. From the western part of the State the attendance was small: Statesville 2, and 1 each from Greensboro, Lexington, and Asheville. The remaining twenty-five per cent of the group came from the smaller towns. And while we are giving statistics it might be interesting to add that F. S. Duffy, of New Bern, had been in business longer than any other druggist in the State, with S. J. Hinsdale, of Fayetteville, qualifying as a close second.

Many of the pharmacists were physicians as well, owning small drug stores, which were used partly for their offices. . . . In the Proceedings the terms "pharmacutists"

Auxiliary Executive Board Reviews Programs/Projects

The Executive Board of the Woman's Auxiliary of the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association met January 13th at the Institute of Pharmacy, with the president, Mrs. George Markham, presiding.

Reports were heard from the officers. Membership Chairman, Mrs. Charles D. Blanton, Jr., reported on plans for the coming annual membership campaign.

It was reported that the Liaison Committee with Mrs. J. L. Creech, chairman, was active in the promotion of the state project—that of placing copies of Profession of Pharmacy in high school libraries. She reported that the project is being well received, but that in most cases the theme writing part of the project is being deferred until next year.

Mrs. Markham, president, reported on her visits to state auxiliaries and other activities pertaining to her office. She also reported a gift to the Auxiliary of $50 from Mr. W. S. Wolfe, N.C.Ph.A. President, and a brief case for the president's use from Mrs. David D. Claytor.

Plans for the 1965 Convention were discussed. It was announced that Mrs. Floyd Goodrich is serving as Woman's Auxiliary Convention Chairman, with Mrs. Ben Bullock as Co-chairman.

A review of the funds sponsored by the Auxiliary was made. The Emergency Loan Fund which is available to students of the UNC School of Pharmacy, in amounts up to $35 and payable within 30-days, shows a value of $1,671.25.

The Reserve Fund, on deposit at a local Savings and Loan Association, is a contingency fund.

The Scholarship Fund, named for Mrs.

Lucile Swearngan Rogers of Durham, is being accumulated at the present and the total now stands at $5,476.15. When this has reached a higher figure, one from which the interest will pay a scholarship of approximately $300 a year, these awards will be made.

Another Fund, which is a part of the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association, with Robert B. Hall, Chairman, was discussed. This, the Consolidated Pharmacy Fund, is made available to students of the UNC School of Pharmacy, but these loans are larger and are repaid after the student leaves the School of Pharmacy. Contributions to this Fund of $100 or more, may bear the name of the donor. Upon vote of the Auxiliary officers, it was decided to establish a Woman's Auxiliary Account in the Consolidated Pharmacy Fund, with an initial contribution of $100.

The business of the day being concluded, the meeting was adjourned.

Asheville

Mrs. E. A. Brown, Mrs. B. L. Pinner, and Mrs. G. D. Rogers were hostesses for the January luncheon meeting of the Western North Carolina Drug Auxiliary, held at Bailey's Cafeteria.

A prize was won by Mrs. Nan Laidlaw.

The program was given by Mrs. Harry Dover, a paper on "Ghosts and Mysterious Occurrences in the Old North State."

Charlotte

The January meeting of the Charlotte Woman's Druggist Auxiliary was held at the Kirkwood Room. Mrs. Bass Brown of the Charlotte Society for the Prevention of Blindness was guest speaker.

She has served the Society as chairman for the past seven years, when she was asked by the ophthalmologists of Charlotte to assume this position.

In her remarks she spoke of the importance of having eye examinations for children under six years of age since their vision is complete by that time and defects requiring strengthening cannot be corrected after that age. She used a model eye to show some of the most prevalent eye conditions, the best known among adults being glaucoma and cataracts.

Raleigh

The January meeting of the Raleigh Woman's Drug Club was held at the home of Mrs. Homer Starling, with Mrs. M. B. Melvin and Mrs. J. C. Warren assisting as hostesses. The president, Mrs. Billy T. Allen called the meeting to order with a selection of poetry appropriate to the first meeting of the New Year. She also welcomed Mrs. Rose Tripp as a guest.

Notes of appreciation were read from Forrest Matthews, who had been ill for some time, and from Mrs. Katie Burwell, long time member who had been hospitalized and unable to attend meetings in recent months.

It was announced that the Raleigh Woman's Drug Club would work on the State Project in conjunction with the Wake County Pharmaceutical Association. It was voted to provide the book Profession of Pharmacy to half the high schools in Wake County, with the Wake County Pharmaceutical Association providing the remaining schools with books.

After the business meeting was concluded, refreshments were served in the candle-lit dining room, and the members then enjoyed bridge and canasta. Prize winners were Mrs. K. E. Handy, Bridge; Mrs. Bruce Medlin, Canasta.

Rowan-Davie

Mrs. David Miller spoke to members of the Rowan-Davie Drug Auxiliary at their January meeting, held at the Chanticleer Restaurant. Her subject was Terrariums.

Mrs. Frank Skinner, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Miller, who said her interest in terrariums came about through her garden club and research that Mrs. Melvin Stahl, a former member, did on this subject.

Mrs. Miller showed some of the terrariums she had made in interesting bottles and jars. She stressed that there is no need to buy material since it can all be gathered from the woods, creek banks, and gardens. Some of the plants she used to give color to her terrariums were violets, crocuses, begonias, and wild flowering plants.

Mrs. Henry Ridenhour, president, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Benjamin Savoia led the devotions. A new member, Mrs.

Earl Cobb, was introduced by Mrs. Justin Uffinger.

Mrs. Bobby Lindsay, projects chairman, reported that her committee would meet with the Rowan Pharmaceutical Society to discuss their participation in the state project.

Mrs. J. Frank Carrigan, Mrs. E. R. Fuller, and Mrs. Skinner were hostesses for the meeting. Mrs. M. H. Hoyle, Sr. won the door prize.

Winston-Salem

The Apothecary Club held its January meeting at Farmers' Dairy Bar with 22 members and a guest, Mrs. Jack Cooper, present. Mrs. J. H. Ball, Mrs. Ray Davis, and Mrs. A. C. Dollar were hostesses.

Mrs. J. M. Darlington, chairman of the state project, told of contacting Mr. Eugene Johnson of the county school system, concerning placement of the book in junior and senior high schools. He is to examine the book and make recommendations to Mrs. Darlington. Mrs. Hartis and Mrs. Way are to assist Mrs. Darlington.

For the program, Dr. R. R. Glenn, Winston-Salem pediatrician, spoke on "Child Worship."

Justice Drug Company Marks Another Banner Year

Officials of Justice Drug Company, wholesale druggists of Greensboro, in observance of another banner year for this 66-year-old drug firm and in appreciation for the loyal service of its employees, recently staged a Justice-sponsored dinner at The King Cotton Hotel.

This annual "family-type party" is a fixture with the Justice group. It was started by the late P. A. Hayes and continued today by his two son-in-laws—Steve Forrest and Bill Brewer.

Note the length of the service (in picture captions)—56 years in one instance:

1. Left, W. P. Brewer presenting gift to D. F. Hayes, vice president. Mr. Hayes who recently celebrated his 79th birthday is quite a renowned golfer. Seated, S. T. Forrest, president and Mrs. Forrest.

2. Hubert L. Walker has been presented his watch for his twenty-five years service with Justice. W. P. Brewer, executive vice president, presented the watch.

5. Center, Tom Waugh presenting gift from Justice salesmen to (left) W. P. Brewer, executive vice president, and (right) S. T. Forrest, president.

6. Standing left is S. T. Forrest, president, presenting Mrs. Ethel Pierce with a forty-year service pin. Seated is D. F. Hayes, vice president who has had fifty-six years of service.

8. Center, W. C. Warren, sundries buyer, presenting (left) W. P. Brewer, executive vice president, and (right) S. T. Forrest, president, gifts from employees.

10. D. L. Bowden, operations manager, center presenting cash awards to Section Managers voted on by co-workers for neatness, interest in their work and affability: left to right, David Barker, T. R. Parish, E. D. Bailey, J. V. McBride and G. H. Allred, Jr. Seated left, W. P. Brewer, executive vice president.

Powell New Owner of Thomasville Drug Company

Samuel Tate Powell of Memphis, Tenn. is buying the Thomasville Drug Company from Henry Smith, who has operated the pharmacy since 1950.

The late E. L. Webb of Thomasville established and operated the pharmacy for many years. It was co-owned by Smith and the late P. L. Trotter until 1958, and solely owned by Smith since that time.

Mr. Powell received his N. C. license by reciprocity from Tennessee in 1964.

Change in Ownership

Tommy and David Keever, pharmacist brothers, and John A. Cromer, Jr. are the new owners/operators of Lincoln Drug, Inc., Lincolnton.

TV will be telling more and more and more of your customers this season about the chest rub that's pure white and nice to use . . . and about Soltice Cough Syrup and Nasal Spray and Cold Tablets and Hi-Therm and Children's Soltice and Soltice Velvin laxative. Be sure you have the whole line for them.

Marriages

Miss Martha Jane Vaughn of Mt. Airy and Vestal Irving Boyles, Jr. of Pilot Mountain, were married January 24th at the First Baptist Church of Mt. Airy. Mr. Boyles is a 1964 graduate of UNC School of Pharmacy, and is employed by Hospital Pharmacy of Mt. Airy.

December 30th was the wedding date for Miss Betty Louise Cherry of Washington, North Carolina, and Marvin Russell Cowan of Williamston. The ceremony took place in the First Methodist Church of Washington. Mr. Cowan is a 1959 graduate of UNC School of Pharmacy, and is employed at Warren's Drug Store, Greenville, where the couple will reside.

Mrs. Julia Ballard of Asheville and Waits Artemus Ward of Swannanoa were married January 1st in a noon ceremony in the First Baptist Church of Asheville. Mr. Ward, alumnus of UNC School of Pharmacy, is a past-president of the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association. Former owner of Ward's Drug Store, Swannanoa, he is now retired.

Mrs. Mary Pitcher Casteel of Durham and Wilbur Latham West of Roseboro were married January 22nd in an evening ceremony at Duke Memorial Church, Durham. Mrs. West is state secretary of the N.C.Ph.A. Woman's Auxiliary; Mr. West, UNC alumnus and past-president of the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association, is in business with his son in Roseboro.

Deaths

DOLAN JONES

Dolan Jones, 68, Monroe pharmacist, died January 9 at his home following a long illness.

Mr. Jones was a native of Thomasville and had lived in Monroe for the past 37 years where he operated the Jones Drug Company until retirement in 1961.

Mr. Jones received his pharmacy degree from Valparaiso University in Indiana. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Hallie Hicks Jones.

N. O. MCDOWELL, SR.

Norfleet Owen McDowell, Sr., born Scotland Neck, March 4, 1897, died January 7 following a period of declining health.

Mr. McDowell served as a Sergeant in WW I and was licensed to practice pharmacy in 1921. Most of his professional career was with the E. T. Whitehead Company of Scotland Neck, which he purchased in 1937 and operated as "Whitehead's" until changing it to its present name—McDowell's Pharmacy.

Mr. McDowell was active in the business, civic and religious life of Scotland Neck and Halifax County. He was elected and re-elected a member of the Halifax County Board of Health, serving as its chairman for many years. He was a member and served as president of the Scotland Neck Kiwanis Club, the Scotland Neck Business Bureau and various professional organizations, including the NCPA, APhA, and NARD.

Mr. McDowell is survived by his widow, Mrs. Margaret Joyner McDowell; one son, N. O. McDowell, Jr., who has been associated with his father in the operation of the pharmacy and who is a former member of the State Board of Pharmacy; three grandchildren, Thomas, Linda and Joe, and one brother, J. Allison McDowell.

A. DEWEY JOHNSON

A. Dewey Johnson, age 66, operator of the Lafayette Drug Company, Lillington, for nearly 20 years, died January 16 in the Cape Fear Valley Hospital, Fayetteville.

NORFLEET O. MCDOWELL

(Editorial from the Scotland Neck Commonwealth)

It was fortunate for Scotland Neck that Norfleet O. McDowell lived in this community, for he set an example of fine citizenship for all of us that will long be remembered.

Patiently, effectively, intelligently, yet without any fanfare or special claim for what he accomplished, this fine man added to the worthwhileness of every good movement in which he participated. And it was characteristic of the man that he wanted to be associated with the better things of this community, and was willing to make personal sacrifice of time and goods in order that he might help this community to achieve along many lines.

As a devoted husband and father he earned the highest respect of those with whom he lived. As a public servant in civic affairs, his counsel and activity were greatly valued. As a leader in the profession he practiced he contributed greatly to the public health of the entire county, serving on its health boards and associations with diligence, patience and intelligence. As a friend and in humanitarian efforts, he endeared himself to thousands, but he never boasted of what he did, or whom he helped. He was content simply with the inner satisfaction of meaning something in the lives of others. He was a Christian gentleman in the finest sense of the expression.

He has gone now to his eternal reward and the community is the loser. The measure of his value as a good citizen will be in the hearts and minds of hundreds, even thousands, who knew him and will sorely miss him. And in their sorrow his loved ones surely will find some degree of satisfaction in the life that he lived which was so surely dedicated to the service of his fellow-man.

A Suggested Outline for the Pharmacy Career Speaker

Pharmacists are frequently called on to participate in "Career Days," to address interested high school students on career opportunities in Pharmacy, and to co-operate with health careers authorities and organizations.

The N.C.Ph.A. has supplies available—free on request. A new 27-minute color film on Pharmacy will be available in March.

In case you are asked to assume a responsibility in this area, this outline, which we picked up from a high school, may be helpful to you as you prepare your remarks. The outline does point up what is wanted in the way of career information.

Rxs from 15 Foreign Countries in Less Than Two Hours

Eddie Varner, formerly of Brevard, now makes his home in Huntsville, Alabama, where he is Chief Pharmacist at the Marshall Space Flight Center.

Recently, in less than two hours, Eddie filled 35 prescriptions. This in itself is no record but note the home countries of the 35 Rx patrons: Belgium, Israel, Germany, France, Canada, Sweden, Norway, England, Greece, Italy, Korea, Free China, Japan, Turkey and Denmark.

Eddie has been living in the "Space Capital of the World" for five years. He says he still misses North Carolina but keeps up with Tar Heel pharmaceutical doings by reading THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY.

Sentimental Note

By PETE IVEY in The Chapel Hill Weekly

The old Eubanks Drug Store, now Courts Drug Co., has been moved, lock, stock, and barrel, from its old location at 139 E. Franklin to the new store, next to Kemp's on Franklin Street.

The move took place January first, second and third. Mr. Courts was open for business in his new place Monday morning.

A lot of stuff, accumulated in the attic and in the basement for years and years, was thrown out. This included rat poison, old alcohol, window displays, salves, pills, potions and miscellaneous pharmaceutical geegaws and mixtures of ancient vintage.

Two trucks made trips from the old store to the new, hauling the show cases, the racks of antibiotics, patent medicines, and other supplies and equipment peculiar to a pharmacy.

The old marble soda fountain has been dismantled and will be stored.

The small settee, where such local oracles as Francis P. Venable, Edwin Alderman, Frank Graham, Louis Graves, Carl Durham, Clyde Eubanks, Collier Cobb, Kemp Plummer Battle, L. R. Wilson, Fred McCall, Jim Phipps, Milton Hogan, Bill Thompson, and William McNider have sat and have commented on the world and the village has been removed to the new site.

The transfer makes way for liebensraum for the North Carolina National Bank. The bank will spread out into the old Eubanks space. That is right and proper. But many's the man and woman who will automatically turn into that building to look around and maybe find out the correct weight on the Eubank scales—stop short, wince slightly and walk on down Franklin Street.

Busy in Cleveland County

C. Rush Hamrick, Jr., president of Kendall Drug Company, Shelby, has been installed as treasurer of the Shelby Kiwanis Club, a position which Mr. Hamrick's father held from 1924 until his death this past June.

In addition to this responsibility, Rush is starting a 3-year term as a member of the board of directors of the Shelby Chamber of Commerce; is a member of the Chamber's Program of Work Committee and chairman of the Civic Improvement Committee.

Rush's brother, Gordon, an executive with Kendall Drug, is the newly installed Secretary of the Shelby Rotary Club.

Transferred to Maryland

Lt. James R. and Mrs. Linda Tennant Taylor have been transferred from Fort Smith, Arkansas, to Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland.

Lt. Taylor has been assigned to the Pharmacy Service at Kirk Army Hospital.

and "druggists" both appear. Was there a difference in their connotation?

It was quite fitting and proper that the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry had a part in the Presidential Inauguration. Formed in 1793, it is the oldest military organization in the South and the oldest in the United States with the exception of a Boston company. When War Between the States was declared the Fayetteville company became a part of the First North Carolina or Bethel Regiment. It is a source of genuine pride to me that Pharmacist H. R. Horne (1839-1931) had the distinction of writing the resolution offering the services of his company to the Governor of the State.

Hangover Clinic for Doctors Prescribes Cognac and Champagne

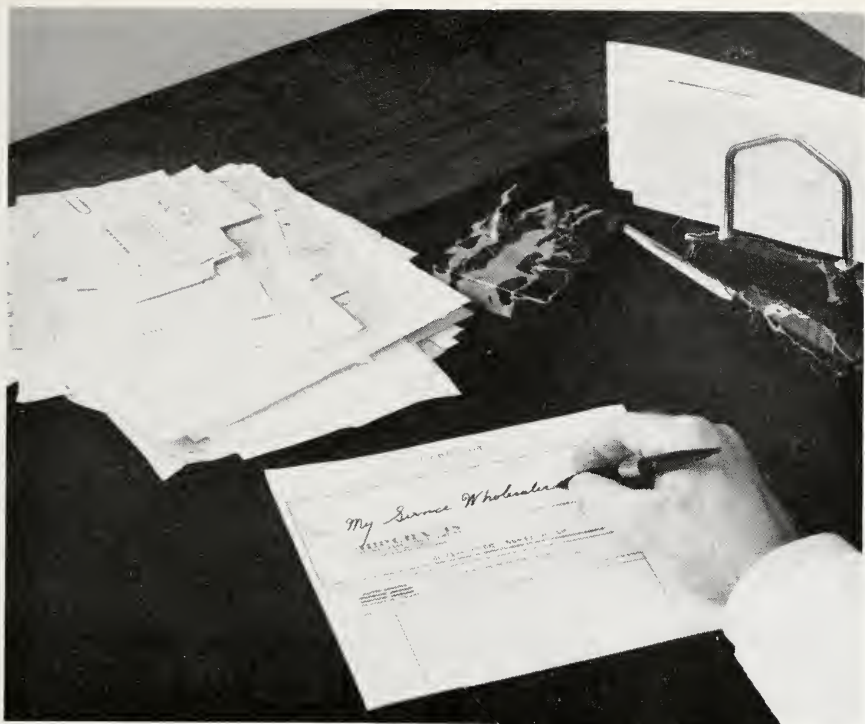

The doctors know best.

The Physician's Wine Appreciation Society of New York, composed of more than 200 doctors who enjoy good food and drink, recently conducted a "Hangover Clinic" in the Longchamps Restaurant (at Madison Avenue and 49th Street) for members who may have celebrated too earnestly New Year's Eve.

From the hours of 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. the doctors served French 75's—made with three ounces of French Champagne and one ounce of Cognac—to the members of their society.

Said Dr. Herbert Gould of White Plains, New York, president of the society: "Champagne and Cognac, when mixed together, are known throughout the civilized world for their effect in helping restore energy and vigor and in combatting indications of melancholy and depression. Just the thing for New Year's Day!"

Also available at the Longchamps Hangover Clinic. packets of Bayer Aspirin.

Why should they? Most youngsters love the taste of strawberries, and that's the flavor they get when you offer them Zentron Chewable. ■ But, good taste aside, Zentron Chewable has additional advantages: The iron salt in Zentron Chewable is ferrous fumarate. Its effectiveness as a hematinic has been well established. The new chewable form is ideal. It eliminates the spillage and stickiness common with liquid hematinics and thus insures full and accurate dosage. ■ Each tablet contains 20 mg. of readily absorbed iron, 100 mg. of ascorbic acid, and adequate quantities of the B vitamins. Dosage for children two years and older is 1 tablet one to three times daily. Available in bottles of 50.

THE ELDERCARE PROGRAM

Write your Congressman and Senators. Here are some reasons for asking their support of H. R. 3727—The Herlong "Eldercare" Bill:

Eldercare would offer better care than Medicare. Both Eldercare and Medicare would cover hospital and nursing home charges, but Eldercare would provide for physicians' services. Medicare would not.

Eldercare would provide for surgical costs. Medicare would not.

Eldercare would provide for drugs outside a hospital. Medicare would not.

Eldercare not only would provide more benefits for people 65 and over who need care and cannot pay for it but it would cost less.

It would cost less because it helps those who need help. It would not use your tax dollars to provide benefits for the wealthy, the well-to-do, and the self-supporting. It would be financed by federal-state funds through a program that already exists.

Eldercare offers more benefits for the elderly at less cost to the taxpayers. By contrast, the Medicare tax plan would increase payroll taxes to provide benefits to everyone over 65, the wealthy included. Furthermore, the Medicare tax would hit hardest those least able to pay. The $5,600-a-year worker would pay as much tax as the $50,000 executive.

When you write, be brief, be sincere, be courteous. Give one or two reasons why you support The Herlong "Eldercare" Bill and urge your Congressman and Senators to vote for H. R. 3727.

Gets Doctor's Degree in Pharmacy

Joe E. Smith, a 1957 pharmacy graduate of the UNC School of Pharmacy, recently received the doctor of pharmacy degree at the College of Pharmacy of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Following graduation at Chapel Hill, Dr. Smith practiced pharmacy at Brandon's Pharmacy in Hildebrand and at Lutz Drug in Hickory. Following two years at the Univ. of Michigan, he returned to North Carolina as chief pharmacist at the Valdease General Hospital. In 1962 he returned to the Univ. of Michigan to fulfill requirements for the degree just granted.

Dr. Smith has been appointed assistant director of pharmacy service at Jefferson Medical College Hospital, Philadelphia.

Secret: Man of the Year

Vann V. Secrest, Sr. of Monroe has been named "Man of the Year" by the Monroe Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Secrest has operated a pharmacy in Monroe since shortly after WWI. In 1930, he launched a seed business which, as a producer of high quality seeds, brought recognition as 2-time president of the N. C. Crop Improvement Association.

In addition to a wide range of other activities, Mr. Secrest is a strong supporter of the Industrial Development Commission of Union County which he helped organize in the mid-50s.

Thomas Drug Expands

J. I. Thomas, owner of Thomas Walgreen Drug Store, Dunn, has announced the expansion-renovation program now nearing completion will increase the size of the store about thirty-five percent.

The modernization program, which will see the prescription department doubled in size, is under the supervision of Swain-Myers Fixture Company of Decatur, Illinois.

Mr. Thomas is assisted in the management of the pharmacy by his son, Larry, a 1964 UNC Pharmacy School graduate. Also recently added to the staff is Clyde Alligood, a veteran (20 years) of the U. S. Marine Corps.

Drug Symposium Concluded

Attendance certificates were awarded on March 3 to sixty-five pharmacists and medical service representatives who attended the Feb.-March drug symposium, held at the UNC School of Pharmacy.

As announced in the March issue of The Tar Heel Digest, postgraduate seminars (4 weekly night classes) have been scheduled in April for Charlotte and Winston-Salem. Application forms may be obtained by writing Dr. M. A. Chambers, School of Pharmacy, UNC, Chapel Hill.

Believe It Or Not

A customer entered a North Carolina pharmacy and purchased six photo flash bulbs and a transistor radio battery.

An employee of the pharmacy placed the bulbs and the battery in a paper bag and handed it to the customer. Suddenly there was a flash in the bag. Three of the bulbs had gone off.

Did the battery set the bulbs off and if so, how?

Top This One

A youngster rushed into Miller Drug Company, Mooresville, and yelled to Pharmacist Sam Price, Jr.: "My grampa is back of the house having kittens. He says send him some Alka Seltzer."

Like most pharmacists who solve problems, some minor, some major, Sam dispatched an adequate quantity of excelsior.

In commenting on the unusual order, Sam's local paper said that if grampa really was having kittens, he probably needed a Bromo—and more.

A copy of the pharmaceutical reference book—The Profession of Pharmacy—was recently placed in the library of the Lee H. Edwards High School by the WNC Drug Auxiliary.

Each month sees an increase in the number of books placed in high school libraries and other places, mainly by pharmaceutical organizations but many through individual sponsorship of pharmacists and other interested individuals. The goal is placement of 600 books in North Carolina.

For additional details of the NCPHA's book project, see page 29.

DR. BRECHT RESIGNS AS DEAN OF THE UNC SCHOOL OF PHARMACY

Dr. Edward A. Brecht, Dean of the UNC School of Pharmacy for the past 15 years, has resigned effective June 30.

He will return to full-time teaching and research in the School of Pharmacy at Chapel Hill.

The resignation was formally announced at a special meeting of the pharmacy faculty on February 26 by Chancellor Paul F. Sharp, who said, in part, "I wish to recognize and thank you for your many contributions to the School of Pharmacy, to the University, and to your profession during your 15 years as dean.

"The new School of Pharmacy building, a Pharmaceutical Research Foundation and a young faculty will all give witness in the years ahead to your labors as dean. Also, a large segment of the practicing pharmacy profession in North Carolina will owe its training to your general supervision."

In tendering his resignation, Dean Brecht stated that administrative duties require activity "which is not in keeping with my first interest in teaching and scholarly activity. The time has come to be selfish with a full understanding that new blood will carry the School of Pharmacy to further progress."

Dean Brecht came to Chapel Hill in 1939 as an instructor in pharmacy. It was his first teaching assignment after receiving his Ph.D. from the University of Michigan. He was promoted to full professor in 1946 and dean in 1950.

In a letter to members of the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association, Dean Brecht remarked ". . . there will be more time to visit friends in practice across the state. With God willing for 4½ months more, I shall be the first dean not to die in the position."

Dean Brecht, a 53-year-old native of Minnesota Lake, Minnesota, is secretary of the N. C. Pharmaceutical Research Foundation and has held numerous positions on and off the University campus and as a member of the NCPHA and national pharmaceutical groups. During his tenure as pharmacy dean, he has signed diplomas for 727 students who have received the degree of bachelor of science in pharmacy.

It is anticipated the University Administration will very shortly set up a committee to recommend a replacement for Dean Brecht.

31 Candidates Pass Board Exams

New Use for Old Containers

What to do with old tablet and capsule bottles?

Some pharmacists scrape the labels and use them for prescriptions; some throw them away, figuring time spent in preparing them for reuse is more costly than new vials and jars.

Certainly the use of standard capsule vials and jars makes a more elegant finished product and gives a distinction to pharmacy that haphazard packaging can never give. Most prescription customers are more fastidious than many pharmacists think they are and these object, mostly passively, to receiving a bottle of tablets with a manufacturer's trade mark on the closure. They seem to think their good taste has been offended and that they are accorded treatment less than their due.

But if your Scotch soul rebels at the seeming waste of seemingly useful material, there is a way to use these containers in a traffic stimulating promotion, and you may use the idea to the same advantage it has produced over the years.

Instead of throwing away these containers or reusing them, accumulate them for a month or until a bushel or more have been saved. A plastic or wire basket is an excellent container for the accumulation. They may be placed in full view in the pharmacy or piled in a jumble in the floor of the window. Now you are ready for what may be called a "Guessing Game."

Call attention to the display with a suitable show card worded in language calculated to stimulate interest. Example:

"In Pharmacy We Do Not Guess—
But You May

We Dispensed This Many 'Pills' in March

How Many Did These Bottles Contain?

Make Your Guess On Entry Blank
Provided

Nearest Guesses to Correct Number Win Valuable Prizes"

(Concluded on page 17)

DISTINCTIVE

Carry your store's identity by color and personalized copy right into your customers home..... for the life of the Prescription.

THE ORIGINAL PIGGY-BACK CHILDREN'S VITAMINS

(Over 2 Million Sold; Still Going Strong)

Others seem to like the piggy-back idea too. (We've seen quite a few of them around recently). The point is, our Bonus Pack is just one of the ways Abbott is working to make Vi-Daylin® a real volume item for you. Others:

1. Meaningful consumer premiums. (Have you seen our beautiful National Heritage map?)
2. Large-scale taste studies. (Vi-Daylin was decisively preferred over the six other leading products).
3. Up to 52% profit on volume buys.
4. Handsome and compact floor and counter displays.
5. A potency-guaranteed product that doesn't go musty in the bottle. (Credit our double-coating process).

Vi-Daylin has long been a leader in children's vitamins. In the pharmacy. And in the physician's office. A natural for your store.

JIMSON WEEDS

Customers may fill in an entry blank each time they visit the pharmacy. The more times they visit you, the more they are exposed to persuasion to buy.

This promotion may be further promoted by other advertising media. If so, the copy should follow the same general theme by stressing that while "guessing" may be done by the customer, the pharmacist must be sure always.

The display of empties may be augmented by secreting packing in the basket to give illusion of a greater mass of containers, but any pharmacy of sizable prescription volume will accumulate enough empties in a month or so to make a neat display.

The customer may even be allowed to spend as much time as he wants in arriving at a guess; he may even be allowed to use an adding machine if he does not disarrange the display to the point of causing an unfairness to other guessers. In a jumbled display he would find it almost impossible to correctly count the total even though he spent hours in thinking and adding. The odds against a correct answer would be for, say, 160 customers, ninth place and pi, approximately 82 and a half million to one. And, Warner-Chilcott for one packs 101 for each 100, so a few Peritrate bottles would disrupt the count. Even though the nearest guesses are thousands off, the three nearest guesses could be judged winners.

It has been found that a first, second and third prize make for more interest, so suitable prizes could be taken from stock. Inside store promotion could be done without too much diversion of interest. Attention could be turned to the display by clerks in their normal procedures of attending customers. Unless there is a certain amount of enthusiasm in promotion, the scheme could die aborning, but it is possible to create much interest in its contest features among the customers and set them to thinking favorably of your pharmacy. Then there is the usual publicity value that lingers even after the contest closes.

It has proved better to make the actual count after close of the contest. Then no suspicion of collusion or "leakage" of information could even be hinted.

There have been no duds in this "gimmick" wherever it has been used, when proper preparation, promotion and follow-through have been tried. In one place, several years ago, during a so-called dull time there were 900 or more entries in 21 days with an average daily increase of customers of 34 and an increase of 51 cents per sale per increased customer count, which accrued to $17 more volume per day. In other places it was similarly productive. It is especially helpful during seasonal changes like after Christmas, just before and just after income tax paying time.

As this is being written, this "gimmick" is being tried in two pharmacies where I am spending a few hours each week. While it is too early to report any predictions of breath-taking success, they do give promise of generating interest far beyond the casual.

Try it. It may surprise you.

Two Pharmacists Serve City Government

The mayor of Goldsboro is a pharmacist—Tom R. Robinson. Included in the Goldsboro Board of Alderman is a pharmacist—William S. (Bill) Gibson.

Perhaps there are other pharmacists serving in an official capacity in their city governments. Two we know of are John Mitchener, Mayor of Edenton, and Prentiss O'Neill, Mayor of Belhaven. If you know of others, please write the NCPHA.

from the local-sectional pharmaceutical societies

Mecklenburg

Mecklenburg County Pharmaceutical Society met Tuesday, February 16 at 7:00 A.M. at Uncle Johns Pancake House.

Breakfast was served and afterwards a delegation representing Charlotte's Committee on obscene literature spoke. Mr. Charles Coira was the main speaker. He asked co-operation from the pharmacists and the pharmacy owners to thoroughly screen the magazines before placing them on the stands.

The Society had previously voted to supply a copy of The History of Pharmacy to all high schools in Charlotte, including Charlotte College. Mrs. Frances Youngblood is head of this project.

A Liaison Committee of the Mecklenburg Medical Society and Pharmaceutical Society met on Feb. 17 to discuss various problems between the two professions. A survey furnished by the Pharmaceutical Society will be mailed to all physicians for their reactions and answers. Dr. Thomas Perrin, and James Liverman, Pharmacist, are the chairmen of the committee.

The 1965 Directory of Pharmacists has been made available to all the physicians and pharmacists.

The morning meetings have proven very successful. The attendance surpasses the afternoon or evening meetings. All meetings begin promptly at 7:00 a.m. and adjourn at 8:00 a.m.

Greensboro

The Administrative Officer of The Guilford County Welfare Department, Mr. J. J. Bowman, discussed the new state-wide welfare prescription program at the February 18 meeting of the Greensboro Society of Pharmacists.

Following a presentation of plans for observance of Poison Prevention Week by D. P. Franzen, the Society voted to leave implementation details to the Board of Directors.

Alamance

At a recent meeting of the Alamance County Pharmaceutical Society, meeting in Burlington, these officers were installed for the coming year:

President: R. L. Salter, chief pharmacist at the Alamance County Hospital.

Vice-President: W. Scott Gardner, Alamance Drug Company.

Secretary-Treasurer: R. E. Heath, Griffin's Pharmacy.

ACPS meets the third Wednesday of each month, generally at the Embers Restaurant.

Durham-Orange

During a three-hour session of the Durham-Orange Pharmaceutical Association, held in Durham on February 15, the members

(1) Worked out an arrangement for the distribution of six copies of the book—The Profession of Pharmacy—to high school libraries in Durham and Orange Counties. Also decided to sponsor a theme-writing contest this fall among interested junior and senior students. Winners will receive plaques and the top winner will receive a cash award (estimated at $150) if and when he or she enters the School of Pharmacy at UNC.

(2) Heard a convention report by William P. (Bill) Wells, local convention chairman for the 1965 NCPHA annual meeting.

(3) Received details of the recently established North Carolina Academy of Practical Instruction in Pharmacy by Gerald M. Stahl, secretary.

Guest speaker for the meeting was S. D. Griffin, Jr. of Burlington, a vice-president of the NCPHA. He pointed out the necessity for revision of the State Pharmacy Act and of the need for additional financial support for the N. C. Board of Pharmacy.

Following completion of Mr. Griffin's talk and a question and answer period, members of the Association agreed to lend their support to the necessary legislation to effect the proposals as outlined by the speaker.

Cape Fear

The wives of the members of the Cape Fear Valley Pharmaceutical Society were guests at a quarterly dinner meeting of the Society, held in Fayetteville on February 28.

Guest speakers were Mrs. George W. Markham, president of The Woman's Auxiliary of the NCPHA, and NCPHA Secretary W. J. Smith.

The possibility of expanding the Cumberland County Auxiliary to include all the counties included in the Cape Fear group was discussed by Mrs. Glenwood Williams. A decision on the proposal will be made in April.

John Terrell, president, presided during the business session. A gift of silver was presented to Mrs. W. Latham West of Roseboro, a newcomer to the area.

Wayne County

The February 9 meeting of the Wayne County Pharmaceutical Society was held in Goldsboro at Robinson's Drug Store.

New officers for the year were installed. They are: L. B. Doyle, president; Wyatt Whitley, vice-president; and Tommy Gibson, secretary-treasurer.

Shefton Boyd was named program chairman and Hugh M. Clark, a former president of the Society, was named publicity chairman.

Mrs. Ruth Ramsey, an employee of the local welfare department, was guest speaker. She discussed the new welfare prescription program.

A committee was appointed to meet with welfare officials to work out details of handling welfare prescriptions not included in the state-wide program.

Judge Bowman in Hospital

F. O. Bowman is a patient in a New York hospital where he underwent major surgery on March 5. Reports indicate he is recovering nicely and is expected to return to North Carolina by early April.

NORTH CAROLINA PHARMACISTS, BY EXAMINATION AND BY RECIPROCITY, OVER A SEVEN YEAR PERIOD

These figures indicate how important are the pharmacists from other states who have come to North Carolina during a seven year period. As the percentage figures indicate, the trend of the reciprocity group is upward. One possible reason for the trend is that working conditions and compensation for professional services in North Carolina compares very favorably with many other states.

Grant of $63,000 to Dr. Piantadosi & Co-Workers
Study of Potential Anticancer Agents

Dr. Claude Piantadosi, Professor of Pharmaceutical Chemistry and Biochemistry, School of Pharmacy, University of North Carolina, has been granted a renewal of a research grant from the Cancer Institute of the National Institutes of Health in the amount of $63,000 for a three year period.

Collaborating with Dr. Piantadosi as co-investigators are Dr. J. Logan Irvin, Professor and Head of the Dept. of Biochemistry, UNC School of Medicine, and Dr. Shu-Sing Cheng, Instructor in Biochemistry.

Title of the grant is "Potential Anticancer Agents—Classical and Non-Classical Antimetabolites."

Marked inhibition of the growth of tumors in animals and in tissue culture has been observed by a number of antimetabolites prepared by this group. The category of antimetabolites includes many compounds of diverse structures which act by interfering with the utilization of a structurally related normal metabolite.

These studies will also attempt to obtain chemical and physiological evidence on the special properties of specific tumor cells and consequently to design drugs to correspond to these various types of tumors.

Mrs. Mitchener Named
"Woman of the Year"

Mrs. Nancy Pike Mitchener has been named "Woman of the Year" by the Edenton Business and Professional Womans Club.

A certificate of honor and a dozen red roses were given to Mrs. Mitchener for her high standards of excellence in Pharmacy, her devotion and activity to her church, and her many thoughtful and considerate deeds over the years.

Edenton's "Woman of the Year" is a native of Concord and a graduate of the UNC School of Pharmacy. She and her husband, John, operate Mitchener's Pharmacy.

Examination Dates to be Changed

Following the June, 1965 Board of Pharmacy examinations, the dates of these examinations will be changed from the third Tuesdays of June and February to the second Tuesday of September and the third Tuesday in March.

In addition, there will be an extra practical examination given the second Tuesday of September, 1965. (1965 only).

There are two reasons for making this change. The first is to space the examinations more nearly six months apart. Such is not the case at present (Feb. and June exams).

The second and perhaps most important reason for the change is to permit licentiates of our Board to maintain the broadest possible reciprocal eligibility. In 1962 the National Association of Boards of Pharmacy (of which the N. C. Board of Pharmacy is a member) changed the By-Laws of the Association to require that applicants for licensure must receive at least three months of practical pharmacy experience subsequent to graduation.

A large number of states have already begun enforcing this requirement. The N. C. Board was reluctant to do this since it would mean that many of our graduates would have to wait until the February examination in order to acquire three months of experience after graduation.

As has been explained to candidates taking the examinations, since this By-Law change by the National Association of Board of Pharmacy, they may be denied reciprocity to those states which have already started enforcing the By-Law requirement.

The simplest way to resolve this problem was to change the dates of the North Carolina examinations. Even with this change, there are several states in which licentiates of the N. C. Board will not be eligible for reciprocity, since the boards in those states require at least six months of practical experience after graduation, and one state requires a full year after graduation.

These states will be identified for interested persons.

In making the change in examination dates, the Board took into consideration an additional reason: That the September date would allow a larger number of candidates to take the full examination the first time it is given after graduation. There have been many candidates who have not been able to do this in the past because they lacked three months of practical experience. This can now be acquired following graduation and before the Board meets.

The new examination schedule will also relieve many students of the problem of deciding whether to sacrifice one summer's practical experience to attend summer school. Under the new arrangement a student may attend a full summer school and still have sufficient time in which to acquire his practical experience and qualify for the full examination the first time it is given after graduation.

The Board of Pharmacy hopes these changes in dates will solve many of the problems which recur annually.

UNC PHARMACY SCHOOL NOTES

"I would like to come down to the school and talk to some of your seniors in March or April unless they have all accepted jobs. We need one and maybe two men. The boys you have recommended to us are tops in my book."

There was a record breaking enrollment of 67 paid tuitions for the postgraduate drug symposium on Dermatotherapeutics held on five Wednesday nights beginning February 3 at the School of Pharmacy. In addition, members of the faculty and graduating class attended the classes. Pharmacists in attendance came from as far as Kinston, Roanoke Rapids, Danville and Chatham, Va., Winston-Salem, Kannapolis, and Fayetteville. Due credit goes to Dr. M. A. Chambers, Assistant Dean and director of pharmacy extension for the increasing success of the postgraduate extension program.

Two new postgraduate seminars are scheduled as follows: Drugs Affecting the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat in Winston-Salem for four weekly night classes beginning April 8 at the Bowman-Gray School of Medicine which is providing the faculty; Antibiotics and Antiallergies at Charlotte College for four weekly night classes beginning April 15 with a faculty from the University of North Carolina School of Medicine, Duke University School of Medicine, and specialized medical practice in Charlotte.

The new catalog of the School of Pharmacy was received from the printer in early February. Copies are available on request.

Copies of the new Physicians' Desk Reference were presented by the Justice Drug Company to the seniors and members of the faculty at the beginning of the spring semester.

The quarterly meeting of the North Carolina Society of Hospital Pharmacists was held on February 6 at the Carolina Inn with members of the faculty and graduating class as guests. Dr. W. Fred Mayes, Dean of the School of Public Health spoke on the interrelationship of pharmacy and public health.

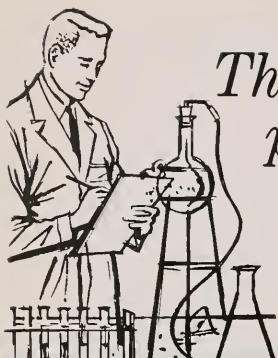

Robert M. Morris, Wilmington, N. C., completed all requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy by passing the final oral examination on February 8. The title of his dissertation was "Investigation of a New Auxiliary Agent for Use in Direct Compression Formulas in Tableting." He accepted a position at Eli Lilly and Company.

Dean E. A. Brecht attended the Valentine Dinner-Dance of the Alamance Pharmaceutical Society in Burlington on February 13.

The pharmacy school student newspaper, now in its third year, published its first issue for the spring semester with a Valentine theme.

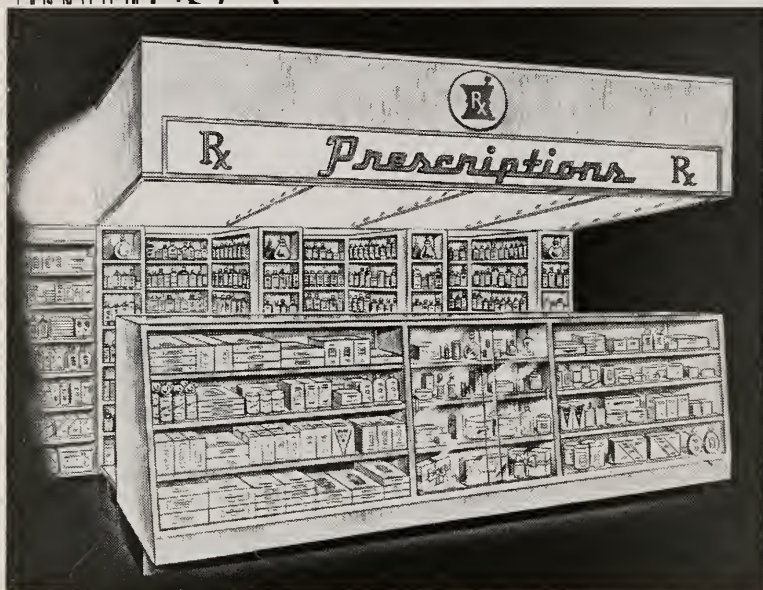

Twenty pharmacy students enrolled in a voluntary, non-credit course to become instructors of the American Red Cross First Aid Courses. The first class was held on February 15. It is taught by Instructor-Trainer E. A. Brecht.

Pharmacy Senate

By LARRY WARREN

The Pharmacy Senate held its regular monthly meeting on January 14. Mr. Edward D. Sumner, Instructor of Pharmacy was the faculty guest. Jimmy Tripp, fourth-year student from Sanford spoke on "The Doctor Prescribing by Generic Name"; Larry Kiziah, fourth-year student from Hickory, spoke on "Fire Hazards"; and Marsha Taylor, fifth-year student from La-Grange spoke on "Cystic Fibrosis and the Related Role of the Pharmacist." Each speech was followed by discussion.

By LARRY WARREN

Officers for the spring semester were elected on February 1: President Rick Rickard of Kannapolis, Vice President Bill Foster of Mocksville, Treasurer Lynn McCaskill of Ellerbe, Correspondent Larry Warren of Newton Grove, Secretary Bob Carr of Rose Hill, Pledge Master Larry Nichols of North Wilkesboro, Social Chairman Ron Geer of Charlotte, Prelate Larry Kennedy of Robbins, Master at Arms Curtis Holleman of Fuquay Springs, Inner Guard Hugh Myers of Clayton, and Intramural Manager Bob Lowe of Swannanoa.

Events planned for this semester include attendance at the Southern Regional Conference on March 5 and 6, the Phi Delta Chi Weekend in April, Spring Initiation, Professional Inter-Fraternity Council Weekend, Pharmacy Weekend, and Jubilee Weekend.

Phi Delta Chi is planning a luncheon at the NCPA convention in Durham. All alumni are invited to attend.

Kappa Psi

The new officers for 1965-66 were elected at the beginning of the spring semester: Regent Neil Pharr, Harrisburg; Vice-Regent Jim Matthews, Clinton; Secretary Terry Heatherington, Bessemer City; Treasurer Del Cranford, Denton; Pledge Master Dick Gray, Newport; Historian John Rawlins, Tarboro; House Manager Neil Musselwhite, Carolina Beach; Intramural Manager Solon Minton, Asheville; and Chaplain Jack Morgan, Raleigh.

Historical Note

By ALICE NOBLE, Research Historian

Along with the rest of the world I read with emotion the press stories and followed on TV and radio the dramatic presentations of Sir Winston Churchill's solemn and magnificent funeral. General Eisenhower's farewell to his "old friend" affected me more deeply than any of the tributes paid to the great leader and demonstrated once more "that ritual and ceremony and veneration for traditions provide the underpinning for survival in the present and hope for the future." Sir Winston believed and often said that knowing the past helped one anticipate the future. "His study of the history of the Island gave him a capacity to understand and grapple with the great tides of catastrophe swirling around his civilization 24 years ago." These views on the value of the study of history are heart warming to me for I am a sincere believer in the importance of historical research and the preservation of historical records.

In my quest for biographical data I have found it very difficult to locate personality items about pharmacists and to learn anything about their interests and activities outside of pharmacy. For instance, voluminous material has been compiled about the professional career of the late John Grover Beard, but there is very little information about his non-professional existence. Since he was a close friend of mine for many years and my "boss" for almost as long, I thought I ought to record some of my recollections of him as well as information that he gave me about himself.

Grover Beard was born and bred in Kernersville. He graduated from high school when he was 16, and his first drug store experience was obtained in the local drug store of Dr. L. B. Sapp. After two years he went to Winston-Salem to live with his sister. He secured a position in Salem in Shaffner's Drug Store. There he was associated with Norman Lynch and a life-time friendship developed between the two. He was next connected with Abernethy's Drug Store in Newton where Charlie Andrews was working and the two became fast friends.

In Winston-Salem he had many friends and enjoyed immensely the social life of the growing town. In the pharmacy archives there is a newspaper photograph of a quartette of friends dressed for a fancy ball at the Zinzendorf Hotel in 1910. (The quartette was composed of John Whitaker, John and Bob Hanes and J. G. Beard.) I think J. G.'s costume depicted a medicine man. He wore a shaggy wig, topped by a not-too-new silk hat. His Scotch plaid coat was knee length. His trousers were made of a checked material. The shirt was still another color with a high stock collar.

In the fall of 1907 Grover Beard entered the University. He told me often that he had not fully decided to study pharmacy when he came to Chapel Hill and that Bob McArthur definitely influenced his decision. From the day of his registration in the School of Pharmacy until his death pharmacy was the warp and woof of his being. His achievements are well known and recorded carefully in the pharmaceutical archives. (This narrative is a non-professional story.) He was a brilliant student, but found time to enjoy extra curricular activities. He held several class offices and was a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity and the German Club. The following paragraph accompanies his senior photograph in the Yackety Yack: "'Whiskers' as we call him is continually singing some little song . . . Among his special delights are playing rag-time on his typewriter, and coaching the first year pharmacy class . . . He is a hard worker and a good student and if in the race of life he keeps up the pace he has set here, we predict that he will win, hands down.'"

When I first knew J. G. Beard he had already graduated from the University and was an instructor in pharmacy. He was 6 feet tall, weighed 150 pounds, was quite good looking, always dressed beautifully, and wore his clothes with distinction. He was lots of fun—a beautiful dancer, loved to ride horseback, always owned a dog, enjoyed driving a car, played golf, and was much sought after for social functions. He enjoyed writing and was a frequent contributor of valuable papers to professional journals. Frank Graham said often he had a wonderful sense of words. Reading was a favorite pastime and he built up a valuable library.

As the years went by Professor Beard gave up gradually many of his "outside" activities. His whole heart and soul was in his profession. He rarely took a vacation, but spent the summer months getting ready for the next college year or traveling over the State in an old-fashioned Ford car in the interest of the State Pharmaceutical Association. Slowly his health failed and in 1937 he was given a leave of absence which he said was the first vacation he had had since he was fourteen.

When he died in 1946 at the age of 58 a classmate and neighbor characterized J. G. Beard as "a quiet, gentlemanly and scholarly collegian at all times at the service of his profession. The University and the State Pharmaceutical Association will miss him keenly. . . ."

Mrs. B. S. Philbrick was guest speaker at the February 16 meeting of the WNC Drug Auxiliary, held in Asheville.

Members voted to make a donation to the Heart Fund in memory of deceased members and approved the purchase and presentation of a book on pharmacy to the Lee H. Edwards High School.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Harry Dover, Mrs. J. W. Harrison and Mrs. H. R. Laidlaw.

High Point

Mrs. Bill Dunn was hostess to the High Point Auxiliary for their February meeting.

Mrs. T. C. Lohr presented a program on Needlepoint, displaying a number of items she had made and framed.

Door prizes were awarded to Mrs. Gary McKenzie and Mrs. Howard Creech.

Winston-Salem

The Apothecary Club met February 4th at Parkway United Church of Christ with nineteen members and three guests present. The guests were Mrs. Doris Jackson, Mrs. June Smith, and Mrs. Wilma Wilkinson.

Mrs. Don Chapman, vice-president, presided over the meeting. Reports were heard from officers and committee chairmen. Mrs. G. C. Hartis, Jr. gave a report on the state project. Fifteen copies of The Profession of Pharmacy have been purchased by several members of the Winston-Salem area for placement in local high schools and the city library.

Following the business session a social hour completed the evening.

Cabarrus

Members of the Cabarrus Auxiliary entertained their husbands at a party January 24th at the Hoy Moose cabin near Mt. Pleasant.

Pines and pussywillows were used to decorate the cabin for the event. The covered dish supper was held in place of the Auxiliary's regular January meeting.

The Charlotte Woman's Auxiliary held a business meeting at the Kirkwood Room, February 9th, at 11 a.m., at which time final plans were made for the bridge benefit to be held February 23rd.

Luncheon followed the session.

Greensboro

The Greensboro Drug Club Auxiliary met January 26 with fifteen members present.

Mrs. M. M. Edmonds gave the invocation after which Mrs. Ben Collins introduced Mr. C. F. Brown, pharmaceutical representative of Merck, Sharpe and Dohme, who showed and narrated a film on immunization against measles.

The business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. D. C. Dowdy. Plans were made to distribute the book, The Profession of Pharmacy, to two of the high schools in the city.

The door prize was won by Mrs. J. Frank Pickard. Hostesses for the meeting were Mesdames A. H. Mebane, Chairman, T. G. Crutchfield, Arnold Cherson and David Stang.

Rowan-Davie

Members of the Rowan-Davie Drug Auxiliary met for lunch at the Chanticleer Restaurant on February 24th, with Mrs. Henry Ridenhour presiding. Mrs. Justin Uffinger gave the devotions.

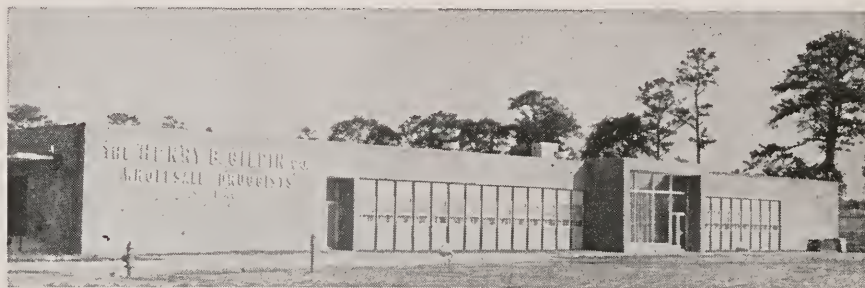

Auxiliary members had a discussion on the state project which was led by Mrs. Bobby Lindsay, projects chairman. Members voted to place the book "Profession of Pharmacy" in the high school libraries of Rowan County this year, with the owners of the drug stores donating these books. Members also discussed what would need to Octavus Griffin, 72, operator of Griffin Drug Company, Roanoke Rapids, died February 18 in a Richmond, Virginia hospital following a period of declining health.

Mr. Griffin was a graduate of the Medical College of Virginia, Class of 1922. He served in World War I with the 30th Division; was licensed to practice pharmacy in North Carolina in 1926 and prior to opening his pharmacy in Roanoke Rapids in 1937, was employed in that city by Taylor's Drug Store for ten years.

Mr. Griffin was a member of the Rosemary Baptist Church, the Lions Club (past president) and a director of the Union Mission Board.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Laura L. Griffin; a son, William C. Griffin, who, as a pharmacist, has been associated with his father in the operation of the pharmacy; a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Thompson of Norfolk; one sister and four brothers; and three grandchildren.

T. H. WILSON

Thomas Harvey Wilson, born May 17, 1884, died January 22.

Mr. Wilson attended the Virginia College of Medicine, graduating in 1908, and received his North Carolina pharmacist license the following year.

Until retirement some years ago, he was owner/operator of the Cramerton Drug Company, Cramerton. In recent years he had made his home in Gastonia.

BEVERLY NEWTON AUSTIN

Beverly Newton Austin, 63, Morehead City pharmacist, died in Durham on February 12. He was an out-patient at one of the Durham hospitals.

A native of Leaksville and a graduate of the UNC School of Pharmacy, Class of 1928, Mr. Austin was at one time a co-owner of a pharmacy in Shelby. Prior to going with the Morehead City Drug Company in early 1962, he was associated with a pharmacy in West Jefferson.

He is survived by his wife, the former Miss Nell Carlan of Mount Airy, and a sister, Miss Katherine Austin of Leaksville.

The Pegrams Open New Pharmacy-Medical Building

Formal opening of Pegram's Pharmacy and medical building was observed on February 27. Hundreds of persons during a two-hour open house took the opportunity to visit an exceptionally well arranged and lighted pharmacy.

Located in Apex on the corner of East Moore and South Salem Streets, the pharmacy is about two blocks from the older Pegram Pharmacy, which was purchased from the Holland Estate in 1942.

The new building is constructed of rosy-tan brick; has a deep canopy on the outside banded in steel; a drive-in window, and, although electrically heated and air conditioned, to lend a nostalgic air to the surroundings, has an old-time whirling-blade fan at the front door.

Inside, the modern lighting and fixtures, walnut paneling illuminated display shelves faced in pastel green and marblechip terrazzo floor are both beautiful and functional.

At one end of the pharmacy is an elevated prescription department and a snack bar at the other. The professional atmosphere of the prescription department is enhanced by wise use of antique pharmaceutical equipment, balances, show globes, etc.

In adjoining offices are two doctors: Dr. J. K. Pearson and Dr. L. T. Hart. The ultra-modern suites include waiting rooms, treatment rooms, laboratories and offices for the two MDs.

Owners of the pharmacy are Mr. and Mrs. Calvin W. Pegram. Mrs. Pegram is president; a daughter, Mrs. J. B. Fitchette, vice-president; and Mr. Pegram, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Pegram was one of the first women pharmacists in the state (1922). During her earlier career in pharmacy, she made her home in Asheville where Mr. Pegram was manager of a milk producers association. They moved to Raleigh in 1937 when Mr. Pegram became director of the Dairy Division of the N. C. Department of Agriculture, a post he retired from in 1962.

One of the Pegram daughters (Mrs. J. K. Pearson), followed in her mother's profession by graduating in pharmacy at Chapel Hill and now helps out on a part-time basis when her services are needed. The other pharmacist is Lelon Dollar, who has been in Apex for ten years.

The type pharmacy established in Apex by the Pegrams—pharmacy with nearby medical offices—is part of a trend that has been underway for several years. Clean, well lighted, efficiently arranged, pharmacies of this type definitely enhance Pharmacy's professional image.

Insulin Approved for Payment Under Welfare Rx Program

Effective March 1 the State Board of Public Welfare's Drug Program was amended to include Insulin.

In his notification to county directors of public welfare, Russell R. Chambers, Director of the Division of Medical Services, pointed out that Insulin is the only non-legend drug for which payment will be made.

For patients eligible for prescription service under the Welfare regulations who require more than one bottle of Insulin per month it is suggested that a month's supply be prescribed initially. While refills are not authorized, MD telephone authorization will be sufficient for the new Rx, assuming a new monthly blue sheet authorization has been issued by the recipient's county welfare department.

A Challenging Opportunity

As previously announced, Edward A. Brecht will relinquish his duties as Dean of the University of North Carolina School of Pharmacy on July 1. While the Dean will remain with the School as a member of the teaching staff, for the good of the School, the faculty and students, and the profession and state it serves, the least interruption to administration will be in the best interest of all who look upon the School as the fountainhead of pharmacy education in North Carolina.

Hence, the situation dictates the selection of a new dean as quickly as feasible.

It was reassuring to hear University officials state that in its replacement search, only the most qualified educators would be considered; that the aim was to lift the School of Pharmacy at Chapel Hill to a point where its rating would be unsurpassed in this country; and finally, that funds would be made available to effect these objectives.

While the selection of a dean is not one that can be taken care of by reference to the nearest newspaper classified ad section, we do know and are encouraged by the knowledge that the University Administration is moving as rapidly as possible, keeping in mind that second best is not good enough.

With a physical plant equal to if not superior to most schools of pharmacy;

With an experienced and dedicated faculty;

With backup support from the other near-by schools, which are a part of the division of health affairs, and the ready availability of the general schools and departments of the University;

With the unqualified support of the NCPHA, The Board of Pharmacy and the Pharmaceutical Research Foundation, the opportunity at Chapel Hill represents what we believe to be the most challenging opportunity open today to pharmaceutical educators in this country. The man for the job exists. The task is to bring man and opportunity together.

The Carolina Journal of Pharmacy is published monthly by the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association, Box 151, Chapel Hill, N. C. Subscription rate: $3.00 a year; single copy, 25 cents. Second Class postage paid at Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

The Pharmaceutical Center

A new pharmacy in which pharmacists can be full-time, independent, financially successful health practitioners will be shown (slides) at the 85th annual convention of the NCPHA, Durham, May 17. The presentation will be by the Manager of McKesson & Robbin's Retail Trade Promotion Department, Mr. James Kuhnheim.

Designated the "Pharmaceutical Center," it will offer pharmacists an entirely new concept in the community practice of pharmacy. Available in three basic decors—Modern, Colonial and French Provincial—the "Pharmaceutical Center" permits pharmacists to establish office practices in which full pharmaceutical services and health care products are provided.

Details of these essential characteristics of "The Pharmaceutical Center" will be discussed by Mr. Kuhnheim: (1) No merchandise displayed; complete professional atmosphere; (2) Patient-pharmacist direct relationship; family record system; (3) Family health information center; (4) professional library and extensive reference files; (5) institutional advertising only, emphasizing services; and (6) professional fee system.

50 Plus 1 for the TMA's

After observing their golden anniversary at the 1964 meeting of the NCPHA & Affiliated Auxiliaries in Charlotte last year, the officers and members of The Traveling Men's Auxiliary determined that the coming years would surpass—in membership and membership accomplishments—what has been achieved since the TMA's were organized in 1914. As the TMA's close their 51st year, under the capable guidance of President Morgan and his board of directors, the record is an inspiring one.

If you are a member of the TMA, you will want to join your fellow associates, pharmacists and friends as they assemble in Durham on May 16-18 for the annual convention of the NCPHA and Affiliated Auxiliaries. Three days of inspiration, fun and relaxation have been planned, starting with a number of special events on Sunday and closing with the annual TMA Party on Tuesday night.

Details of the general business and entertainment programs appear in this issue of The Journal.

You can assist by sending in your annual dues prior to the meeting. Convention attending membership, $15.00; non-attending membership, $5.00. Mail your check to Mr. J. Floyd Goodrich, 2121 West Club Blvd., Durham, N. C.

Why fill this generic Rx from this bottle?

More than 100 good reasons—based on quality control alone—could be given. Serpasil (reserpine) raw materials and intermediates must pass 97 exacting tests. The tablets must pass an additional 10 tests. Typical results show assay variation of usually not more than 2 per cent.

The result of all this careful testing is simply this: the patient—your customer—gets precisely the medication the doctor ordered, in its purest form.

Simplified Inventory: Serpasil (reserpine) not only assures you quality and purity but the widest range of strengths and dosage forms—to meet the requirements of every generic prescription for reserpine. You can ease a lot of inventory headaches by relying on this product to fill generic Rx's.

SUPPLIED: Tablets, 2 mg. (white, scored); bottles of 100 and 1000. Tablets, 1 mg. (white, scored), 0.25 mg. (white, scored) and 0.1 mg. (white); bottles of 100, 500, 1000 and 5000. Elixir (reddish-brown, cola-flavored), 1 mg. per 4-ml. teaspoon; bottles of 1 pint and 1 gallon. Elixir (green, lemon-lime flavored), 0.2 mg. per 4-ml. teaspoon; bottles of 1 pint. Parenteral Solution: Each ml. contains 2.5 mg. reserpine, 0.1 ml. dimethylacetamide, 10 mg. adipic acid, 0.1 mg. versene, 0.01 ml. benzyl alcohol, 0.05 ml. polyethylene glycol, 0.5 mg. ascorbic acid, and 0.1 mg. sodium sulfite in water. Ampuls, 2 ml.; cartons of 5 and 50. Multiple-dose Vials, 10 ml.; cartons of 1, boxes of 6 and 50.

Dr. Brown Joins Staff at Rowan Memorial Hospital

Dr. Earl Brown of Asheville has accepted a position as chief pharmacist in Salisbury with the Rowan Memorial Hospital.

A graduate and former staff member of the UNC School of Pharmacy, Dr. Brown taught in Ethiopia at Haile Selassie I University from 1962 to 1964. Since returning to this country, he has done relief work in the Asheville area.

Meeting Date Changed

The May meeting of the N. C. Board of Pharmacy will be held on Wednesday, May 19, in Chapel Hill.

Generally, the Board meets on the third Tuesday of each month but this year the NCPPhA convention will be in session in Durham, hence the switch from May 18 to May 19.

Judges Named

The top three essays in a contest sponsored by the pharmacists of Lexington were judged by Paul Stoner, Jr., Lexington attorney, Mrs. Mary Murray, advanced compositor teacher in the Davie County High School, and Pharmacist Robert B. Hall of Mocksville.

Each of the winners will receive a $50 cash prize.

Dear "W. J.":

Writing this letter affords me no pleasure, rather sadness.

February 1, 1965, after a lifetime, 41 years to be exact, as a representative of The Penslar Company in North Carolina, I resigned. From now on in I intend to live as carefree and without responsibility as is possible.

I have enjoyed the years I have spent in North Carolina with our many customers, yet, I do not accept them as customers but as friends. I always entered their places of business with that thought in mind, in fact, while one has to do business to earn the necessities of life, I could have walked out of each store each trip without an order and continued to enjoy the visit. I like to believe that I have many friends in the Old North State.

This same trend of thought applies to the Traveling Mens Auxiliary, to which I have held membership for all of these 41 years with Penslar.

May I ask you to extend my sincere wishes to all of my friends in the state at the next convention and from time to time as you see them. I leave you and my friends with the below thought.

"I wish you wealth;
Or, I might wish you health;
Or, that good fortune would caress you.
But wealth might bring you sorrow,
And health could fail tomorrow;
So, I'll simply say GOD BLESS YOU!"

Sincerely,
Allen R. Cross.

Since county welfare departments have considerable latitude in the administration at the local level of the various welfare programs, this variation from the state-wide Rx program was not unexpected. The plan, as outlined in the two pharmacist-physician letters, has been commended by pharmacists practicing in the area of this particular unidentified county welfare department.

Dear Sir:

As you know, the State is beginning a new Prescription Drug Program and we have been informed that you have agreed to participate in this program.

The _____ County Welfare Department is attempting to develop a plan to administer this program in as simple a manner as possible, this being for the benefit of the Physicians, the Druggists and ourselves.

In regard to this, at all times in the future, please keep in mind that our plan for administering this program will be entirely different from that of the Welfare Departments in our surrounding counties. Our plan of administration regarding persons who receive Public Assistance and who are automatically eligible to receive their drugs without cost, is as follows:

A. Determine where each of the recipients of assistance wishes to get his or her medicine.

B. Send each Pharmacist Drug Certification Cards for each recipient, this card listing all persons in the home who are eligible to get their drugs without cost.

C. After filling a prescription, the Pharmacist is to complete DPW-SS-14P forms to be sent to the Welfare Department.

Further explanation:

I am enclosing Drug Certification cards on each recipient of Public Assistance who has advised us that they get their prescriptions filled at your drug store.

Until such time as we notify you, each person whose name is on one of these cards is eligible to get a prescription filled without the person or you notifying our department.

In other words, the person who receives Public Assistance can go directly to the Druggist from the Physician.

At such time a person is no longer eligible to receive drugs through this program, we will notify you immediately and ask that you destroy his or her drug certification card.

I am making available to you a supply of the DPW-SS-14P forms and as you need additional ones, please let me know. In completing these forms, after filling a prescription, please do the following:

A. Complete four copies.

B. Retain one copy and send the _____ County Welfare Department three copies. (Please totally disregard the instructions given at the bottom of the form, since our plan of administration is different from that which will be used in the other counties.)

C. You may wish to send these to us once a month, rather than sending them each time a prescription is filled.

COMPLETING THE FORMS:

Please complete the following parts of the form:

A. Name of Pharmacy and address

B. Patient's name and address

C. Pharmacy Invoice portion

Please keep in mind that the persons to whom we are referring are receiving Public Assistance. Those who are not receiving Public Assistance, but who could be certified as being medically indigent with our paying all or a part of the cost of a prescription, must apply directly to us after a Physician writes a prescription; and if they are found eligible we would send directly to you, with the person, the DPW-SS-14P forms.

In this case, you would complete your part of the forms sent you, retain one copy and send the others back to us. IN NO CASE DO WE WANT ANY OF OUR DPW-SS-14P FORMS SENT DIRECTLY TO RALEIGH.

May I state again that our plan of administration is different from that which will be used in other counties, but we are quite certain that after we get it started it is going to be far better than what will be used elsewhere.

Your cooperation will be appreciated, and if you have questions, please feel free to contact us.

P.S. We are enclosing copy of a letter sent to Physicians.

Dear Dr. _____:

As you know, we now have in operation a new drug program which will take care of the drug needs of persons who regularly receive assistance through one of our Public Assistance programs and the drug needs of persons who are just beyond being eligible for assistance who would be considered to be medically indigent.

Under the provisions of this program, it will be necessary for each of these persons to have a new prescription each time they get their medicine. (This would not mean that a Physician may not prescribe in advance or by telephone, as long as the Pharmacist gives each prescription a new number.)

As you see these persons and write their prescriptions, the following should be done:

I. THOSE RECEIVING REGULAR ASSISTANCE:

Send directly to the drug store where they regularly get their medicine as their druggist will know they are eligible to get their prescriptions filled. There is no need for any of these persons to come to our office.

II. THOSE WHO ARE MEDICALLY INDIGENT WHO DO NOT RECEIVE ASSISTANCE AND WHO YOU FEEL MAY BE ELIGIBLE FOR, AND NEED, HELP WITH THEIR DRUGS. Send directly to the Welfare Department so that we can determine eligibility.

We are making every effort to make the administration of this drug program as simple as possible, and we feel we have a very good plan that we are putting into operation.

Sincerely,
Director

Health Education Center Service Underway

The American Pharmaceutical Association's Health Education Center Service got underway on April 1 with pharmacists from 33 states, as well as the District of Columbia, Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, and several foreign countries, participating.

Subscribers have received for display in their pharmacies a new, improved, floor-type, revolving literature rack with an attractively designed, brilliant black-and-yellow, double-sided poster boldly announcing FREE FAMILY HEALTH INFORMATION. Filling the literature rack will be bi-monthly shipments of approved health brochures from the nation's leading professional health associations and national voluntary health agencies, as well as agencies of the U. S. Government. Organizations already promising literature for the first year of the program include:

American Cancer Society; American Dental Association; American Diabetes Association; American Heart Association; American Medical Association; American National Red Cross; American Optometric Association; American Podiatry Association; Food and Drug Administration; National Association of Social Workers; The National Foundation; National Kidney Disease Foundation; National Society for the Prevention of Blindness; National Tuberculosis Association and the U. S. Public Health Service.

Literature to be displayed in the participating pharmacies during the first two-month period (April-May) will include brochures on cancer, diabetes, glaucoma, heart disease, immunization, birth defects, chronic cough, dental health, eyesight, artificial respiration, and smoking and health.

The new APhA service is patterned after the successful national experimental study conducted by National Analysts of Philadelphia last year for the APhA under a $100,000.00 U. S. Public Health Service grant. These survey results revealed that the pharmacist was, in the eyes of the public, second only to the physician as a source of family health information, and that the program increased patron loyalty and confidence in the pharmacist who serves as a health educator.

Pharmacists wishing to subscribe to the APhA Health Education Center Service should make application to the American Pharmaceutical Association, Division of Communications, 2215 Constitution Avenue, N. W., Washington, D.C. 20037. Subscription fee for APhA members is $114 per year, or $60 when paid semi-annually; the subscription fee for non-APhA members is $144 per year.

Note to Convention Drive-Ins

Due to the shortage of pharmacists and other factors, some members of the Association will attend the Durham Convention for a limited time—one session or at most, 1 day of the 3-day meeting.

Two complimentary hospitality rooms—one for the ladies and one for the men—will be open at The Jack Tar for the entire 3-day meeting. These rooms will be open to all non-hotel registered guests during May 16-18. The room numbers will be posted at the registration tables.

POISON PREVENTION WEEKNOTE THIS DAY BY DAY RECORD OF PHARMACIST
MICKEY WATTS OF CHARLOTTE, NORTH CAROLINA*SUNDAY, MARCH 14

In the morning I assembled the display which I built during the preceding week.

Sunday afternoon for several hours I stationed myself at the display, passing out literature and talking with people (mostly mothers) interested in the display and how they could better protect their children.

Mailed out 280 letters to physicians announcing our program of Ipecac and Universal Antidote for their patients during the week.

MONDAY, MARCH 15

Called on 14 doctors and placed signs (like example #1) in their offices and discussed with them how the program would operate.

Spent two hours at display passing out literature and talking with interested people.

Talked to one group of boys (26 boys present, ages 11 to 16) at Jackson Training School.

TUESDAY, MARCH 16

Called on 19 doctors and placed signs in 14 offices.

Spent approximately one and a half hours at display.

Spoke to 58 members (men) of Cook Memorial Presbyterian Church in Charlotte at a dinner meeting. They invited me back to speak to their wives.

Called both Charlotte Papers and asked them to run articles on display.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 17

Spent two hours at display.

Spoke to 65 members of the Plaza Presbyterian Church in Charlotte at their regular Family night supper meeting.

THURSDAY, MARCH 18

Spent approximately an hour at display.

Talked to four chiefs of local Vol. Fire Departments and gave them material to distribute to their members.

Gave the members of one of Charlotte's Fire Stations enough literature to take home to their wives.

FRIDAY, MARCH 19

Spent two hours at display in the mall.

Spoke to 50 members (mens group) of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in Charlotte at their monthly supper meeting.

Went by the Concord Tribune and talked to one of the editors and left her a number of different pieces of literature which we were giving to our customers, this visit in turn netted us an article the following week in the Tribune.

SATURDAY, MARCH 20

Talked to one group of Mothers at a local nursery and distributed some of the literature we had left.

Spent several hours at the display in the mall. Business was good this day and a large number of people stopped to read the display and to take some of the literature.

LIST OF GENERAL ACTIVITIES WHICH TOOK PLACE THROUGH-OUT THE WEEK.

1. Filled approximately 130 prescriptions Syrup of Ipecac, most of these were from 4 or 5 doctors. Not as many doctors took advantage of the program as we had hoped for but we were pleased to get this number.
2. Filled prescriptions for 6 Universal Antidote prescriptions. Most of the doctors expressed dislike for the U.A. and stated that it was too hard to administer and that the mothers usually were too inclined to give this then not check with a doctor.
3. Called on doctors asking them to take advantage of the program we were sponsoring and to ask for suggestions from them.

OTHERS

I gave two other talks on poison prevention, one the week before N.P.P.W. and the other several weeks before. Both were very successful and both were to women organizations. One group had 26 members present and the other had 34 members attending

BE A JOINER, YES — AN ACTIVE MEMBER, CERTAINLY

Your pharmacist is, by and large, a gregarious creature. He mingles with his colleagues, he associates himself with his neighbors and with his contemporaries in his community.

His gregariousness does not wholly stem from any desire to be protected by the herd, rather it is a characteristic causing him to want to serve mankind to the measure of his talents. He is extroversive without being extrinsic.

He identifies himself with those organizations, clerical, lay, and professional, which are dedicated to the betterment and growth of his community. He serves. And if he becomes noted in these activities or is rewarded with a particle of fame, either transient or long-remembered, he has earned it by his service so unselfishly rendered.

All these activities in community affairs are admirable, even splendid, and are to be commended with all sincerity.

Members of the state pharmaceutical association and members of the local or sectional societies engage in these activities in varying degrees. But do all pharmacists who so zealously participate in the affairs of their communities belong to their state association? Alas, they do not.

This, then, is an appeal to them.

The association needs these pharmacists, not merely as a force of numbers, but also as vociferous participants in the affairs of an association truly representative of the pharmacist and of pharmacy in the state. Equally important is the fact that the pharmacist needs the association.

There are so many services and gratifications offered by the association that to list them all would require a volume of cyclopaedic proportions. Hardly a day passes but that some member, somewhere, receives a benefit in one form or another by simply belonging. So inclusive and gratifying are these services and gratifications that even the non-member benefits to the degree of basking under the carapace of the association's existence, even if he does lack the ineffable satisfaction of being welded one with unity by the simple process of joining and then wholly participating.

Merely a brief mention will show how the association serves. It is ever vigilant in discovering the forces inimical to the pharmacist, to diagnose these forces, then to devise means to combat them. Examples of legislations adverse to the pharmacist, examples of legislation favorable to the pharmacist have been diagnosed and prognosed in the past and may be confidently expected to be so dealt with in the future. True, the association can not of itself militate for or against any force unless the pharmacist as a member enlists his time and efforts in the combat.

By its vigilance, and its alertness to the witherence of pharmacy, the association creates conditions under which the pharmacist is able to cope with the witherence of pharmacy, whether it be affected by the vagaries of legislation or any difficult situation. Under the guidance of the association the pharmacist may determine for himself whether to accept or reject a condition confronting him.

The association's handling of the VA prescription project in years gone by resulted in a source of revenue to the pharmacist he could not have obtained by working individually. The present MAA prescription project bids fair to ultimately replace the lost revenue of the VA project even though there is no concomitant revenue to the association. The guidance and suggestions offered in handling this project will result in a smooth cooperation with the agency involved.

The carrying of the association to the pharmacists of the state as exemplified by the district meeting is another device that has sowed benefits now being reaped. The forums and seminars scheduled ever so often have already made better practitioners of many pharmacists.

Encouragement to local and sectional societies has made for affiliation the value of which is definitive and tangible. Quickly answered correspondence from the resources of the office has repeatedly helped to solve pressing problems.

The annual convention is replete with sessions that bring recognized leaders to share their knowledge with the pharmacist. Leaders within the state bring ideas that may be applied with measured results, and in return they too receive many ideas in exchange. Then there is the social aspect which feeds the pharmacist's natural gregariousness and at the same time evokes the human and diversive relaxation that fortifies the spirit and arouses a dormant or jaded enthusiasm for the work to come.

There are many satisfactions in being just a member. There are many, many more, both spiritual and mundane, in being an active member. But the greatest reward of all is the near sublime feeling of doing ones duty to his fellows and to the profession which has no small part in making better the health welfare of mankind.

Theodore Roosevelt once said, "Every man owes a portion of his time to the profession to which he belongs." To which may be added, the strength of the foundation determines the dimensions of the structure. The foundation of the association is its members and their active participation will determine the dimensions of its structure.

If you are not now a member, or if you have allowed your membership to lapse, there is no better time than now to send for an application, or to send in current dues.

Since the annual convention is just around the corner, there is yet time, if you hurry, to plan to attend, and to become a vital part of its events.

UNC PHARMACY SCHOOL NOTES

U. N. C. Pharmacy School Notes

Thoughtfully and quietly a career of 44 years in the School of Pharmacy ended on March 1 when Alice Noble resigned as research historian. In association with every one of the four deans: Howell, Beard, Jacobs, and Brecht and in three buildings: Person, Howell, and Beard Halls Miss Noble served as secretary and editor, librarian and archivist, and research historian always with efficiency for the routine but more importantly with initiative for new projects. Her records, from pharmacists to everything about North Carolina pharmacy down to each item in the museum, are unique for their organization and completeness. The monument to continuous writing was her book, "The School of Pharmacy of the University of North Carolina: A History" in 1961. Two titles for THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY give clues to the love and appreciation she enjoys: "Here's to Each and Everyone of You! Friendship Through the Years" and "I Like to Talk." Now it is her Commencement. We miss her, we know her interest will continue, we wish her the best in new activities.

Open House will be held at the School of Pharmacy on Sunday, May 9. The faculty members and students will be present to conduct tours and explain displays and demonstrations of pharmaceutical education and practice. It is interesting that a pharmacist's son now in the prepharmacy class made his final decision to study pharmacy on the basis of attending Open House.

The Directors of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Research Foundation held the annual meeting at the School of Pharmacy on March 10. A report is published elsewhere in this journal.

This column was scooped by the publication of Dean Brecht's resignation from the administrative position to resume full-time teaching and research as a faculty member by its publication in last month's issue of this journal. A committee to search for the new dean has been appointed and consists of Professor Thomas Christopher as chairman from the School of Law; Dr. Claiborne S. Jones, Professor of Zoology and Associate Dean of the General College; Dr. Warner L. Wells, Surgeon, North Carolina Memorial Hospital; and Drs. M. A. Chambers and A. W. Jowdy of the School of Pharmacy.

Professor A. W. Jowdy discussed careers in pharmacy at the Jordan Junior-Senior High School, Durham on February 22.

Dr. M. A. Chambers, Assistant Dean attended the Conference of Teachers of Public Health in Colleges of Pharmacy in Washington, D. C. on March 1-3. The conference was supported by a grant from the United States Public Health Service.

The television program this year for Poison Prevention Week consisted of the tape from last year and was shown on WUNC-TV on March 2 and 3.

Eight members of the Rowan-Davie Drug Auxiliary visited the School of Pharmacy as their monthly meeting on March 17. They enjoyed the tour of the building and refreshments served in the seminar room.

Robert Mendes passed the preliminary oral examination for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy on March 18.

Dr. Jowdy's class in Pharmacy Management was addressed by two guests appearances: Mrs. Joyce Stanford alumna and pharmacist-manager of the Chapel Hill Pharmacy discussed the operation of a prescription shop and Wade Millican and Bob Rabon of Bauer & Black discussed and demonstrated Therapeutic Elastic Support.

Eighteen pharmacy students completed the American Red Cross Instructors' Course of 15 hours on a voluntary non-credit basis on March 15. These students will carry their authorization to teach the Junior, Standard and Advanced courses to all parts of the state. They were Larry Gene Baber, Rutherfordton; Anthony Dwight Batts, Wallace; James Gordon Blount, Elizabeth City; William Shelton Boone, Castalia; Mrs. Laura Gaither Burnham, Chapel Hill; Fred Allen Connelly, Spruce Pine; Richard Adrow Gray, Newport; Terry Walter Heatherington, Bessemer City; Larry Cleveland Kiziah, Hickory; Carroll Malcolm Laxton, Lenoir; Martha Victoria Leggett, Williamston; Rodney Lynn McCaskill, Ellerbe; Solon Scott Minton, Asheville; Mrs. Donna Booth Neal, Chapel Hill; Hearne Franklin Rickard, II, Kannapolis; William Douglas Roycroft, Shallotte; Larry Joe Warren, Raleigh; and Ronald Edwin Young, Christiansburg, Virginia.

Student Branches of the NCPA and Apha

State Senator J. Ruffin Bailey who is also council for the North Carolina Board of Pharmacy addressed the Student Branches on February 23. He emphasized the opportunities and importance for a role of community leadership for pharmacists. The meeting was followed by a reception in the Student Center of Beard Hall.

Phi Delta Chi

Brothers Lynn McCaskill and Larry Nichols attended the Regional Meeting at Lexington, Kentucky on March 5 and 6.

HISTORICAL NOTES

By ALICE NOBLE

1214 Hillsboro Street, Chapel Hill

It was not easy to make the decision on March the first to give up my long association with North Carolina pharmacy. I have enjoyed my activities immensely and I treasure countless memories of happy incidents all along the way. I have realized for many months, however, that it is necessary for me to have more time to devote to my private interests, to be with friends, to travel, and to complete non-pharmaceutical historical researches in which I am engaged.

I am happy to report that I have completed all of the research projects that I initiated, my files are in order and up-to-date, and my desk is clear. I believe sincerely that my accomplishments should be regarded as "rare documentary resources" and administered in the same manner that similar materials are handled in the State Department of Archives and History in Raleigh, and the Southern Historical Collection and the North Carolina Archives here at the University. The biographical collection is well taken care of in fire-resistant cabinets with sturdy locks. My numerous research compilations, the photographs, clippings, etc. are contained in handsome book binders—the generous gifts of friends. These volumes should not, however, remain on open shelves, but a suitable cabinet with a strong lock should be provided to insure protection against theft and mutilation. (I hope that the plans of the School of Pharmacy to establish the E. V. Zoeller Historical Museum can be carried out in the near future.)

I wish that I knew how to express appreciation to the many friends and organizations who have contributed so generously to the success of my efforts. Their enthusiastic interest and constructive assistance have been a wonderful inspiration to me. My heartfelt thanks to each and every one of you.

I shall be interested in pharmacy always and shall follow with pride the future history of the profession. I hope my friends will come to see me often. The latch string hangs on the outside at my home at all times. Finally, I am wishing for each and every one of you the best of everything always.

- Winston-Salem—Mrs. Frank O'Neil
- Greensboro—Mrs. J. Frank Pickard

Winston-Salem

The Winston-Salem Apothecary Club held its March meeting at the home of Mrs. John Holland, with 23 members and 3 guests present. Mrs. Frank O'Neil and Mrs. Don Ferguson were hostesses.

Reports were heard from committee chairmen and plans were announced for the April meeting, to be held at the home of Mrs. Williams.

The Nominating Committee submitted the following slate, which was accepted by the membership: President, Mrs. Don Chapman; Vice-President, Mrs. John Andrews; Treasurer, Mrs. Paul Barber; Secretary, Mrs. Bill Johnson.

The President announced the May 6th dinner meeting to be held at the Woman's Club.

Following the business session, Dr. W. C. Rabil, guest speaker, was introduced.

High Point

A program on styling hats highlighted the March meeting of the High Point Pharmaceutical Auxiliary. Mrs. Howard Creech, president, presided, and Mrs. Archie Koontz presented a devotional.

Mrs. Carson Southern was hostess to the meeting at her home on Kingston Street.

Greensboro

The Greensboro Drug Club Auxiliary held its March meeting in the home of Mrs. D. D. Claytor. Mrs. D. C. Dowdy conducted a short business meeting at which a nominating committee consisting of Mrs. A. H. Mebane III, chairman, Mrs. R. F. Whiteley, and Mrs. C. C. Graham was appointed to submit officers for the next year.

Mrs. Briggs Cook, Mrs. P. W. Jordon, Mrs. J. H. Upton, and Mrs. Jack Alexander were welcomed as new members.

A white elephant sale with Mrs. W. P. Rose as auctioneer was the main feature of the evening. Bridge play followed the business and auction.

Party refreshments were served throughout the evening by the hostesses: Mrs. Claytor, Mrs. Jordon, Mrs. D. C. Bracker, and Mrs. Cook.

UNC Drug Auxiliary

For its March meeting the Western North Carolina Drug Club Auxiliary held a bridge luncheon at the home of Mrs. R. C. Sisk.

During the business session, plans were made for a rummage sale to be held in May. Also, it was voted to send a donation of $75 to the student emergency loan fund.

Winners at bridge and canasta were Mrs. J. W. Brown and Mrs. Hayes Hall. Another prize was awarded to Mrs. Aubrey Scott.

Gurley to Head Pharmaceutical Research Foundation

The 19th annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Research Foundation was held in Chapel Hill on March 10.

Officers elected to serve during the coming year are: W. B. Gurley of Windsor, president; Robert B. Hall of Mocksville, vice-president; and Edward A. Brecht of Chapel Hill, secretary.

The North Carolina National Bank of Durham continues as fiscal agent for the Foundation.

Major action taken at the meeting included adoption of a budget ($29,000) for 1965-'66. Endowment Funds as of March 1 amounted to approximately $244,000; expendable funds, approximately $46,000.

The February '65 fund drive brought in 442 contributions amounting to slightly over $6,000.

The resignation of Miss Alice Noble as Research Historian was announced at the meeting. Edwin R. Fuller of Salisbury was recognized as a new director of the Foundation.

A more detailed report will be presented at the convention in Durham.

What 100 New Jobs Mean

Why should every business man be actively interested in all organizations whose purpose is community development? When a hundred new jobs are created in a community, what are the results? The United States Department of Commerce gives this answer:

- (1) 296 more people in the community
- (2) 74 additional persons in services, trades and professions
- (3) 112 more households
- (4) $590,000 more in personal income per year
- (5) $277,000 more bank deposits per year
- (6) four more rental outlets established
- (7) 51 additional school children
- (8) $360,000 more in retail sales each year.

Welsh Appointed District Manager

Olin H. Welsh, Richmond, Virginia, has been appointed district sales manager with Wyeth Laboratories.

Welsh, who will direct the company sales activities in the Richmond area, was previously associated with Southeastern General Hospital, Lumberton, N. C. as pharmacist and assistant administrator. Prior to that time he was a member of the Wyeth sales staff in Fayetteville.

He is a graduate of the University of North Carolina and served with the U. S. Navy.

North Carolina was represented at the recent APhA meeting in Detroit by fifteen pharmacists from the NCPHA, The Board of Pharmacy, School of Pharmacy and N. C. Society of Hospital Pharmacists.

About half of the pharmacists from North Carolina in attendance at the meeting were responsible for presentation of papers, reports, etc.

Captain Timberlake, a UNC pharmacy graduate, and Jack Watts, Lilly MSR, spoke at the Student's section meeting, which included three pharmacy students from Chapel Hill.

Present for part of the meeting was Tom Christopher of Chapel Hill, who was in search of applicants for the position of Dean of the UNC School of Pharmacy.

One of the most impressive features of the meeting was the meeting place—Cobo Hall—largest (17 acres) in the world.

service...our aim

Professional competence and sound business principles are the attributes which account for the success of a pharmacy. However, as a pharmacy grows and prospers, physical inventory and personnel increase. Service to the community becomes greater and more complex. This is the familiar pattern which we, as a service wholesaler, have witnessed for many years. Therefore, we continually bring you new opportunities for profit, new methods for merchandising, and new ideas for your business. Our aim is to be of help and service to you.

Send your orders to us for prompt filling and rapid delivery.

TAKEN FOR GRANTED

The traditional association between pharmacists and physicians is all too often taken for granted, and there is much ignorance on both sides about the other's activities, the physicians probably being the most neglectful. Mr. McAllister's paper in this issue of the Journal should help dispel some of this ignorance. One wonders for example, how many physicians realize that modern pharmaceutical education lasts five years, and in this state must be supplemented by a year of "internship."

In the long period of years when the pharmacist compounded many of his own medicines, and even gathered the necessary herbs, physicians knew the pharmacists more intimately, for their individual skills were often of the only guarantee that potent medications were being used. The modern pharmacist does not have this responsibility in most instances, but he has acquired many others which are equally important. The nature of these responsibilities, his preparation for assuming them, and the legal structure in which he operates are all of importance to physicians and their patients.

Mr. McAllister is rightly concerned that neglect of their common interests by physicians and pharmacists may lead to greater legal regulation of both professions. An example of the genuine cause for his concern, although not a legal responsibility of his Board, is the Durham-Humphrey amendment to the Pure Food and Drug Act. As most physicians know, this amendment prohibits the pharmacist from refilling any prescription unless the physician re-orders it. The amendment was enacted because of laxity by both groups in casually refilling prescriptions for such drugs as barbiturates and amphetamines. Still, with the law on the books, a pharmacist cannot legally refill a prescription for digitalis which he knows must be continued. When and if he does refill such a prescription without an order, he is being led down the primrose path by a neglectful physician, who may well resent being called to give permission for what is obvious to both.

With so many common concerns, we are grateful to Mr. McAllister for supplying details of the operation of the pharmaceutical profession in North Carolina. We hope that at least a few unfortunate situations can thereby be avoided.—Editorial reprinted from The Journal of The Medical Society of the State of North Carolina.

Spotlight on Mutual

The April, 1965 issue of Group News, monthly publication of Hospital Care Association, featured the North Carolina Mutual Wholesale Drug Company of Durham.

The 2-page spread included pictures of Mutual's 27,000 square foot building on Ellis Road, Manager/Treasurer Ralph P. Rogers, Jr., floor stocks, said to include 15,000 items, and the telephone order setup.

Mutual has 167 accounts. Rogers is quoted: "Our customers are our stockholders and our stockholders are our customers."

T. J. Ham, Jr. of Yanceyville is president; O. G. Sawyer of Durham, vice-president; and Banks Kerr of Raleigh, secretary.

Antique Syringe

What is believed to be one of the first hypodermic syringes to be manufactured has been contributed to the historical archives of the N. C. Institute of Pharmacy by Dr. Gilbert Colina of Charlotte.

The syringe is now on display in the Institute.

Parke-Davis Names New Research Assistant

Dr. P. F. R. de Caires, director of Parke, Davis & Company's clinical investigation has announced the appointment of Mrs. Mary Henderson Parrish as a research assistant.

Mrs. Parrish, whose hometown is Greensboro, N. C., holds a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of North Carolina.

She is a member of the Registry of Medical Technologists, A.S.C.P., and was employed at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital here, North Carolina Memorial Hospital, Chapel Hill, N. C., and Carolina Biological Supply Co., Elon College, N. C., prior to joining Parke-Davis.

Shulton Enters Fair Trade Suit

Two Charlotte drug stores—Benson Super Drugs and Benson Sedgefield Drugs—have been charged by Shulton Company, manufacturers of "Old Spice" products, of violating the North Carolina Fair Trade Act.

The Shulton Company asks for a temporary injunction against the two stores to keep them from continuing their alleged unfair competition pending court action.

To Locate in Charlotte

David E. Reinhardt has been appointed a district sales manager by Menley & James Laboratories. He will be located in the M & J Charlotte sales district.

Mr. Reinhardt is a graduate of Florida State University.

Honors for Julian Upchurch

Julian Upchurch, Manager of Kerr Rexall Drugs, Northgate Shopping Center, Durham, has been elected president of the Northgate Merchants Association.

At the same time, Julian was named "Merchant of the Year" and presented a trophy by the Northgate Merchandising Council for having staged the best merchandising event of 1964.

Blast Behind Drug Store

An explosive charge, set off behind Hardee's Pharmacy, Charlotte, rocked the neighborhood. The store was not damaged but the charge blasted a small hole in the ground.

Police believe the bomb was set off as an act of revenge against A. K. Hardee, owner of the pharmacy, who has clamped down on teenagers who have been gathering in a nearby parking lot for "glue sniffing" parties.

Admission Policy at UNC Outlined

This year pharmacy finds itself in a paradox. Pharmacists throughout the state have been actively and dedicatingly talking to high school students about a career in pharmacy. The demand for graduate pharmacists has probably never been greater than it is today. Yet, in the face of a strong recruiting program and a short supply of qualified personnel for the profession, prospective pharmacists are being denied admission to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The question "Why" can't help but be asked. Pharmacy is a victim of a postwar population explosion. This has been talked about for many years and now its shock waves are being felt.

More and more students are graduating from North Carolina's high schools with a large percentage of these trying to gain admission to the University of North Carolina. A few years ago, because of the limited facilities for students and faculty, a ceiling was placed on the size of the freshman class. Since then, the size of the class has been permitted to expand slightly but the number of applications has increased greatly. This year 2,100 will be admitted to the freshman class but 8,700 have applied. Needless to say, admission has necessarily had to be denied to many applicants. Some of these applicants have good scholastic records but simply applied after the class was already filled. In some cases it was found that other applicants had better scholastic records. Prospective pharmacists fall in both of these categories.

This need not deter or prevent the serious-minded student from obtaining a pharmaceutical education. The program leading to a degree in pharmacy consists of one year of prepharmacy followed by four years of registration in the School of Pharmacy. It is quite possible and sometimes advisable for prospective pharmacy students to attend a junior college or nearby college to complete the prepharmacy program. The prepharmacy program is a standard preprofessional or science schedule; it consists of English, foreign language, mathematics, history, general and qualitative chemistry. Upon completing the prepharmacy courses satisfactorily, the student can transfer directly to the School of Pharmacy. In this way he can make the same progress as if he had been on the campus at Chapel Hill for the first year.

IF YOUR SON OR DAUGHTER FAILED TO GAIN ADMISSION TO PRE-PHARMACY AT UNC FOR THE FALL SEMESTER, HERE'S THE ANSWER. APPLICATIONS FROM MANY QUALIFIED STUDENTS HAVE NOT BEEN APPROVED.

SUGGESTION: FOR THE PRE-PHARMACY YEAR, ATTEND ONE OF THE EXCELLENT JUNIOR/COMMUNITY COLLEGES OF THE STATE. SEE PAGE 32.

This pathway to a pharmaceutical education is followed by many pharmacy students. Approximately one-third of the students in the first professional year transferred from other institutions. The colleges which were attended by these students are: Campbell College; Chowan College; Mars Hill College; Wilmington College; East Carolina College; Elon College; Gardner-Webb College; University of North Carolina at Greensboro; Charlotte College; North Carolina State College; High Point College; Lenoir Rhyne College; Brevard College; Appalachian State Teachers College; Louisburg College; Pfeiffer College; and others.

An applicant who is not able to attend the University of North Carolina this next year would do well to enroll at another institution. He should notify the School of Pharmacy as to where he plans to attend. A list of approved courses will be sent. In this way, the student can be certain he is gaining credit for the required courses. During the fall he should then apply for admission to the School of Pharmacy as a transfer student with second year standing. Worthy of note is the fact that all qualified transfer students have been admitted to the School of Pharmacy.

THE NORTH CAROLINA PHARMACY OPERATIONS STUDY—1964

By

C. A. Chagaris, M.B.A.¹ and A. W. Jowdy, Ph.D.²

The results of the 1964 study of North Carolina pharmacy operations indicated that during the previous year, the pharmacies of the state improved their economic positions significantly. Summaries are presented in Tables I and II, which include for comparative purposes, results of the 1963 study and appropriate data from the Lilly Digest.³

A rapid comparison of the data in Table I will indicate that North Carolina pharmacies, that participated in the study, increased their total sales volume; decreased slightly the cost of goods sold; showed a fractional percentage gain for gross margin; decreased operating expenses and increased net profit.

AVERAGE DOLLAR VOLUME UP

The average volume increased from $169,529 to $181,575. Cost of goods sold decreased from 64.6% to 64.3% of sales while gross margin increased from 35.4% to 35.7% of sales.

Operating expenses were down from 31.3% to 29.9% of sales. Net profit was up from 4.1% to 5.8% of sales.

Table II also contains significant data on North Carolina and Lilly Digest pharmacy operations. A comparison of North Carolina data indicates that prescription volume as a percentage of sales decreased. The average number of prescriptions dispensed per pharmacy increased from 27,137 in the 1963 study to 29,157 in 1964. Of these totals, new prescriptions averaged 50.5% for 1963 and 48.4% for the 1964 study.

AVERAGE RX VOLUME UP 2000

North Carolina pharmacy owners and managers are to be congratulated on the degree of control exerted on inventory. Inspection of Table II will reveal that this most important aspect of operations was held in check. In fact, a reduction percentage-wise was reported for the average pharmacy in the 1964 study.

It will be noted that Sales Per Dollar Invested In Prescription Department Inventory averaged $7.60; and Sales Per Dollar Invested in "Other" Inventory averaged $7.24.

The prescription charge decreased from $3.04 to $2.99.

Stockturn or Merchandise Turnover showed a slight increase from 4.6 to 4.7. This

A Note on the North Carolina Pharmacy Operations Study

The continuing study of North Carolina community pharmacy operations has ended its second year. From an organizational point of view, great strides were made during this period. Of particular significance was the confidential analysis furnished upon request to each participant. This phase of the study was made possible by Eli Lilly and Company and was performed under the direction of Mr. Charles A. Chagaris of the company's Trade Relations Department. Mr. Chagaris supervises the Lilly Pharmacy Operations Clinic and is editor of The Lilly Digest. The 1964 returns were processed in the Lilly Pharmacy Operations Clinic. Public expression is made of our appreciation for this generous contribution. Acknowledgment and appreciation of support is also expressed to the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Research Foundation, Inc., without whose aid the collection of data would not have been possible.

means that the average pharmacy reporting its data, turned its stock about every 78 days.

Sales Per Square Foot in the prescription department averaged $310.45; Sales Per Square Foot for the "Other" merchandise averaged $69.28; Sales Per Square Foot for the total area of the average pharmacy was $108.47.

It is interesting to note that the average North Carolina pharmacy reporting data for this study was open for a total of 67 hours per week; with owners working an average of 51 hours and employed pharmacists working an average of 44 hours per week.

Sincere appreciation is expressed to owners and managers of pharmacies who submitted data. With your cooperation, specific data is now being collected which could be used as a basis for managerial decisions affecting your practice.

The 1965 study will start soon. We earnestly solicit your participation and again emphasize the confidential nature of all information submitted.

A NEW HIGH IN PHARMACEUTICAL MARKETING ACTIVITY

Pharmacists hoping restrictions on new drug introductions would relieve their drug information problems are due for a shock. Although only 463 new trade-named pharmaceuticals were introduced in 1964, compared with 576 in 1963 and 739 in 1962, the year set a new high in total pharmaceutical marketing activity. The answer to this paradox is found in the seldom considered area of product changes.

New dosage forms and strengths, new formulations, discontinued products and changes in trade names, manufacturers and packages have numbered 400 to 500 items per year since the late 1950s. In 1963 these changes jumped up 32% from the previous year and in 1964 skyrocketed to 846 items, up 90% from the 1960-1962 average. Adding these product changes, the new products introduced and additional forms or strengths announced with new products creates a pharmaceutical marketing figure which reflects the activity of the American drug industry as it met the challenge of restricted new drug introduction, according to Wm. C. Felter, publisher of pharmIndex pharmaceutical reference.

Reports of new and changed pharmaceuticals published in pharmIndex totaled 1,161 in 1960. In 1961, as marketing problems struck the industry faster than it could solve them, the reports of new and changed items dropped to 1,010. Activity of the drug industry in adjusting to the new marketing situation is seen in the 1962, 1963 and 1964 totals which were 1,255, 1,254 and 1,343 items, respectively. To the scholar, Felter observed, this was a magnificent example of business dynamics but to the working pharmacist it was a 10 to 20% increase in the chore of maintaining current drug information.

OVER 450 NEW PHARMACEUTICALS

The 463 new pharmaceuticals of 1964 were introduced by 209 manufacturers of whom pharmIndex* is a registered trademark.

75 had full national distribution for their products while 134 were firms with less than national distribution, as the major manufacturers markedly increased their share of new product introductions. In 1963 only 58 of the 113 firms (51%) pharmIndex classified as national introduced a new pharmaceutical while in 1964 the number rose to 75 of 116 firms (65%). 153 products were marketed by the 75 national firms continuing a slow climb from the 139 product low of 1961.

Contrasting with the slow but steady reorganization of its marketing of new products by the national firms, smaller drug manufacturers have charted an astoundingly uneven pattern reaching a low of 310 new items introduced by 134 companies last year. In 1962, 189 of the smaller firms had marketed 594 new drugs.

Single ingredient products which had averaged 22% of the new pharmaceuticals introduced in 1960 through 1962 slumped to just 18% of the new drugs of 1963. In 1964 they bounced back to 29% due both to decreased marketing by the regional firms whose products are predominantly multiple ingredient items and increase of single ingredient product introductions by national manufacturers.

NEUROLOGIC DRUGS INCREASE

Neurologic drugs topped the new products list for the first time (13% of all 1964 new pharmaceuticals) jumping up from the fifth position they had held 3 of the previous 4 years. Although national firms showed an increase over 1963 in new neurologic items, a large share of the increase in this class of drugs stemmed from the new availability of meprobamate to many smaller firms.

Second highest rate of introductions was among skin and dermatologic products. Nutritional and vitamin products ranked third and respiratory and common cold items slipped to fourth, but it was a close race with the second, third and fourth place classes each accounting for 9% of the 1964 new products.

Marketing of 36 new anti-infective pharmaceuticals (8%) was surprising for this class of drugs has been relatively inactive since 1960 when 41 products were introduced. However, examination of the new anti-infectives shows many of them are intended to replace antibiotic containing products manufacturers are withdrawing or anticipate they may have to withdraw due to new government policies regarding proven efficacy.

Slow progress in development of safe and effective drugs to aid in combatting the major health problems of heart and cancer diseases is seen in the marketing of just one new anti-cancer drug and only 14 cardiovascular products. Another numerically small but qualitatively important class of new products is the immunological agents. These gained notably in 1964 and with several new vaccines quite certain of introduction during 1965 represent a bright area in new drug introduction.

Greatest drop in any class of new drugs was that of oral dental products which had included 22 new items in each 1962 and 1963 (4% of the total) but fell to just 6 products (1%) in 1964.

Introduction of 15 new diagnostic items as well as one new diabetic drug, all from national firms, caused the so-called Miscellaneous class of drugs to climb to seventh place (7%) in the pharmIndex report of new products of all firms and to rank first among the marketings of major manufacturers. Neurologics rated highest among the new products of firms with less than national distribution.

pharmIndex reports new and changed trade-named pharmaceuticals twice-monthly coordinating full data on these products with similar information on older drugs in a reference system designed for pharmacists and other professional workers concerned with drugs. Reviews of relative characteristics of new and older drugs as well as reports of important drugs in research are also included in pharmIndex. It is published by Skyline Publishers, Inc., P. O. Box 1029, Portland, Oregon 97207.

Merck Prescription Chemicals and Narcotics

Many prescriptions such as ointments, nose drops and cough syrups, to mention a few, still require the know-how of a registered pharmacist. Even a casual observer in any pharmacy is mightily impressed when he sees a prescription being compounded.

There is an intangible value gained by watching an expert at work. It instills even greater respect and confidence for the profession and the man who has chosen it for his life's work.

The use of Merck Prescription Chemicals will not only enhance your professional ability, it will establish you as one who demands the highest quality in chemicals used for compounding.

Originality in Selling

Display material in the form of illustrative lithographs are gladly furnished by manufacturers. Some of them are elaborate works of art, practically all of them the brain children of advertising agencies not handicapped by the manufacturer limiting his advertising budget to less than the best examples of the graphic arts.

Some of this material is so abundant the average pharmacist is unable to use all of it. Too, it is sometimes so taken for granted it is not used at all. Some of it is repetitious and becomes trite when injudiciously used.

This makes for a condition that calls for free rein to the pharmacist's originality in ideas and originality in executing those ideas.

Here is an idea used intermittently for many years and, when appropriately followed through, always paid off in more sales. Its cost is a mere bagatelle.

The familiar Biltmore Dairies menu frame holding interchangeable cards listing their specials had served its usefulness. Instead of discarding it to the limbo of forgotten things awaiting a basement cleanup two years hence, it gained a new lease on life by adapting it to a "Seasonal Specials" menu of products to be promoted.

The "Biltmore" trade mark at the top of the frame and the wording at the bottom was "whited" out with card material one receives with his laundered shirts. A felt marking pen was used to letter in "Blank's Mid-Week Specials." There was also room enough on the top card for the slogan, "Your Money's Worth Every Day." The card at the bottom held the wording, "Watch This Space For Seasonal Specials."

The slotted cards, lime sherbert, vanilla, etc. were reversed and various specials with selling sentences were lettered in. One such: "The common rat (rattus rattus or rattus Norvegicus) caused damage to the amount of $4,259,838,717.83 in the United States last year, about $25.06 for each rat, and each contaminated 10 times the amount he destroyed. The dirty rat!" Then in larger letters, "Raticate Kills 'em Dead: $1.98."

Some of the specials promoted were an Ivy Poisoning remedy, an Adolescent Acne combination and a Brittle Nails treatment. For the Ivy poisoning we used a Caladryl Lotion and Germicidal Soap combination; for the Acne, Winthrop's PhisoAc-PhisoHex combination tied to a 30 bottle of Robins Allbee with C Capsules; for Brittle Nails, 100 Calcium Lactate Tablets one time and 100 Gelatin Capsules another time. Instead of posting the price of the Acne products we used the "20¢ a day" price because frequently a sale of $6.00 or so sometimes requires a bit more selling force than mere mention of price. The framed cards device set amidst the products featured caught attention and made it easier for the clerks to finish the selling job.

Phrases like "6¢ a day" and "16 days supply" are still potent messages when embraced in the selling words. It is necessary that the customer fully understand how to use the products and what they will do for him. Imparting this knowledge to the customer is a service typical of the pharmacist and one he does not always receive at other shopping places. In some places the customer is on his own and the doctrine of emptor caveat prevails. The little added something he receives in a pharmacy is the intangible that frequently is mutated into the tangible.

These selling messages, if coldly stark or stiffly formal, do not have quite the power of those with the similitude of conversation pieces. Even the seemingly facetious phrase such as "The Dirty Rat!" outsold the bare statistical message by more than three to two.

These products mentioned are merely examples; so many others that are ripe for promotion will catch your notice. The idea is to trade up, to combine two or more synergistically affirmative products together like, say, a thermometer with a fever prescription. Then, too, the framed card device may be built to your own order, may be placed outside the door or used inside with the products promoted, or both. It may be adapted to your individual requirements at little cost. In this instance the only expenditure was 24¢ for a marking pen, plus a little time in clerk instruction.

Creating selling messages, or selling itself, is not wholly an innate gift. It is the knowledge of product, sincere and forceful presentation geared to the customer's viewpoint and a keen desire to achieve the goal of allowing the customer to accept from you those products for his benefit and welfare at a fair price.

There are four elements in a potent selling message. It must attract attention, arouse interest, create desire, and compel action. With a little practice one may become quite proficient in creating these selling messages.

Then, too, you are not selling mere "things," however inanimate they may seem. For instance, a lipstick is not a prosaic mixture of cerates, dyes and finite organisms; it is a dream-spinning creation that makes for beauty and glamour and happiness and dreams-come-true for some comely lass. Sometimes these "dreams for sale" take on an animation that invests them with an aura as ageless as the minuet or as modern as the chrome appurtenances of today's swank office.

Be sure your clerks are . . . , but that is another subject and will be treated some other time. Meanwhile, employ your imagination, let it run rampant, try this device and see how it works for you.

Smith Elected Assistant Secretary of Eli Lilly and Company

The Board of Directors of Eli Lilly and Company has elected Everet F. Smith, assistant secretary of the company.

Smith, a native of Lexington, North Carolina, is assistant director of the patent division. He has been active in the patent field since 1945. Before joining the company, he was patent attorney for Standard Oil of Indiana and manager of the patent department for International Minerals and Chemical Corp., Skokie, Illinois.

Smith received a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering from North Carolina State College in 1939 and a Doctor of Jurisprudence degree from Loyola University in 1950.

UNC Group Visits Massengill

Messrs. Jim Culbertson, Curtis Holleman, Ragan Harper, Revis Eller, Roy Smith, Larry Warren, and Professor Herman Thompson were guests of the S. E. Massengill Co. in Bristol Tennessee on April 18 and 19. The purpose of the visit was to observe and study a variety of operations and processes used by the Massengill Co. in the manufacture of pharmaceutical products in their diversified total operation. Special interest was given to the production of tablets and parenterals which is the subject matter of course work studied by a class of nine students during the school year. The visit and tour was effected thru David Massengill, a graduate of the School of Pharmacy.

Banned from Entering Store

The High Point Merchants Association has an effective answer to convicted shoplifters, who tend to be repeaters.

As part of a probation sentence, convicted shoplifters in High Point now are "banned from entering any store in High Point for a period of six months." A picture-description of convicted shoplifters is sent to all member stores of the High Point Merchants Association for ready reference.

The program is being carried out under the direction of David A. Dowdy, Jr., Chairman of the Shop-Lifting and Bad Check Committee.

UNC PHARMACY SCHOOL NOTES

The School of Pharmacy took part in two formal career programs. The pharmacy booth was sponsored by the Wake County Pharmaceutical Society with Herman S. Barbrey as chairman at Raleigh Memorial Auditorium on March 29-31 in Career Week of the Raleigh Junior Chamber of Commerce. Assistant Dean M. A. Chambers, Professor George Cocolas, and Instructor Carl Bauguess took part in manning the exhibit. Dr. Chambers took the exhibit to the Gastonia Armory on April 3 and 4 for Health Careers sponsored by the Gastonia Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A $1,000 grant for undergraduate research in pharmacy has been awarded to the School of Pharmacy. It is one of eight Mead Johnson grants awarded in the U. S. by the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy. The grant will be directed by Dr. George H. Cocolas, Associate Professor of Pharmaceutical Chemistry. One pharmacy student will be selected to receive the award for the period from September 11, 1965, to August 31, 1966.

The annual meetings of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy, American Pharmaceutical Association, and related organizations in Detroit on March 28 through April 2 were attended by faculty members E. A. Brecht, A. W. Jowdy, J. C. Kellett, Jr., Claude Piantadosi, and Herman O. Thompson and Research Associate Shu-Sing Cheng. Dr. Kellett presented a paper at the scientific section and Dr. Thompson presented a paper at the meeting of the National Association of Boards of Pharmacy. The student chapter was represented by undergraduate students William Foster of Mocksville, Neill Musselwhite of Carolina Beach, and John Rawlins of Carrboro. Neill Musselwhite was elected alternate delegate to the House of Delegates for the next convention. One of the pleasures of attending the national meeting was seeing former students who received their Doctor of Philosophy degree at the University of North Carolina with majors in pharmacy or pharmaceutical chemistry. These included John Andracko now teaching at Medical College of Virginia, Nicholas H. Batuyios of McNeil Laboratories, Ben F. Cooper teaching at Georgia, William Sheffield teaching at the University of Texas, and James Young of Riker Laboratories.

The Chapel Hill Pharmaceutical Auxiliary held its annual bingo benefit for the scholarship fund in the assembly room of the School of Pharmacy on April 2. This event has become popular and had a good attendance by non-pharmacist families.

Professor Jowdy's class in Pharmacy Management II was addressed by the following guest speakers recently: Mrs. Lou E. Culbreth of Pinehurst Medical Center on surgical supports and orthopedic appliances; Mr. L. W. Millican and Robert Rabon for Bauer and Black on elastic stockings and supports; pharmacist W. S. Dukes of Greensboro on the philosophy and practice of the professional fee system; Mrs. Joyce Stanford of Chapel Hill on the operation of a prescription shop; and Dr. Donald Abele of the North Carolina Memorial Hospital Department of Dermatology on systemic reactions to drugs.

Student Branches of the N.C.P.A. and A.Ph.A.

Dr. Hugh T. Lefler, Kenan Professor of History, spoke on little known facts in North Carolina history at the meeting on March 23. The meeting was followed by a reception in the Student Center.

Rho Chi

The following students of the fourth-year class were tapped for membership in Rho Chi, the national honorary pharmaceutical society, on March 23: Louis P. Bell, Jr., Rocky Mount; Margaret Clayton Gebhardt, Charlotte; Terry Walter Heatherington, Bessemer City; Thomas T. Lilly, Jr., Durham; Neill Hector Musselwhite, III, Carolina Beach; Mary Elizabeth Paterson, Charlotte; and Alan Warren Solter, Colonia, New Jersey.

Phi Delta Chi

The Achievement Award Cup for being the most active chapter in the Southeastern District was received by Bill Foster at the national meeting in Detroit.

The Phi Delta Chi Weekend was held April 9 and 10. A dinner at the Blair House was followed by a dance to the music of Reggie "Guitar" Kimbar and the Untouchables.

Jaycee Speaker

William R. (Bill) McDonald II of Hickory, President of the North Carolina Junior Chamber of Commerce, was guest speaker at the April 30 meeting of the Sanford Jaycees Charter Night Banquet.

As president of the State Jaycees, Bill has been in every section of the state during the past 12 months. His term of office will end within the next month.

Tax Tip for the Month

The Wall Street investment pros have a formula you can use on Main Street in your town. The general idea is to invest in rental property, use accelerated depreciation to avoid tax on the rent income, and later sell the property under the low capital gain tax rate.

You will find a complete explanation of this and other tax saving ideas in SMALL BUSINESS TAX CONTROL. Send $9.00 to the Association for a year's subscription to this monthly bulletin which will help you increase your take-home profit.

from the local-sectional pharmaceutical societies

Mecklenburg

Roy Martin, Stanley Drug Store, Charlotte, is the new president of the Mecklenburg Pharmaceutical Society. He was installed as president at a meeting of the Society in Charlotte on April 20.

Other officers are: James Liverman, Eckerts Drug Store, vice-president; Mrs. Helen Rimmer, Yorkmont Drug Company, secretary; and Elliott M. Griffen, Bizzell's Drugs, treasurer.

The City Health Department has invited members of the Society to attend a discussion of "Glue Sniffing."

Suggestions by a local physician in regard to refilling prescriptions was discussed.

Meetings of the Society was held at 7 A.M. at Uncle Johns Pancake House. Attendance at meetings has been increased since the Society went on the early morning schedule.

Gaston County

Members of the Gaston County Pharmaceutical Society and the Gaston County Pharmaceutical Auxiliary held their semi-annual social meeting on April 20.

Jesse Putnam presided during the evening. Bryan Houck, manager of Southern Bell Telephone Company, showed a film on the New York World's Fair, and Paul Herre presented a selection of accordion music.

Durham-Orange

The April 26 meeting of The Durham-Orange Pharmaceutical Association was devoted to planning for the May 16-18 annual meeting of the NCPHA.

Committee chairmen reporting included William P. Wells for the NCPHA, Mrs. J. Floyd Goodrich for The Woman's Auxiliary and Zack Lyon for the TMA.

In addition to taking care of general convention arrangements, the Association will be hosts to the convention delegates at a Coffee Hour and will provide hospitality rooms for out-of-town delegates not registered in the headquarters hotel.

Cape Fear

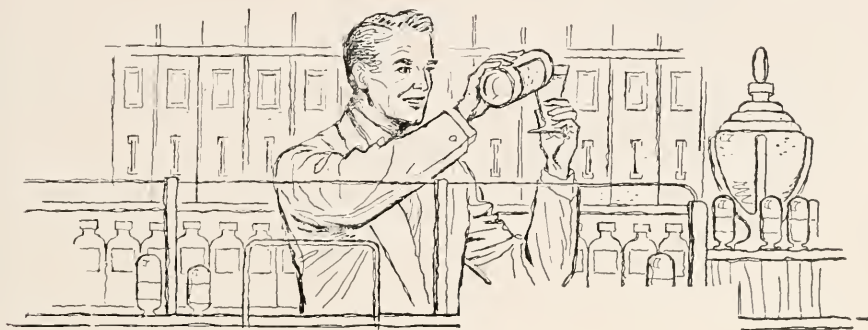

The annual meeting of The Cape Fear Pharmaceutical Society was held in Fayetteville on April 28. The new pharmacy career movie—"This is Pharmacy—Edge of Decision"—was shown.

Alamance

For his many years of service to pharmacy, Dean E. A. Brecht of the UNC School of Pharmacy was honored at an "Appreciation Night" in Burlington recently by members of the Alamance Pharmaceutical Society.

A set of golf clubs was presented to Dean Brecht by Millard Denson on behalf of the members of the Alamance organization.

W. G. Dudley, Jr. of Reidsville presented a golf umbrella to Dean Brecht while Frank Brooks, Jr., and Don Ferguson of Siler City added a gift of golf balls.

PMA Announces Film List Available on a Free Loan Basis

A new catalog containing descriptions of 184 motion pictures suitable for lay viewing and pertaining to the health field has just been issued by the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association.

The films, which are available on a free loan basis to both lay and professional groups, cover such widely-discussed topics as accidents, alcoholism, allergies, artificial respiration, geriatrics, retirement, dental care, mental health, home safety, and career opportunities in the medical and allied professions.

On the more technical side, the films cover drug research, scientific agriculture, arthritis, open heart surgery, and the treatment of specific conditions of the digestive system, the heart, the lungs and the kidneys.

All of the films were produced by prescription drug firms, but do not promote products. All are 16 mm sound. Running times range from ten to 60 minutes. The majority run about 30 minutes.

The catalog was prepared as a service to teachers, pharmacists, physicians, nurses, and others with leading roles in bettering public understanding of health matters. PMA urges such individuals to obtain copies for program chairmen of their civic, service, religious, and community organizations.

Copies of the catalog are available upon written request to the Director of Public Information, Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association, 1155 Fifteenth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20005.

For the Fishing Fraternity

Fred Liles of Andrews stopped by the Institute of Pharmacy recently and while waiting for the Board of Pharmacy to issue a new drug store permit, related something of interest which took place in his mountain section of WNC.

Several boys were fishing in one of WNC's noted lakes, using what they thought to be "night crawlers" for bait. A game warden, who stopped by for a chat, was informed the "night crawlers" were biting. The "crawlers" turned out to be baby water moccasins.

Officers were installed for the coming year. They are: Katherine Boone, president; Betty Copeland, vice president; Louise Welch, secretary; Harriett O'Neal, treasurer; Emily Tunstall, historian; and Jo Clodfelter, advisor.

High Point

"Physical Fitness" was the topic by Mrs. Doris Quinn to members of the High Point Pharmaceutical Auxiliary at their April 13 meeting at the YMCA.

Mrs. Quinn demonstrated the use of various types of machinery in a physical fitness program.

Hostess for the meeting was Mrs. Howard Creech.

Charlotte

Mrs. Helen Anderson, a director of the Charlotte Florence Crittenton Home, was guest speaker at the April meeting of the Charlotte Woman's Auxiliary.

Mrs. Anderson presented a few case histories, read some follow-up notes from girls previously in the home, presented predisposing factors common to unwed mothers, and the program of the home.

Mrs. Mattie Gardner reported on her recent trip to Chapel Hill and discussed the scholarship aid which the local Auxiliary makes possible in Chapel Hill.

Following adjournment, members toured the Florence Crittenton Home.

Rowan-Davie

Guest speaker at the April 28 meeting of the Rowan-Davie Drug Auxiliary, held in Salisbury, was Dr. Clyde Chapman, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Spenceer.

Mrs. Henry Ridenhour, president, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Harold Kennerly led the devotions. Mrs. Bobby Lindsay reported that ten copies of "The Profession of Pharmacy" had been placed in high school libraries in Davie and Rowan counties. The books are a gift of the drug store owners of both counties.

The nominating committee presented the following slate of officers for the coming year: Mrs. Frank Skinner, president; Mrs. Thomas E. Camp, vice president; Mrs. Billy Ray Smith, secretary; Mrs. Alvin E. Morris, Jr., treasurer; Mrs. C. H. Sanders, historian and year book chairman; and Mrs. Henry Ridenhour, adviser.

Members voted to send $100 to the Institute of Pharmacy to be used to purchase a film and other needs.

Greensboro

At the April 28 meeting of The Greensboro Drug Club Auxiliary, the following slate of officers for the coming year was submitted by Mrs. A. H. Mebane III, chairman of the nominating committee: President—Mrs. D. W. Montgomery; Vice President—Mrs. D. C. Braeker; Treasurer—Mrs. W. S. Duke; Historian—Mrs. Keith Fulbright; and Chaplain—Mrs. Sam McFalls.

Winston-Salem

The Apothecary Club met at the home of Mrs. M. V. Williams for the April meeting. Thirty members and one guest, Mrs. Alan Kraus, attended. Mrs. G. F. Benton and Mrs. Roger Sloop were hostesses.

During the business session, it was voted to send $50 to the School of Pharmacy and $50 to the Institute of Pharmacy for undesignated needs there. The Ways and Means Committee will make a recommendation for a local project which will receive an additional $25.00.

At the conclusion of the business session, Mrs. Mary Johnson of the Merle Norman Studios gave a cosmetic demonstration.

Mrs. Betty Johnson won the door prize given by Mrs. Mary Johnson.

Dear Mr. Smith:

Please convey our sincere thanks to your organization for The Profession of Pharmacy which was presented to our library by The Mecklenburg Pharmaceutical Association. I can't seem to locate the address of this Association in our city and do not want to neglect any longer this word of appreciation.

This introductory textbook will answer many questions that have come up about this profession, especially during the time our juniors and seniors are making a study of various occupations.

Very truly yours,

Miss P. E. Perry, Librarian

Legislation—New York Style

Here is some proposed legislation with which New York Pharmacy has to contend:

1. Require pharmacist to call police department one hour before dispensing narcotic or barbituate Rx or before dispensing an exempt narcotic preparation.
2. Require pharmacist to place the name of medication on Rx label.
3. Require pharmacist to place a special warning label on Chloromycetin Rxs.
4. Person under 21 years of age would have to have Rx for exempt narcotic drug.
5. Repeal Fair Trade Law.
6. Create a commission to study cost of drugs.

Mixed Emotions

Has been defined as the emotion one feels when his mother-in-law drives over a steep cliff in his new Cadillac.

Totally Unexpected

It was Halloween. A Tar Heel pharmacist, with a car load of small children eagerly anticipating the night's adventures, decided to stop in front of the residence of a MD so the youngsters could "trick or treat." The pharmacist was left speechless when the children returned with sample packages of Penicillin Lozenges.

The Maintenance Patient A Responsibility of the Pharmacist

One of the guest speakers at the just-concluded Durham Convention of the NCPHA and Affiliated Auxiliaries was James A. Donahue, Jr., Executive Vice President of the R. A. Gosselin and Company. In discussing "Pharmacy in Perspective—Past, Present and Future," Mr. Donahue suggested the possibility of classifying Rx volume on the basis of "acute" and "maintenance" therapy and outlined some positive reasons for doing so. Here is Mr. Donahue's comments in this area—his complete remarks, including predictions of the future, will appear in the July issue of THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY:

"Recognition of the fact that prescription volume can be split on an "acute" vs. "maintenance" therapy basis is an important one in contemplating the future. Illness, no matter how minor, is serious to the individual or family involved. The average person is not overly concerned with price, companion purchases, and other shopping list items, when a prescription is handed him by a physician. Neither is he inclined to be impressed by the frivolous carnival-like atmosphere of a superstore just then. The quiet, confident atmosphere of a professional pharmacy, is something else again.

"In the future, I believe the professional pharmacy, be it independent, local or regional chain, part of a group clinic or hospital, is not apt to let that patient migrate away to a superstore once he becomes a "maintenance patient." Once a patient goes on long-term maintenance therapy, he in a sense becomes the pharmacist's responsibility.

"Physicians, I believe, are soon to arrive at a point where they will demand better controls on maintenance therapy patients. A diligent and professional pharmacy can serve this purpose most adequately by keeping proper records on the refill prescription activity of patients, and providing the physician with detailed information concerning these patients. In order to attract and hold these patients, however, pharmacists will have to think "long range" in the matter of charges for oft-refilled prescriptions. It would seem logical that, in exchange for the long-term repetitive volume represented by maintenance drugs, the markup could be scaled downward somewhat after the initial filling."

The Carolina Journal of Pharmacy is published monthly by the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association, Box 151, Chapel Hill, N. C. Subscription rate: $3.00 a year; single copy, 25 cents. Second Class postage paid at Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

Johnson's of Lumberton Passes Millionth Rx Point

Johnson's Drug Store of Lumberton filled its millionth prescription on May 5. A $100 savings bond was presented the customer who brought in Rx #1,000,000.

Johnson's was established in the 1890's by Dr. R. G. Rozier and in the early 1900's sold to A. T. McLean who operated the pharmacy as McLean and Rozier.

In later years, the pharmacy was owned successively by Dr. John Knox, Dr. Kitchin and Lacy McKenzie (Lumberton Drug Company) and L. J. and Hiram Grantham (Grantham Brothers).

The late Johnnie Johnson assumed control of the pharmacy in 1927 and changed its operating name to the one in use today.

A second Johnson's was established two years ago with Donald Bissett as general manager of both operations.

Bowl of Hygeia Award Presented to Jesse Pike for Community Service

Concord pharmacist Jesse M. Pike has been honored by the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association as its 1965 recipient of the A. H. Robins Bowl of Hygeia award for outstanding community service.

Pike, owner of Pike's Drug Store, received the award May 16 at the North Carolina association's annual convention in Durham. Making the presentation was Richard A. Velz, assistant to the president and director of public relations for the A. H. Robins Company. Participating in the ceremony was W. S. Wolfe of Mount Airy, president of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association.

The recipient is president of the Concord Chamber of Commerce and is a member and past secretary of the Concord Rotary Club.

He is a director of the Cabarrus County Industrial Development Corp., and the Union Street Corp. He is a member of the Official Board of the Central Methodist Church, of the Cabarrus Shrine Club and the Oasis Temple in Charlotte, and plays trumpet in the Oasis Temple band. During World War II he served with the Navy in the Pacific.

Pike holds a Bachelor of Science degree in pharmacy from the University of North Carolina and a Master of Science degree in pharmacy from Western Reserve University in Cleveland.

He is a member of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, the North Carolina Academy of Pharmacy, and is a charter member and past president of the Cabarrus County Pharmaceutical Society. He also is a member of the North Carolina Academy of Practical Instructors in Pharmacy, the American Pharmaceutical Association and the National Association of Retail Druggists.

Pike is married to the former Dorothy Duckett of Jefferson, Ga. They have two children.

Highlights of the 85th NCPHA Meeting

Durham is billed as a "convention-education center" and so it was with the May 16-18 meeting of the NCPHA and Affiliated Auxiliaries.

Total attendance was up about 25% over recent years; the business sessions of the NCPHA, with some of the most informed speakers in years, were strongly supported by the registered delegates. On a comparative basis, the 85th was rated as one of the Association's better annual meetings.

Reunion luncheons (page 10) and an awards session (cover page, pages 7-8-10) served as a preliminary to the first session, a banquet, which featured an address by Clifton Daniel, Jr. with an unusual title—"Whatever Happened to the Safe Small World of E. C. Daniel, Jr. or How I Learned to Worry About Things I Can't Do Anything About." (The address was taped and is available for use by local pharmaceutical groups.)

A departure from customary procedure (at President Wolfe's request) was the printing of the President's Annual Address in the program used during the banquet. It was instituted as a time-saver and well received.

The Smiths—Vivian and WJ—in recognition of their twenty-five years of service to North Carolina Pharmacy—were presented a gift of cash and an inscribed book (see below).

Monday A.M. Session

The Monday A.M. session was open for golf, committee meetings, and visits to Chapel Hill, depending on the member's interest. The dropping of one business session in favor of golf, etc. was a test, which is now being evaluated.

The Dental Class of 1967 ordered forty-one copies of The North Carolina Dental Formulary for use at The Medical College of Virginia.

The Formulary, said to be one of the most complete of the state dental formularies, is available from the NCPhA at $3.00 per copy.

Mutual Sales Pass $5 Million Mark

Stockholders of Mutual Wholesale Drug Company, meeting in Durham on May 19, heard 1964-65 gross sales totaled more than 5 million dollars. The new sales high represented a 22% increase over the previous year and 50% over the past two years.

N. C. Mutual services 174 retail drug stores, mainly in the central and eastern sections of the state. Mutual's warehouse and office staff consists of 39 persons.

T. J. Ham, Jr. of Yanceyville was re-elected president. O. G. Sawyer is vice president; Banks D. Kerr, secretary; and Ralph P. Rogers, Jr., manager and treasurer.

An application has been approved and filed to increase authorized capital stock from $500,000 to $1 million.

Suing Eckerd Drugs

The Dean of North Carolina College Law School, Durham, is suing Eckerd Drugs of Durham for $150,000 for alleged wrongful death of his wife.

The Dean claims that one of Eckerd pharmacists supplied "Preludin Endurets" on a prescription calling for "Compazine Spansules."

According to the complaint, the medicine furnished by the pharmacist "was not only unsuitable for the curing of the patient's malady, but was destructive and dangerous to her health and life, and was the approximate cause of her prolonged illness and subsequent death."

Bill Scarboro Elected

Bill Scarboro has been installed as president of the Wake County Pharmaceutical Association. He succeeds Pete Barbrey who had headed the 75-member organization for the past year.

Other officers are Kenneth Handy of Wake Forest, secretary; Ben Harward of Raleigh, secretary; and John Myhre of Raleigh, treasurer.

Fife, Speaker at Goldsboro Meeting

W. Frank Fife of Owens, Minor and Bodeker, Wilson, was guest speaker at the May 9 meeting of the Wayne County Pharmaceutical Society. The meeting was held in Goldsboro at Wilbur's Barbecue.

Effective means of combatting discount operations were discussed. A film devoted to the establishment of a "profit center" as a part of a pharmacy operation was shown.

Greensboro Meeting Centers on Committee Reports

At the May 20 meeting of the Greensboro Society of Pharmacists, held in Greensboro at the Towne House Restaurant, Al Mebane reported 42 members out of a potential 90 Greensboro pharmacists.

John Ranzenhofer reported for the Program Committee, Dewayne Franzen for the Projects Committee and William S. Farrior for the Continuing Education Committee.

The highlights of the 85th annual meeting of the NCPHA were presented by Claudi Paoloni, Al Mebane and Dave Claytor.

A local doctor was asked to put his verbal complaint into writing for consideration by the Society at a later meeting.

Odd Names Trip Pharmacist

By JIM ISADORE

Pharmacist Eddie Varner of Huntsville doesn't go along with the whiskered jokes about poor handwriting of doctors; he almost never has trouble reading prescriptions . . . it's his customers' names that trip him.

Varner is pharmacist at the U. S. Army Ordnance Guided Missile School where students from 18 nations train on the Hawk, Nike-Hercules, Pershing and Sergeant missiles.

Foreign names often cause Varner to reach for the headache remedies following sick call at the school. For instance, just recently, six Koreans handed Varner their prescription orders. All six had last names of Kim. It took a series of consultation with doctors at Redstone Arsenal to deal with the prescription mix up. The following morning, five missilemen of the Republic of China presented the veteran pharmacist with prescriptions. Each had the name of Lee.

But this is just part of Varner's peculiar occupational hazard. Along with students from the United States, the Guided Missile School trains men from Greece, Germany, Norway, the Netherlands, Israel, France, Turkey, Denmark, Japan, Korea, Spain, the United Kingdom, Canada, China, Italy, Belgium and Sweden.

Names like Dong Sung Park, Ho-Chil Jin, Kharalamidos Basilakis and Derimar Jerkjend are often a problem for Varner. He spends more time trying to fit names like Fritz Werner Zeuenbergreen on prescription labels than he does on mixing the ingredients he says.

Telling students their orders are ready can also be frustrating. "Try calling for Eliasd Arkoymanas to tell him he can pick up his medicine," Varner said.

"When dealing with foreigners who are not accustomed to our forms of medicine, problems arise. I have had students from other lands tell me I was wrong to give them various tablets. They would give me their own prescriptions which combine herbs, leaves, various roots and ingredients used in home remedies. Of course, I can't fill these orders. I try to explain that our pills in the U.S.A. can do them just as much good," Varner said.

As the foreign nations become familiar with our medicines they begin showing confidence in prescriptions given them by Army doctors, Varner said. But he had to educate a number of missilemen in the ways of taking U. S. drugs. He was told that a cold tablet he had given a foreign student was useless and had no effect at all. He found it hard to believe that the student had been taking the cold tablets in the same manner that he had taken a hemorrhoid remedy he had been given a week before.

Foreign nationals have been training at the school since 1957. At the school they receive the latest training on the maintenance of the Army family of missiles. Following training they return to their homelands where they keep the free world missiles in constant combat readiness.

Many of the countries pay their own way while their students train here, but, as guests of the United States, the Army provides free medicine to the missilemen. They receive the same consideration as American military men who serve the U. S. Army. Free medicine is also provided for dependents of the students.

How Your Prescriptions Can Help Sell SUCARYL® SWEETENERS

Drug prescriptions can be an important source of new Sucaryl business for you.

For many prescriptions are like arrows pointing out potential Sucaryl customers. Consider the overweight lady who brings in a prescription for an anorectic. You know she's interested in calories and weight control.

Or take the middle-aged businessman who has you fill a prescription for a cardiovascular drug. Chances are very good that he should be watching his weight too. Tell him how Sucaryl gives the sweetness of sugar without the calories . . . and with no bitter aftertaste.

And, of course, every time you sell Insulin or one of the oral antidiabetics you have a potential sale for Sucaryl.

Mention Sucaryl when an appropriate prescription comes in. It will create a lot of plus business for you. Start now . . . during the peak season for sweetener sales . . . during our heaviest schedule of network TV advertising.

Importance of Wholesaler's "Service" Emphasized by Fast Delivery of Serum

Fast action by the N. C. State Highway Patrol and service by the Dr. T. C. Smith

Company of Asheville may have saved the life of a Haywood County man.

Bitten by a Black Widow Spider, the man was admitted to the Haywood County Hospital. Hospital authorities then contacted D. M. Griffith, Waynesville representative for the Dr. T. C. Smith Company who, in turn, suggested the State Highway Patrol as the quickest means for delivery of the needed serum.

A patrol relay was set up. The patient recovered and has been discharged from the hospital.

Bankrupt Drug Store Is Sold

J. N. Shepherd of Mount Airy purchased the stock and fixtures of Mount Airy Pharmacy at auction on May 25.

Attorney Otis Oliver, trustee in bankruptcy, handled the sale. The merchandise was sold in lots and then as a whole.

JIMSON WEEDS

By JIM HARRISON

"I speak truth, not so much as I would, but as much as I dare; and I dare a little the more, as I grow older."

—Montaigne

This column started as an aid to pharmacists by presenting various promotions, schemes, and "gimmicks" that have been successfully tried in pharmacies throughout the state over a span of years. This article departs from the usual format, but may be said to justify itself in that it may aid the pharmacist in his thinking on a more or less controversial subject touching on the lives of Americans now and those yet unborn.

Should Medicare be tied to Social Security? Should Medicare, as it is now written, be perpetrated on the people?

That some kind of assistance in medical care should be accorded the 65 and over population is conceded, even though the need is not as dire and acute as the alarmist and the seeker of historical fame would have us believe.

Medicare is not the answer. Medicare, per se, has too many flaws, too many failures to provide what its catchword connotes: medical care. A careful reading will make this assertion obvious and needs no spelling out here.

At this writing it appears that Medicare legislation will become the law of the land for the simple reasons that too many voters have been deluded by its false promises and are basking in the belief that there is, after all, a Santa Claus who waves sugar plums before our natural covetousness.

When one reflects on the shortcomings of the bill, even after the master political stroke of its proponents in compromising in the pseudo emollient features of its amendments, there is compulsion to feel a profound sorrow for those who will be presented with a hospital bill for items they have been deluded into believing were to be taken care of by Santa Claus. Then indeed does the bewhiskered gentleman become the evanescent creature the bemused imagination of the hopefuls has created.

There is not much purpose in denouncing the socialistic nuances of Medicare and to advance one of the more beneficial plans of medical and hospital assistance for the aged based on a free enterprise concept that would be capable of paying for itself instead of being a drain on the economy when we seem to have already conceded victory to the proponents of Medicare. Therefore, in great measure, this article is pointless, except that it might be a guide in future thinking when other socialistic legislation will occupy our consideration.

How Medicare will affect pharmacy and its practitioners is yet to be evaluated. How it will affect pharmacists as individuals will be exactly as it effects any other person.

Social Security

On its face, it is a great mistake to saddle Social Security, wholly or partially, with Medicare. Private enterprise could handle the problem much better. More frequently than not, private enterprise insurance companies pay more to beneficiaries than beneficiaries have paid in. For the indigent, there could be aid in meeting premiums through the device of tax relief. Even so, the socialistic aspects of this device, while seemingly ugly, may be condoned by the truism of choosing the lesser of two evils.

Jimson Weeds

It is not mathematically possible for all to get their money back under the Social Security program. However some individuals who get there first will unquestionably gain. But as a whole the young people will lose if they are compelled to pay in for the next 35 or 40 years. This is true for the simple reason that the costs of administering the program are to be met only from the money paid in by this younger set.

How can a fund, amounting to less than one percent of its accrued liability, earn enough to pay its liability when it is hampered by being invested in its sponsors own bonds. The interest it thus earns is really not earned because it comes from the people in the form of taxes—actually the only place it can come from.

Because of this simple truth Social Security has been bankrupt from the beginning. This further means we have been stupefied into believing the administrative power of the government is a fit financial concept on which to build such a program. Its political emanations smack of Socialism in an insidious form.

Officials say that Social Security funds are invested like premiums on private insurance and earn an interest of 3%. This is simply not true. Social Security funds, which are an appallingly low 1% of the liability accrued to now, are placed in the government's own bonds and what it can earn in interest can come from only one source: more taxes paid by the people from their own earnings. This is not true of premiums paid to private insurance companies. These premiums are used for productive purposes by being paid into the economy by people who are willing to pay for the privilege of using these monies which are put to work and keyed to an expected return. This enables private insurance companies to pay back to everyone as much or more than they have paid in.

So, Social Security is based on continuing and automatic losses and must eventually collapse. It is true that increases in premiums to a point of danger may postpone this collapse; so can inflation postpone for the resolving of the problem by the 300 million of the under 45 group of 40 years hence.

It makes no difference that all taxpayers are compelled to pay interest on the government's debt, which includes the interest on the bonds in the Social Security fund, or that not all taxpayers draw Social Security, or that some taxpayers pay more than others. Even so, the interest received is no more than one twenty-fifth of Social Security payments now and this interest earnings must decrease as liabilities increase and the total fund declines. Even if payments toward the interest is equal to the amount paid by participants and non-participants there is a cost of administering the program for the fund and for the investment in bonds which could amount to 10 or 25%. Simple mathematics then show a loss of 8 to 10% to all participants. This in the face of an increase in taxes to go from 10% to some unknown point.

Social Security can not possibly bear even a partial load of Medicare, even though its taxation rate has increased from 2% to 7.25% at present and the foreseeable 10% in 1966-67, and will probably increase to an unknown height beyond 1967. One must be indeed bemused to think that last November's election was a mandate to Congress to enact Medicare legislation. It has become in reality a political football and another step in the direction of central autonomy. If Congress really wants to immortalize itself, it could enact one or more of the many alternates which are more beneficial and less burdensome on the taxpayers. In any of these there lurks no political expediency. Its sponsors would never ride to fame on its saddle, but might carve themselves a monument in the hearts of its beneficiaries and in the hearts of future generations who will not be billed for its payment.

It still remains that the only way to make the Social Security program work is to take from some and give to others. May God forbid! If this happens, we pass into the actual stage of unalloyed socialism and this tocsin becomes unimportant except that it might become this writer's passport to the offices of a firing squad.

I fail to remember who said it but it is as true today as it ever has been: "The greatest security a person can have comes from within himself, not from the outside. Nothing anyone can do for you can begin to match what you can do for yourself."

The Pharmaceutical Center

Following four committee reports by John Mitchener, Dean Brecht, Claude Paoloni and Charlie Blanton, much of the Monday P.M. program was devoted to an explanation of "The Pharmaceutical Center" by E. James Kuhnheim, Manager of McKesson & Robbins' Retail Trade Promotion Division.

While the "Center" program was presented by means of slides and commentary by Mr. Kuhnheim, the actual Center will be on display in Charlotte in July while McKesson & Robbins' "Holiday Gift Show" is in progress.

Dr. Jowdy's "N. C. Pharmacy Operations Study," as presented at the Monday P.M. session, was published in the May issue of THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY.

Tom Burgiss described his monthly newsletter; Roy Collette discussed a "family Rx record system" which he has in successful operation in his pharmacy; and Sandy Griffin exhibited a narcotic inventory form and narcotic reference brochure which is to be distributed by the NCPHA.

It was agreed the NCPHA would mail a copy of the narcotic brochure along with a covering letter, with emphasis on Class A narcotic requirements, to all MDs of the state.

Action on Reciprocity Requirement

Following presentation of "An Objective Analysis of Reciprocity in North Carolina," David A. Dowdy, Jr. of High Point made the following motion:

"That the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association petition the members of the N. C. Board of Pharmacy to immediately rescind the new regulation requiring that applicants for examination to practice pharmacy to obtain three months of practical experience after graduation (out of a total of 12 months practical experience)."

A motion to table failed to receive a majority vote.

Following some further discussion, the original motion was voted upon by the delegates present and was passed by a majority vote. The action of the convention has been transmitted to the Board of Pharmacy.

The Monday P.M. session was concluded by some remarks by H. C. McAllister, Secretary-Treasurer of the N. C. Board of Pharmacy, who discussed some recommendations of a national survey group which indicated increased federal control of pharmacy where state agencies fail in their responsibility to the public. Specifically, Mr. McAllister recommended that the Association set up a special committee to determine what need be done in North Carolina to eliminate the necessity for additional federal controls over the practice of pharmacy.

Tuesday, A.M. Session

Four guest speakers followed the presentation of reports by Dean Brecht, Bill Gurley, Neill Musselwhite, Bob Hall and Tom Ham:

 COMMUNITY MENTAL HEALTH AND THE PHARMACIST

"You should have been involved in the state mental health planning all along and you have not been. A drug distribution plan is vital to any state long-range planning effort."

THE NORTH CAROLINA
WELFARE RX PROGRAM

"Processing of claims has been stepped up from 1,200 in February and March to 4,000 in April and we expect to process about 15,000 in May and June."

Russell R. Chambers, Director
Division of Medical Services
State Board of Public Welfare

Concluding Session

A gifted speaker—David A. Pettigrew of Sylvania Electric Products—opened the final session with an address—Team Play in Drugdom—which emphasized the necessity of retailer-manufacturer-distributor working together for the common good.

Pettigrew's talk, which was taped and is available from the NCPHA on a free loan basis, was illustrated with "blocks" listing such items as "market research," "sales personnel," "business counselor" and "full line distributor" at the base and topped with the all-essential element—"attitude."

The Time and Place Committee recommended, and the convention accepted, Winston-Salem for the 1967 annual meeting place. (The 1966 convention will be in Asheville.)

UNC PHARMACY SCHOOL NOTES

The third annual Open House was held at the School of Pharmacy on Mother's Day, May 9, with a new record of attendance by 350 to 400 guests with nearly all of them coming from out of town. They enjoyed the self-conducted tours of Beard Hall to see the facilities and enjoy exhibits and demonstrations prepared and explained by members of the faculty and students and the light refreshments served in the Student Center. Again, notes have been received that the event was important in choosing or confirming the choice of pharmacy as a career for students in high school and junior colleges.

The 17th annual Justice Drug Company dinner honoring the graduating students was held at the King Cotton Hotel in Greensboro on May 6. The dinner was preceded by a tour of the plant of the sponsoring firm.

Awards Night was held on May 11. William Gerald Coln, Rockingham, received The Pharmacy Faculty Award as valedictorian of the graduating class, The Pharmacy Student Body Award for participation in extra curricular activities and promise of future distinction in the profession, and The Pharmacy Student Body's Outgoing President's Key. Elizabeth Clark Williams, Pinetops, received The Buxton Williams Hunter Medal for campus citizenship and scholarship. Evelyn Pauline Lloyd, Hillsboro, received The Pharmacy Senate Award for loyalty and service to the School. Mary Lou Johnson, Clayton, was a double award winner: The Kappa Epsilon Award for leadership and scholarship and The Merck Award for noteworthy achievement. Carolyn Rebecca Proffitt, Burnsville, received The Bristol Award for noteworthy achievement. James Stephen Kennedy, Shelby, a third-year student, won the M. L. Jacobs Memorial Award given by the Rho Chi Society for greatest excellence in Organic Pharmaceutical Chemistry, and George W. Moore, Jr., Conover, received the Rho Chi First Year Award for highest scholarship during the first year of the pharmacy curriculum in General College. A special presentation was made by Mr. G. C. Eichhorn, vice-president of Richardson-Merrell, Inc., for winning third place in the competition for the Lunsford Richardson Pharmacy Award on a national basis for the best paper in undergraduate research. This was the seventh award of a Lunsford Richardson Pharmacy Award won by a student in the School of Pharmacy in the period of 11 years during which these awards have been given. It was presented to Alan Warren Solter of Colonia, New Jersey, and consisted of a certificate and a check to amount $100. The same amount was paid to the School of Pharmacy and $10 to the Student Branches of the APhA and NCPHA. Neill Hector Musselwhite, III of Carolina Beach received the American Pharmaceutical Association Merit Award. Dr. Samuel B. Knight, Professor of Chemistry, received the Distinguished Teaching Award for a non-pharmacy faculty member with a distinguished record of teaching pharmacy students. Previous winners of this award were Dr. J. T. Dobbins of the Department of Chemistry and Dr. H. R. Totten of the Department of Botany. The Fraternity Scholastic Award was won for its second year by Kappa Epsilon.

The good news has been received that request to the National Science Foundation for a grant to amount $14,400 for undergraduate instructional scientific equipment was approved. This fund is to be matched by an equal amount from the school's budget which has been helped by a grant of $4,000 from the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Research Foundation for one of the equipment items, a gas chromatograph.

Mrs. Gladys (J. G.) Beard was a surprise visitor at the School on May 21. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Mirium Angel. They were traveling from their home in Florida to New York preliminary to a visit this summer to the north central countries of Europe to be followed by a visit to the World's Fair before returning to Florida next fall.

The annual Pharmacy Weekend was held on May 7 beginning with a semi-formal dance at the Country Club and continued on May 8 with softball games between the upper two classes and the lower two classes and the two fraternities in the afternoon, a picnic supper at The Homestead Community Center and a combo party also at the Center. The fraternity softball game was won by Kappa Psi by a score of 9 to 8 after Phi Delta Chi lead at the end of the first inning 6 to 0.

At a request from the University Committee, First Aid service was provided by four pharmacy students during the Junior High School Choral Festival in Memorial Hall on April 29. The students were Dwight Batts, Terry Heatherington, Carroll Laxton, and Lynn McCaskill.

Mr. James Lim passed the final oral examination for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy with a major in pharmacy on May 14. The title of his dissertation was "Adhesion Tension Determinations for Evaluating Binding Agents." His research was directed by Professors Herman O. Thompson and Claude Piantadosi. Dr. Lim will continue as a Research Associate in a position supported by a grant held by Dr. Piantadosi.

Professor A. W. Jowdy was elected

Faculty Associate by the residents of Teague dormitory.

Regulations concerning experience credit was explained on May 20 to undergraduate students by Mr. H. C. McAllister, Secretary of the North Carolina Board of Pharmacy and Mr. Gerald Stahl, Chief Pharmacist at Watts Hospital and Secretary of the North Carolina Academy of Practical Instructors in Pharmacy.

Undergraduate students James Stephen Kennedy of Shelby, a rising junior, Clark Doggett of Summerfield, a rising senior, and Larry Kiziah of Hickory, a rising senior, were selected by Professors James C. Kellett, Jr. and George H. Cocolas for summer research supported by the renewal of a grant from the National Science Foundation and a supplemental grant from the N. C. Pharmaceutical Research Foundation. The same program of undergraduate research participation was conducted by Dr. Kellett during the last two summers.

Four regional seminars were conducted by the Pharmacy Extension Division under the direction of Assistant Dean M. A. Chambers during the year. Each was concerned with a topic on the pharmacology and therapeutic uses of drugs. The registrations were 11 pharmacists at Williamston, 69 at Chapel Hill, 28 at Winston-Salem, and 15 at Charlotte.

Recent papers were published in the Journal of the Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society; a special supplement, April, 1965: "Transacetalation: "The Reaction Mechanism" by Claude Piantadosi, Carl E. Anderson, Claude L. Yarbrow, Edward A. Brecht, and Cosmo A. DiFazio, and "Synthesis of Acetal Phosphatides" by Claude Piantadosi, Carl E. Anderson, Claude L. Yarbrow, and Edward A. Brecht.

Elections of the Student Body in the School were held on May 4 with a run-off election on May 11: Neill Musselwhite, Carolina Beach, President; Mark Williams, Laurinburg, Vice President; and Judy Phillips, Hayesville, Secretary-Treasurer.

Rho Chi

May 3. Seven rising seniors were initiated: L. P. Bell of Rocky Mount, Peggy C. Gebhardt of Charlotte, Terry Heatherington of Bessemer City, Tom Lilly of Durham, Neill Musselwhite of Carolina Beach, Elizabeth Paterson of Matthews, and Alan Solter of Colonia, N. J.

Kappa Epsilon

The Founders's Day Banquet was held at the Blair House on May 2. Special guests were Dr. Margaret Shaw, immediate past adviser for the group who was presented a silver tray and silver bowl, Dr. Jack K. Wier, current adviser for the group, Mrs. Wier, and associate members Miss Alice Noble and Mrs. I. W. Rose.

Kappa Psi

The 50th Anniversary of the Beta Xi chapter was observed with a dinner at the American Legion Hut on May 7 as a part of the Pharmacy Weekend activities. Two charter members were present, Roger A. McDuffie of Greensboro and F. J. Andrews of Chapel Hill. Dean E. A. Brecht was an invited guest. The speaker for the occasion was the National Secretary, Dr. Gerald C. Henney, Professor of Pharmacy Administration at the St. Louis College of Pharmacy.

Phi Delta Chi

The Outstanding Senior Award was presented to William Foster of Mocksville at the Awards Night Program on May 11.

The P D C Alumni Award was presented to Dean E. A. Brecht at a luncheon held in Durham on May 18 during the annual Convention of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association.

Student Branches of NCPHA and APhA

The following officers were elected for the coming school year on May 4 and 11 and installed at the Awards Night Program on the latter date: President Terry Heatherington, Bessemer City; Vice President Steve Kennedy, Shelby; Secretary Ellon Seawell, Rockingham; Treasurer Charles Hite, Gastonia; Assistant to the President John Malone, Coats; and Executive Committee Member Gene Anderson, Enfield.

Charlotte

The May meeting of the Charlotte Auxiliary was held at the Kirkwood room, and featured the installation of new officers. Mrs. Bland Robinson served as Installing Officer.

Those taking office were: Mrs. Virginia Steele, President; Mrs. Eleanor Morton, First Vice-President; Mrs. Evelyn Henley, Second Vice-President; Mrs. Clara Wingate, Treasurer; Mrs. Mattie Smith Gardner, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Edith Owen, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. C. H. Smith, Advisor.

Charlotte will resume their regular meetings in September, but plans are being made for a summer picnic.

Greensboro

The Greensboro Drug Club Auxiliary elected Mrs. David W. Montgomery president to succeed Mrs. D. C. Dowdy at their April meeting.

Bridge and refreshments followed the business session.

Other officers named are Mrs. Dale C. Bracker, vice-president; Mrs. J. M. Egbert, secretary; Mrs. W. S. Duke, treasurer; Mrs. Keith Fulbright, historian; Mrs. Sam W. McFalls, chaplain.

Mrs. A. H. Mebane III, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate.

Cabarrus

New officers were elected and installed at the April meeting of the Cabarrus Pharmaceutical Auxiliary. Mrs. Jesse Pike, retiring vice-president, conducted the meeting and officiated at the installation ceremony. Mrs. Hoy Moose gave the devotions.

Mrs. James Mitchener presented the program, speaking on her trip to Alaska last summer, illustrated by slides.

Mrs. Preston Forrester was welcomed into the Auxiliary as a new member.

Spotlight on Superior Needlework

A feature article (Winston-Salem Sentinel, May 1) highlighted the exceptional sewing ability of Mrs. L. Craig Lewis of Winston-Salem.

Some examples of Mrs. Lewis' needlework were shown—a quilted bedspread, crewel bag and pillow tops.

Mention was made of Craig's hobby of collecting apothecary bottles—he has about 150. One room is decorated with prints of drug plants.

Career Speaker

Willis Whitehead, pharmacist-manager of Chatham Rexall Drug in Siler City, spoke on "Pharmacy as a Career" at Jordan-Matthews High School (Siler City) Vocation Day on April 20.

Helped 'Put Hubby Through'

Under sponsorship of The Pharmacy Wives organization of The Woman's Auxiliary of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, the wives of graduating seniors at the University of North Carolina School of Pharmacy were honored at a special "graduation" ceremony of their own in Chapel Hill in late May, each receiving "P.H.T." degrees attesting to their assistance in "putting hubby through."

They are, left to right: Mr. and Mrs. William O. Sheaffer, Chapel Hill; Mrs. Marjorie Matthews, Stoneville; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis E. Holleman, Fuquay-Varina; Mr. and Mrs. Larry G. Kennedy, Robbins; Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kennedy, Jr., Shelby; Mr. and Mrs. James A. Sitison, Jr., Mount Airy; Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Smith, Jr., Durham; and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald L. Hargis, Burlington.

Guest speaker at the graduation was Mrs. Charles M. Blanton, Jr. of Kings Mountain, the newly installed president of The Woman's Auxiliary of the NCPHA.

A. H. Robins Company Listed on New York Stock Exchange

President E. Claiborne Robins (center), who purchased the first 100 shares when the A. H. Robins Company of Richmond was listed on the New York Stock Exchange May 6, checks ticker tape with Keith Funston (left), president of the Exchange. At right is stock specialist Robert M. Arias.

Listed by the Exchange were 4,212,312 shares of the company's common stock. The stock, formerly traded over-the-counter, has been assigned ticker symbol RAH. Robins has more than 7,100 stockholders located in 49 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign countries.

"Listing on the New York Stock Exchange is a constructive step in our progress," Mr. Robins said. "It certainly will increase the marketability of our stock and should enhance the prestige of the company."

Robins, founded in 1878, distributes a line of ethical pharmaceuticals in all 50 states and approximately 50 foreign countries. It is best known for its preparations for coughs and colds, antispasmodic drugs used for gastro-intestinal disorders, and skeletal muscle relaxants.

Since Mr. Robins became president in 1936, the number of company employees has grown from four to 2,000, and annual sales have increased from $4,800 to $58,465,919 for 1964.

For the first quarter of 1965, Robins reported consolidated net sales of $16,277,210, an increase of 17.7 per cent over the corresponding quarter of 1964. Per share earnings for the first quarter of 1965 were 56 cents compared to 38 cents for the corresponding period of 1964. The company has paid quarterly dividends on its common stock since the initial public offering of its shares in March 1963.

In addition to its main plant and research laboratories at Richmond, Robins has branches in Evanston, Ill., and Los Angeles, and has subsidiary companies in Lynchburg, Va., Canada, Mexico, Colombia, England and Australia.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Harris of Hope Mills announce the birth of a daughter, Sarah Lanette, May 11, 1965. Both parents are pharmacists and are associated with Clinic Pharmacy of Hope Mills.

Deaths

HAROLD M. PICKETT

Harold M. Pickett, Jacksonville, Florida, died Easter Sunday, April 18, of a massive heart attack.

Mr. Pickett was guest soloist at the Protestant Services at U.S.N.S. at Mayport, Florida. He collapsed during his Easter solo and never regained consciousness.

Mr. Pickett was 60 years of age and had been a sales representative of the Reese Chemical Company in the Southeast for nineteen years. He was a loyal supporter of the TMA of the NCPHA and regularly attended the pharmaceutical conventions in North Carolina.

Letter of Appreciation

Dear Mr. Goodrich:

I want to thank you, and, through you, all members of The Traveling Men's Auxiliary for the gift made to the Pharmaceutical Endowment Fund in memory of my husband. He felt so strongly that to minister to the living was the best sort of memorial to the dead; this gives me an even deeper satisfaction as I think of this remembrance of his friends of the years.

manager, owner, or controlling body on whatever basis is deemed reasonable and just for said services rendered.

3. That the NCPHA actively support legislation which will insure that all drugs designated "Rx Legend" be distributed only to licensed pharmacies and dispensed by pharmacists.

4. That the NCPHA recommend to Governor Moore that he give consideration to the appointment of a pharmacist whose services would be available on a full-time basis to the State whenever and wherever needed.

5. That the NCPHA go on record as encouraging each member and each pharmacist in North Carolina to study, consider, and implement as soon as possible the concept of the professional fee.

6. That the NCPHA reaffirm its opposition to the Federal Excise Tax on toiletries, cosmetics, leather goods and jewelry and to continue its effort for repeal of these taxes which are no longer necessary for the support of the economy of this country.

7. That the NCPHA along with the N. C. Society of Hospital Pharmacists recommend to the Dean of the School of Pharmacy of UNC to institute an expanded and accelerated educational and training program for hospital pharmacists.

8. That members be urged to give consideration to the effective display of their college of pharmacy diplomas together with their state board certificates to the end that the public will recognize the pharmacist as the only person qualified by training and experience to serve the public in all matters involving prescription service and professional health needs.

9. That the NCPHA undertake the development of a program which will assist pharmacists who have a special interest in the political field.

10. That the NCPHA express its appreciation to the Wake County Pharmaceutical Society for its assistance to the Medical Division of the State Board of Public Welfare (working part-time, without pay, in processing Rx claims).

Jesse Pike

The Bowl of Hygeia, most widely recognized international symbol of pharmacy, derives from Greek Mythology.

Hygeia was the daughter and assistant of Aesculapius (sometimes spelled Asklepios), the God of Medicine and Healing. Her classical symbol was a bowl containing a medicinal potion, with the serpent of Wisdom (or guardianship) partaking of it. This is the same serpent of Wisdom which appears on the caduceus, the staff of Aesculapius which is the symbol of medicine.

The Bowl of Hygeia Award, presented annually through the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, is a handsome mahogany plaque measuring 10 by 13 inches and featuring the Bowl of Hygeia cast in bronze. It is modeled after a sterling silver bowl made by a Mexican silversmith and given to the A. H. Robins Company by its Latin American representatives in 1953 on the Richmond (Va.) ethical pharmaceutical manufacturing firm's 75th anniversary.

The award was established in 1955 by the company's president, E. Claiborne Robins, and now, in addition to North Carolina, is presented annually in 47 states, the District of Columbia and seven of the 10 provinces of Canada.

Well-Deserved Honor

(Editorial from The Concord Tribune)

You might say Jesse M. Pike, president of the Concord Chamber of Commerce and one of this city's active civic leaders, has reached the "Peak."

The "peak" that is in the world of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association.

Pike was surprised at the state convention Sunday afternoon when he was presented the "Hygeia Bowl" for his devoted civic interest to his beloved Concord. The award was made by A. H. Robins Company and is much coveted for it is in recognition of pharmacists who make the greatest contribution to their home towns. Pike won the award hands down for North Carolina.

It is unusual for professional people to devote so much time to community service. We extend to him our heartiest congratulations.

what we mean when we say... SERVICE

Ordinarily, "service" means that your orders are filled correctly, billed properly, and delivered without delay. However, our use of the word implies more than the mere handling and supplying of merchandise. It entails keen interest in your problems . . . willingness to help you become a better businessman . . . sincere desire to assist you in conserving your working capital . . . and eagerness to provide merchandising techniques which insure maximum turnover with minimum investment. That's what we mean when we say "service." For these added values, send your orders to us.

A PROFESSIONAL FEE FOR A PROFESSIONAL SERVICE

Although the working agreement with the State Board of Public Welfare specifies a professional fee ($1.75) in connection with dispensed Welfare prescriptions, apparently some pharmacists are not aware of all the cost factors which go into this phase of Pharmacy's professional service. Note this excerpt from a letter written to the Chairman of the Medical Society—Pharmaceutical Association Committee Liaison to the State Board of Public Welfare by State Welfare Commissioner Brown:

"We are very concerned by reports that numerous pharmacists have commented to the effect that the professional fee per prescription as provided in the State Board of Public Welfare Prescription Drug Program is too high. These comments appear, from information coming into this office, to be quite widespread."

The professional fee of $1.75 was established by the State Board of Public Welfare after extensive study and consultation with various professional groups. The Board took into account the average cost of dispensing a prescription in this area, which is approximately $1.50, plus such additional items as the paper work involved in submitting detailed claim forms, the program limitation to new, non-refillable "Rx Legend" prescriptions, and required conference time with doctors and welfare personnel.

The general opinion of most pharmacists participating in the program was summed up by a pharmacist who wired the NCPHA Office as follows: "Idea of reducing professional fee Welfare prescriptions ridiculous beyond belief. Such action could destroy the program."

The professional fee concept of pricing prescriptions is new, and, as indicated by Welfare's reaction to comment from "numerous pharmacists," the fee method of arriving at a fair and equitable compensation for the pharmacist's professional services is not yet understood and accepted by all pharmacists. Our reaction is that some pharmacists have been talking from the mouth out.

The Carolina Journal of Pharmacy is published monthly by the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association, Box 151, Chapel Hill, N. C. Subscription rate: $3.00 a year; single copy, 25 cents. Second Class postage paid at Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

Fremont Pharmacy Dedicated

Dedication ceremonies for the new Fremont Pharmacy, which is located across the street from the original pharmacy, was observed recently.

The Wayne County based pharmacy is owned and operated by Pharmacist Jesse Stewart.

Frank Fife, manager of the Wilson Branch of Owens, Minor and Bodeker wholesale house, was guest speaker at the dedication ceremony. He pointed out the numerous services available to the community from pharmacies such as the one operated by Mr. Stewart.

Outstanding Jaycee Record

The Jaycee record of Pharmacist Clyde Alexander was so exceptional, the office secretary of the Rocky Mount Junior Chamber of Commerce wrote us about it. Here is a list of Clyde's activities:

1. First quarter certificate of merit for participation in the Blood Program which he was chairman.

2. Spoke and Spark Plug awards.

3. Spoke of the Year award.

4. Elected to 2-year term on Jaycee Board of Directors.

5. Member of Rocky Mount Nash County Chapter of Mental Health Association Board of Directors.

6. Elected to the Board of Directors of the Rocky Mount—Nash County American National Red Cross.

7. Board of Deacons, West Haven Presbyterian Church.

8. Teaching pharmacology and pharmacy mathematics at Park View School of Nursing.

Joe Catanese to Represent Dean and Barry Martin in State

Joe Catanese of Charlotte, Dean Rubber Company representative in North Carolina for more than fifteen years, has joined Barry Martin Pharmaceuticals of Miami, Florida, as North Carolina District representative.

Mr. Catanese will continue with Dean. The only change is that when he calls on his accounts in this state he will have two lines—Dean and Barry Martin.

Named Civitan of the Year

Garrett E. Andes, former operator of a pharmacy in Wadesboro, has been named Zone Civitan of the Year. The Zone is composed of Civitan Clubs in Anson, Montgomery, Richmond and Scotland counties.

Mr. Andes, since retirement from active management of a drug store, has been operating an investment planning service in Wadesboro.

Two Veteran Employees Retire from Justice

Two veteran employees—Val B. Hennessee and E. L. Summers—retired from Justice Drug Company on June 30.

Mr. Hennessee has served Justice Drug Company since 1929 as prier and assistant sales manager.

Mr. Summers, an employee in the accounting department, was completing his 39th year with Justice at the time of his retirement.

Robert Lee Hamilton of Oxford is the oldest living alumnus of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Mr. Hamilton was born on December 29, 1868 and attended the School of Pharmacy, 1899-1900. He was licensed in 1900.

The picture was taken at the Commencement exercises on June 7 by J. B. Clay, Class of '59, probably the youngest pharmacist of Oxford.

LARSH NAMED ACTING DEAN OF UNC SCHOOL OF PHARMACY

Dr. John E. Larsh, Jr., has been named Acting Dean of the School of Pharmacy, University of North Carolina. He assumed the post on July 1 when Dr. Edward A. Breeht, Jr. officially resigned as head of the School to return to the teaching staff.

Dr. Larsh will continue his duties as assistant dean for academic programs and head of the Department of Parasitology of the UNC School of Public Health.

He is a native of East St. Louis, Ill., and came to the UNC faculty as an instructor in 1943. He is a professor of parasitology at the UNC schools of public health and medicine and at Duke University.

Dr. Larsh was elected president of the American Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene last winter. He devoted four summers to parasitological studies in the Dominican Republic, West Indies, under the sponsorship of the Institute of Tropical Medicine, Bowman Gray School of Medicine.

Prospective Deans Being Interviewed

University authorities, now in the market for a top flight educator for appointment on a permanent basis to head the UNC School of Pharmacy, interviewed three persons during June.

The interviews, visits and entertainment, all supervised by a special committee set up by the University for this purpose, ran to two and three days.

A decision is expected later this summer. Since the three prospects now under consideration are deans of schools of pharmacy, it is unlikely a permanent replacement for Dean Breeht will be in Chapel Hill before the close of next school year.

Eckerd (N. C.) Ownership Goes Public

Eckerd Drugs of North Carolina is offering 350,000 shares of stock for public sale through various brokerage houses. The initial share price was $22.00.

According to information filed by Eckerd, part of the offering comes from Eckerd President Edward M. O'Herron, Jr. (161,000 shares) and his two sisters (94,500 each). President O'Herron will retain the biggest control (27.8%) in the chain following public sale of the stock.

The 39-store Eckerd (North Carolina) chain started in Charlotte which Ed O'Herron, Sr. took over from his father-in-law, J. Milton Eckerd, in 1921. There are three other Eckerd chains (Florida, Erie, Pa. and Wilmington, Del. based) but no direct financial interest in the Eckerd (North Carolina) group.

Here is a 1956-1965 comparison of the North Carolina Eckerd record: Sales from $6 plus million to $29 million; average sales per store—from $410,000 to $755,000; Sq. ft. per store—from 3,540 to 7,260. Eckerd (N. C.) had 17 stores in operation in 1956; 39 today.

Eckerd nets per share have been: 1961—36c; 1962—34c; 1963—52c; 1964—71c; and 1965—$1.16.

Salaries of officers were listed as follows: President O'Herron, $78,300; Secretary Rankin, $68,000; and Treasurer Sullivan, $72,500. These three officers plus B. Irvin Boyle, a lawyer, and P. C. Blackman, make up the 5-man board of directors.

Eckerd (N. C.) plans seven more stores—six in North Carolina and one in South Carolina.

CONVENTION POT POURRI

Impressions of a delegate presented in rambling sing-song

JAMES W. HARRISON, Asheville

"When once the itch of literature comes over a man, nothing can cure it but the scratching of a pen." (Samuel Lover). Even though it is not literature, the treatment and the cure remain the same.

The Governor took a raincheck for the Convention in Asheville next year; perhaps it would be more in keeping with gubernatorial dignity to say, as the doctor would chart it: contagious parotiditis. But one wonders if there could have been even an autogenous vaccine in circa 1915. Ho hum, we'll never know what we missed.

Tom Burgiss, Roy Collette and Sandy Griffin presenting their gimmicks; those boys are as up-to-date as the eye specialists who use a lime juice-glycerine compound preoperatively and ganglionic blocking agents paraoperatively. . . . Albert Jowdy, a Paul Olsen without the "uhs" and "ers" of hiccoughy hesitations. . . . Ward and West, recent grooms, like unto Herrick's benedict, "He loves his bonds, who when the first are broke, submits his neck unto a second yoke." . . . Bill Houser, finding no sympathetic stimulant in a shrimp casserole, sought alleviation from an allergic cough in a sympathomimetic amine and found it in propylhexedrine. The darn thing worked. . . . Hubert Rogers and Ralph Rogers (fils) trying to get me a lift to Hamlet, not succeeding, but they tried. Common carriers were less crowded than walking.

Red Worley, resplendent in formal black and white, his mid-torso protuberance tightly drawn in by a twenty centimeter cummerbund. Oh well, he had a light dinner. . . . Jacque Womble, abjuring her pet name, but countenancing her acceptance of it by getting parental approval. . . . The interplay of dares and challenges handled between B. W. Wolfe and Roger McDuffie; perhaps the motorcycle riding fifty-plusser would serve as referee. All right, pitchforks at ten paces, engarde, touche! . . . S-K-F's Donald Belcher exhorting us to get in the community mental health program. He and his colleague Weir had all the biochemical, philosophic, religious, terror postulative, parasympathetic, pslycotomietic and psychedelie aspects in the entire psychiatric architecture of their products at their mind tips and finger tips. Economic and policy facts too, as Dave Claytor may attest.

Luke Irwin and George Royall, par nobile fratrum. . . . E. W. Woolard, defying passing time with a sprightliness seldom seen in one much younger. I hope you live forever and that I never die. . . . J. C. Canipe and uxorial companion, once in a great while sitting one out. "But when the wearied hand swoons to a waltz, I take her hand, and there we sit in peaceful calm, quietly sweating palm to palm." (Huxley) . . . Bob White, appropriating a friend's dinner check without the pleasure of dining together but regretting the rush that prohibits more togetherness and camaraderie. Beau geste, that; and we too bemoan the relentless march of time that makes too infrequent this delightful custom of getting together. . . . The sleep lidded eyes of breakfasteers, made alert by generous draughts of excellently brewed coffee, the king of matutinal beverages. "The critical period in matrimony is breakfast time." (Herbert) . . . Joe Tunstall with the facial configurations of a cherub; add Joe Montesanti.

John and Wilma Stevenson, who impress that knighthood is ever in flower, his cigar may be a sword and her coiffure a tiara. . . . Neill Musselwhite, outlining the activities of the Students' Branch in accents clear and prideful gave attestation of the unilateral purpose of the young pharmacists of today. Looking over the set, purposeful faces of the young crop, we gather two in focus, John Kennedy and Mary Sentelle, knowing they epitomize the entire group in all its aspirations and we feel that pharmacy is in good hands. To paraphrase Phil Link's hero: pharmacy will be redeemed, prodded on by some of these. . . .

Cabarrus

The Women's Auxiliary to the Cabarrus Pharmaceutical Society met May 25 at the home of Mrs. Howard Whitley.

Mrs. Hoy Moose gave the devotional on the topic, "A Pinch of Salt."

Mrs. Jesse Pike discussed the July luncheon to be held at her home on Grandview and Mrs. James Mitchener suggested the Society invite the new State President to the luncheon.

For the program, Mrs. Hoy Moose gave a report on the awards and business session of the State Convention held May 16-18 in Durham. Mrs. Pike reported on the social activities of the convention.

A humorous fashion show closed the meeting.

Asheville

Mrs. Philip F. Crouch was installed as president of the Western North Carolina Drug Club Auxiliary at its June meeting held in Bailey's Cafeteria.

Other new officers include Mrs. B. L. Pinner, vice president; Mrs. J. W. Harrison, recording secretary; Mrs. W. B. Van Valkenburg, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harry Dover, treasurer; Mrs. E. C. Brown, parliamentarian; and Mrs. G. B. Rogers, historian.

Hostess for luncheon was Mrs. Crouch. Prizes were won by Mrs. C. A. Beaman and Mrs. H. R. Laidlaw.

The next meeting will be in September.

Winston-Salem

The Apothecary Club held its May meeting at the Woman's Club with twenty-seven members and one guest present.

During the business session new officers were installed for the coming year and the outgoing president, Mrs. Don Ferguson, was presented a gift.

Mrs. Don Chapman, the new president, announced new committee chairmen. They are:

Telephone Committee—Mrs. Homer Barnhardt and Mrs. Jerry Healy

Ways and Means—Mrs. John Holland

Scrapbook—Mrs. B. G. Warren and Mrs. Leon Cahill

Hostesses—Mrs. Garland Benton

Membership—Mrs. Don Ferguson

Sunshine—Mrs. Roger Sloop

Publicity—Mrs. L. M. Myers and Mrs. Joe Perkins

Social—Mrs. Gilbert Hartis, Jr.

No further business, the meeting was adjourned.

Auxiliary Committees Meet

The Woman's Auxiliary Committee on Minutes and the Auditing Committee met June 24 at the Institute of Pharmacy. The Minutes Committee composed of Mrs. M. L. Jacobs, Mrs. Floyd Goodrich, and Mrs. W. A. West reviewed records of the Annual Business Session held May 18 in Durham. The Treasurer's Books were audited by a committee composed of Mrs. Robert B. Hall, Mrs. W. L. Sloan, Mrs. Charles Wharton.

At the conclusion of the separate meetings, they were joined by the Executive Board for a luncheon at the home of Mrs. W. J. Smith.

During the afternoon the Executive Board met to formulate plans for the new Auxiliary year. It was decided to continue the project of placing the book Profession of Pharmacy in high school and public libraries, with the ultimate aim being that of having every library covered.

Other possible projects were discussed and study committees will be set up to determine their feasibility, reporting back to the Executive Board at a later date.

Mrs. C. D. Blanton, Jr. presided at the Board session.

Pharmacist-Physician and Wholesaler Team Up to Save Life of Girl

The Spartanburg Herald recently ran a news story which once again reemphasized how teamwork—in this instance a pharmacist, wholesale druggist and doctor—can save a life.

The principals involved were a Morganton girl, a pharmacist (Don Miller of Miller's Pharmacy), the wholesale druggist (Geer Drug Company of Spartanburg), and the doctor (Dr. James Thomas). Other important elements in the picture were the drug—Mucomyst—and the Geer employee, Eddie Boyd, who rushed the needed drug from Geer's stock in Spartanburg to Morganton.

While the drug was enroute, the doctor reported that the patient had stopped breathing twice. In a follow-up communication to Geer Dr. Thomas had this to say, in part:

"Shortly after we received the Mycomyst and instilled it in her trachea, she responded very dramatically. At present she is convalescing and doing well. In this particular situation I feel the drug proved life saving."

To Represent Abbott in Durham

Donald Wayne Knight, 1308 Christine Ave., Anniston, Alabama, has joined the pharmaceutical company Abbott Laboratories as a sales representative in Durham, North Carolina.

A pharmacy graduate of Howard College, he was employed for the past four years as a retail pharmacist in Anniston. He is an immediate past vice-president of the Calhoun County Retail Druggist Association and a member of the Anniston Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Knight and his family will establish residence in Durham in the near future.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Rowe B. Campbell

¶ Born in Taylorsville, 1896, within 100 feet of where he now lives.

¶ Started working in a drug store in 1908. After attending Page School of Pharmacy he worked for a short time at Statesville Drug Company, Statesville, and Empire Drug Company, Salisbury. He then returned to Taylorsville and opened Peoples Drug Store in 1918.

¶ For thirty-eight of the forty-seven years Peoples Drug Store has been in operation Mr. Campbell maintained every day service—365 days a year. After the establishment of Town and Country Drugs in 1956, Peoples Drug Store started closing on alternate Sundays. The pharmacy has long since passed the one-millionth prescription mark.

¶ Mr. Campbell is a charter member and past-president of the Taylorsville Rotary Club; a member of the Presbyterian Church; and for almost twenty years was Chairman, Home Service Chairman, and Fund Raising Chairman of the American Red Cross. He is a Mason and a Shriner.

¶ On May 11, 1923, Mr. Campbell was married to Miss Sophia Cooper of Rocky Mount. The Campbells have three children, a daughter, Mrs. Maurice Brown of Greenville, South Carolina; Rowe, Jr., pharmacist living in Taylorsville; Milton F., a physician at Duke Hospital, Durham. Mr. Campbell's hobby of sports has occupied a lot of his time and thought, but he says his greatest accomplishment is his fine family—a housewife, a pharmacist, and a physician.

¶ Numerous committees of the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association have claimed his time and attention, including the county chairmanship for the Institute of Pharmacy.

¶ He is a member of the North Carolina Association of Professions, as well as the American Pharmaceutical Association and the National Association of Retail Druggists.

ROWE CAMPBELL OF TAYLORSVILLE NAMED PHARMACIST OF THE YEAR

Rowe Bogle Campbell of Taylorsville has been named "Pharmacist-of-the-Year" and will be honored at a dinner to be held at the Taylorsville High School, Wednesday night, July 28 at 7 p.m. At that time the NCPHA's Mortar-and-Pestle Award will be presented to Mr. Campbell.

This Award is given annually by the NCPHA in recognition of meritorious achievements by a North Carolina pharmacist. In the case of Mr. Campbell, he has contributed much to his community and state through his work in the field of public health and pharmacy. This is his 47th year as owner/operator of the Peoples Drug Store, Taylorsville—one of the top prescription stores (more than 1,000,000 on file) in the state.

Guest speakers at the July 28th dinner will be Dr. Alexander S. Moffett, Surgeon at the Alexander County Hospital; Mr. James B. Farthing, Cashier of the Northwestern Bank; and Earl H. Tate, Lenoir pharmacist and member of the N. C. General Assembly. The Award will be presented by NCPHA President W. T. Boone of Ahsokie.

More than 200 persons are expected to attend the dinner. Tickets ($3.00) are available from L. M. Ferguson, Town & Country Drugs, Taylorsville, or from the NCPHA, Chapel Hill. Dress for the dinner will be informal.

For additional details, see pages 18-19.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY OKs A NUMBER OF BILLS OF INTEREST TO PHARMACY

The 1965 session of The General Assembly of North Carolina passed these legislative acts of interest to pharmacists and others in the pharmaceutical field:

Senate Bill #367 introduced by Senator Bailey: Provides for increase in fees collected by the State Board of Pharmacy. For the examination of an applicant for license as a pharmacist, $25.00; for renewing the license as a pharmacist, $15.00; for renewing the license of an assistant pharmacist, $10.00; for licenses without examination as provided in 90-64, original, $25.00, and renewal thereof, $15.00; for original registration of a drug store, $50.00, and renewal thereof, $25.00; for issuing a permit to a physician to conduct a drug store in a village of not more than 500 inhabitants, $10.00; for the renewal of a permit to a physician to conduct a drug store in a village of not more than 500 inhabitants, $5.00.

S. B. 367 also provides for $15.00 pay to members of the State Board of Pharmacy for each day of service while discharging official duties. In the past, the daily pay has been $10.00

House Bill 617 introduced by Rep. Johnson of Wake County. Defines "nurse" in relationship to enforcement of Narcotic Act and provides that vehicles, after forfeiture, may be used by the State Bureau of Investigation in official investigations of violations of the Narcotic Act.

House Bill 618 introduced by Rep. Johnson of Wake County: Amends General Statutes relating to Barbiturates and Stimulant Drugs. Provides increased penalty for illegal possession of barbiturates, stimulant drugs and hypodermic syringes. No separate records required of pharmacists in the amended bill as passed by Assembly.

Pharmacy Law Study Bill Introduced by Sen. Kemp of Guilford County: Provided for a "study commission" on N. C. Pharmacy laws. Unfavorable report by the Senate Calendar I Committee.

An effort to place a second pharmacist (Robert Hall of Mocksville now serves) on the Board of Trustees of the Consolidated University did not succeed. A proposal to study the method of selecting the trustees was approved—the commission will report later.

Working closely with the Association's Legislative Committee, headed by John Mitchener, were Attorney F. O. Bowman, Senator Ruffin Bailey, and Pharmacist-Representative Earl Tate.

SPECIFIC ACTION

NEW, rigorously proved, highly effective anti-anxiety agent offering exceptional separation between effective dose
and side-effective dose.

For equivalent "anti-anxiety" response, pharmacology studies predict up to 42% less side-effect liability than with diazepam, 71% less side-effect liability than with chlordiazepoxide. Clinical studies in 4240 patients show a similar lower incidence of side effects with oxazepam.

Additional Advantages • Versatile and flexible control of common emotional disturbances: prompt action in disorders associated with anxiety (including anxiety-linked depression), tension, agitation and irritability • High index of safety • Little or no cumulative effect • Virtually no ataxia and minimal sedation • Economical

Dosage and Administration

Mild to moderate anxiety with associated tension, irritability, agitation or related symptoms of functional origin or secondary to organic disease	10-15 mg. 3 or 4 times daily
Severe anxiety syndromes, agitation or anxiety associated with depression	15-30 mg. 3 or 4 times daily
Older patients with anxiety, tension, irritability and agitation	Initially—10 mg. 3 times daily. If necessary, increase cautiously to 15 mg. 3 or 4 times daily
Alcoholics with acute inebriation, tremulousness or anxiety on withdrawal	15-30 mg. 3 or 4 times daily

Usual Dosage

Precautions: Hypotensive reactions are rare, but use with caution where complications could ensue from a fall in blood pressure, especially in the elderly. Carefully supervise dose and amounts prescribed, especially for patients prone to overdose themselves; excessive, prolonged use in susceptible patients (alcoholics, former addicts, etc.) may result in dependence or habituation. Reduce dosage gradually after prolonged excessive dosage to avoid possible epileptiform seizures. Caution patients against driving or operating machinery until absence of drowsiness or dizziness is ascertained. Warn patients of possible reduction in alcohol-tolerance. Safety for use in pregnancy has not been established.

Not indicated in children under 6 years; absolute dosage for 6 to 12 year-olds not established.

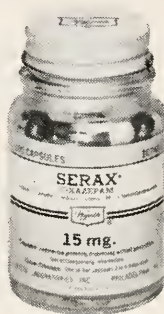

Side Effects: Therapy-interrupting side effects are rare. Transient mild drowsiness is common initially; if persistent, reduce dosage. Dizziness, vertigo and headache have also occurred infrequently; syncope, rarely. Mild paradoxical reactions (excitement, stimulation of affect) have been reported in psychiatric patients. Minor diffuse rashes (morbilliform, urticarial and maculopapular), nausea, lethargy, edema, slurred speech, tremor and altered libido are rare and generally controllable by dosage reduction. Although leukopenia and hepatic dysfunction have been reported, direct correlation with SERAX therapy is uncertain (periodic blood counts and liver function tests are advised). Ataxia, reported rarely, does not appear related to dose or age.

These side reactions, noted with related compounds, are not yet reported: paradoxical excitation with severe rage reactions, hallucinations, menstrual irregularities, change in EEG pattern, blood dyscrasias (including agranulocytosis), blurred vision, diplopia, incontinence, stupor, disorientation, fever, euphoria and dysmetria.

Contraindications: Previous hypersensitivity to SERAX; psychotic states.

Availability: Capsules of 10, 15 and 30 mg. oxazepam.

UNC PHARMACY SCHOOL NOTES

Dr. John E. Larsh, Jr., Professor of Parasitology, School of Public Health was appointed Acting Dean for the School of Pharmacy effective July 1. Further details are given elsewhere in this journal.

The search committee for a new permanent dean completed interviews with a list of outstanding candidates on June 15.

Forty-five students graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy on June 7. There was an audience for the Pharmacy Convocation at 4:00 p.m. which overflowed from the Assembly Room into lecture room 103 which was equipped with a loud speaker system. The Convocation was followed by a picnic supper served in the Student Center.

The Pharmacy Convocation, picnic supper, and Commencement exercises were attended by Mr. Robert Lee Hamilton of Oxford who is now the oldest living alumnus of the University of North Carolina. He was born on December 29, 1868 and enjoys excellent health. He spoke briefly on the practice of pharmacy at the turn of the century. He studied pharmacy at the University of North Carolina from 1899 to 1900 and passed the board examination that year. He was brought to the exercises by J. B. Clay, '59, of Oxford who was accompanied by his fiancée, Virginia Blackwood.

Ronald Lathan Hargis, graduating student from Burlington, received the Rexall Award consisting of a mounted replica of an antique mortar and pestle for high achievement in pharmacy administration.

The Chapel Hill Pharmaceutical Auxiliary was represented by Mesdames J. L. Sutton, W. L. Sloan, and E. D. Sumner on May 29 to present a handsome Alvin Sterling Silver Bowl to the memory of Mary Ramsay Brecht. It was accepted for the school with heartfelt appreciation by Dean E. A. Brecht.

Dean Brecht was surprised on June 1 at a dinner at the Angus Barn by the presentation of the Encyclopaedia Britannica by members of the faculty: Professors Chambers, Jowdy, Kellett, Brannon, Wier, Taylor, Shaw, and Cocolas.

The secretaries of the school Barbara Cameron, Betsy Ellis, and JoEllen Carroll with their husbands honored "the dean" with a patio dinner at the home of the Camerons and a presentation of golf shirts on June 12.

Dr. Margaret A. Shaw, Assistant Professor of Pharmacy and teacher of pharmaceutical calculations and dispensing was honored by the faculty with a picnic dinner at the home of the Jowdys on June 6. Best wishes for continued happiness and success were extended to her in the new position at the College of Pharmacy of Butler University, Indianapolis.

The North Carolina Board of Pharmacy held its semi-annual practical examination at Beard Hall on June 15.

Three pharmacy students Clark Doggett, Summerfield; Steve Kennedy, Shelby; and Larry Kiziah, Hickory are engaged in full-time research through the summer under the direction of Professors Kellett and Cocolas on grants supported by the National Science Foundation and North Carolina Pharmaceutical Research Foundation.

Dr. Jack K. Wier, Assistant Professor of Pharmacognosy attended the annual meeting of the American Society of Pharmacognosy at Kingston, Rhode Island during the week of June 13.

Professors George H. Cocolas, Claude Piantadosi, and Fred T. Semeniuk attended the Pharmacy Teachers' Seminar in Pharmaceutical Chemistry at Toronto, Canada during the week of June 20.

A Gas Chromatograph valued at $4,000 and received as a grant from the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Research Foundation is now being used in the new Control Laboratory by Professors Cocolas and Kellett. The chromatograph enables qualitative and quantitative analysis of mixtures using samples as small as 1/1000 of a milliliter. This equipment has matching value for the grant of $14,400 from the National Science Foundation for undergraduate teaching.

These notes will be the last to be written by Dean Brecht. It's like the party being over, "don't think it hasn't been fun," for fifteen years.

The APhA Public Education Awards

(Sponsored by Pfizer Laboratories)

One of the Highest Awards in Pharmacy

Each year the American Pharmaceutical Association recognizes the individual pharmacist and organization whose public education programs are judged most effective in demonstrating the direct relationship between the pharmacist and better community health.

The awards consist of a cash prize of $500, a trophy, and an expense-paid trip to the annual meeting of the association where the presentation is made.

All of the 1964 entrants received a certificate of merit in appreciation for their efforts.

The APhA Public Education Awards competition, sponsored annually by Pfizer Laboratories, recognizes the best individual and organizational efforts to tell pharmacy's story to the public.

A brochure outlining the rules for prospective entrants in 1965 is available on request from: American Pharmaceutical Association, Division of Services, 2215 Constitution Ave., N.W., Washington, D. C. 20037.

WINNERS OF THE 1964 COMPETITION

Individual Award:

Jack W. Anderson, Pharmacist, Reynolds Memorial Hospital, Glendale, West Virginia. Mr. Anderson's winning entry described his many community education activities. He directed his efforts to the juvenile delinquency problem and illegal use of narcotics and stimulants, community education in first aid, evacuation procedure, fire prevention and control, and a special clinic offering free electrocardiograms.

Mr. Anderson with the trophy and (left to right) J. Harris Fleming, Director of Trade Relations, Pfizer Laboratories, and J. Curtis Nottingham, President of the APhA.

Organization Award:

Michigan State Pharmaceutical Association. The entry of the MSPA emphasized this group's varied activities in poison control and public relations supporting National Poison Prevention Week. Program innovations included the newly designed poison label (striking snake) that has attracted international attention. The labels (see illustration) are available from the APhA.

Sam Brock, Sales Manager, Pfizer Laboratories; Robert C. Johnson, Executive Secretary, Michigan State Pharm. Assn.; J. Harris Fleming, Director of Trade Relations, Pfizer Laboratories; J. Curtis Nottingham, President of the APhA.

Chairman of the panel of judges for the 1964 Public Education Awards competition was Robert G. Gibbs, Executive Secretary of the Iowa Pharmaceutical Association. Serving with Mr. Gibbs on the judging committee were: Ovid R. Davis, Staff Vice President, Coca-Cola Company, Atlanta, Georgia, and President of the Public Relations Society of America; Leland R. Rosemond, N. W. Ayer & Son, Inc., Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Frank Pinchak, Pharmacist and Public Relations Counsel, Paterson, New Jersey; and John Shostak, Pharmacist, Norwalk, Connecticut.

Marriages

James Baker Clay and Miss Virginia Blackwood, both of Oxford, were married June 20th at Raleigh. Mr. Clay, 1959 graduate of the UNC School of Pharmacy, is with Hall's Drug Store of Oxford, and Mrs. Hall is a member of the music faculty of Oxford Orphanage.

Miss Brenda Carolyn Ferree and Jerome Karl Johnson, both of Raleigh, were married June 26th. Mr. Johnson, a 1959 graduate of UNC School of Pharmacy, is with Melvin's Pharmacy in Raleigh. Mrs.

Johnson is employed by the North Carolina Hospital Association.

June 26th was also the wedding date of Charles Farris Himes of Brevard and Miss Susan Diane Conway of Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Himes, member of the 1961 class of UNC School of Pharmacy, has just returned to the United States after three years in the U. S. Army. He is with Morris Pharmacy of Brevard. Mrs. Himes holds a B.S. degree in nursing from Ohio State University.

Sandra Ann Wood of Graham was married June 6th at First Baptist Church of Greensboro to Charles Ralph Smith. Mrs. Smith, 1964 graduate of UNC School of Pharmacy, is with Edmonds Summit Center Drug of Greensboro. Mr. Smith is with Varina Builders Supply Co.

Deaths

T. E. FUSSELL

Thomas Edmund Fussell, 62, Hamlet pharmacist, died June 8 from a heart attack. He had been hospitalized for some time.

A native of Rose Hill and the owner/manager of a pharmacy in that town for a number of years, he moved to Hamlet in 1957 and at the time of his death was a partner with Tommy Smart in the operation of Mabry Drug Company.

Survivors include a daughter and three sons. Mrs. Fussell died in 1963.

E. V. WOODARD

E. V. Woodard, 79, Selma pharmacist, died June 11 following an illness of several weeks.

Licensed as a pharmacist in 1914, Mr. Woodard for some years operated a pharmacy in Selma. In recent years, after selling the pharmacy, he had served as a relief pharmacist.

Survivors include the widow and three children.

Lilly's Warren Lansdowne Retiring

J. Warren Lansdowne, nationally known authority on retail drug economics and former president of the American Pharmaceutical Association, is retiring as manager of trade relations for Eli Lilly and Company.

Lansdowne's thirty-year Lilly career corresponded with the period of the pharmaceutical profession's greatest growth. As an active leader in the profession, Lansdowne made important contributions to this growth. Recognized by pharmacists throughout the country as an expert on pharmacy operations, he appeared as guest speaker at meetings and conventions of pharmaceutical associations in almost every state of the United States and in most of the provinces of Canada. He also participated in college founder's day observances and served as speaker at college honor programs.

As manager of Lilly trade relations, Lansdowne served as editor of Tile and Till and assistant editor of the Lilly Digest—both popular professional publications written for the benefit of retail pharmacists. He also directed a special Lilly drug store analysis service, made available to retail pharmacists in the interest of promoting professional pharmacy.

A native of Missouri, Lansdowne was introduced to pharmacy early in life. As a schoolboy he began a clerkship in a drug store in Appleton, Missouri, owned by his father, the late W. A. Lansdowne. Graduating from Appleton City High School in 1921, he then undertook pharmacy training, earning a degree from the St. Louis College of Pharmacy in 1924. In 1957 Lansdowne was named to the college's board of trustees and in 1961 was the recipient of this institution's annual alumni award.

Registered as a pharmacist in Missouri and Arkansas, Lansdowne joined Eli Lilly and Company in 1935 as a salesman in Kansas City, Missouri, after almost nine years as a pharmacist and retail pharmacy owner. In 1944 he was transferred to Lilly headquarters in Indianapolis as assistant manager of the trade relations department and was named manager in 1953.

In 1961-62 Lansdowne served as president of the American Pharmaceutical Association. He is one of the few drug industry members to have held the top office of this organization of pharmacists and pharmacy students in its 112-year history. Active in the A.Ph.A. since 1947, he also served the organization in numerous other capacities, including chairman of the House of Delegates, 1959-61, and first vice-president, 1958-59.

Lansdowne is an associate member of the American Society of Hospital Pharmacists and is a member and honorary president of the Indiana Pharmaceutical Association. In 1959 he was named an honorary member of Kappa Psi, professional pharmacy fraternity, in recognition of his "outstanding contributions to the field of pharmacy."

Lansdowne resides at 6360 Around the Hills Road in Indianapolis.

50 Years for Mr. Price

An interesting character sketch, highlighting the career of Pharmacist Sam Price of Mooresville, appeared in the June 24 edition of the Mooresville Tribune.

The occasion was Mr. Price's 50th anniversary in Pharmacy, the exact starting date being June 14, 1915 with the Sheppard Drug Company of Charlotte.

After graduation from the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy in 1919, Mr. Price returned to Sheppard Drug Company. He bought a half-interest in the Miller Drug Company, Mooresville, in 1921, and assumed complete control of the business in 1930. Today, the pharmacy is operated by Mr. Price and his son, Sam, Jr., also a pharmacist.

Mr. Price rates Insulin as the top achievement in the advance of medical science since he started in Pharmacy 50 years ago.

Morrison's in New Home

Morrison's Drug Store, owned and operated by Brame P. Morrison, has moved into its new quarters in the Walston Shopping Center, Wilson.

The pharmacy was founded in 1902 by R. A. Turlington under the name—Sanitary Pharmacy. In 1912, Mr. Morrison's father, M. S. Morrison, entered into a partnership with Turlington and the name of the pharmacy was changed to Turlington and Morrison Pharmacy.

Since 1940 the pharmacy has operated under its present name. The present owner/operator became associated with the pharmacy in 1936.

Returns from Malaya

Lt. James J. Horn has returned home (Route 1, Lawndale, N. C.) following military service at the Institute of Medical Research, Kuala Lumpur, Malaya.

To Serve on Budget Commission

Edward W. O'Herron, president of Eckerd Drugs, Inc., has been appointed to serve as a member of the North Carolina Advisory Budget Commission by Gov. Dan Moore.

Clark Presented Plaque

Hugh Clark, former president of the Wayne County Pharmaceutical Society, Goldsboro, is the recipient of a mortar & pestle plaque.

The plaque was presented to Mr. Clark by members of the Society in appreciation for his services as head of the organization.

Accepts Position in Smithfield

Mrs. Shirley Paull of Clinton has been employed by Creech's Pharmacy, Smithfield, where she will assist Pharmacist James L. Creech.

McAllister and Whitten Named to APhA-ASHP Commission

Harmon C. McAllister, Secretary-Treasurer of the North Carolina Board of Pharmacy, has been appointed Chairman of the Commission on Pharmaceutical Services to Ambulant Patients by Hospitals and Related Facilities. He succeeds Grover C. Bowles, who resigned from the Commission when he assumed the office of APhA President. McAllister is a past Chairman of the APhA House of Delegates and a past president of the National Association of Boards of Pharmacy.

Also named to the Commission is William R. Whitten, practicing pharmacist of Fort Worth, Texas, and Chairman of the APhA House of Delegates. He succeeds Robert Abrams, who resigned following acceptance of a position in industry. Whitten is President of Gibson and Whitten Pharmacies, a firm of five community pharmacies in Fort Worth.

The Commission on Pharmaceutical Services to Ambulant Patients by Hospitals and Related Facilities was formed in May 1964 and includes representatives from medicine and hospital administration, as well as pharmacy. Representing the American Hospital Association on the Commission are Charles S. Paxson, Jr., of Philadelphia, and Ray E. Brown of Durham, N. C. Representing the American Medical Association are Charles Edwards, M.D., of Chicago, and Walter J. Zeiter, M.D., of Cleveland. Pharmacy representatives besides Chairman McAllister and Mr. Whitten are Robert G. Gibbs of Des Moines, Kenneth S. Griswold of Albany, Clifton J. Latiolais of Columbus, and Philip Sacks of Chicago.

Research Consultant to the Commission is Dr. Donald C. Brodie, who was appointed on February 1, 1965. Dr. Brodie is on sabbatical leave from his post as Professor of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Chemistry in the School of Pharmacy and Director of Pharmaceutical Services at the University of California Medical Center, San Francisco. APhA Executive Director William S. Apple and ASHP Executive Secretary Joseph A. Oddis serve as the Secretariat.

The APhA-ASHP Commission has held two meetings since its formation and has scheduled separate meetings of representatives of its component professions. A meeting of hospital administration representatives was held on June 7.

Tice, Five Others, Elected APhA Officers by Mail Ballot

Linwood F. Tice, educator-pharmacist of Philadelphia, has been elected 1966-67 President of the American Pharmaceutical Association by mail ballot of the members.

Dean Tice of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science will be installed in office with the other five elected officers on April 29, 1966, at the close of the APhA annual meeting in Dallas. Present officers will continue to serve until that time.

Elected to the position of First Vice President was Robert G. Gibbs of Des Moines. Benjamin J. Kingwell of Monrovia, California was elected Second Vice President.

The following were elected to 1966-69 terms on the APhA Council: William B. Hennessy of Detroit, Richard G. Henry of Madison, Wisconsin, and John H. Neumann of Aurora, Illinois.

Approved by the Active members voting was an amendment adding the words "the Academies" to the APhP Constitution.

The officers-elect were announced today, July 9, by the Board of Canvassers meeting at APhA Headquarters following a vote tabulation by electronic data processing.

Other candidates for the offices had been:

President: Lee E. Eiler of Dayton, Ohio; First Vice President: George D. Denmark of Pocasset, Massachusetts; Second Vice President: George S. Inman of Greenville, South Carolina; Council: Thomas H. Holland of Danville, Virginia, B. Samuel Rogers of Jacksonville, Florida, and Merritt L. Skinner of Plymouth, Indiana.

Present officers who will serve through the 1966 annual meeting are President Grover C. Bowles, First Vice President Mike Harris, and Second Vice President Mare F. Laventurier.

Dean Tice is now serving his second elected term on the APhA Council and is Immediate Past Chairman of the House of Delegates. He has served as President of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy and is a member of the Board of Trustees of the United States Pharmacopeia, the Revision Committee of which he served upon for two terms. He is Vice President of the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education and served for a term as a Director of the American Foundation for Pharmaceutical Education. In 1963, he received the APhA Foundation Research Achievement Award in the Advancement of Pharmacy.

A. N. Martin, Paul Bisette, Bill Gurley, J. C. Jackson, E. C. Daniel and a host of others, perennial delegates, pacing themselves in unhurriedly exchanging ideas as they sat in the lobby, waiting for the next programmed event.

The stage presence of Ed Fuller as he conducted the installation of the new officers in an impressive ceremonial rite, concise and to the point, all the imaginings of cadenced tom-toms and rolling drums visualized if not physically in evidence. . . . Stately Edith Myers, with regal demeanor and friendly smile, "the goddess indubitable was revealed in her step." (Virgil translated.) . . . Chapeaux, Chapeaux, Chapeaux! Styles two years ahead of Hetty Green's daring creations. The little toque is passee, the sailor brims relegated to the missionary barrel; now the high sweeping Cossack style is all the rage. Why not? They seem to do something for the wearer, something like making a lovely woman a little more lovely, giving her that sublime aplomb, that inimitable je ne sais quoi that causes mere man to baste her bidding, to rush pell mell to open a door, to turn her music page, to scale a chasm wall to pluck a flower to lay at her feet. There's nothing like a special luncheon to bring out enough lovely frocks and becoming hats to stock a Fifth Avenue shop.

Mine host Homer Starling. "You may go to Charlotte and Asheville too; And I'll give you my head if you find such a host, For coffee, tea, chocolate, butter, and toast; How he welcomes at once all the world and his wife, And how civil to folk he ne'er saw in his life." (Anstey—and Harrison). . . . The transformed Washington Duke, now the Jack Tar Durham, striving and almost attaining the frozen music of a new architecture. . . . The long committee meeting of delegates, half smokers and half non-smokers, filling the aid with foggy clouds of spirally tendrilly wisps of smoke, each could hold an intrigue, but did not—there was no room, no inclination for such. . . . In evidence once again was the pale ethereal beauty of the little Allen matron of sparkling eyes, relishing her office like a Mary holding her chalice. . . . Dave Pettigrew, he talked like nobody I had ever heard before. Extraordinary verve once I started to listen, I was at his mercy, tasting his words like champagne, enjoying every word. A teacher and a preacher, with a force to build up after removing the rubbish of the shoddy. To rip our old staid notions wide open and remoulding them anew with a reseeded of ideas to bring forth a plenitude of luscious fruit ripe for the picking.

A flying visit by Roger Sloop, enough time to make the rounds of the greens and win a golf prize. . . . Cliff Daniel, Jr., making us feel better by imbuing us with optimism over the world situation. . . . And Cliff Daniel pater feeling one with Willie Wolfe, revelling in like glories in a term of office now gone into history. . . . Dave McGowan, a gentleman unafraid of the pseudo terrors of a colistimethate when he has a cephalothin just as he has no dread of the fate of pharmacy when he can marshall a host of stalwarts to carry on its principles. . . . W. T. Boone's glowing tribute to Alice Noble when he took office as he avowed her credit for encouraging him during his student days during one of his periods of despondency. . . . The record-breaking Eighty-fifth meeting of the Time and Place Committee when they chose Winston-Salem for the 1967 Convention with a time to be set after conferences with convention bureaus and references to calendars, almanacs and weather data.

And Sarah, Ah Sarah! Her smile as mysterious as moonbeams rippling into space; one of my perennial favorites who seems never to lose her zest for all the pleasure the programs hold; more and more every year she seems to be the icon-image of Hilda's kin. . . . Ed Brecht, breasting with firm strokes a passage through emotional water patches. One need not be fey to sense his tremulous, impassioned thoughts took root in his heart and blossomed in his soul. . . . Wonder how Albert Suttle, Hoy Moose and Roger McDuffie felt when Margie Walker singled them out as spectacles for a Roman holiday? You either go along with the gag or put your dignity up for sale. Roger probably thought that if he started worrying about five minutes of limelight once a year he might as well get packed up for the laughing academy.

You are either for or against a question. Moving to ask the membership to request the Board of Pharmacy to rescind the regulation requiring three months of the internship after graduation seemed at first blush innocuous enough, and its successful passage after a close vote was a victory for its proponents. May it not prove a Pyrrhic victory. The point is: who is bound by a request and who is left unfettered? The intriguing aspect of the entire maneuver seemed to be that a master arranged a caucus and by an extraordinary histrionic ability swayed his cohorts to a militant voice. In the parlance of the closed-door room, the bite was on and that's the royal kiss of sweet good-bye. "I disapprove of what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it." (Attributed to Voltaire.)

Willie Wolfe, presiding with an air of Olympian detachment; mostly holding the reins loosely, allowing a steady gait for the program to move to its presaged conclusion, timed almost to the minute. . . . The Carolina Glee Club, climbing notes like climbing stairs, notes breaking loose, reiterating notes, notes coming due at the climax. . . . Jesse Pike, his own achievements make his own phalanstery. Little men bowling in his stomach as he accepted the Bowl of Hygeia Award; his cup running over with the one such moment in life. That was his. Never approached before; never to be reached again. . . . Richard Velz, a natural PR man, getting publicity from hard-boiled members of the Fourth Estate. "There still has been the father of good news." (Hamlet). . . . Jane Wagner, receiving her trophy like a young angel in Paradise who is privileged to show visitors around.

Artemus Ward, with his new bride, climbing life's beanstalk into another world. . . . Paul Bisette, with a bearing like a man taking life by the collar and making it his. . . . Bill Gurley, seizing an afternoon to get to Duke Hospital for a treatment. He returned with a report of progress in his regimen of treatment. . . . Jim Donahue, subbing for Richard Mannis of Audatrex, rendered a paper in quiet dignity, all the more impressive because he promulgated a theory of such sheer simplicity the wonder is that it has not before been embraced as it must be. . . . It seemed every time I looked up there was Bob Hall or John Miteheuer either holding forth on a topic of interest or going through the pangs of creating a topic of interest. "Men that hazard all do it in hope of fair advantages: A golden mind stoops not to shows of dross." (Shakespeare.)

Ralph Smith, the redeeming feature of the concluding show; he played so many instruments I wondered how they would have sounded in simultaneous unison; probably like a bag full of tin cans and shrapnel poured into a barrel of oil and given a shake. . . . Nita Wilkerson in her baton symphony, retrieving an error like Pepper Martin stopping a hot grounder with his chest and still throwing out the runner at first. . . . The new members of the Academy of Pharmacy, some of them so active one wonders how they find time to make a living. They belong to everything from "The Sons and Daughters of I Will Arise" to the Civil War Round Table or the Glass Blowers Union. The river of the soul is made up of many streams. . . . Mickey Watts getting a merited award for going all out in his Poison Prevention Week endeavors. He kept a diary of his activities that might well have been labeled "Positive Proof Pages from a Poisoning Preventer's Preachments."

George McLarty, thinking he must sit on a great big book to bring himself level with the dinner table to eat with the grown-ups. Well, he'll get out of that. Sometimes the grown-ups get in trouble and the kid strides in with twenty-foot steps bigger than the whole family put together. Not too many miles away is li'l ole Seth measuring up to prior predictions. . . . John Mills, Father John, with the gentleness of consenting to the good but with the idealism to rebel at the evil. He has been a mentor to many, writing his creed, not on the sands for some vagrant wave to wash away, but in letters of fire across the sky. . . . The skeptic who questioned everything before he gave his mind a chance to understand it, as tenacious as a bull dog guarding a pram full of babies; no discernible chip on his shoulder, but scars of disillusionment suspected. Voltaire's creed again.

The sensation of slipping through a nether sphere as the craft made a perfect landing, moths flitting hither and yon in a Bonine coated stomach, sandpaper across the nerve centers, feeling as solid as quicksand and as reliable as tomorrow's weather; if that is euphoria, I had rather have theine. . . . The subdued delegate; who knows the why of this complex. But no need to feel like an associate member of life and not an active one. . . . The knight of the detail bag who had such a bandying way with the waitresses they gave him priority on the chef's cuisine; and his contrast: also bucking for the big leagues but good field, no hit. . . . MAA, like unto a jumble of multitudinous commandments or an anachronistic system of "Don'ts" in a collection of ambiguous jargon—until Russell Chambers gave it the clarity of the Bible and unraveled its elusive significance. McAllister beat me by an eyelash with his motion.

Amazed watching of an enormous platter of food disappearing by the forkful into a hungry inner man while in juxtaposition lay a meager platter hardly touched. Eupeptic man. "Nothing to do but work, Nothing to eat but food." (King). . . . Envyng Tom Ham his aptitude for terseness and conciseness when displeasure at my own garrulous verbosity makes a state of my feelings. Could be some sort of compulsion, for after all a two hour tragedy is more easily accomplished than a twenty minute comedy. . . . The daughters of Mrs. Hayes, still ignescent with beams of flashing personality, and comely still in matronly elfishness. . . . Floyd Goodrich with the same old yearning to jump the barricades and plant the banner of the TMA on younder hill.

All the rapt listeners to the talented speakers on a full program crammed with some of the industry's elite. It is something to say that I can't think of a single member who would not subscribe to the feeling that never was so much given to so many for so little. It could not wholly be an attitude of Serva me, servabo te, or "scratch my back and I'll scratch yours" for any cynicism I have does not include the belief our sheepfold contains any that would not blend with snow. There is an answer to everything. There is always someone to ask the questions, and there is always a man to give the answers, and WJ will find the answer man and bring to blend his emanations and your perception.

Claude Paoloni and Jim Mitchener giving this writer a condensed 7-minute course in hospital pharmacy, further whetting his quondam fascination with this intriguing practice. "And pity never ceases to be shown." (Dryden). . . . Dave Pettigrew's compliment to Mrs. Markham; no brashness and no bashfulness in his voice, presenting it to her as a posy, as a courtier would hand royalty good tidings. . . . Bill Wells wearing a benignant dignity like a nosegay in a buttonhole, accepting an accolade for a job well done. . . . C. H. Smith, his bearing schooled in all the courtly serenities. . . . The delegate who reached all the way to Raleigh to scratch his head, hearing a spider stamping across a web. . . . The prevalent exultation at getting the luxury tax repealed, feeling the satisfaction that comes from banding together to get an injustice licked. . . . the delegate whose frank admiration for a would-be innamorata was as secret as garlic in a stew.

A quarter of a century is a long time or a short time, depending on how it is spent. Time, matter, space, and energy are all interchangeable aspects of a cosmic entity. How it is spent and under what conditions the expenditure makes the duration relative. How W. J. and Vivian Smith have used this twenty-five years stands out like a sprig of heather on a windy heath. Every waking minute of it has been used to nurture the Association until today it is ranked with the topflight organizations of the nation. Even though at times it has seemed a long hard pull, the time has literally flown by on joy laden wings simply because, to them, it has been a labor of love and, to us, has accrued to more benefits than there are beads in a rosary. How utterly fitting then that 400 pharmacists, pharmacy organizations, auxiliaries, wholesalers and manufacturers showed, in some measure, their regard and appreciation to the Smiths by gathering in a cash fund and presenting it at the first session meeting in a somewhat touching ceremony. And this dedicated pair run true to form when they repeat what they have many times before said: "What makes this job so interesting and rewarding is that we have opportunity of working with so many good folks."

Mayor Grabarek's welcome set us off as honored guests even though the line of demarcation between regarding us as transients and bidding for us as immigrants skirted a thin thread. Mayor Mitchener cuts his arrows of different wood. And both mayors had won recent elections. . . . President Wolfe's report recounted a fruitful year with promise of better to come. "Always to be best, and distinguished above the rest." (Translated from Homer). . . . Wondering what became of Floyd Potter who once was wont to be among the first to arrive and the last to leave. And the delegate who was prone to come alone, then about lunch time Monday call for his wife who would then drive halfway across the state to join him ere nightfall.

Paul Tart, still as placid as a somnolent owl in its daytime aerie. . . . Phil Link, immersing himself in the noumena of the coffee hour and the chit chat of isolated groups, later to perhaps weave his impressions into adjuncts of story plots. Any conversation with Phil is almost certain to be thought provoking, sprightly, scintillant, discursive and erudite. . . . The Pharmaceutical Center, dream of many, yearned for like a child visions sugar plums almost within grasp then later pines for an afternoon in the park with a comely lass, this later giving way to a set purposeful desire that maturity can bring to fruition. The lamp is rubbed, the dream born; if the desire be keen enough the dream comes true. . . . Russell Chambers, with the patience of a Javert as he answered questions and sometimes, creditably without guile, endeavored to parry one. . . . Gary Cornwell and his Pepsodent Scholarship, another of the fine material for future pharmacists. We have so many of these youngsters in the state, to choose one requires a responsibility somewhat awesome in its seriousness. . . . The nominating committee naming a good slate of officers. The end desired is such a ticket that if a tried and true incumbent fails to win, affairs would still be in good hands.

For Charles Porter of Concord honors came in pairs. He had just been elevated to chairman of the board of a Concord bank then attended the Convention where he received his 50-plus pin. Double congratulations are a bit rare in the workaday world. With him and Jesse Pike Concord newspapers could have a field day. . . . Staging a Convention requires an enormous amount of work; one of the workers was so busy he forgot to wind his watch, but he took it all in stride with the philosophy that caused him to exclaim: "Well, at least I was right at least twice today." It is best to pace ones self, then one doesn't feel as if he had been driven hard without oil. . . . Remembering those who had passed on during the year, some of them legendary, all of them having moved with slow patience toward the infinite. . . . Charlie Andrews, his very own self always assembled in a form of inner law and order. More than likely the same person who keeps the records straight also covers the canary at night and turns off the porch light.

If you are still with this, you are either a glutton for punishment or hoping it will be a lullaby. "Pensive poets painful vigils keep, Sleepless themselves to give their readers sleep." (Pope). The only excuse I have is that words get their definitions more from the sentiments of the people who use them than from any lexicon. The contact with you in Durham was all pleasant even if I have not said it with the morphemes of any language. And do come up to Asheville next year, even if you have to charter a bus or hitch hike.

LOW TURNOVER

what direction, mr. pharmacist?

New proprietors of pharmacies usually become financially solvent within a short period of time. This can be attributed to professional competence, the practice of sound business principles, and the wisdom of purchasing from the service wholesaler, which provides an opportunity for a higher turnover of merchandise.

In contrast, after "burning the mortgage," the entrepreneur frequently succumbs to the story that he can make more profit by buying direct. The results are often excessive merchandise, unbalanced stock, and a low turnover rate.

If this has happened to you, eradicate from your mind the myth that direct buying automatically yields an increase in profit. Take advantage of our complete services, which can provide you with a higher turnover rate and more personal income. Your orders are filled promptly and delivered quickly.

Why Customers Leave Downtown Business Areas For Shopping Centers

A nationally known architect and city planner lists these reasons why customers leave downtown businesses for shopping centers:

1. He can't get into it.
2. He can't get out of it.
3. He can't get around in it.
4. He finds public transportation uncomfortable and distasteful, and he can't use his car because he can't find a parking space.
5. The values he receives downtown, compared with those he can get in suburbia, become less attractive as far as shopping, movies, conveniences, amenities and beauty are concerned.
6. The sacrifices he has to make in time and nervous energy become constantly greater. And, finally—
7. The city is a downright dangerous place to live in or to move around in.

Some towns and cities are solving the problem—Durham, for instance. In the last two years, hundreds of parking spaces adjacent to the main business session of Durham have been opened.

A convenient approach to the major business street by way of an attractive mall with flowers and a fountain has been provided. In other nearby areas, unsightly structures have been removed and replaced with trees and shrubs plus additional parking spaces. A garden-type fountain greets the visitor to Durham's Five Points.

Shopping Centers, formerly limited to our larger cities, are now spreading to the smaller towns of the state. And the trend is expected to continue.

While pharmacists are not city planners, those of you with downtown operations will not want to remain on the sidelines while your customers drift away. You can urge your city board or council or mayor to establish a Business Improvement Committee or similar group. And, more importantly, offer your services as a working member of the committee.

The Carolina Journal of Pharmacy is published monthly by the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association, Box 151, Chapel Hill, N. C. Subscription rate: $3.00 a year; single copy, 25 cents. Second Class postage paid at Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

One County's Welfare Rx Cost

According to a news item appearing in the Chowan (Edenton, N. C.) Herald, an increasing number of people are receiving medication in the area, under provisions of the Welfare Rx Program.

The total in June was 88. Cost of the drugs was $676.15. Of this total, the county paid $39.65 with the remaining coming from the state and federal funds.

During the same period twelve persons were hospitalized at a total cost of $1421.75. The county paid $100 of this amount.

Savings and Loan Company Honors E. C. Daniel

In recognition of his distinguished services to pharmacy and to his community, Elbert Clifton Daniel of Zebulon has been presented a plaque and certificate by the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Zebulon.

Mr. Daniel has served as chairman of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association since the loan company was established in Zebulon in 1960.

The citation read, in part: "Under his influence the success of this branch has become an acknowledged fact. This is an illustration of his dedication to his community and friends. The effort on his part is without thought of direct personal gain, and is simply in the interest of his fellow citizens and pride in his community."

Johnson, Lilly MSR, Retires

Warren L. Johnson, a salesman for Eli Lilly and Company in Mount Airy, North Carolina, has chosen early retirement July 30, completing a twenty-five-year career with the pharmaceutical firm.

A native of Moneta, Virginia, Johnson was graduated from Bedford High School in 1925 and earned a degree in pharmacy from the Medical College of Virginia in 1928.

A registered pharmacist in Virginia, Johnson joined Eli Lilly and Company as a salesman in Mount Airy in 1940 after twelve years' experience as a retail pharmacist for Garland and Pitts Pharmacy in Roanoke. He subsequently handled territories in Greensboro, North Carolina, and Martinsville, Virginia. In 1949 he returned to the Mount Airy assignment.

Johnson resides at 1065 North Main Street in Mount Airy.

Eckerd Announces Sales Increase

Eckerd Drugs, Inc., Charlotte, North Carolina based drug chain announced August 7 that sales for the 13-week period ending July 3, 1965 were $7,185,872 compared to $6,380,781 for the 13-week period ending June 27, 1964.

E. M. O'Herron, Jr., President, announced that there will be in operation prior to the end of the next fiscal quarter ending October 2, 1965, four new stores located in Charlotte, Gastonia and High Point, North Carolina and Florence, South Carolina. The High Point, North Carolina store is replacing a smaller downtown unit.

Cover Page

When the "Pharmacist of the Year" program was inaugurated in 1948, the award was an antique mortar & pestle. Later, the NCPHA switched to a modern-day mortar & pestle when the antique type disappeared from the market.

In recent years, the Association has used a half mortar & pestle mounted on a plaque.

Our cover this month shows the newly designed (by Blair Specialties of Newton, Mass.) award, which, beginning in 1965, is expected to be used on an annual basis by the Association.

Blanton—NCPHA President-Elect

Charles D. Blanton, Jr. of Kings Mountain has been elected president of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association for 1966-67 and will be installed at the association's annual convention scheduled for Asheville, June 12-14, 1966.

Other officers-elect, who were chosen in mail balloting which has been underway for the past 30 days, are S. D. Griffin, Jr. of Burlington, first vice president; James L. Creech of Smithfield, second vice president; Earl H. Tate of Lenoir, third vice president; and W. T. Boone, currently serving as president of the pharmaceutical association, member of the executive committee for a 3-year term.

W. J. Smith of Chapel Hill continues as executive secretary and managing editor of THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY.

Harold V. Day of Spruce Pine will be recommended by the association for appointment to succeed himself as a member of the State Board of Pharmacy.

Wade A. Gilliam of Winston-Salem, Jesse M. Pike of Concord, W. Dorsey Welch, Jr. of Washington, and W. Latham West of Roseboro were elected directors of the N. C. Pharmaceutical Research Foundation.

President-Elect Blanton is a graduate of the School of Pharmacy, University of North Carolina, and a partner in the operation of the Kings Mountain Drug Company.

He is a past president of the Kings Mountain Merchants Association and Chamber of Commerce. In 1960 the Kings Mountain Jaycees awarded Mr. Blanton their Distinguished Service Award and two years later he was featured in the Saturday Evening Post as one of the nation's leading young pharmacists.

President-Elect Blanton's father served as president of the NCPHA in 1957-'58. He established the pharmacy which his son is now co-owner.

Mrs. Charles Blanton is president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the NCPHA. She will conclude her term of office the day her husband is installed as head of the NCPHA.

The Blantons have three children: two daughters, Donna 8, and Becky 7, and a son, Whitney, 1.

Results of the mail ballot election were tabulated and announced by a committee of pharmacists consisting of Mrs. June Bush West of Raleigh, chairman; Joe Barbour, Jr. of Burlington; W. Grover Creech of Selma; and Whitaker Moose of Mount Pleasant.

National Pharmaceutical Association Meets in Winston-Salem

Three faculty members from the UNC School of Pharmacy at Chapel Hill were guests speakers at the August 3-5 annual meeting of the National Pharmaceutical Association, held in Winston-Salem at the Hotel Robert E. Lee.

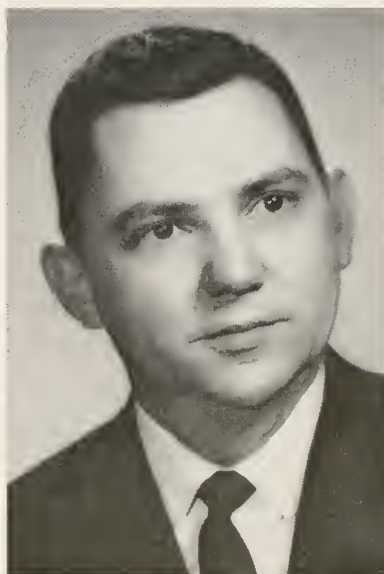

The speakers and their subjects were:

Dr. Edward A. Brecht—"What Future for Pharmacy"

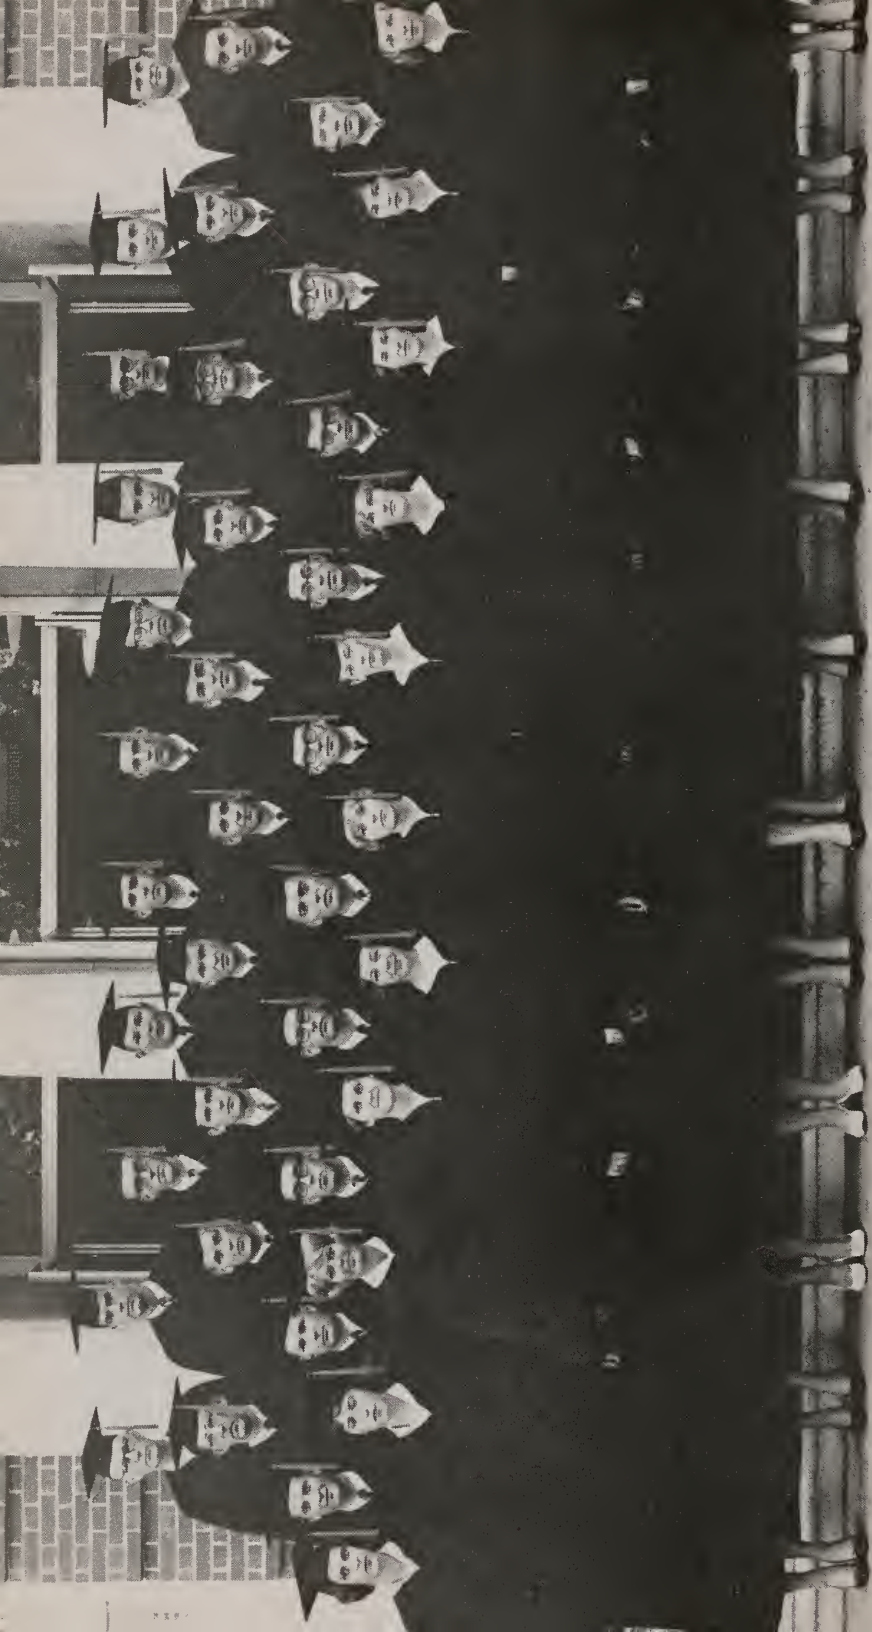

Dr. James C. Kellett—"Ferment in Pharmaceutical Education: The Changing Nature of the Basic Sciences"

Dr. A. W. Jowdy—"An Extended State Survey of Operations in Pharmacies"

Hosts to the convention were Mr. and Mrs. Rufus S. Hairston. Mr. Hairston is a former president of the National Pharmaceutical Association.

300 Pharmacists and Guests Attend Campbell Dinner

Almost three hundred people, from over the State and especially from the Piedmont area, gathered at Taylorsville on the evening of July 28 to honor Rowe B. Campbell, 1965 Pharmacist-of-the-Year. The community rallied around the Campbell family to make this an important event in the town. The school loaned its cafeteria in which the dinner was held; the Redbird Garden Club of which Mrs. Campbell is a member, decorated the tables; Mrs. A. J. Mays, hospital dietitian, planned the dinner and recruited the beautiful Taylorsville girls who served. Organ music was furnished by Mrs. H. T. Gryder.

W. T. Boone, NCPHA President, presided over the meeting, and at the conclusion of the program, presented the Mortar-and-Pestle Award to Mr. Campbell. The Reverend L. V. McPherson pronounced the invocation.

The speakers, Dr. Alexander S. Moffett, James B. Farthing, and Pharmacist Earl Tate of Lenoir were high in their praise of Mr. Campbell. One speaker said, "I do not believe there is a pharmacist in North Carolina who is more dedicated to his profession than Rowe Campbell. His ethical operation is an inspiration to all of us who would seek to enhance the public image of our profession . . ." Another said, "His life is perhaps best characterized by these traits: Service, Generosity, Thoughtfulness, A Deep Desire to Love and to be Loved; and Dedication to Work. . . ."

The physician said, in part, "We feel that Rowe Campbell has set a standard for the whole (health) team. First of all, he has set a standard of integrity and dependability . . . physicians especially appreciate the feeling of complete confidence they can have in a man who just doesn't make any mistakes in the drugs the patient gets . . . He has set a standard for us all in keeping up with the times. . . . Rowe Campbell seems to know about all the new drugs as fast as they come out and he is always ready to answer any question about them which the bewildered doctor might ask. . . ."

For the next qualification, I can think of no word better than humanity. Unfailing kindness and friendliness are qualities that we do not forget. . . ."

The occasion served also as a family reunion, for the three Campbell children and their families were present to see Mr. Campbell receive his award—and to hear his kind and humble response.

Tribute was paid also to Lewis Ferguson, who served as local chairman for the event.

Seven Award Winners Present at Dinner

Seven former "Pharmacists of the Year" were present at the July 28 ceremony in Taylorsville at which time Rowe B. Campbell became a member of the Mortar and Pestle Club of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association:

1952—Charles M. Andrews of Burington

1954—Kelly E. Bennett of Bryson City

1956—Wade A. Gilliam of Winston-Salem

New Dean of Pharmacy School Is Appointed at UNC—CH

Dr. George Philip Hager, 49-year-old dean of the University of Minnesota College of Pharmacy in Minneapolis, will become dean of the University of North Carolina School of Pharmacy early next year.

He will become the fourth dean of the UNC pharmacy school, succeeding Dr. Edward A. Brecht, Jr. who is returning to teaching and research here after 15 years as dean.

Dr. Hager, a native of Baltimore, Md., has been pharmacy dean at the University of Minnesota since 1957.

He is a former senior scientist with the pharmaceutical firm of Smith, Kline and French Laboratories and for three years after receiving his Ph.D. from the University of Maryland he was a research chemist with another pharmaceutical firm, Lilly Research Laboratories.

Dr. Hager was assistant professor and later professor and head of the Department of Chemistry at the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy from 1945 to 1955.

He received his bachelor's degree in pharmacy, his master's degree and his Ph.D. from the University of Maryland.

He currently is president of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy and is a member of the National Academy of Sciences, the American and Minnesota pharmaceutical associations, the U.S. Adopted Names Council, the Institute for the Advancement of Medical Communications, the Institute of Scientific Information and the American Chemical Society.

National Pharmacy Week to Be Observed October 3-9

The 41st observance of National Pharmacy Week has been scheduled for October 3-9 by the American Pharmaceutical Association. In promotional materials supporting the Week's activities, the APhA will stress the traditional theme—"This Week and Every Week Your Pharmacist Works for Better Community Health."

Window streamers stressing the Week's theme will be available upon request from the APhA Division of Pharmaceutical Services. The Association's Public Relations Service, available to pharmacists at $5 per year, will include special materials designed for National Pharmacy Week. Pharmacists subscribing now to this Service will receive this month an initial packet of materials designed for use at any time. Newspapers, journals, radio and TV stations will receive advance promotional material for National Pharmacy Week as part of the APhA's continuing program of public relations for the profession.

National Pharmacy Week activities for 1965 will not include a national window display contest. The APhA Public Relations Committee has urged that window display contests be continued in those states where there is sufficient interest.

APhA also will encourage participation by pharmacists in Community Health Week, November 7-13, sponsored by the American Medical Association with the cooperation of other national health groups. The Community Health Week kit, available from the AMA, will contain material on pharmacy prepared with the cooperation of the APhA.

Moore County Pharmaceutical Association Meets

Reported by Winston Burroughs, Secretary

Horace Flanigan, SKF Representative in the Fayetteville area, was guest speaker at the July 13 meeting of the Moore County Pharmaceutical Association.

The progress of man against mental disease was emphasized by Mr. Flanigan. He outlined the importance of the pharmacist's duty, as a member of the health team, in "aftercare."

Plans for a Ladies Night Program were discussed.

The meeting was held at St. Joseph Hospital, Southern Pines.

Durham-Orange

Dr. Edward A. Brecht, Professor of Pharmacy at the UNC School of Pharmacy, will head the Durham-Orange Pharmaceutical Association during the coming year. He was installed at a meeting of the DO Association in Durham on July 19.

Other incoming officers are James Arena, vice president, and Rue Gober, secretary-treasurer.

The Durham-Orange group, with a membership of 70, is one of the largest local pharmaceutical organizations in the state. Under the leadership of Ralph Rogers, Jr., the DO Association is closing out a most successful year.

Next meeting will be in September.

Serax[®]

OXAZEPAM, WYETH

NEW, rigorously proved, highly effective
anti-anxiety agent offering exceptional separation between effective dose
and side-effective dose.

For equivalent “anti-anxiety” response, pharmacology studies predict up to 42% less side-effect liability than with diazepam, 71% less side-effect liability than with chlordiazepoxide. Clinical studies in 4240 patients show a similar lower incidence of side effects with oxazepam.

Additional Advantages • Versatile and flexible control of common emotional disturbances: prompt action in disorders associated with anxiety (including anxiety-linked depression), tension, agitation and irritability • High index of safety • Little or no cumulative effect • Virtually no ataxia and minimal sedation • Economical

Dosage and Administration

Usual Dosage

Mild to moderate anxiety with associated tension, irritability, agitation or related symptoms of functional origin or secondary to organic disease	10-15 mg. 3 or 4 times daily
Severe anxiety syndromes, agitation or anxiety associated with depression	15-30 mg. 3 or 4 times daily
Older patients with anxiety, tension, irritability and agitation	Initially—10 mg. 3 times daily. If necessary, increase cautiously to 15 mg. 3 or 4 times daily
Alcoholics with acute inebriation, tremulousness or anxiety on withdrawal	15-30 mg. 3 or 4 times daily

Precautions: Hypotensive reactions are rare, but use with caution where complications could ensue from a fall in blood pressure, especially in the elderly. Carefully supervise dose and amounts prescribed, especially for patients prone to overdose themselves; excessive, prolonged use in susceptible patients (alcoholics, former addicts, etc.) may result in dependence or habituation. Reduce dosage gradually after prolonged excessive dosage to avoid possible epileptiform seizures. Caution patients against driving or operating machinery until absence of drowsiness or dizziness is ascertained. Warn patients of possible reduction in alcohol-tolerance. Safety for use in pregnancy has not been established. Not indicated in children under 6 years; absolute dosage for 6 to 12 year-olds not established.

Side Effects: Therapy-interrupting side effects are rare. Transient mild drowsiness is common initially; if persistent, reduce dosage. Dizziness, vertigo and headache have also occurred infrequently; syncope, rarely. Mild paradoxical reactions (excitement, stimulation of affect) have been reported in psychiatric patients. Minor diffuse rashes (morbilliform, urticarial and maculopapular), nausea, lethargy, edema, slurred speech, tremor and altered libido are rare and generally controllable by dosage reduction. Although leukopenia and hepatic dysfunction have been reported, direct correlation with SERAX therapy is uncertain (periodic blood counts and liver function tests are advised). Ataxia, reported rarely, does not appear related to dose or age.

These side reactions, noted with related compounds, are not yet reported: paradoxical excitation with severe rage reactions, hallucinations, menstrual irregularities, change in EEG pattern, blood dyscrasias (including agranulocytosis), blurred vision, diplopia, incontinence, stupor, disorientation, fever, euphoria and dysmetria.

Contraindications: Previous hypersensitivity to SERAX; psychotic states.

Pharmacists-Mayors Help to Build a Better North Carolina

Increasingly, pharmacists are devoting more time to public service in elective and appointive offices. His background of dealing with general problems which come his way largely because of his easy accessibility to the public makes the pharmacist a popular choice with voters.

The seven pharmacists pictured on this and the opposite page head their city government. There are others who have served in a similar capacity in the past. Earl H. Tate, now Caldwell County's representative in The General Assembly, was mayor of Lenoir for 24 years—a record for a pharmacist, we believe.

Hundreds of North Carolina pharmacists serve as members of boards-commissions-committees of an elective/appointive nature. Perhaps the most outstanding example are the pharmacists who serve on the county/district boards of health—there are about 75 serving in this capacity, starting with

S. G. Koonce of Chadbourn, a member of the State Board of Health.

The NCPHA is interested in compiling a complete record of pharmacists in public service. If you serve in an elective or appointive office, send the details to W. J. Smith, Box 151, Chapel Hill.

How Your Prescriptions Can Help Sell SUCARYL® SWEETENERS

Drug prescriptions can be an important source of new Sucaryl business for you.

For many prescriptions are like arrows pointing out potential Sucaryl customers. Consider the overweight lady who brings in a prescription for an anorectic. You know she's interested in calories and weight control.

Or take the middle-aged businessman who has you fill a prescription for a cardiovascular drug. Chances are very good that he should be watching his weight too. Tell him how Sucaryl gives the sweetness of sugar without the calories . . . and with no bitter aftertaste.

And, of course, every time you sell Insulin or one of the oral antidiabetics you have a potential sale for Sucaryl.

Mention Sucaryl when an appropriate prescription comes in. It will create a lot of plus business for you. Start now . . . during the peak season for sweetener sales . . . during our heaviest schedule of network TV advertising.

PHARMACY IN PERSPECTIVE—PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE

By JAMES A. DONAHUE, JR.

Executive Vice President

R. A. Gosselin and Company, Inc., Dedham, Mass.

This title, "Pharmacy in Perspective—Past, Present and Future," is indeed a grand title and I could not possibly hope to do it all the justice it implies. But, perhaps we can touch on some of the more apparent happenings of the past and present and speculate about the future.

Pharmacy, today, is a profession seeking an environment in which to be practiced. Its environment, or market place, is being rearranged. Major economic and sociological forces are at work which are relentlessly forcing pharmacy away from the basic environment in which it has found itself most of the last ten decades. There are many practicing pharmacists (perhaps "druggists" is the better term here) who bemoan these developments, for, as entrepreneurs, their very business existence is at stake. Others who have the courage to take a truly objective look at what is developing, see pharmacy emerging as a new, dynamic and autonomous activity of the highest professional order.

Among the prognostications one can make concerning the practice of pharmacy in the years ahead, is to predict its separation from the non-drug mercantilism of which it has been a part for so long. The day is soon coming when pharmaceutical service can be provided to a community without having to be carried, economically speaking, by a large variety of consumer merchandise having not even the remotest relationship to the health field.

An Analogy

Drawing analogies often helps in getting problems into perspective and aids in seeing a way to the solution of problems. The analogy of the transition of dentistry from a barbershop-general store environment to an autonomous profession, serves as a good illustration of what may be expected for pharmacy. Lack of public appreciation, lack of licensing, lack of technology, all held back dentistry for many years and it was indeed regarded as a trade. In the very early years of this century, the situation began to change. Increasing dental technology, improved public knowledge of dental problems and licensing all began to make their impact felt. Dentistry moved out of the barbershop-general store atmosphere and into its autonomous surroundings and has continued to improve to this very day.

The same kind of transition appears to be taking place in pharmacy. Licensing is a reality, and educational qualifications are being constantly upgraded. The technology, needless to say, has increased so rapidly in developing effective medications, that it hardly needs to be mentioned. All of the forces needed for establishment of an autonomous profession are present. The current problem is one of guiding those forces.

PHARMACY IN PERSPECTIVE

However, left to the initiative of the large majority of pharmacy practitioners, this outcome could not materialize except for a few isolated cases; for most "retailers" have had no basic motive for engineering a divorce of professional activity from that of general merchandising. While perhaps preferring a professional image, few have seriously objected to being classified as merchants. By far and away, most pharmacists have enjoyed a rather unique status in community business—a merchant enjoying, to a degree, a professional image and a respect not always accorded to his business neighbors. What will make this prognostication become a reality?

Just as the evolving factors mentioned aided dentistry, so will they aid retail pharmacy. In addition, there is another factor or social force which is a reality today and which must be worked into the scheme of things. That factor is mass distribution.

Mass Distribution

Now, to sound academic for a moment, let's point out that the miracle of mass production coupled with the mid-twentieth century fact of mass consumption has produced the phenomenon which can only be labeled mass distribution. The pharmacist-merchant (druggist) is being caught up in this mighty, almost instantaneous transition in distribution and retailing procedures. The effects of this current revolution in United States marketing systems has had, and is having, sweeping effects on all involved in the distribution of goods to consumers.

Now, a little bit more background. Almost 200 million people in this country constitute a tremendous economic and sociological force which, by its actions, dictates what form business takes. After 100 years in which to perfect itself, plus the added stimulus of several major wars, the productive capacity of the nation now exceeds the demand for consumer goods. We are in an era of the buyers' market, and it is the buyer who is and will be governing who will serve him, where and how.

The function of mass distribution is easily seen—that is, it bridges the gap between mass production and mass consumption in the most economical and efficient way. Mass distribution takes on many forms and, unfortunately, pharmacy seems to see only one, and then somewhat generically labels it "the discounteer."

Large mass merchandising stores and shopping centers have become as much an integral part of American life as the super-highway and the jet airplane. Few in the population would seriously consider abandoning all this in favor of the "old way" even if, sentimentally, it is sometimes contemplated.

Somewhat falsely, the assumption is often made that the mass merchandising centers win and hold customers on nothing but price appeal. The very term "discounteer" is ample evidence. While the initial appeal is on this basis, prices over-all tend to seek the level of non-mass merchandising operations as customers begin to demand service, credit, sales help, wider selection of goods, repairs and maintenance, and someone to complain to. Obviously, there has to be an appeal above and beyond price alone, and there are many, easily recognizable to each of us as shoppers.

When the mass merchandisers began adding lines of goods sought by customers, most of the pharmacists' immediate neighbors were affected. . . . first the corner grocer, then the jeweler, bookstall, shoe store, etc. While viewing these developments with a sympathetic attitude for the store owners going out of business, the pharmacist gave little thought to the prospect of this happening to him. Sooner or later, however, household remedies and medicines and the bulk of the average drug-store's front lines had to become shopping list items. And now, the inner vault itself has been penetrated—Prescription Departments in discount stores. At this point, one would perhaps conclude that pharmacy is about to move lock, stock and pestle into the "supers."

However, this would be an erroneous conclusion in face of other changes coming about. What are these changes? . . . They are changes in medicine itself and pharmacy in relation to medicine.

Group Practice

The practice of medicine is undergoing radical changes as a result of the surge of population growth and mass distribution. Disappearing rapidly is the friendly General Practitioner whose living-room doubled as an office. The complexities of diagnosis and therapy have created the Specialist (they now outnumber the GP's), and simultaneously are forcing the various Specialists into cooperative efforts as formal group practice or into an informal but close association basis. Indeed, the wheel has come full turn as General Practice is now regarded as a specialty.

Group practice not only provides, collectively, what used to be the "General Practitioner," but enables each physician to utilize the services essential to today's practice—diagnostic laboratories, X-ray facilities, central library, etc.

You will be interested to know that recent study indicated more than 20,000 physicians, of the 180,000 or so in the United States, now practice as part of a formal group; and the number grows each day.

The important point to draw out is that group practice is, in a sense, a form of "mass distribution" of medical services. The group practice of clinic practice offers convenience and one-stop medical service. The public wants it this way.

To continue along this line for a moment, it should be noted that the major factor in "medical mass distribution" is still the hospital. The hospitals of the nation have been steadily increasing their share of pharmaceutical business since the end of World War II. At that time only 10% to 15% of all pharmaceutical sales were to hospitals. Today they approximate 25% to 25% with some projections as high as 50% by the 1970's.

New hospital construction is at an all-time high. Whether new or old, hospitals are adding adjoining professional buildings, designed to house physicians, full and complete laboratory facilities, equipment, and pharmacy service. More and more, hospital pharmacies are no longer merely drug rooms for the internal use of the hospital. The trend to a first-floor lobby location of a pharmacy, open to the public, is unmistakable.

Here, then, in the hospital or clinic group practice, we have what might be called a "one-stop Medical Shopping Center" . . . checkup or diagnosis, complete laboratory tests, and prescriptions filled for the whole family, without once moving the automobile!

Thus far, two diametrically opposed trends have been stated:

1. Movement of pharmaceuticals into mass merchandising activities.
2. Movement of physicians into "mass" Medical Centers.

To go over this once again, the first group includes "discounters," "supermarkets," "shopping center chain stores," "mail order drug stores," "union-owned pharmacies," etc. The second group includes private hospitals, tax-supported hospitals, medical clinics, group medical practices, etc. The impact of these trends upon the practice of pharmacy could be sweeping.

Relocation of Professional Activity

The loss of traditional drugstore lines to mass merchandisers will mean the "relocation" of the professional activity to areas more compatible with medical practice. Pharmacy, as one of the very definite areas of medical specialization, will of necessity find itself operating in very close proximity to the other specialists who comprise the new "Health Team."

Prescription departments in mass merchandising superstores are not likely to become a dominant factor in this over-all scheme. In order to do so, the implication is that such a department could compete with, say, a hospital in terms of having a full inventory of all prescription drugs for both acute and maintenance therapy, and make them available at comparable prices and in a convenient fashion. Anticipating inventory requirements would be a difficult proposition in the supers because of a widespread and vacillating clientele. A hospital or group practice pharmacy, conversely, with its medical population close at hand, gains efficiency. "Supers" have entered the prescription business primarily because too many retail pharmacists have allowed maintenance therapy prescriptions to become shopping list items, a natural for the mass merchandiser. Not being able to get that "emergency" prescription filled at the superstore, quickly sends a patient flying back to where he knows he can get it. In the long run, it is perhaps safe to speculate that superstore pharmacies will thrive in some areas and not in others, by absorbing the volume done previously by a number of submarginal drugstores which very likely were "cut-rate" originally.

Recognition of the fact that prescription volume can be split on an "acute" vs. "maintenance" therapy basis is an important one in contemplating the future. Illness, no matter how minor, is serious to the individual or family involved. The average person is not overly concerned with price, companion purchases, and other shopping list items, when a prescription is handed him by a physician. Neither is he inclined to be impressed by the frivolous carnival-like atmosphere of a superstore just then. The quiet, confident atmosphere of a professional pharmacy, is something else again.

In the future, I believe the professional pharmacy, be it independent, local or regional chain, part of a group clinic or hospital, is not apt to let that patient migrate away to a superstore once he becomes a "maintenance patient." Once a patient goes on long-term maintenance therapy, he in a sense becomes the pharmacist's responsibility.

Physicians, I believe, are soon to arrive at a point where they will demand better controls on maintenance therapy patients. A diligent and professional pharmacy can serve this purpose most adequately by keeping proper records on the refill prescription activity of patients, and providing the physician with detailed information concerning these patients. In order to attract and hold these patients, however, pharmacists will have to think "long range" in the matter of charges for oft-refilled prescriptions. It would seem logical that, in exchange for the long-term repetitive volume represented by maintenance drugs, the markups could be scaled downward somewhat after the initial filling.

Added to this could be a systematic approach of informing the patient by postcard, for example, when a new supply is ready for him, based on the daily dosage schedule. The alternative to such an approach is for pharmacists to continue to lose maintenance volume to "supers," and for refills to fall into a quasi over-the-counter status. This is an invitation, incidentally, to mandatory regulatory controls in this very important segment of the medical market for over 50% of all prescriptions dispensed in America are refills.

Predictions

So much for background. How about predictions? Basically I have confidence in the outlook for the pharmacists of this country and the manner in which they can be expected to handle themselves in the changing market-place. I'd like to make some rosy predictions, but before that, a note of caution. Here, it might be well to take a look at an "average" economic situation across the country and see what we can surmise. In 1964, there were approximately 800,000,000 prescriptions filled in retail pharmacies across the country with about 375,000,000 new and 425,000,000 refill. What does this mean for the "average" pharmacy? Well, there are roughly 50,000 drugstores across the country. The "average" store then fills about 16,000 prescriptions per year. At first thought, this appears to be quite a volume. But, this works down to about 45 prescriptions per store per day. Now we can think about the concept of "capacity" of drugstores to handle 45 prescriptions per day. With close to 100,000 retail pharmacists and an average of about 2 pharmacists per store, we get down to about 22 to 23 prescriptions per day per pharmacist. Should not the average pharmacist be able to fill, as a rock-bottom minimum, 50 prescriptions per day? On this basis, only half the pharmacist or store capacity is being used to fill prescriptions. Most of us here would argue that a pharmacist can easily fill more than 50 prescriptions per day. Consequently, our capacity utilized would decline from 50% to even lower levels. Small wonder that the average store, even today, has to turn to many other forms of merchandise, not necessarily health-related, to cover all expenses and earn an acceptable profit.

Now, many will also argue, and I am sure your attendance at this meeting indicates you would argue, that many stores, yours in particular, are far above this average performance. I applaud this situation wherein many stores are professional pharmacies with high prescription volumes and high volumes of health-related merchandise. But, by the same token there are any number of sub-marginal stores; sub-marginal in terms of prescription volume, sub-marginal in terms of movement of health-related items, and sub-marginal in terms of profit performance. You only have to look at some of the older cities where drugstores appear on every corner to appreciate this situation. Certainly, this type of store doesn't lend much to the prestige of the profession. In addition, it has a more subtle economic effect on total profitability of all drugstores in the community. That effect is one of reduction of total profitability for all drugstores in the community. The economist would explain this situation by stating that demand generation for pharmaceuticals is not increased by increasing the number of retail outlets.

Sub-Marginal Pharmacies

Well, what about these sub-marginal stores and where do they come from? Over the past four or five decades they've sprung up far in excess of the real demand for prescription and health-related services. They are serviced by registered pharmacists, so we would have to say that there are far more pharmacists than needed. Recalling that the average pharmacist fills 22 to 23 prescriptions per day, then we come to the conclusion that the sub-marginal pharmacist fills far fewer. These pharmacists and their stores would not be missed if they were to disappear from the scene. Obviously, they can't be legislated out of business, but a position can be taken to improve the situation over a period of time. That position is one wherein you, the thinking and progressive people in pharmacy, support the idea that the number of pharmacists be in line with the volume of prescriptions to be filled and the health-related services to be rendered. This involves a careful rethinking of the premise that "there is a shortage of pharmacists." We will have an abundant number of sub-marginal stores far into the future, if more and more pharmacists are graduated. Indeed, current levels of graduating pharmacists are more than adequate for years to come in terms of protecting the public health.

Perhaps a stabilizing influence in the number of pharmacists in retail practice will come about as a result of the five-year course for pharmacy students. These young men and women are well educated but face the prospect of operating at one-half professional capacity as William Apple of the A.Ph.A. pointed out so well a few months ago. Very possibly, they won't put up with the situation and may make career choices other than retail pharmacy. They have these choices, in that they are well grounded in the physical and biological sciences. Many full time opportunities exist today in these fields. In fact, the scientific manpower shortage is so acute at the present that today's better pharmacy graduate is in a good position to move into scientific fields that can readily use his skills. As far as your business and professional prospects are concerned, nothing could have a more beneficial effect. Salaries of your employee pharmacists would rise over a period of time, but sub-marginal stores would decline, yielding you a higher prescription volume and a higher return on sales and investment. Why not trade a dollar of increased salary expense for two dollars of increased profit?

The Long-Range Picture

With that note of caution out of the way, on to the predictions. In predicting the future, a common pitfall is to make the "all-inclusive statement." That is, what is predicted leaves no room for possible variations. Most events, even if major, never constitute a 100% change. At this point it seems appropriate to speculate as follows, based on the observations made above:

In ten years, more or less, we will see:

First, pharmacy will have emerged as the "Pharmaceutical Profession," closely affiliated with other elements of a complex "Health Team."

Second, the Pharmaceutical Profession will be supported entirely on the basis of charges made for dispensing prescriptions and prescription accessories. Other traditional lines of merchandise, no longer needed to carry the Prescription Department, will have moved to other outlets.

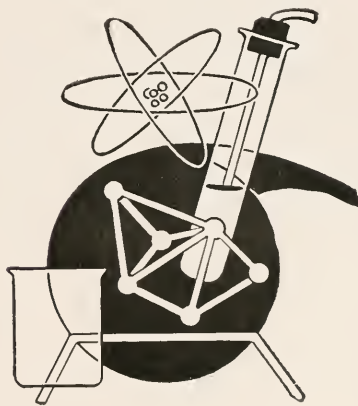

Third, the better Pharmacies will be of considerably larger size, and their number will increase as a rapid population growth demands pharmaceutical service in new and expanding communities. These better pharmacies, will usually be located in or adjoining hospitals, clinics, and group practices; or will be large independents or "chains" serving a concentrated medical community. Traditional pharmacies will remain where local circumstances permit. Superstore pharmacies by far and large, absorb only the volume previously done by the hundreds of "submarginal" drugstores of the bygone era.

Fourth, fewer pharmacists will strive to be "proprietors," but will find rewards in being employed as one of a considerable number of pharmacists in a "corporate pharmacy" at a good salary, good hours, and enjoying a high professional standing. Prospects for advancement will be excellent as a system of pharmacist "ranks" evolves under multiple pharmacist employment.

Fifth, pharmacy, which will remain "The Art and Profession of Preparing and Dispensing Drugs and Medicines," will provide more and more manpower to research, production, product development, and to the management and marketing activities of "Pharmaceutical Houses."

Sixth, the "Pharmaceutical Profession" will have a very broad connotation encompassing the currently separate areas of retailing, wholesaling, manufacturing and marketing. The pharmacist of the future will "straddle" all more efficiently than in the past, providing a vastly improved communication system between the several elements. As a result, the entire system of providing pharmaceutical service from drug discovery to patient consumption will be better integrated and more efficient.

APhA Brochure Explains New Drug Abuse Law

The American Pharmaceutical Association has prepared a brochure for pharmacists and other health practitioners outlining the requirements of the new federal drug abuse control law.

Entitled "HR 2 AND YOU," the brochure presents highlights of the Drug Abuse Control Amendments of 1965 as they affect health practitioners. It is designed to inform those who must practice under the new law as to the requirements established and to acquaint them with their individual responsibilities.

HR 2 was signed into law July 15 by President Lyndon B. Johnson. The law amends the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act and places additional controls over stimulant and depressant drugs through increased record keeping and inspection requirements, providing control over intrastate traffic in these drugs, and making possession of stimulants and depressants except under specified conditions illegal.

The APhA brochure discusses drugs covered, federal registration, records required, inspection, samples, penalties, and a check list of steps to be taken as of February 1, 1966, the law's effective date.

Single copies of "HR 2 AND YOU" are available free from APhA, 2215 Constitution Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20037. Quantity prices are: 25 copies, $2.50; 50 copies, $4; 100 copies, $6; 500 copies $20; 1,000 copies $35. Orders under $10 should be accompanied by check.

Leo Curtis Kelly, Sr., 57, of Lillington, died June 30.

Mr. Kelly was a partner with W. H. (Bill) Randall in the operation of the Kelly-Randall and the Lafayette drug stores of Lillington.

Mr. Kelly was born on Dec. 1, 1907, in Meigs, Georgia. The family moved to Lillington in 1919.

J. L. ALDERMAN

J. L. Alderman, Sr., 68, owner and operator of the Alderman Drug Store, Rolesville, died July 3 following an illness of two weeks.

A sister, Mrs. Lucy Sutton of Chapel Hill, is among the survivors.

TOM L. McBRIDE

Thomas L. McBride, 68, owner and operator of the McBride Drug Store, Marshville, died in a Winston-Salem hospital on July 4, after an illness of several months.

Survivors include his wife; three daughters and five brothers.

Marriages

Charles Wesley Carter III, 1965 graduate of UNC School of Pharmacy, was married July 24th to Miss Evelyn Sheridan McCormick of Sanford. Mr. Carter is with Pavilion Pharmacy in Greenville, and Mrs. Carter will continue her studies at East Carolina College.

Also on July 24th, William Lee Foster and Miss Patricia Jane Poston were married at Centenary Methodist Church of Mocksville. Mr. Foster, 1965 UNC graduate, is with Hall Drug Store of Mocksville. Mrs. Foster is employed in microbiology research at the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

Numa Franklin Freeman, Jr., 1965 graduate of UNC School of Pharmacy, and Miss Nina Alice Coates were married July 23 in Dunn. Mr. Freeman is with Village Pharmacy of Raleigh. Mrs. Freeman has been in graduate school at UNC.

Miss Margie Sue Rogers and Samuel Stephen Goodwin were married July 10th in the First Baptist Church of Monroe. Mr. Goodwin, 1961 UNC School of Pharmacy graduate, is with The Drug Centre of Monroe. Mrs. Goodwin is a teacher in the Monroe High School.

George Jackson Brooks, Jr., 1965 UNC graduate, and Miss Mae Holliday Kowal of Decatur, Ala. were married July 10 in the First Presbyterian Church of Siler City. Mr. Brooks is with Siler City Drug Company. Mrs. Brooks plans to attend the school of medical technology at Moses Cone Hospital in Greensboro.

Miss Rebecca Proffitt, 1965 UNC School of Pharmacy graduate, was married June 27th to Charles William McCall, Jr. in the Bald Creek Methodist Church. Mrs. McCall will be employed at Eckerd Drugs of Durham, and her husband will continue as a student in the UNC School of Dentistry, Chapel Hill.

Double Sick Benefits Opposed

There should be no excess profits in disability.

That would seem to sum up the attitude of 54% of the nation's independent business proprietors who favor H. R. 2989 introduced by Rep. Sydney Herlong, Jr., of Florida which would prohibit disabled persons from drawing at the same time both Social Security disability and Workmen's Compensation benefits. This result was found on a nationwide vote on this issue conducted by the National Federation of Independent Business.

At the present time, in many states, depending on the type of workmen's compensation laws, a permanently disabled person by drawing both forms of benefits, receives substantially more compensation than he was paid while working. The disparity between the disability compensation and previous earnings is further heightened by the fact that the disability payments are tax-free while his previous earnings were subject to taxation.

How to follow a hematinic sale with repeat business

One way is to recommend Zentinic, a hematinic that provides results. It contains recognized important hematinic factors needed to treat iron deficiency as well as certain nutritional deficiencies of the B complex—factors like 100 mg. of iron as well-tolerated ferrous fumarate. Zentinic also has a generous 200 mg. of vitamin C, an essential nutrient in its own right that gives further assurance of the absorption of iron. A safe quantity of folic acid has been added to the formula to provide the beneficial effect of this blood-building vitamin. Finally, the other B complex vitamins are included for normal red-blood-cell formation and general nutritional support. In total, a comprehensive array of antianemia factors. Pharmaceutical Industry A Bright Future Ahead In N. C.

Groundwork for the development of a major pharmaceutical center is underway in the Raleigh-Durham-Chapel Hill area.

When the Research Triangle project was initiated ten years ago, an official closely associated with the start-up phase of the project commented that the high concentration of know-how in the Triangle area would eventually attract major research and manufacturing to Central North Carolina. The vision of this far-sighted individual is coming to pass. Note these recent announcements:

- A $30 million Environmental Health Center to be established in the Research Triangle Park.
- A $17 million Pharmacology-Toxicology Center to be established at Chapel Hill.
- A $5 million multi-purpose chemical plant to be built near Raleigh by Mallinckrodt Chemical Works of St. Louis, Mo.

While these projects are assured, persons close to the Research Triangle scene are convinced the potential has scarcely been scratched. The 1000 plus PhD's in the area serve as a powerful magnet to chemical-pharmaceutical industries looking to the future.

It is anticipated the School of Pharmacy at Chapel Hill will play a significant part in the Research Triangle program. In particular, the research-minded graduates of the School will find a place for their talents much closer home than has been the case in the past.

A special committee, now in its formative stage, working closely with the industry-hunting division of the State Department of Conservation and Development, is expected to bring additional pharmaceutical industries to the area. The Falls of the Neuse dam will solve a major problem—a dependable supply of water.

By the year 2000, Triangle Pharmaceuticals may be as well known to the medical profession as some of our present-day, nationally recognized lines of medicinals.

The Carolina Journal of Pharmacy is published monthly by the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association, Box 151, Chapel Hill, N. C. Subscription rate: $3.00 a year; single copy, 25 cents. Second Class postage paid at Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

New Pharmacology-Toxicology Center to Be Located in Chapel Hill Area

As a result of a $17 million grant from the National Institute of General Medical Sciences of the National Institute of Health, a Pharmacology-Toxicology Center will be established in the Chapel Hill area.

The Center, with an expected personnel of around 300 specialists, is set for occupancy in late 1968 or early 1969. Dr. Thomas C. Butler, a professor in the UNC Department of Pharmacology, will direct the Center.

"The Pink Sheet" (Aug. 16), after referring to the appointment of Dr. George Hager of Minnesota as Dean of the UNC School of Pharmacy, in discussing the $17 million dollar grant (biggest R&D grant in NIH history), commented: "NIH Director Shannon said he wanted to find a school where strong departments of medicine and pharmacy were allied closely."

Mann's Drug Store #1 of Thomasville Passes Million Rx Point

Mann's Drug Store #1, Thomasville, managed by Frank Murr, filled its millionth prescription on August 5.

The lucky prescription patron not only received two prescriptions without charge but an extra $50 for having brought in Rx #1,000,000.

The prescription record started in 1910 when R. C. Harville opened the store. It was bought by Mann in 1931.

Of the 19 stores in the Mann organization, the Mann Drug Store #1 of Thomasville is the first one to reach the million Rx point, although one of the High Point stores is expected to reach the million level soon.

Commendation to

Mrs. June West and Bill Scarboro of Raleigh for making it possible for Haywood Jones and family of Zebulon to get away for a vacation.

Both June and Bill did some rescheduling of their work in Raleigh with Kerr Rexall of Ridgewood Shopping Center in order to help out a pharmacist who was unable to obtain services of a regular relief pharmacist (they are few and far between).

Open with Care

When Rush Hamrick, Jr., Kendall Drug Company, Shelby, entered a hospital for an ulcer operation, the medical crew was in for a surprise. When the sheets were pulled down, this message appeared in red ink across Hamrick's stomach:

After 51 years as pharmacist owner/manager of Davidson's White Drug Company, Cloyd S. Goodrum has retired.

Although the pharmacy ownership and management has been taken over by W. A. Parks, Mr. Goodrum manages at least a once-a-day visit to his "business home" where he can greet his friends of long standing.

Known as Davidson's "Mark Twain," Mr. Goodrum is fondly remembered by thousands of the School's graduates just as is Clyde Eubanks of Chapel Hill to the UNC graduates. It is reported that Secretary of State Dean Rusk always makes it a point to visit Mr. Goodrum on return visits to Davidson (Dean Rusk worked for Mrs. Goodrum's father, a banker, while a student at Davidson).

Commented a fellow townsman, upon learning of Mr. Goodrum's retirement: "It just ain't gonna be the same again."

A Plan of Assistance for the Development and Improvement of Pharmacy Services in North Carolina Hospitals

Developed By

North Carolina Hospital Education & Research Foundation, Inc. in co-operation with

N. C. Board of Pharmacy
N. C. Society of Hospital Pharmacists
N. C. Pharmaceutical Association
N. C. Hospital Association
The Medical Society of the State of N. C.
N. C. Medical Care Commission

Background to Plan

The hospitals in North Carolina are faced with a serious problem in attempting to meet their responsibilities, legal and moral, in providing patients with high quality pharmacy services. The problem arises from the acute shortage of registered pharmacists in the state. This condition is further aggravated by the even smaller number of practicing pharmacists who are oriented to hospital needs.

Faced with the recent opinion of the Attorney General of the State of North Carolina, placing full responsibility on the Board of Pharmacy to require of hospitals and hospital pharmacies strict and explicit compliances with the law, a program of assistance to the hospitals has been developed by the North Carolina Hospital Education and Research Foundation. The plan is designed to recruit registered pharmacists for service in hospitals, to conduct for them a formal program of orientation to hospital pharmacy services, and to acquaint hospital administrators with the legal requirements involved in operating a hospital pharmacy.

The necessity for an effort of this sort has been acknowledged by the North Carolina Society of Hospital Pharmacists, North Carolina Medical Care Commission, North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, and the North Carolina Board of Pharmacy. The North Carolina Hospital Association is lending its full support through its Education and Research Foundation.

The project is expected to require two years of concentrated effort, and a total budget of $48,700 has been developed. As a challenge gift, the Trustees of The Duke Endowment have awarded the Foundation $25,000 toward this program. An additional $1,000 has been received from Smith, Kline and French Foundation.

Purpose

An opinion of the Attorney General of the State of North Carolina dated June 17, 1963, states that Article 4 of Chapter 90 of the General Statutes of North Carolina places the responsibility on the Board of Pharmacy to require and provide for the annual registration of all pharmacies including hospitals, nursing homes, rest homes, clinics, industrial health facilities, etc. and further places the responsibility on the Board to assure that all drugs, medicines, pharmaceutical preparations, etc. are either compounded or dispensed by a registered pharmacist or a person acting as an aid and under the immediate personal and direct supervision of a registered pharmacist (except a doctor may compound, dispense, etc., his own prescriptions).

This opinion of the Attorney General is supported by a decision of the Supreme Court of North Carolina in the case of COIN SHORTAGE?

There's no coin shortage when you recommend 'Benzedrex' Inhalers. ● Fact is, in the growing inhaler market, front-running 'Benzedrex' leads its nearest competitor in Pharmacy sales volume by almost 2 to 1. ● Reason: 'Benzedrex', the only OTC inhaler distributed exclusively through drug channels, is the outstanding product in its field. ● Conclusion: It makes sense to recommend the 'Benzedrex' Inhaler. ● It makes dollars too.

A Plan of Assistance

North Carolina Board of Pharmacy vs. Lane, et al., 248 N. C. 134.

As a result of this opinion of the Attorney General, the North Carolina Board of Pharmacy has adopted appropriate regulations for the registration of hospital pharmacies under the provisions of Article 4, Chapter 90 of the General Statutes, and held conferences with all agencies and groups that were interested in or affected by the implementation of these requirements of the law.

Likewise, in carrying out its responsibilities under Chapter 131, General Statutes of North Carolina, Article 13A, Hospital Licensing Act, the North Carolina Medical Care Commission is concerned with the implementation of the pharmacy law in its licensing of hospitals in North Carolina.

A serious shortage of pharmacists in the State has imposed extreme difficulties upon the hospitals in their efforts to provide pharmacy services and to meet the statutory requirements for operating hospital pharmacies. The North Carolina Hospital Education and Research Foundation submits herewith a proposed plan having as its purpose the assistance of hospitals in dealing adequately with the problems which they may encounter in meeting the requirements of the Pharmacy Law relating to the supervision of their hospital pharmacies by a registered pharmacist.

Recognizing their responsibility to the public to see that pharmacy services are provided wherever needed, the North Carolina Society of Hospital Pharmacists, the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, and the North Carolina Board of Pharmacy have provided co-operative leadership in the development of this proposal, and have pledged their support and assistance in its implementation.

Definition of Project

To recruit, orient, and train registered pharmacists for full or part-time service in hospitals in North Carolina, and to acquaint hospital administrators with current requirements in the provision of hospital pharmacy services.

Supervision of Project

Overall direction of the project will be provided by an Advisory Committee consisting of the following:

Representing the N. C. Hospital Association:

E. B. Crawford, Jr., Director
North Carolina Memorial Hospital
Chapel Hill, North Carolina

Representing the N. C. Medical Care Commission:

William F. Henderson, Executive Secretary
North Carolina Medical Care Commission
Raleigh, North Carolina

Representing the N. C. Society of Hospital Pharmacists:

Claude U. Paoloni, Chief Pharmacist
The Moses H. Cone Memorial Hospital
Greensboro, North Carolina

Representing the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association:

W. J. Smith, Executive Secretary
North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association
Chapel Hill, North Carolina

Representing the N. C. Medical Society:
Dr. John T. Dees Chm., Committee Liaison to NCPHA, Burgaw, N. C.

Representing the N. C. Board of Pharmacy:

H. C. MacAllister, Secretary-Treasurer
North Carolina Board of Pharmacy
Chapel Hill, North Carolina

This Advisory Committee shall meet quarterly and will have the responsibility to:

1. Organize and generally supervise the project

S. D. Griffin, Jr., Chm., Burlington;
John W. Andrews, Winston-Salem; Calvin M. Floyd, Jr., Roanoke Rapids; Truman Hudson, Gastonia; Samuel G. Koonce, Chadbourne; H. C. McAllister, Chapel Hill; Claude U. Paoloni, Greensboro; William P. Powell, Mars Hill; Robert H. Seaborn, Raleigh; Jack L. Tyler, Greenville.

A Plan of Assistance

2. Receive and review progress and other reports on the project
3. Evaluate the program and determine period of time over which it will extend

Members of the Advisory Committee will receive a per diem of $25 and no other expense allowance when attending meetings or otherwise discharging the duties of their offices.

Employment of Director

The Advisory Committee shall employ a director who will have the responsibility of administering the project under the guidance of the Committee. The individual employed as Director shall be a pharmacist with administrative ability, qualities of leadership, and available for extensive travel.

Staff, Housing, Equipment

An office which will be required by the Director, shall contain minimum equipment. The staff will consist of one full-time stenographic assistant.

Program

The primary responsibility for the implementation of the program shall rest with the Advisory Committee representatives from the North Carolina Hospital Association and the North Carolina Society of Hospital Pharmacists.

I. SURVEY

A survey shall be made to determine

- A. Pharmacy personnel needs of North Carolina hospitals sufficient to comply with the laws of the State of North Carolina and rules and regulations of the North Carolina Medical Care Commission and the North Carolina Board of Pharmacy.
- B. The availability of pharmacists in community pharmacies and elsewhere for full or part-time service in hospitals

This is to be ascertained by the Director through group meetings, personal interviews, etc., with pharmacists in the State who might be available for such hospital service on either a full or a part-time basis.

II. INFORMATION

An objective of the Program shall be to inform hospital administrators, as well as pharmacists, of the statutory requirements for operation of hospital pharmacy services. Recent developments have included

- A. An opinion of the Attorney General of North Carolina
- B. A decision by the Supreme Court of North Carolina
- C. Adoption of appropriate regulations by the N. C. Board of Pharmacy
- D. Plans for the N. C. Medical Care Commission to perform the inspection services for registration of hospital pharmacies

Hospital administrators will be urged to attend the instructional sessions, and will be asked to present selected elements of the curriculum.

III. PERSONNEL PLACEMENT

The Director will correlate hospital pharmacy personnel needs with available pharmacy personnel and will transmit such information direct to hospitals. (Any employment or appointment to positions in hospitals and all other considerations pertaining thereto shall be entirely between hospital administrators and pharmacists.)

IV. IMPLEMENTATION AND INSTRUCTION

A series of eight sessions of two to three hours each shall be organized in each of ten localities throughout the State (total of 80 sessions) for the purpose of orienting community pharmacists to the special consideration which exist in hospital practice, and to adequately apprise hospital administrators of the legal requirements involved.

Each session is to have a seminar (question and answer period) devoted to specialized or local problems. It shall be the responsibility of the Director to make all arrangements for and to generally supervise all sessions.

The lecturer, discussion leader, or other specialist, will be paid an honorarium of $15 per session plus a travel allowance of 10¢ per mile.

V. CURRICULUM

The course of instruction in the sessions is to be determined by the N. C. Society of Hospital Pharmacists and is to cover, among other things, such areas as:

- A. Purpose, Descriptions, and Objectives of Program
- B. The Hospital—Definition, Type Organizational Structure and Function(s)—Physical Plant
- C. The Pharmacy in the Hospital—Definition, Facilities and Equipment—Requirements of Hospital Pharmacy
- D. Minimum Standards for Pharmacy Services—Duties and Responsibilities of the Pharmacist in the hospital
- E. Pharmacy Relationship with:
 1. Medical Staff
 2. Nursing Staff
 3. Administration
- F. Policies, Rules and Regulations—Pharmacy and Therapeutics Committee, Procedural Manuals
- G. Specialized Subjects:
 1. Special Control—Alcohol—Narcotic—Dangerous Drugs
 2. Drug Distribution in the Hospital
 3. Purchasing
 4. After-hour Services
 5. Other

Concord Pharmacist Jesse M. Pike to Visit Richmond as Guest of A. H. Robins Company

Concord pharmacist Jesse M. Pike, the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association's 1965 recipient of the A. H. Robins "Bowl of Hygeia" Award for outstanding community service is among this year's award winners who have accepted an invitation to visit Robins' Richmond headquarters in early October.

Award-winning pharmacists from 48 of the United States, the District of Columbia and eight provinces of Canada have been invited to visit Richmond for three days beginning October 7. They will be guests of the pharmaceutical manufacturing company and its president, E. Claiborne Robins.

While in Virginia, the pharmacists will tour Robins' manufacturing plant and research laboratories, and be honored at a reception and dinner. They also will spend a day touring Williamsburg, the restored Colonial Capital of Virginia.

In addition to visiting Richmond, the award-winners will be featured in a special full-page advertisement which Robins will sponsor in the October 8th issue of TIME. The ad will include individual photographs of all the recipients and indicate that they have been cited for outstanding service to their respective communities.

The "Bowl of Hygeia" Award is presented annually by the participating state pharmaceutical associations, which select their respective recipients. This is the eighth year that Robins has sponsored the "Bowl of Hygeia" program, and the award now is one of the most coveted in the pharmacy profession.

Pike is the seventh North Carolina pharmacist to receive the award. Previous recipients were Harold Vann Day of Spruce Pine, in 1959; Ralph R. Rogers, Jr., of Durham, in 1960; William H. Randall of Lillington, in 1961; Charles D. Blanton, Jr. of Kings Mountain, in 1962; David R. Davis of Williamston, in 1963; and John T. Henley of Hope Mills, in 1964.

NCPHA Executive Committee Plans Programs and Projects

The Executive Committee of the NCPHA, meeting in Chapel Hill on August 18

(1) Reviewed a financial statement of NCPHA receipts and disbursements for the first six months of 1965.

(2) Discussed trading the Association's 1959 Buick station wagon but deferred action until later.

(3) Authorized the Executive Secretary to determine if the attic in the Institute of Pharmacy could be remodeled for additional office space.

(4) Initiated plans for the 1966 NCPHA Convention in Asheville and recommended a survey be conducted to ascertain if sufficient interest exists among membership to justify a special program for children.

(5) Reviewed committee appointments.

(6) Discussed the Welfare Rx Service Program; meeting of the Public Health & Welfare Committee in regard to professional fee; payment of claims; and correspondence in regard to various phases of the program.

(7) Discussed details of the Hospital

Pharmacy Service Program (an outline of the Program appears in this issue of The Journal).

(8) Received insurance report (life and hospital, major medical, and investment/retirement). Heard a report covering preliminary findings on a proposed Workmen's Compensation Insurance Plan, with potential premium savings to the participants of up to 30%.

(9) Authorized survey on Professional Liability (Malpractice) Insurance. It was reported that many employee pharmacists did not have this coverage.

(10) Discussed the appointment of Dr. George P. Hager as Dean of the UNC School of Pharmacy; student recruitment plans and further efforts to place the pharmaceutical publication—The Profession of Pharmacy—in all the junior and senior high schools of the state.

The next time you get a prescription for erythromycin ...think seriously about making it Erythrocin®

ERYTHROMYCIN

Not all erythromycins are the same.

All are highly active against the common bacterial organisms. And all share the inherent—and highly unusual—safety characteristics of the antibiotic.

But Erythrocin—the Abbott product—presents this one distinction: It has not been shown to cause liver impairment.

Indeed, in separate studies^{1,2}, Erythrocin was used to challenge patients who developed jaundice following prolonged therapy with erythromycin estolate. In neither study did the patients show any signs of sensitivity.

We're not suggesting that jaundice is a frequent problem with erythromycin estolate. Far from it. The point simply is that Erythrocin has not caused it.

And for some physicians—with some patients—this can be an important plus.

Perhaps you'll want to consider Erythrocin—next time a prescription comes in for erythromycin.

Precautions and Side Effects: Do not use in persons with known sensitivity to erythromycin. Occasional side effects are abdominal discomfort or cramping; nausea and vomiting (often controlled by dosage reduction) and mild allergic manifestations. Serious reactions have been extremely infrequent. If signs of sensitivity appear, proper countermeasures (e.g., epinephrine, steroids, etc.) should be administered and the drug should be withdrawn. If overgrowth of nonsusceptible bacteria or fungi occurs, withdraw drug and institute appropriate treatment if necessary.

Prescription Drug Service Program

North Carolina State Board of Public Welfare

The Welfare Rx Drug Service Program is now in its 9th month. Since the program was initiated in January, thousands of prescriptions have been dispensed by the 950 pharmacies participating in the program and processed for payment in Raleigh through the Division of Medical Services of the State Board of Public Welfare. In a state-wide program as extensive as this one, questions have and will arise over dispensing and billing procedures. While the points listed below are not all-inclusive, they do represent answers to some of the more frequent queries coming into the county and state offices of Welfare. For additional information, write or call Mr. Russell R. Chambers, Director, Division of Medical Services, State Board of Public Welfare, P. O. Box 2599, Raleigh, N. C. 27602.

1. Program pays for all Rx Legend drugs, without any exceptions.

2. No refills. When additional medication is required, a new prescription is necessary. If refill authorized by the MD, in writing or by telephone, pharmacist prepares new Rx.

3. Insulin, a non-Rx Legend drug, has been authorized for payment provided it is dispensed pursuant to a prescription. Since this is continuing medication, it is suggested the medication be prescribed on a monthly basis.

4. Patient does not have to return to physician for a new Rx every time additional medication is required unless physician instructs otherwise. Pharmacist can assist patient in such instances, working within the professional ethics of Pharmacy and Medicine.

5. When a physician prescribes two medications to be dispensed in same container, handle as two separate prescriptions.

6. Total cost of a prescription cannot exceed $10.00 ($8.25 for medication and $1.75 professional fee). If total exceeds $10.00, it will be acceptable to prepare two prescriptions, which total the original quantity prescribed.

7. A signature stamp will lessen work involved in submitting the blue claim forms.

8. When Red Book lists direct and wholesale prices, use the direct price in computing cost.

9. When a Rx Legend drug is not listed as "Legend" in Red Book, mail label or product literature to substantiate billing. Example: Indocin.

10. When an authorization shows an "amount to be paid by recipient on this authorization," collect this amount from recipient for Rx service during period of the authorization—a month. In most instances, this space on the claim form will be blank in which case Welfare will pay for all Welfare Rx's during the authorized period. Most recipients have a $10.00 allowance in their assistance checks to cover such items as doctor's fees and non-legend items.

11. When an authorization is received for a person who does not receive any medication in that month, the blue sheet should be returned to the local welfare department that issued it.

12. Make sure the month for which the authorization is written and the month prescriptions are dispensed is the same.

13. It is not mandatory for claims to be submitted by the 10th of the month. This is suggested in order to allow sufficient time for claims to be processed for payment the following month.

14. Red Book, Red Book Supplements and Red Book bi-monthly (in Drug Topics) New Products & Price Changes are used to determine "cost."

Welfare will pay for Bonine Rx's on assumption the Rx Legend drug has been dispensed rather than the OTC motion sickness drug.

Welfare Rx Payments

Approximately 5000 claims were paid in May; 20,000 in June and 26,000 in July. Approximately 18,500 claims were carried over from July to August. These were paid on September 10.

RETAIL SERVICES COMPANY

8th Floor, Thomas Bldg., Dallas, Texas 75221

This is an ad for a DEAL!

What kind of a deal is this? No screaming headlines about profit or fast turnover...no blazing color pictures of displays...no pretty girls or babies! Why?

Well, to tell the truth this ad concerns a deal about castor oil! Castor oil, ugh! But wait...this isn't just ordinary castor oil, that vile tasting stuff that maybe killed your taste for orange juice when you were a kid. This is a deal for a castor oil that tastes so good, people taking it often don't realize what it is.

This ad, then, is about a deal for NEOLOID™ Emulsified Castor Oil, Lederle. NEOLOID is an "effective, stable, aqueous emulsion of castor oil U.S.P. 36.4% (w/w), of agreeable mint-flavored taste..." NEOLOID is creamy white, doesn't look like castor oil and even the thick oiliness is gone. Taste it yourself, if you think we're kidding.

So what's the deal?

Buy a Display-Pak of twelve NEOLOID 4 fl. oz. bottles for $5.06—the usual cost for 11 bottles. At the list price of 77¢, you'd receive $9.24, for a profit of $4.18...better than 45%. The deal's available through your regular source of supply until further notice.

Now...How can you sell NEOLOID?

Believe it or not, about $1,500,000 worth of castor oil is sold each year. Castor oil is still the preferred agent and is so specified by physicians for pre-x-ray bowel cleaning, as well as for the usual laxative action in constipation. So, when customers ask for castor oil, do them a favor—offer them NEOLOID. They'll be so pleased with NEOLOID, instead of the awful stuff, that you may have done yourself a favor, too, by creating a friend and regular customer. You can recommend NEOLOID with confidence...it's widely used in hospitals.

So, remember NEOLOID when you have to think of castor oil. Check your Lederle catalog for complete information and order a NEOLOID deal or two promptly. Lederle Laboratories, A Division of American Cyanamid Co., Pearl River, N. Y.

STATE BOARD OF PHARMACY

MEMBERS—David D. Claytor, Greensboro; Harold V. Day, Spruce Pine; F. W. Dayvault, Lenoir; C. E. Page, Jr., Henderson; W. H. Randall, Lillington; H. C. McAllister, Secy.-Treas., Box 471, Chapel Hill, N. C.

Drug Plan

An inquiry has been placed with this office asking whether "Drug Plan" of Raleigh, N. C. is licensed as a pharmacy as required by Section 90-75 of the General Statutes of North Carolina. Along with this inquiry, was enclosed an application for membership, the reverse side of which contained "Drug Plan" information.

Obviously, we are required to answer this inquiry by stating that no firm by this name is licensed by our Board. From the information contained on the application it appears that presently this enterprise is only in the planning stage. It is presumed that you have informed yourself of the requirements of law that apply to the operation of drug stores or pharmacies in this state. However, from the representations made on your application, it appears that there might be certain requirements on which you have not fully informed yourself.

G.S. 90-75 of the General Statutes of North Carolina states in part as follows: "The Board of Pharmacy shall require and provide for the annual registration of every drug store and pharmacy doing business in this state—and it shall be unlawful for any drug store or pharmacy to do business until so registered—."

Section 90-71 of the General Statutes states in part, "it shall be unlawful for any person not licensed as a pharmacist or assistant pharmacist within the meaning of this article, to conduct or manage any drug store or pharmacy—or other place of business for the retailing, compounding, or dispensing of any drugs, chemicals, or poisons or for the compounding of physicians prescriptions—." Article IV, Section 2 of the rules and regulations of the Board provides "the Board will not issue or renew a permit to any person to operate a drug store or pharmacy wherein the prescriptions of medical practitioners are compounded or dispensed and distributed when such distribution is effected by mail and the traditional physician-pharmacist-patient relationship does not exist, provided, however, that this rule shall not prohibit the occasional mailing of prescription drugs to bonafide customers of any pharmacy when the traditional physician-pharmacist-patient relationship is present."

The above information is being forwarded to you in the belief that you will want to fully assure yourself that services contracted for can be rendered before accepting any subscription monies. (from a letter written by Board of Pharmacy Secretary H. C. McAllister)

The letter appearing on this page was in response to an advertisement appearing in a recent edition of a Raleigh newspaper.

Persons who answered the advertisement, received a letter, one paragraph which we quote: "Our plan is simple; member families pay only $10 a year subscription fee. Then, they may purchase drug store items in our stores at cost plus 10%. On some items, member families will save as much as 200% under our plan."

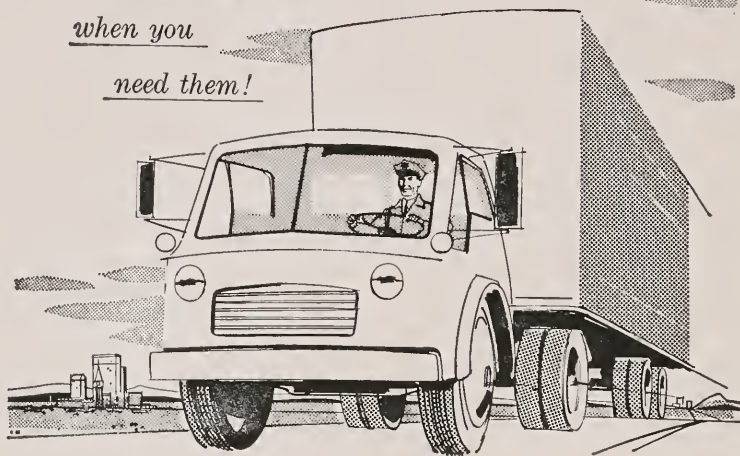

An enclosure with the letter states 5,000 families are needed to support each store. Also included with the mailing was an extra supply (25) of membership application forms.

ACA Reports Average Cost of Dispensing A Prescription to be $1.61

The American College of Apothecaries announces the availability of "Facts on the Operation of Prescription Pharmacies—1964." The new edition is the thirteenth annual survey of operating figures of prescription pharmacies produced by the College. The book contains data derived from operating reports submitted to A. C. A. by its Fellows and includes statistics on volume, expenses, profits, prescriptions, services, salaries and inventory.

Some 160 operating reports for the years 1963 and 1964 are included in the present edition. This has permitted a direct comparison of all figures for two consecutive years in these pharmacies and has enabled the survey to indicate changes and trends. In these 160 pharmacies in 1964:

*Total volume increased 1.2% to an average of $178,803.

*Net profit remained at 3.5% and the net plus owner's salary decreased slightly from 11.1% to 11.0%.

*Average inventory increased 3.6% to $30,575.

*The number of prescriptions dispensed rose 1.5% to 31,228.

*The proportion of new and renewed prescriptions dispensed changed. New prescription orders decreased by 3.1% while renewals increased 5.5%. The percentage of renewals was 55.7% of the total prescriptions dispensed.

1963-64 reporting pharmacies showed a slight decrease in over-all expenses from 40.5% to 40.3%. A marked consistency between the two years was shown in that six expense categories were unchanged while three increased and four decreased. Increases were noted in Pharmacists' salaries; Delivery Expense and Miscellaneous Expense.

The average prescription charge increased 5.3% to $3.58. The average cost of dispensing, in addition to the cost of medication, was determined to be $1.61.

The A.C.A. Survey tabulated for the second year, findings on the basis of the Eastern and Central regions of the U.S., with Canada included. Definite variations were found among the regions, with most expense factors increasing as one goes from East to West. Dispensing costs exhibited significant regional variations: Eastern $1.51; Central $1.57 and Western $2.25.

The American College of Apothecaries distributes single copies of the publication to pharmacists without charge and copies can be obtained by writing to the American College of Apothecaries, Hamilton Court Hotel, 39th and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia, Penna. 19104.

State's MD Count Nearing 5000

According to a publication (Distribution of Physicians in the United States) of the Department of Economics/Division of Socio-Economic Activities of the American Medical Association, North Carolina has a total of 4,648 physicians, classified as follows:

3,124 in private practice
1,286 in general practice
361 in general surgery
363 in internal medicine
231 in obstetrics-gynecology
201 in pediatrics
47 in psychiatry

The publication lists 146 hospitals with total of 17,157 beds. The resident population is placed at 4,743,600 and the per capita income, $1,602 (in the counties, Mecklenburg is at the top with $2,320, and Jones is on the bottom with $905).

In connection with the hospital total, only non-federal, short-term hospitals are included. In all categories, North Carolina has approximately 200 hospitals.

Registration at Justice Drug Company Gift Show Up 43% Over 1964

Registration at the 1965 Justice Drug Company Holiday Show (August 15-17) was up 43% over 1964. Sales increased by an estimated 35% but meals served (782) was up by 70% (The Justice buffet is well known to pharmacists food-connoisseurs).

Held in the spacious Greensboro Coliseum, more than fifty manufacturers had their holiday merchandise on display during the three-day show. In anticipation of continued high sales during the fall and holiday season, business at the show was brisk.

The grand prize winners (9" Sony Television) were Betty Harris, Graham Drug Company, Graham (on Sunday); Mrs. Douglas Roberts, Cape Fear Drug Company, Fayetteville (on Monday) and J. W. Royal, Denton Drug Store, Denton (on Tuesday).

A long list of prizes were given away each day, based mostly on visits to the individual show booths. Here is the list of daily prize winners, by towns:

General Information Concerning Student Loan Funds at the University of North Carolina

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has a number of student loan funds. An application is submitted to determine a person's eligibility to borrow from these funds. Once approval of the application has been given by the Faculty Committee on Loans, the specific fund which the applicant will be allowed to borrow from will be determined by the Office of Student Aid, dependent upon the applicant's status and the condition of specific funds at a given time.

There are two primary criteria for one's being eligible to borrow from any of these loan funds. The first is that a person have a satisfactory academic record. For students in the University, this means a "C" (2.0) average or better. For students just entering the University for the first time, it usually means at least between a "B" and a "C" record at another institution of higher learning or, in the case of an entering freshman, usually a total of at least 900 on the College Entrance Scores and probably at least a "B" average in high school. Ordinarily, any student in the University who can maintain at least a "C" average can arrange to meet his financial obligations so that he can remain in the University until he graduates.

The second primary criterion is that a person show need to borrow. This is done on an application which includes a budget page. The student loan funds are not operated like a bank. These funds are available to help students remain in school who might not be able to remain otherwise. They are not available primarily to make things more convenient for students. Therefore, the student is expected to have reduced his expenses to reasonable amounts.

A single student with a motor vehicle is usually not considered eligible to borrow from the student loan funds unless the motor vehicle is necessary for his work, his studies or his health. In the majority of cases it is considered that a student who is a member of a social fraternity or sorority (or a professional one which maintains a chapter house) has not reduced his expenses to the point where he can show need for a loan. Ordinary academic and subsistence expenses are considered appropriate expenditures for which one might use money from the student loan funds. Money needed to repay existing obligations outside of the ordinary academic and subsistence expenditures necessary for continuing as a student in the University of North Carolina is not available from the student loan funds. An attempt is made in the application to ascertain the applicant's total financial situation in the context of the financial situation of his immediate family. Of course, the needs of a married student will vary considerably from those of the unmarried student; an attempt is made to take into consideration all pertinent facts when they are made known to the committee. Even in the case of married students, the family is expected to help as much as it can.

Each borrower must be a fully-enrolled student in the University. There is a maximum of $1,000 per twelve-month period, and a total maximum of $5,000 per borrower. However, an individual borrower is allowed to borrow only that amount which, in the eyes of the committee he can show need to borrow. An applicant's twelve-month period will be based on the date of his first loan from the student loan funds. All of our loan funds provide terms which are better than those available commercially. Most of the loan funds have an interest rate of 3 per cent per annum on the unpaid balance. No interest is charged while the individual is enrolled in the University, and no repayment of principal is required while he is enrolled in the University. (This refers to full enrollment in the University proper and does not include part-time enrollment, evening college, correspondence, or extension enrollment.) Loans are made without security (and usually without endorsement to students who are at least 21 years of age). For most of the loan funds a repayment period of ten years is possible, and it is possible to arrange to delay payment while the borrower is in service or in the Peace Corps or is enrolled at another institution of higher learning. A repayment schedule must be agreed upon by the borrower and the University before the borrower is separated from the University. It is presumed that the borrower will have a serious and responsible attitude toward his indebtedness and will repay the loan as quickly as he is able, usually in monthly installments, so that he will have less debt and interest and the money may be reused for someone else who needs it. Of course, a formal, binding note is executed for each loan, and the University will view and will deal with any action contrary to that note as a very serious matter requiring appropriate action. The borrower has definite responsibilities as well as privileges—responsibilities to the University, to himself, and to others who will need to borrow.

Joins Senters

Larry H. Pope, a 1965 graduate of the UNC School of Pharmacy, has accepted a position with Senter's Drug Store, Carrboro.

Student Loan Funds

Loans up to $1,000 for each academic year (maximum of $4,000 for four academic years) are available to pharmacy students from

The N. C. Medical Care Commission
P. O. Box 9594
Raleigh, North Carolina

One of the requirements is that the pharmacy student agree upon completion of the required training to practice in North Carolina a full calendar year for each academic year or fraction thereof a loan is received. The "practice" must be in a community of 5,000 or less according to the latest decennial census.

Write direct to N. C. Medical Care Commission for application.

Loans of up to a maximum of $700 per academic year for final three years of pharmacy (3/5, 4/5 and 5/5), are available from the John W. Dargavel Pharmacy Loan Fund (sponsored by the National Association of Retail Druggists).

Details about this Fund and an application may be obtained from the School of Pharmacy, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C.

Registration Under Drug Abuse Control Act of 1965

Registration procedure for producers and wholesalers of drugs subject to the Drug Abuse Control Amendments of 1965 has been announced by George P. Larrick, Commissioner of Food and Drugs, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Previously only establishments engaged in the manufacture, preparation, propagation, compounding, processing, repacking or relabeling of drugs in general were required to register.

The new law additionally requires registration by owners or operators of establishments which distribute, job, or wholesale stimulant and depressant drugs including barbiturates, amphetamines and other psychotoxic drugs which have a potential for abuse because of their depressant or stimulant effect on the central nervous system or because of their hallucinogenic effect. Regulations are being drafted to describe the classes of drugs covered by the law, and those that are exempt.

To simplify and facilitate registration, only one form, FD-1597, "Registration of Drug Establishment," will be used.

The form requires for each drug establishment the following information:

1. Name, address and "zip code" of the drug establishment.
2. Type of ownership—whether individually owned, partnership, or corporation, and State of incorporation.
3. Other names under which the establishment conducts drug-producing or drug-handling activities.
4. The name of owner or names and titles of partners or corporate officers and directors of the establishment.
5. Signature, title, and date on which form is signed by an authorized company official.

In addition, the applicant will be required to answer "Yes" or "No" to the question "Do you manufacture, repack, relabel, wholesale, job, or distribute depressant, stimulant, or hallucinogenic drugs?" If "Yes" he must identify his business activity as either a (1) manufacturer, re-packer, relabeler, or (2) jobber, wholesaler, or distributor.

Instructions for completing the registration form and a summary of the registration regulations will be furnished with the form upon request to those firms not now registered with FDA.

Those who make or supply the bulk chemicals for drug purposes must also register as manufacturers or suppliers. However, firms that ship or receive basic chemicals such as unsubstituted barbituric acid or other potentially depressant or stimulant drugs solely for industrial non-drug purposes would not be required to register.

As evidence of registration, a validated copy of the form with a registration number will be returned to the establishment.

The law requires that the above information be made available to the public. A file for public inspection will be maintained at FDA headquarters in Washington, D. C. Each FDA district office will also maintain duplicate registration records of the firms in its territory.

Mr. Larrick stated that initial registration under the "Drug Abuse Control Amendments of 1965" must be effected no later than February 1, 1966, but that establishments could begin registering on November 15, 1965. Firms currently registered as producers, who also are required to register as handlers of stimulant, depressant, or hallucinogenic drugs, may do so simultaneously at the time of annual registration beginning November 15, 1965, on the form automatically mailed to them.

Between November 1 and 15, FDA will endeavor to send an explanatory statement and registration form to all known wholesalers, jobbers and distributors who are not now registered as drug producers, but Mr. Larrick pointed out that failure to receive such notification will not relieve a firm of its responsibility to register. Form FD-1597 will be available beginning November 1, from Drug Registration, Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Washington, D. C. 20204, or any of FDA's 18 District offices.

Pharmacies selling only on prescription at retail, practitioners dispensing drugs in the course of their professional practice, and persons who have the drugs solely for research, teaching, or analysis are exempt from registration. Mass registration of memberships by trade associations and similar organizations is not permissible. Each establishment must register individually.

Mr. Larriek urged the cooperation of the press and trade organizations in bringing the registration requirements to the attention of all who may be affected, pointing out that FDA does not now have a complete list of drug establishments which may be subject to the new law.

The law will require that the registration numbers of firms and persons from whom these drugs are bought and to whom they are sold must be kept with the records of these transactions. The Commissioner emphasized that it continues to be the responsibility of drug firms to determine whether or not purchasers are legally entitled to receive prescription legend drugs. Registration of an establishment in no way indicates Federal Government approval of the company or its products. Mr. Larriek said that any representation creating an impression of official approval because of registration or possession of a registration number will cause the firm's products to be misbranded under the law.

Consolidated Pharmacy Fund

ROBERT B. HALL, Chairman

The Consolidated Pharmacy Fund will soon have been in existence three years. During this time it has grown steadily much to the satisfaction of the Consolidated Pharmacy Fund Committee.

The total value of accounts as of April 15th was $13,611.89. There have been 125 student loans made. These loans total $11,139.00, leaving a balance in the Fund of $2,472.89. 125 Loans made! That is an average of over 40 loans per year. Can you possibly imagine how beneficial this has been to these students? I can't help but wonder how many loan recipients would have remained in school without this aid. It has certainly been helpful enough that 42 receiving loans have graduated and made either partial of full repayments of their loans. The Committee feels that 42 repayments out of 125 loans is testimony that the students are very appreciative of the help provided them. You must remember most of the loans have been made to pharmacy students who have not yet graduated.

Thus their payments are not due. The repayment is due interest free one year after graduation. After this time 4% interest is charged.

There are now 31 individual funds within the Consolidated Pharmacy Fund. Several new ones have been established each year. Some of the Funds are making sizeable additional contributions each year. The most notable of these are the Cornwell Drug Stores, Inc. Fund and the Pearly Arthur Hayes Memorial Fund established by Justice Drug Co. A new fund of note is the Woman's Auxiliary Fund. Even though the Woman's Auxiliary has been very active in many phases of student aid, i.e., scholarships and their own Student Emergency Loan Fund, they recognized the value of the Consolidated Pharmacy Fund by their action in becoming a part of our Fund. We are most grateful to them.

Last month a letter was mailed to all principal contributors showing the loans made, repayments made, and balance still in each fund. Unfortunately, there are several individual funds that have not grown since their initial contribution. The Committee urges all that fall in this category to alter this situation. Hopefully now, because this is the time of year that loans are more urgently needed.

You may rest assured that the Committee isn't interested in seeing how much money we can accumulate just to be able to say, "Look how much money we have in the Fund." However, we are vitally interested in raising money so we can say, "Look how many students YOUR generosity has enabled to stay in Pharmacy school." As good business men you know you cannot receive dividends without investments. Please make the wisest of investments by investing in the Consolidated Pharmacy Fund, so you may for years to come receive the dividends of seeing many pharmacists join our ranks. Pharmacists that without your help might have been just another college dropout.

Respectfully submitted,

"Drug Abuse" Manual Now Available from SKF

A manual prepared specifically to help law enforcement officers in their efforts to combat the problem of drug abuse has been published by Smith Kline & French Laboratories.

The manual is the first comprehensive approach to the subject of drug abuse for law enforcement personnel. Under preparation for more than a year, the 56-page handbook discusses drug groups subject to abuse, the drug abuser and his environment, the illegal traffic in drugs, security measures in the drug industry, drug law, investigation techniques and drug identification and contains a glossary.

Smith Kline & French also announced that members of its 500-man Speakers Bureau, most of whom are Professional Service Representatives, are equipped with a speech about abuse of drugs. The speech is suitable for presentation to lay groups and is entitled "The Hidden Sickness." Each speaker has a supply of pamphlets for distribution to members of the audiences. The pamphlet's title is "Drug Abuse: The Empty Life."

Single copies of the manual are available on request from the Law Enforcement Liaison Unit, Smith Kline & French Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19101. Professional persons also can obtain quantities of the pamphlet from the Law Enforcement Liaison Unit for use in conjunction with talks on drug abuse.

Awarded 50-Year Pin

E. C. Daniel, Sr. is the recipient of another honor.

At a recent meeting of Zebulon Lodge #609, Daniel received a 50-year certificate and pin from the Grand Lodge. Mr. Daniel became a Mason on July 13, 1915.

To Prevent Cross-Contamination

Pharmacists are being cautioned about washing instructions for the Abbott Sanitary Counting Tray when counting uncoated penicillin tablets, according to a statement by Joseph S. Rowe, Manager of the Drug Trade Department, Abbott Laboratories, North Chicago, Ill.

The company urges all pharmacists to wash and dry their trays completely after each counting operation. This will safeguard against cross-contamination of other medications. Pharmacists are further cautioned to wash and dry spatulas used in the counting procedure, and to use only clean, penicillin-free towels for drying.

Abbott has distributed the plastic trays to thousands of pharmacists during the past 18 years. The trays are a common item used continually in prescription departments nationwide.

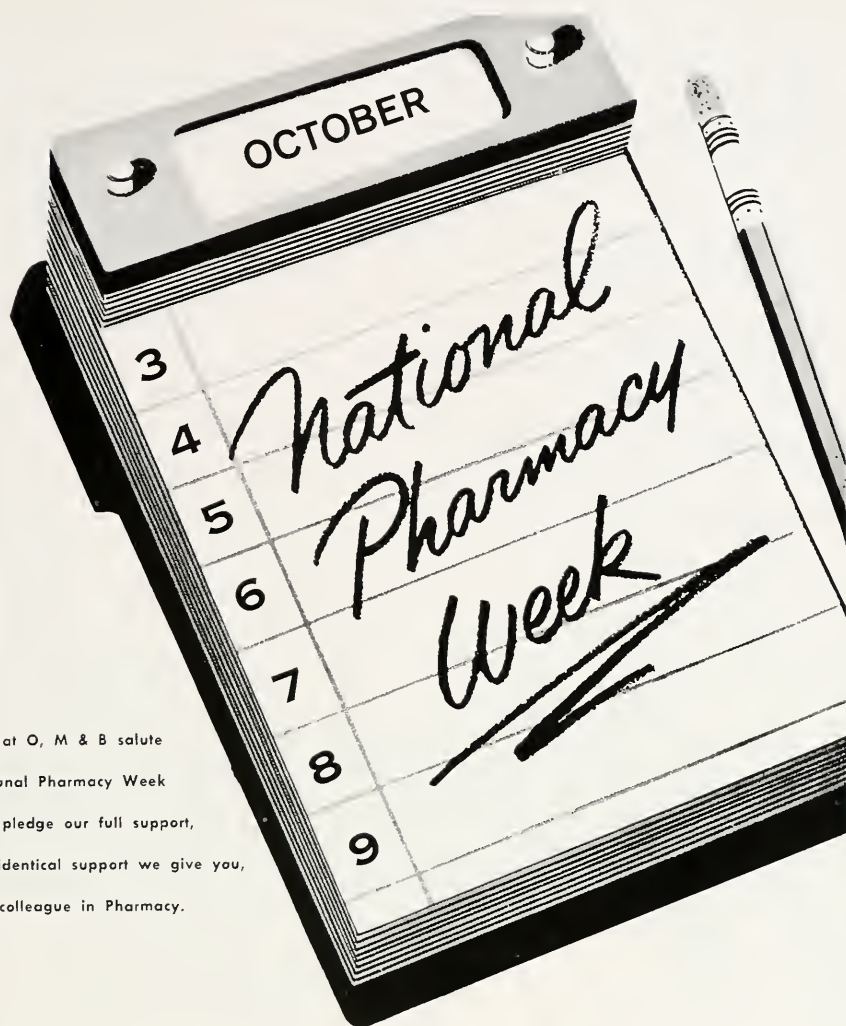

Holt and Canipe Promoted

Two graduates of the School of Pharmacy, University of North Carolina, have been promoted during the summer.

W. Seymour Holt, until recently Manager of the Indianapolis District for Eli Lilly & Company, is now Administrative Assistant in Lilly's Market Research Division.

NORTH CAROLINA PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATION

85th Annual Convention

JACK TAR HOTEL

Durham, North Carolina

May 16-18, 1965

OPENING SESSION

The 85th Annual Convention of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association was called to order at 7 p.m., May 16, 1965 at the Jack Tar Hotel, Durham, by President W. S. Wolfe.

The 38th session of The Woman's Auxiliary and the 51st session of The Traveling Men's Auxiliary were officially opened by Mrs. George Markham and J. A. Morgan, presidents.

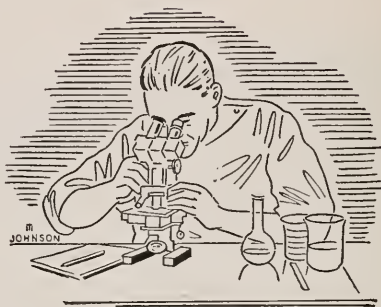

Following an invocation by William P. Wells and the serving of dinner, the convention delegates were officially welcomed to the city by Durham's Mayor Grabarek.

President Wolfe: "It is customary for the President of the NCPHA to report to his membership on the accomplishments during his term of office. I'm very pleased with the many things that have transpired during the past year—and it would take quite a long time to enumerate them and adequately express my pleasure with the accomplishments of your officers and committee members. So, if you will open your printed program, you will find that, instead of the usual President's Report given personally, it is there for you in printed form. We hope—before tomorrow's business sessions—you will find time to read it and be prepared to discuss with us anything in it which you wish to hear more about." (See Report on Page 7).

The guest speaker of the evening, E. Clifton Daniel, Jr., Managing Editor of The New York Times, was introduced by NCPHA Secretary W. J. Smith.

The title of Mr. Daniel's address was "Whatever Happened to the Safe Small World of E. C. Daniel, Jr. or How I Learned to Worry About Things I Can't Do Anything About." The address was taped and is available, on a free loan basis, to any interested member of the NCPHA or Auxiliaries.

In recognition of their twenty-five years of service to North Carolina Pharmacy, Tom Ham, Jr., acting on behalf of approximately 400 contributors to the "Vivian and W. J. Smith Fund," presented checks totaling $9,000 to The Smiths.

President Wolfe introduced the Convention Chairmen (Mrs. Floyd Goodrich for The Woman's Auxiliary, Tom Sanders for the TMA and William P. Wells for the NCPHA) and before adjourning the session, recognized other pharmacy officials and guests seated at the head table.

Preliminary Events

Prior to the formal opening of the convention on Sunday night, a number of luncheons and meetings were held in the Jack Tar Hotel.

Beginning at 12 noon on May 16, the UNC Pharmacy Classes of 1940 and 1955 attended separate luncheon sessions. The N. C. Society of Hospital Pharmacists met at 1:30 and later in the afternoon, the N. C. Academy of Practical Instructors in Pharmacy adopted a Constitution and By-Laws.

The "Awards Session" was attended by several hundred persons, including twenty-five pharmacists and others honored for their services to or achievements in the field of Pharmacy. For complete list of persons so recognized, see the June 1965 issue of THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY.

The afternoon session closed with a coffee hour with members of the Durham-Orange Pharmaceutical Association as hosts for the occasion.

The President's Report

by

WILLIAM SAMUEL WOLFE

In the past, it has been customary for the president of the NCPHA to address the delegates at the first business session of the convention. This year we depart from this procedure by presenting the President's Report in printed form, as a part of the opening general session.

By so doing, we hope that individuals other than members of the NCPHA will become familiar with the Association's programs and will be inspired to be a constructive influence in helping to fashion a brighter future for Pharmacy in the years ahead.

Although this report does not cover the complete activities of the Association for the past year, it does briefly summarize some of the major programs of the NCPHA and points out some signposts of the future which are expected to have a vital influence on the profession. Later on, during this annual meeting of the NCPHA, a more complete picture of Association activities will emerge as the committee chairmen report. We commend these reports to you for consideration and implementation.

It has been an unforgettable experience to head the NCPHA for the twelve months immediately past. It has given me an opportunity to work more closely with the headquarters staff at Chapel Hill and to become far more familiar with the challenges and opportunities which daily present themselves. To become better acquainted with the executive board, the various committee members and pharmacists from all sections of the state, has been an experience that your president rates as a high point in his career which dates back more than fifty years.

Emphasis on Service

Currently, the NCPHA is involved in some 37 programs—some going back more than fifty years, others less than a year old. It would be difficult for members of the NCPHA, even officers, to list all 37 activities, but the main point is: If it is an activity or a service which the NCPHA should engage in or provide, in all probability the activity or service is already a part of the Association's program.

All members of the NCPHA are familiar with the monthly publications—The Tar Heel Digest and THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY. But, due to varying interests, some members may not be aware of, as an example, the Association's complete insurance program, the effort being made to develop a code of understanding with professional organizations, or the cooperative effort now underway with the N. C. Society of Hospital Pharmacists with the ultimate objective of upgrading the calibre of pharmacy service in all North Carolina hospitals.

To be specific, in the area of insurance, the NCPHA now has available, on an optional basis, three programs:

- (1) A life and hospital plan.
- (2) Major medical coverage.
- (3) An investment-retirement plan.

These insurance programs provide benefits not normally available on an individual basis. As an example, some members unable to secure life coverage are able to secure this insurance in the NCPHA group due to more liberal underwriting by the insurance carrier.

The debt-collecting service, as sponsored by the Association, has been of distinct help to some members. It is especially useful if you have a significant number of two and three year old accounts which have failed to respond to the usual collection procedures.

Welfare Rx Program

A major activity in which the NCPHA has been involved is implementation of the state-wide Welfare Prescription Program. Although we realize the slowness in which bills for services rendered are being paid is a matter of concern, we are confident that steps are being taken to correct this, and that eventually the pay procedure will be on a monthly basis.

While the Welfare Rx Program is still in its preliminary, start-up phase, we know that it is growing and that in a year is expected to run to a monthly volume of 50 to 75,000 prescriptions.

Merck Prescription Chemicals and Narcotics

Many prescriptions such as ointments, nose drops and cough syrups, to mention a few, still require the know-how of a registered pharmacist. Even a casual observer in any pharmacy is mightily impressed when he sees a prescription being compounded.

There is an intangible value gained by watching an expert at work. It instills even greater respect and confidence for the profession and the man who has chosen it for his life's work.

The use of Merck Prescription Chemicals will not only enhance your professional ability, it will establish you as one who demands the highest quality in chemicals used for compounding.

The NCPHA, through its Public Health and Welfare Committee, is maintaining close cooperation with the State Board of Public Welfare, particularly the Medical Services Division, as details of the program are finalized. No one maintains the program is a perfect one, but other states with much older programs are considering the adoption of certain parts of the North Carolina operation.

The professional fee of $1.75, which is part of the Welfare Rx Working Agreement, has been accepted as being fair to both our members, who supply the professional service, and to the Welfare Board, whose responsibility to the taxpayer is to obtain the maximum amount of value for dollars spent. It is interesting to note that some pharmacists are converting to the professional fee as a basis for computing the price of all prescriptions—not Welfare Rx's solely. The trend, in our opinion, is a desirable one.

Hospital Pharmacy

North Carolina, with 200 hospitals, has less than 25% of these institutions covered with what we would classify as adequate pharmaceutical service. With this background knowledge, the NCPHA and the N. C. Society of Hospital Pharmacists are working jointly for a mutually acceptable solution to the problem.

Later on during this convention, we will have a progress report from the joint committee which has met frequently over the past year. Although pharmacists are not available to staff all the hospitals on a full-time basis, the committee has what we believe to be a practical solution to the problem. Money to finance the program will be needed, but fortunately the committee has succeeded in generating interest at the Foundation level.

School of Pharmacy

We are all tremendously interested in our School of Pharmacy at Chapel Hill. Most pharmacists of North Carolina are graduates of the School; a majority of NCPHA members went to school at Chapel Hill. Graduates or non-graduates of UNC, we have an important stake in our School of Pharmacy because it is the fountainhead of educational progress of North Carolina Pharmacy.

As Dean Brecht has announced, he is stepping down as head of the School of Pharmacy in order to resume teaching, something which he does unusually well as indicated by the loyal support he has among his former students, now licensed pharmacists practicing in all sections of the state. Dean Brecht followed an illustrious group—Howell, Beard, Jacobs, and Rose—and we are confident will be succeeded by someone capable of measuring up to the high standards and traditions of this school which, for many of us, was home for a number of years.

In connection with the search for a new dean, it was reassuring to learn that the University Administration at Chapel Hill plans to develop the School to a point where it will rank with the best of the schools of pharmacy in this country. During this transition period, the University Administration solicits your understanding and support.

Mention should be made of a related problem—the inability of some qualified young men and women to enroll in Pre-Pharmacy at the University. For years, the NCPHA has engaged in student recruitment programs in order to increase the number of graduates and eventually, the number of licensed pharmacists.

To the parents of a son or daughter, with above average grades, who desires to study Pharmacy but who is refused admission to the only school of Pharmacy in the state, the student recruitment program does not make much sense. The situation does call for an explanation.

This Fall the University will accept slightly more than 2000 entering students, including Pre-Pharmacy. Applications have been received from 8000 prospective students. This means that 3 out of every 4 applicants will fail to get into UNC despite the fact that many of the applicants will be above-average students.

While this may not be an entirely satisfactory answer, enrollment in one of the more than 40 junior or community colleges of the state for the Pre-Pharmacy year is recommended. Assuming the student follows the prescribed curriculum, as recommended by the staff at the UNC School of Pharmacy, and averages "C" or better in his work, a transfer to the first year pharmacy class at UNC, while not assured, would be likely. Many students have done this in the past and others plan to follow this procedure beginning in September.

Federal Medical Care

While organized pharmacy and medicine have opposed national medical care legislation of the type now being promoted in Congress, it is evident that the public, especially the 18 million over-65 group, favors some sort of government-subsidized program to take care of hospital and medical bills. Assuming a national medical care program will be in operation in 1966, it is essential that pharmacists keep themselves informed of the various proposals offered in Congress and be prepared to work with other health groups to see that an acceptable program is devised.

While drugs, on an out-patient basis, is not a part of any of the current proposals, such a program is almost a certainty in the future. Hence, the importance of Pharmacy having a voice in the initial planning of the national medical care program.

Passage of a national medical care program will step up interest in prepaid prescription insurance. Fortunately, the California Plan, which now has clearance from the Anti-Trust Division of the Department of Justice, is making progress. Since experience in the prepaid prescription insurance field is far from adequate, the California Plan will provide information highly necessary as the Plan becomes nation-wide.

The North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association is prepared to cooperate, at the appropriate time, with any reliable group, firm, or agency in the prepaid prescription insurance field. If and when the public is ready for prepaid prescription service, the NCPHA will be prepared to assist in the development of a financially-sound program, just as was the case with the Welfare Rx Program.

Mental Health

A major development in recent years has been the rapid expansion of mental health programs, particularly at the local level.

The availability of liberal federal funds has resulted in the establishment of mental health departments at the state level, the growth of regional mental health hospitals, and the addition of many treatment centers at the community level.

The emphasis now and in the future will be treatment of the mentally ill at the community level. General practitioners, with special training in mental health and with available tranquilizing drugs, are assuming a greater share than ever before in the treatment of the mentally ill. Plans are under-way to step up this phase of the program.

Pharmacy, for the most part, has not been an active participant in developing the mental health program at any level. Part of this is due to our own neglect, part to the failure of the mental health authorities to recognize that Pharmacy can be important in helping them reach their goals. To catch up before Pharmacy is bypassed completely, pharmacists should immediately offer their services at all levels in formulating practical programs of assistance to the mentally ill. This includes a drug program which will assure the recipient's getting the drugs he needs—a factor which presently results in many former patients being returned to hospitals for treatment when they do not receive proper medication.

Due to the pressing importance of this problem, the subject will be discussed in detail by an authority in the field at one of the business sessions of the NCPHA.

A Look to the Future

While we have briefly discussed some of the problems facing Pharmacy and members of the NCPHA today, our major interest is in the opportunities for service tomorrow—opportunity unlimited as we see it for the pharmacist employer and employee alike. A higher level of professional practice in an atmosphere that without question clearly indicates Pharmacy to be an indispensable part of the health team, is here.

To have vision and to bring that vision into reality is the challenge of the future. Can we measure up to the task ahead? MY knowledge of and an appreciation for the members who compose the NCPHA say we

Monday A.M., May 17

The day's activities was opened with a breakfast session in the Jack Tar but was adjourned shortly thereafter in order to permit the delegates to attend open house in Chapel Hill at the UNC School of Pharmacy and the Institute of Pharmacy, or participate in the Golf Tournament.

President Wolfe announced the appointment of two committees:

Nominations: W. L. West, Chairman, Robert B. Hall, James W. Harrison, George McLarty, Jr., John Mitchener, Jr., John T. Stevenson and W. A. Ward.

Time and Place: J. M. Darlington, Chairman, C. D. Blanton, Jr. and James L. Creech.

The session was adjourned at 9:30 a.m.

Monday P.M., May 17

President Wolfe opened the session by referring to a vase of red roses: "The beautiful flowers here on the head table serve as a memorial tribute to members who have passed away since the 1964 Convention. Their names appear on the listing on the front of the container." (Note: See Secretary's Report—page 23—for list of deceased members).

President Wolfe: "If the reports to be heard today seem unusually short, that is because of the 'NEW LOOK' of this convention. I am sure all of you thoroughly enjoyed your morning in Chapel Hill or at the golf tournament, but giving up our morning session means we must condense everything into this afternoon's and tomorrow's two sessions. Therefore, of necessity, we have asked our committee chairmen, even though they have worked mighty hard on their assignments, to brief their reports. In most cases, a more detailed account of their work and recommendations will appear in forthcoming issues of THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY."

Committee on Legislation

This report, presented by Chairman John A. Mitchener, Jr. of Edenton, appears on page 21 of the July, 1965 issue of THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY.

Hospital Pharmacy

This report, presented by Committee Chairman Claude U. Paoloni of Greensboro, was printed in the September issue of THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY, pages 7-9-10-11.

Affiliation Study

Charles D. Blanton, Jr., Chairman of the APhA Affiliation Study Committee, summarized the highlights of his committee's work, the report having been published in the February issue of THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY, page 9. It was agreed the same committee would continue its work without change in membership.

Pharmaceutical Center

A new concept in the practice of pharmacy—The Pharmaceutical Center—was presented by E. James Kuhnheim, Manager of McKesson and Robbins' Retail Trade Promotion Division, and Ted Johnson of M & R's Charlotte division. A brochure with complete details of The Center is available from the NCPHA without charge.

N. C. Pharmacy Operations Study

This study, conducted and presented by Dr. Albert Jowdy, Professor of Pharmacy Administration, UNC School of Pharmacy, appeared in the May, 1965 issue of THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY, pages 8-9-10-11.

We Succeeded—by Trying

Business and professional promotion devices were described by three members of the NCPHA. Thomas Burgiss commented on and passed out samples of his monthly newsletter; Roy Collette discussed a "Family Rx Record System" which he has in successful operation in his pharmacy in Mocksville, and Sandy Griffin of Burlington exhibited a narcotic inventory form and brochure which is to be distributed by the NCPHA.

At the suggestion of Stanley Sessinger of Charlotte, the convention authorized the Secretary to mail a copy of the narcotic brochure, including special reference to Class A Narcotic Requirements, to all doctors of North Carolina.

Dear Fellow Pharmacist:
This is our way
Of making and keeping Friends.....

..... Please accept 1000 Reserpine Tablets 0.25 mgm. with the sincere compliments of your favorite wholesaler and Barry Martin Pharmaceuticals, Inc.

Since there is no cost to you, and you don't have to buy anything, your clear profit is at least $25.00.

We take this means to acquaint you with our NEW ethical pharmaceutical package, and the CERTIFICATE OF ASSAY in every one.

From now on you can dispense generic pharmaceuticals with the complete confidence that you satisfy patients' demands for lower prescription prices and physicians' demands for high quality.

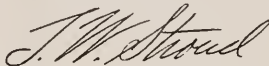

.....and you will be helping yourself too, because Barry Martin pharmaceuticals are available from your wholesaler at prices that perhaps are lower, than brands you are now buying direct, without CERTIFICATES OF ASSAY.

Senator Hart and other representatives of the Federal Government strongly recommend that physicians prescribe by generic name and leave the brand selection to you, the pharmacist, where it rightly belongs!

With the CERTIFICATE OF ASSAY included with every Barry Martin pharmaceutical, you can enhance your professional image with your doctor friends, by advising them that they can now prescribe generics in full confidence, and you have the proof to back up this confidence in your choice of pharmaceuticals.

Mail us a post card with your store label and mark your choice of wholesalers. We'll take it from there and you will shortly receive your FREE bottle of Reserpine complete with the new CERTIFICATE OF ASSAY in the Barry Martin ethical package.

Sincerely,

J. W. Stroud
Vice President

REPORT OF THE INTER-PROFESSIONAL RELATIONS COMMITTEE

By E. A. BRECHT, Chairman

This committee did not meet during the year. Nevertheless, there are activities worthy of report.

The North Carolina Congress on Medicine and Pharmacy, held at this same site on November 11 and 12, was an outstanding success. The preceding committee was on record in favoring this conference at the state level as directed from the National Congress on Medicine and Pharmacy held in Chicago in March, 1964. Insofar as we can learn ours was the first, and only, state conference to be held to date.

Full credit for the organization and arrangements for the meeting for the part of pharmacy is due to our association's secretary, W. J. Smith. Your chairman's part was too prominent in presiding at the morning session and taking part in the panel discussion that occupied the afternoon because it could have been done better by a prescription-filling pharmacist, but it was an experience completely pleasant. The North Carolina Congress on Medicine and Pharmacy was reported prompted in the CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY; it is not necessary to repeat the details here.

The Inter-Professional Relations Committee recommends 1) that the state conference be repeated annually, and 2) that similar meetings at the local level be activated in each appropriate area of the state, also on an annual basis. A preliminary survey indicates that local meetings can be arranged best to conform with the areas of the local medical societies.

From communication by correspondence the committee has further recommendations to be considered during the coming year.

A Physician-Pharmacist Code of Understanding should be developed. Several models, adopted elsewhere, are available. Such a document should be general in content and relatively brief. Its development could serve as a central theme for the state and local joint meetings for a year. It would serve as a tangible reminder of professional prerogatives and interdependence.

There are many judgments of pharmacy because the profession is a composite of many services. All of us in pharmacy must be concerned with the upgrading of services wherever needed. An urgent need exists in the many hospitals, actually a substantial majority of their number, in which so-called drug rooms are operated without the professional service of pharmacists. This situation is serious and barely recognized. It can be assumed only that the inadequacy of service, not to mention legal liability, is hidden and ignored on the basis of custom. Most of the hospitals without pharmacies are too small to need the service of full time pharmacists. A program of recruitment and specialized briefing for local pharmacists to perform part time service as needed is the solution for this problem. It has been suggested also that hospital administrators should have a full explanation on the need for and the value of this service. Preliminary planning has been done by the Board of Pharmacy in cooperation with the North Carolina Society of Hospital Pharmacists and contact with this association. The Inter-Professional Relations Committee may not be the appropriate one for help in this problem, but it should become concerned if definite assignment is not made elsewhere.

In review, it appears that the interprofessional relations are good in North Carolina. The past year has been effective in showing two aspects of interprofessional relations. Generally, the title implies the actions between pharmacy and medicine, but it is now apparent that the two professions have important relation with the public and its governmental agencies. The two professions have worked together to assure the best service. Neither profession could have been as effective working alone. These are changing times; we need to work together.

Remarks by David A. Dowdy, Jr.

David A. Dowdy, Jr. of High Point was given the privilege of the floor to present a subject which he felt should be brought to the attention of the general membership. Here are his remarks:

President Wolfe, members of the association, may I say at the outset that I am not an authority on any subject, but during the past several months I have become more acutely aware of some of the problems related to pharmacy; especially with regard to student recruitment, pharmacy laws, and some aspects of academic and practical training of students. I feel you are aware of the critical shortage of pharmacists in this state. It has been said by some people that there are too many drug stores, not too few pharmacists, I would like to ask each person with this philosophy to close his store to help alleviate this problem! This is a problem for which there seems to be no immediate relief or solution. I have personally made every effort possible to recruit young men into our profession. I have found that each year it becomes a little harder to persuade young men that it is a wonderful and rewarding occupation. This I believe, is partly due to the current five year program.

I have participated in career day programs in my own community in an effort to recruit pharmacy students.

I have found complacency among our own number to be one of our biggest problems. Recently, after visiting with Dr. Brecht and Dr. Chambers to discuss this problem of recruitment I became somewhat bewildered and discouraged. May I say at this point, that this attitude was not created intentionally by either professor. I have decided that the best service that I can render to our profession in the interest of recruitment is on a personal level.

Since my interest was stimulated last year, I have analyzed several problems which affect the critical shortage of pharmacists other than student recruitment. I have completed a study of one of these problems which I would like to present to you this afternoon; it is in regard to a new regulation adopted by our state board of pharmacy.

An Objective Analysis of Reciprocity in North Carolina

By DAVID DOWDY, R. PH.

The 1962 meeting of the National Association of Boards of Pharmacy, hereafter referred to as the NABP, adopted a resolution (No. 18) which stated:

RESOLVED, that practical experience gained under the supervision of a registered pharmacist shall be required of all applicants for examination, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that such practical experience shall consist of at least one year's duration, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that no credit for practical experience be granted before the completion of the first year's attendance at a college or university, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that at least three months of this experience must be obtained after graduation from an accredited college of pharmacy.

The only explanation given by the NABP committee on internship requirements for adopting a bylaw requiring that three months of practical experience be received after graduation was for the sake of uniformity.

One reason has been given for making this a requirement in our own state; that is, to permit licentiates of our Board to maintain the broadest possible reciprocal eligibility. It has been further stated by the secretary of the board that "a large number of states have already begun enforcing this requirement." According to statistics available in the NABP proceedings for 1963 the following states require that a portion of practical experience be acquired after graduation.

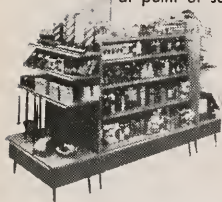

1. Arkansas
2. California (Do not reciprocate)
3. Colorado
4. Connecticut
5. Florida (Do not reciprocate)
6. Indiana
7. Iowa
8. Maryland
9. Michigan
10. Montana
11. New Jersey
12. Oregon
13. Wisconsin

Thus, only 30 per cent of the state boards in the U. S. are "enforcing" this requirement.

It is worthwhile to note that Article III of the NABP Constitution, Sec. No. 1 states, "Reciprocity shall be optional, and any member of this association may grant a certificate to an applicant from a state having a higher standard of requirements than the state in which he seeks registration"; it would appear that this article does not remove the final decision of reciprocity from the member boards.

It is interesting to note the following statement delivered by the 1962 President of the NABP (Mr. H. C. McAllister), under the section titled REVISION OF CONSTITUTION AND BYLAWS.

"In the matter of the Constitution and Bylaws generally, it is to be noted that the enforcement of some of the bylaw requirements is optional insofar as recipient boards are concerned in reciprocal exchange of licensure. This is as it should be in order to assure the continuation of the ultimate authority being reserved to these boards in their own jurisdictions. It is learned, however, from the office of the Secretary that some of our bylaw requirements are seldom if ever enforced by any state. In effect, then, they are just so much dead wood, and serve only to produce confusion and doubt in the minds of board members generally. It is recommended, therefore, that the Committee on Constitution and Bylaws also be requested to make a general review of the Bylaws of the Association and in doing so confer with the Secretary with the view to making such deletions, additions, or other changes, to be considered by the members, as might be deemed appropriate to the fullest realization of the total objectives of NABP."

The following statistics are presented for serious study and as an adjunct to an objective analysis of reciprocity in North Carolina.

Total Number of Pharmacists reciprocating from N. C. in:

1960	7
1961	11
1962	18
1963	10

1964	8
Total	54

Total Number of Pharmacists reciprocating to N. C. in:

1960	39
1961	48
1962	34
1963	50
1964	49
Total	220

It would seem the most plausible solution to this particular problem with regard to reciprocity nationally would be to allow anyone having practiced in his state of original licensure for one year or more, and who has obviously successfully completed his practical examination for licensure would automatically be qualified under this aspect of the requirements for reciprocity. Surely, all experience received prior to registration should not supercede experience received after registration.

Now, what effect has this new requirement handed down by the NABP had upon reciprocity in North Carolina; it has placed North Carolina among the top 12 states in the nation with the most stringent requirements for reciprocity (excluding those states which require re-examination). Reciprocity to North Carolina is essential to the safety and protection of the people of our state if we wish to have the pharmacies of this state staffed by qualified personnel. Approximately the same number (45 to 50) of pharmacists reciprocate annually into our state as those who graduate from the school of pharmacy. Approximately 58 per cent of all retail pharmacies in this state are serviced by one pharmacist. In 1964 the number increased from 571 to 582. However well intended this requirement might appear, unnecessary requirements for reciprocity could compound this problem and jeopardize the safety of the people of this state.

What effect will this NABP requirement adopted by our state board have upon the student body of the school of pharmacy?

The training period necessary to receive a license to practice pharmacy has been increased to 5¼ years (with the likelihood of this being extended to 6 months or one full year, ultimately requiring 6 years of training to qualify for licensure); California has already adopted a six year training period for licensure.

Sweeten the Pot this Christmas with...

Hollingsworth's UNUSUAL CANDIES

CHRISTMAS PROMOTION

This board regulation has directly affected the salary of each pharmacy graduate (conceivably from $600 to $1000 during this 3 month period).

This regulation will discourage students from working in pharmacies during summer months. Practical experience received during the summer months is very beneficial to students studying certain courses in the pharmacy school. Why should a student work in a pharmacy for "minimal pay" if he will not receive credit for this experience, especially the summer following his fourth year in the school of Pharmacy?

How many states, if any, will ever enforce this requirement for reciprocity? Only 54 pharmacists have reciprocated from North Carolina since 1960 or approximately 10 each year (or 0.476% of the pharmacists of North Carolina have moved out of our state to practice).

The crux of this analysis is this: does the adoption of a requirement (for which there is no significant purpose or explanation especially in view of the statement made by Mr. H. C. McAllister that the Bylaws of the NABP are "seldom if ever enforced by any state"), that is, a rule requiring that 3 months of practical experience be received after graduation, justify prolonging the registration of every future graduating pharmacy student at the University.

This new regulation has necessitated changing the board examination dates and has given the board an opportunity to more evenly space the examinations 6 months apart. It would not be absolutely necessary that the examination be given the second Tuesday in September if the new after graduation practical experience requirement had not been adopted. The examinations could still be given in June and January if it is more desirable that they be spaced six months apart.

In summarizing this study, is it fair to penalize every graduate of the pharmacy school three months by using the excuse that some day they may want to reciprocate to some other state, when statistics show that less than five tenths of one per cent ever reciprocate out of N. C.?

Motion

As registered pharmacists of this state, are we going to continue accepting every mandate which is handed down by the secretary of the Board of Pharmacy? Are we to be denied the privilege of voting or expressing our opinions on every rule and regulation which directly effects our profession? All that is required to control our professional activities is the adoption of a new rule or regulation, without the consensus of the majority. I would like to make the following motion, that the association petition the members of the board to immediately rescind this new regulation requiring that three months practical experience be received after graduation for the following reasons:

1. That if enforced it would adversely effect reciprocity of pharmacists into our state.
2. And most important of all, that is, it is unjustifiable, unfair, and unnecessary to each student in the school of pharmacy.

Action Taken

A motion to table the Dowdy motion failed to receive a majority vote.

Following some discussion, the original Dowdy motion was voted upon by the delegates present and was passed by a majority vote. (The action of the convention has been transmitted to the State Board of Pharmacy).

Report of W. J. Smith

Secretary-Treasurer

Mr. President,

Members of the NCPHA and Guests:

In our 1964 report to the convention delegates, we outlined these immediate specific objectives:

- (1) Provide a sound, money-saving major medical expense insurance plan to the membership.
- (2) Establish a pension-retirement program—preferably of the balanced type so that members may provide for their own personal security.
- (3) District meetings throughout the State.
- (4) A North Carolina Congress on Medicine and Pharmacy.
- (5) Completion of a Pharmacy Service Program with the State Board of Public Welfare.
- (6) Establishment of a Pharmaceutical Speakers' Bureau.
- (7) Development of a program which will emphasize the Pharmacist as a Public Health Consultant.

Considerable progress has been achieved towards reaching these objectives. The major medical and the investment/retirement plans are in operation; a Congress on Pharmacy and Medicine was held in Durham; more than 95% of the pharmacies of the State are participating in the Welfare Rx Program inaugurated in January of this year; a program—The Pharmacy as a Health Information Center—is underway in the State; and a Pharmaceutical Speakers' Bureau has been established, although not fully organized at this point (SKF has agreed to assist with another speech training school, March of 1966).

In the Months Ahead

In addition to devoting continued interest in and support of the thirty-four projects, programs and publications under direct supervision of the NCPHA, it is anticipated a major part of our time will be taken up in working with allied professional groups in the implementation of Medicare.

In five years it is predicted third parties (government, insurance firms, paid prescription setups) will have an important voice in the economics of Pharmacy, hence the importance of right decision-making at this time. For instance, should the services of the pharmacist be based on a professional fee, and if so, should the fee be a uniform one for the entire state?

Pharmacy is changing, or will be forced to change, in practically every aspect. There will be curriculum changes, practice changes and major changes in the physical setup of pharmacies. The Pharmaceutical Center concept, which you will hear about tomorrow, is one indication of the changing order.

Someone has said most misunderstandings originate over a lack of communication. We hope to avoid this by frequent mailings from the NCPHA headquarters—an average of one every two weeks throughout the year. And we expect to supplement this with personal replies to your daily letters and telephone calls.

Membership

Total membership is now 1566 including 206 members of the Student Branch at Chapel Hill.

Since January 1, 1964, 140 new members have affiliated with the NCPHA. During this same period, 47 members were dropped from the roll for non-payment of dues and the deceased list totaled 15.

A determined effort is being made to enroll additional pharmacists in the NCPHA. Graduates of the UNC School of Pharmacy, when eligible, are urged to affiliate and all reciprocity pharmacists coming into the state receive information about the NCPHA along with a membership application.

The annual membership goal is 100. At press time, 85 new members had been enrolled during 1965. A long-time goal of 1500 pharmacists members is expected in 1966.

Financial

As anticipated, the dues increase voted in 1963 and effective in 1964 not only eliminated the 1963 operating loss of more than $7,000 but helped to contribute approximately $4,000 in net income during the year.

Total net worth of NCPHA assets on December 31, 1964 was $133,217.61. More than half of this ($71,000) is in fixed assets, mainly the Institute of Pharmacy land, building and equipment.

An audited statement of income, disbursements and assets appears on pages 27-29.

Mr. W. J. Smith, Secretary-Treasurer
North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association
Chapel Hill, North Carolina

Dear Sir:

We have examined the Balance Sheet of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association as of December 31, 1964 and the related Statement of Revenue and Expenses for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying Balance Sheet and the related Statement of Revenue and Expenses present fairly the financial position of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association at December 31, 1964 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

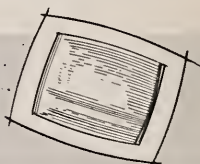

Respectfully submitted,
RICCA, NELSON AND GANTT

Following an invocation by William H. Randall, Dean E. A. Brecht of the UNC School of Pharmacy was introduced. His report follows:

REPORT ON THE SCHOOL OF PHARMACY

by E. A. BRECHT, Dean

President Wolfe, members of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association and guests: It is always a pleasure to give this annual report on the School of Pharmacy.

Enrollment in the School always holds interest for its direct, but gradual relief for the serious shortage of pharmacists which continues in the State. This past fall there were 145 prepharmacy students, an increase of 24, in General College; 285 undergraduate students, an increase of 46, in the School of Pharmacy; and 12 graduate students, an increase of 4, majoring in pharmacy and pharmaceutical chemistry.

Assistant Dean M. A. Chambers who has charge of admissions assures me that there will be another increase in undergraduate students for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy for the fall semester of 1965. There may be a small decrease in the number of prepharmacy freshmen at Chapel Hill due to limitations which had to be applied to the admission of freshmen for all majors due to the large number of applications in excess of the space available on the campus.

Recent publicity has indicated that about one thousand qualified applicants for admission as freshmen could not be accepted at the University. Some of these were applications for a major in pharmacy. This rejection as freshmen does not stop the student in his purpose. He can gain acceptance in another college, junior college, or university and gain full credit for the standard, prepharmacy coursework. With a strong C average or better during this first year, acceptance as a transfer student with second year standing and no loss of credit can be expected. It is important that Dr. Chambers is consulted in advance for the names and numbers of courses at other colleges. He can supply this information and will welcome the opportunity to do so if the name of the college is supplied to him. This procedure will become more and more important in the years ahead. Application for admission as transfers should be filed or reactivated not later than December during the freshman year.

The recruitment of more students to study pharmacy and provide more pharmacists to enter practice in North Carolina continues to be the most important activity for the welfare of pharmacy. No effort in recruitment has been neglected. The report of President Gurley for the N. C. Pharmaceutical Research Foundation includes information for increased support and new activities to this purpose. At the same time it must be emphasized again that much of the most effective recruiting is done by pharmacists and pharmacy students at the local level by interesting and encouraging promising high school students for the study of pharmacy.

This report can be, and is necessarily, brief because the activities at the School are reported monthly in THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY. The most pleasing new accomplishment was a grant of $14,400 from the National Science Foundation for scientific equipment for undergraduate teaching. This amount must be matched over a period of two years by the School, for which support to amount $4,000 was granted by the N. C. Pharmaceutical Research Foundation. This support is gratefully acknowledged.

The pharmacy extension program continued with four successful postgraduate symposiums of four or five weekly meetings at Williamston, Chapel Hill, Winston-Salem, and Charlotte. The enthusiasm of the pharmacists should be encouraging for increased attendance and courses in the future.

Tribute is paid here, again, to three valued members of the School family whose services terminate this year: Miss Alice Noble resigned on March 1 as Research Historian ending service which began in 1921; Dr. Margaret Shaw resigned as Assistant Professor of Pharmacy and has accepted a position at the Butler University College of Pharmacy; and Dr. Henry T. Clark, Jr. received a year's leave-of-absence on the termination of the position Administrator of the Division of Health Affairs.

I am grateful for the acceptance by you of the information concerning my resignation from the deanship of the School as explained in my letter sent in February. After fifteen years in the administrative position I look forward to resuming activity in teaching and research.

A committee is searching diligently for the successor to the position to become the fifth dean of our school. Interviews will be completed next week. The candidates have been outstanding leaders in pharmaceutical education. I am confident that an excellent new dean will be found to carry the School forward.

At the conclusion of Dean Brecht's Report, a motion by Roger McDuffie was adopted that (1) the assembled delegates accord Dean Brecht a rising vote of thanks; (2) the NCPhA express its appreciation for his decision to remain on the pharmacy faculty as a teacher/researcher after he leaves (July 1) his present post as Dean of the Pharmacy School; and (3) the NCPhA go on record with a vote of confidence to the University Administration and faculty of the School of Pharmacy for their continued growth and service to the State and profession.

PHARMACEUTICAL RESEARCH FOUNDATION, INC.

By W. B. GURLEY, President

President Wolfe, ladies and gentlemen:

Although I have been president of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Research Foundation for only two months since the annual meeting of the Board of Directors, I appreciate this opportunity for giving the annual report at this convention of the parent organization.

As far as we can learn ours was the first foundation organized specifically to support education and research in a school of pharmacy and is the most successful by a wide margin.

A brief summary shows that the foundation, in 18 years, has received $323,600 in contributions and $99,200 by interest from investments for a total of $422,800. From this $114,800 was disbursed for pharmaceutical education and research at the School of Pharmacy and $18,550 for operating expenses to leave a current worth to amount $289,450.

The budget for the past year was $10,659 for graduate fellowships, faculty professional grants, support for the position of research historian held by Alice Noble, analyses service, undergraduate scholarships and supplements, special library materials, faculty summer research, etc.

It becomes my duty now which I do with sincere regret to recognize the resignation of Alice Noble as Research Historian in the School of Pharmacy. Miss Noble's devoted and distinguished service in the school began in 1921 and continued to March 1 of this year. It might be noted here that there was not one single day of sick leave in this whole period. She now wishes to have more time for private interests which include historical researches. We extend our best wishes for happiness, good health, and continued success in new activities. The foundation has approved funds for an attractive display case to safeguard the collection of special records completed by Miss Noble.

The budget for this year not only continues active support, but adds to it, for the recruitment of more students for the School of Pharmacy. These include funds for recruitment folders, a display for Career Day programs, 25 portable displays for pharmacies and schools, a copy of the new nationally prepared recruitment film, and travel expenses for recruitment in junior and community colleges. This should encourage pharmacists and students to continue their effective encouragement for more students to study pharmacy.

Another special appropriation was approved for special equipment consisting of a gas chromatograph costing $4,000 for undergraduate teaching. It was understood that this expenditure would be considered matching money in an application to the National Science Foundation for scientific equipment to improve undergraduate instruction. The good information has been received that this request was approved to the amount $14,400 from the federal agency.

This past year pharmacists served as chairmen in their counties to solicit contributions to the foundation. This annual support is essential for the continued growth of this foundation for our profession. The success was good; the foundation received $12,366.50 from 411 contributions. This included 15 contributions to a value of $468 for the General Endowment Fund to the memory of the late Mary R. Brecht. Dean Brecht has expressed his appreciation for this thoughtful remembrance.

In closing I urge your active support and help to our foundation.

STUDENT BRANCH—1964-65 REPORTBy NEILL MUSSELWHITE, President

President Wolfe, Mr. Smith, Dean Brecht—pharmacists—guests—fellow students:

As outgoing President of the Student Branches of APhA and NCPA, my last official duty is the submittance of this report on the activities of the Student Branches for 1964-65.

Our first meeting was held last October 1st as a reception for all prepharmacy and all pharmacy students. The faculty and the new student officers were introduced, refreshments were served, and guided tours were conducted to familiarize the prepharmacy students with the school.

At our second meeting on October 22, 1964, Dr. Edgar T. Beddingfield, Counselor of the 4th Medical District, spoke to us on "Interprofessional Relationships" and touched on various care for the aged programs. He paralleled his comments with the everyday problems that face pharmacists and physicians.

On November 19, 1964, Mr. W. S. Wolfe, President of NCPA presented to the Student Branches his three Vice-Presidents, W. T. Boone, C. D. Blanton, and S. D. Griffin, Jr., who gave talks on the following respective topics: "The Professional Fee Concept as a Method of Pricing Prescriptions"; "Professional Opportunities"; "Problems Confronting Pharmacy as a Profession." Mr. W. J. Smith held a question and answer period at the end of the program.

Busy study schedules and various Christmas parties made a December meeting impractical to have, but we started the new year with a fine program on "The Economic Future of Pharmacy in North Carolina." Mr. Charles A. Chagaris, Editor of the Lilly Digest, flew down on January 12th from Indianapolis to be our guest speaker for the evening. Pharmacists from Alamance, Wake, and Durham-Orange Pharmaceutical Societies were present.

On February 23rd, N. C. State Senator of Wake and Chatham counties, J. Ruffin Bailey, was present to speak on "Opportunities for Students in Pharmacy."

A change of pace was initiated in our programs on March 23 when Dr. Hugh Lefler, Vice-President of the Southern Historical Society, and UNC Professor of History, spoke on "North Carolina History." Dr. Lefler's local history jokes and other added bits of color made his talk very interesting and well received. Rh Chi initiates were tapped during this meeting.

Neill Musselwhite, President of the UNC Students' Branch at Chapel Hill, was introduced by President Wolfe. His report follows:

On March 28th-April 2nd, our chapter sent three (3) delegates to the Detroit APhA convention; they were, John Rawlins, Tarboro; Bill Foster, Mocksville; Neill Musselwhite, Carolina Beach; speaking for myself it was one of the greatest experiences of my life, and I am happy to report that with the help of UNC's other two delegates, I was able to win a national office, Alternate Delegate to the House of Delegates; minor as it may be, it is at least a start in the right direction.

On April 27th program concerned "Extrasensory Perception" and more specifically Telepathy, Clairvoyance, and Precognition. Dr. John A. Freeman of the Duke University Parapsychology Department was our speaker; he closed his comments with a few remarks on Mental Energy, the ability of the mind to stop moving matter and he cited several examples such as clocks and dice. During the question and answer period, Dr. Freeman explained the processes by which he makes up various ESP Tests.

Awards Night, our last traditional meeting of the year, was held on May 11th; at that time I introduced the newly elected officers of Student Branches and turned the meeting over to the new President, Terry Heatherington of Bessemer City.

Consolidated Pharmacy Fund

The Report of The Consolidated Pharmacy Fund, as presented by Chairman Robert B. Hall of Mocksville, appeared in the September issue of THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY, page 36.

REPORT OF THE NCPHA—INSTITUTE ENDOWMENT COMMITTEE

T. J. HAM, JR., Yanceyville, Chairman
Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen:

The Institute—Association Endowment Fund continues to make progress.

Value of The Fund is now slightly more than $21,000, all in 4% building and loan stock. The annual return from this investment, which is the part available for current or special programs whenever needed, would be more than $800.00.

As previously agreed upon, The Fund received $1000 from the Association during the latter part of 1964. While this represents less than a dollar per member, the continuous support of the Association on a regular basis will aid materially in reaching the objectives of The Fund.

Following the Charlotte Convention last year, a member of this Association contributed shares of stock valued at more than $200 to The Fund. If you have stock which has appreciated in value so much that you cannot dispose of it without incurring substantial tax liability, contribute the stock to The Fund. It will remain in The Fund as a permanent investment. The dividends will be available for the annual needs of the Association.

Some pharmacists and some organizations make contributions to The Fund in memory of deceased persons or instead of sending flowers when a friend or loved one dies. This policy has been followed by the NCPHA for several years. We commend it to you.

Your support of The Fund is appreciated; your assistance now means a brighter future for Pharmacy tomorrow.

COMMUNITY MENTAL HEALTH AND THE PHARMACIST

By DONALD W. BELCHER, *Distribution Field
Sales Manager, Smith Kline & French Laboratories*

(excerpts from convention talk)

"Now, what we've been talking about today are really socio-economic problems and pharmacy's interests in these kinds of problems is one of the most important developments in modern pharmacy. As professional men, you cannot stand by and allow the world to change in a way in which you think it should not. In the mental health area, specifically, there is a challenge to pharmacy. You must recognize the changes that are taking place in this health area and be prepared with recommendations to cope with the drug problems that arise. Let me suggest three simple actions on your part:

First. Learn what's going on in your state. This is easily done by contacting the executive director of your state mental health association.

Second. Take a position based on facts and act in conjunction with your professional colleagues—the state medical association and local branches of the APhA.

Finally, and really most important, care for the mentally sick. Don't you reject them as this country has done for too long. Care whether the best plan is developed for their treatment. This is not only a professional approach to the problem; it is humanitarian.

Remember, your responsibilities here are divided. You are pharmacists—professional men—with talents and knowledge your health team colleagues need right now—but you are also citizens, average citizens—like I am, whose social and political responsibility in this case transcends your profession.

The mentally ill and retarded have had so pitifully few voices speaking in their behalf over the years, and we call now for yours which have been silent not only as pharmacists, but as average citizens. If you respond and others like you, the change in the still dreadful treatment of the mentally ill and retarded in this country will be a sight to behold.

Pharmacy in Perspective Past, Present and Future

This talk by James A. Donahue, Jr., Executive Vice-President of the R. A. Gosselin and Company, appeared in the August, 1965 issue of THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY, beginning on page 23.

The Importance of Pharmaceutical Know-How

This talk by W. E. Powers, Secretary of the National Pharmaceutical Council, will be published in THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY at a later date.

Following an introduction by Mr. John Henley, Chairman of the Association's Committee on Public Health and Welfare, details of the Welfare Rx Program was discussed by Russell R. Chambers, Director of the Division of Medical Services, State Board of Public Welfare.

Mr. Chambers said that a total of 177,000 persons in the State were eligible for prescription service under terms of Kerr-Mills and related programs; that his office staff was rapidly catching up on the processing of claims for payment and that by early August it was hoped the program could be on a current 30-day basis.

Mr. Chambers answered numerous questions from the delegates, indicating a high degree of interest in this new program which is less than five months old. (Note: By August 1, 95% of the State's pharmacies had signed working agreements with the State Board of Public Welfare; the blue claim forms were running about 22,000 per month with an average of three Rxs per claim).

The session was adjourned at 12 noon.

Tuesday, May 18, P.M. Session

The concluding business session of the 1965 NCPHA Convention was opened by President Wolfe.

President Wolfe: Our first speaker of the afternoon is one we feel very fortunate in enticing to our meeting, for he has a splendid reputation as one of the nation's most interesting speakers. Here to introduce him is Bill Brewer, Vice-President in charge of sales of Justice Drug Company.

The taped address by the speaker, David A. Pettigrew, National Sales Manager for Sylvanis Electric Products, is available from the NCPHA on a free-loan basis. Excerpts from the talk will be printed in a future issue of THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY.

Resolutions

Twelve resolutions, as presented by W. T. Boone, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, were adopted by the delegates. The resolutions were printed in the June 1965 issue of THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY, pages 27-37.

Time and Place

The Committee on Time and Place, James A. Darlington, Chairman, recommended that Winston-Salem be designated the 1967 Convention City and that the time be left up to the Association's executive committee following a conference with hotel officials on available dates. The report was adopted. (Note: The 1966 NCPHA Convention will be held in Asheville, June 12-14).

Nominations

W. Latham West, Chairman of the Committee on Nominations, presented the following report which was adopted without change.

Committee on Nominations

W. LATHAM WEST, Chairman

For President: Charles D. Blanton, Jr. of Kings Mountain and G. B. Propst of Morganton.

For First Vice-President: Sandy D. Griffin, Jr. of Burlington and Seth G. Miller of Lexington.

For Second Vice-President: James L. Creech of Smithfield and Lloyd M. Whaley of Wallace.

For Third Vice-President: A. Hal Cornwell of Lincolnton and Earl H. Tate of Lenoir.

For member of the Executive Committee, three year term: W. Thomas Boone of Ahoskie and Mrs. Ernestine B. Lynch of Dunn.

New Flavor! New Promotion! New Profits!

Boost your ice cream volume—and your store volume—by stocking Sealtest, the one brand steadily sparked by Special Flavor promotions. NEW in name, NEW in taste excitement, NEW in consumer appeal—each Special Flavor is backed by a terrific promotion that will attract customers for ice cream and build your sales of other items as well!

- Colorful magazine ads feature each Special Flavor.
- High-frequency TV commercials in prime time sell hard in your local area . . . to your customers.

- Colorful cartons individually designed to promote each Special Flavor.

One Flavor sells the others—
When they're from Sealtest

For member of the N. C. Board of Pharmacy, five year term: Harold V. Day of Spruce Pine and Truman Hudson of Gastonia.

For Directors (4) of the N. C. Pharmaceutical Research Foundation: Joe P. Barbour, Sr. of Burlington, Paul B. Bissette, Sr. of Wilson, D. A. Dowdy, Sr. of High Point, Wade A. Gilliam of Winston-Salem, Jesse M. Pike of Concord, I. T. Reamer of Durham, W. Dorsey Welch, Jr. of Washington and W. Latham West of Roseboro.

At this point, it was announced the next scheduled speaker, Governor Dan Moore, was unable to be present on account of illness. A close friend of Governor Moore's, Pharmacist Sam Burrus of Canton, said the Governor hoped to be present for the June, 1966 NCPHA meeting in Asheville.

Mrs. George Markham, President of The Woman's Auxiliary of the NCPHA, was introduced. The highlights of her remarks are included in her annual report to the Auxiliary—see page 62.

J. M. Morgan, President of the TMA, expressed his organization's appreciation for the opportunity of working with the NCPHA on common goals and extended an invitation to the delegates and guests to attend the Annual TMA Party, scheduled later that day in the Durham Civic Center.

The session was adjourned briefly in order to set up the officer installation ceremony. The meeting was reconvened at 4:30 p.m. with Edwin R. Fuller of Salisbury as installing officer.

Officers Installed 1965-1966 will. To achieve this end, your continued cooperation and support will be needed.

In Appreciation

In conclusion, we would like to express our appreciation to all of our officers, committees, members, and affiliated groups for their support during the past year. It has enabled us to achieve objectives not otherwise possible. It has permitted an extension of the Association's program into new areas of endeavor. It has, in short, enabled the Association to more completely fulfill its objective of "advancing the art of the Apothecary."

SUMMER SLUGGER

Soltice, the modern quick rub, applies the home-run wallop to exercise-induced muscular soreness . . . hits the curve well all season (sales curve, that is!) Sign Soltice up now for a slump-free summer!

The Annual Business Session (Edited)

The Woman's Auxiliary of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association met for its thirty-eighth annual business session at twelve noon, May 18, 1965, in the Washington Duke Ballroom of the Jack Tar Durham Hotel, Durham. The president, Mrs. George W. Markham, presided.

Following the invocation by Mrs. Guy Lee Byerly, Jr. and the welcome by Mrs. Benjamin W. Bullock, Mrs. Leon Kimball, wife of the Sealtest Foods Zone Manager, brought greetings from the luncheon host. A response was given by Mrs. John T. Stevenson, retiring member of the Auxiliary Executive Board.

MRS. GEORGE W. MARKHAM
President, Woman's Auxiliary
N. C. Pharmaceutical Assn. 1964-'65

Past-Presidents of the Auxiliary were recognized. The Assembly then paused in respect to two Auxiliary members who had died during the year—Mrs. E. A. Brecht of Chapel Hill and Mrs. D. L. Boone of Durham.

The President appointed two committees: Mrs. M. L. Jacobs, Mrs. Floyd Goodrich, and Mrs. W. A. West to serve on the Minutes Committee; Mrs. Robert B. Hall, Mrs. W. L. Sloan, and Mrs. Charles Wharton to serve on the Auditing Committee. They were asked to meet June 24th at the Institute of Pharmacy, Chapel Hill.

EXECUTIVE BOARD AND STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Mrs. Latham West, reporting for the Executive Board, said that the group had met four times during the year, and that Mrs. Markham had presided at all sessions. Action taken by the Board at these meetings included:

$50 allotted to the Pharmacy Student Wives toward their expenses for the annual tea and the Christmas party.

$200 added to the Lucile Swaringen Rogers Scholarship Fund.

$100 allotted to the School of Pharmacy to be used for the direct benefit of pharmacy students.

$250 allotted to the Institute of Pharmacy for special needs.

$200 allotted for clerical work.

$50 given toward expenses incurred at the Institute for official meetings of the Auxiliary.

Approval of the project urging local auxiliaries and interested individuals to place copies of the reference book "The Profession of Pharmacy" in high schools and public libraries—and subsequent theme-writing contests.

The setting up of a Woman's Auxiliary Loan Account within the framework of the Consolidated Pharmacy Fund, project of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association.

This report was adopted by the Assembly.

MEMBERSHIP

Mrs. Charles D. Blanton, Jr., Membership Chairman, reported a total membership at convention time of 583, including 8 life members, 20 student pharmacy wives, and 25 new members. She reported convention attendance at 187.

HOSPITALITY

Mrs. W. T. Boone, Hospitality Chairman, reported that her committee had sent a total of 24 messages to members who were sick, bereaved, etc.

PARLIAMENTARIAN

Mrs. Robert B. Hall, Parliamentarian, gave the following report with its recommendation:

"In all organizations where there is progress such as we enjoy, it is wise to stop periodically and take stock of the structure of the governing regulations, to see whether they are still adequate and appropriate. As Parliamentarian, I have been asked to make a study of our Auxiliary in this regard. Factors which we have considered include:

1. The large number of members—of which we are very proud.
2. The increasing number of local auxiliaries—of which we are also very proud.
3. The fact that it is the desire of each president to visit every local auxiliary during her term of office.
4. That a study of the Constitution and By-Laws reveals that a specific term of office is not spelled out for our elected leaders.

With these factors in mind, it is our recommendation that the outgoing president appoint a committee to study the officer structure of the Auxiliary, particularly spelling out the desired length of terms of office, and that this committee report their findings to the Executive Board of the Woman's Auxiliary by January 1, 1966.

If a revision in the officer structure and the Constitution and By-Laws is needed, then the Executive Board could, in turn, under the guidance of the incoming president, take the necessary steps to bring this before the members through an issue of "Doings." Therefore, any changes desired could be publicized to the members with voting on them to be a part of the 1966 Convention Business Session."

The report was adopted by vote of the Assembly and the president appointed the following committee to carry out the directives of the recommendation: Mrs. Robert B. Hall, Mrs. Hoy A. Moose, Mrs. Robert H. Milton.

HISTORIAN

Mrs. Hoy A. Moose, Historian, called attention to the display of the 1964-65 Auxiliary Scrapbook on the mezzanine of the hotel, saying that it would be completed when convention news and photographs could be added.

RESOLUTIONS

Mrs. William H. Randall, Resolutions Chairman, read resolutions of appreciation to the members responsible for the convention events; to Mrs. John T. Stevenson for her years of work on the Executive Board; and to the NCPHA, the TMA, organizations and companies sponsoring convention functions, or contributing prizes.

A resolution promoting traffic safety was also read, reminding members that "traffic accidents must be reduced in North Carolina through the daily practice of traffic courtesy and traffic safety." All Resolutions were adopted as read.

PUBLICITY

The publicity chairman, Mrs. W. P. Wells, reported that news releases had been distributed to North Carolina newspapers concerning the Fall Workshop and the convention. She also reported that local auxiliary presidents had been contacted and urged to submit their organizations' reports to the CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY.

Mrs. George Cocolas, Editor of "Doings," reported that one issue was mailed in September 1964—but that the second issue had been used as a membership letter early in 1965.

WAYS AND MEANS

Mrs. James L. Creech, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, reported that through the efforts of the Auxiliary and the NCPHA, approximately 250 copies of The Profession of Pharmacy had been placed in high schools and public libraries of the state. Her committee recommended that this support of the book project be continued, in order that the objectives of the project might be completely realized.

The recommendation was adopted by vote of the Assembly.

NOMINATING

Mrs. Thomas M. Holland, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, submitted the following slate of officers to serve for the year 1965-66: President, Mrs. Charles D. Blanton, Jr., Kings Mountain; First Vice-President, Mrs. James L. Creech, Smithfield; Second Vice-President, Mrs. W. Latham West, Roseboro; Secretary, Mrs. Billy T. Allen, Raleigh; Treasurer, Mrs. C. C. Wheeler, Creedmoor; Historian, Mrs. William H. Houser, Jr., Cherryville; Parliamentarian, Mrs. Phillip Crouch, Asheville. The officers were elected by acclamation of the Assembly.

LOCAL REPORTS

Local Auxiliary reports were heard from Asheville, Burlington-Alamance, Cabarrus County, Chapel Hill, Cumberland County, Charlotte, Durham, Gaston County, Greensboro, High Point, Northeastern Carolina, Pharmacy Student Wives of Chapel Hill, Raleigh, Rowan-Davie Counties, Winston-Salem. Mrs. Markham commended the local presidents for their many and varied activities.

HISTORY PUBLICATION

The President announced that the history of the Woman's Auxiliary had been brought up to date—a continuation covering the years 1954-1964, by Mrs. Ralph Rogers, Sr., and called attention to the mimeographed copies available from the Pages at the door of the room. Mrs. Markham stated that it was the suggestion of Mrs. Rogers that the history be brought up-to-date every five years rather than waiting for a ten year period. Mrs. Rogers was recognized and appreciation was expressed for her time and talent in writing the history.

Mrs. John T. Stevenson, retiring Advisor from the Executive Board, was given an ovation from the Assembly to show its appreciation for her many years of service, her contributions, her time and talents to the Auxiliary.

The wives of Pharmacy students who served as Pages were recognized—Mrs. Clark Doggett, Mrs. Ronald Hargis, Mrs. Larry Kennedy, and Mrs. Harry Lee Matthews.

Mrs. Blanton, Jr., First Vice-President, took the chair while the President gave her report.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

You have heard the reports of our standing committees and local presidents—and anything I would say with regard to our work would be repetitious.

The word 'auxiliary' is defined as 'a helper—anything that helps.' Throughout the United States there are thousands of auxiliaries related to hundreds of causes—ranging from local to national professional organizations. To many pharmacists and TMA wives, however, 'auxiliary' means only one thing—a group of women banded together to assist their husbands in the field of Pharmacy.

Auxiliaries, pharmaceutically speaking, may be affiliated with national—state—or local professional groups. They may be large or small—old or newly-organized—active on many fronts or occupied primarily by social concerns, but, in general, they are characterized by a note of determination to play an important part in advancing the profession.

Among the principal objects of auxiliary efforts we can count projects such as: Improving relations among pharmacists themselves by offering opportunities for pleasant social activities; encouraging a more active part in professional organizations; continuing our contributions to scholarships or student loan funds for students in our Pharmacy School; working on programs of career guidance; promoting opportunities in our communities for interpretation of pharmacy in relation to the health of the community; assisting in community efforts to promote better health practices; and, working in support of better State and Federal legislation.

Many of these efforts are made individually, but the stimulus which comes from association at the local and state levels is tremendous and the accomplishments of our auxiliaries have been noteworthy.

This past year has been so fleet. Time goes so quickly when you are enjoying yourself, and as your thirty-third president, it has been a rich experience.

Last April, in Charlotte, after being installed, I felt like Cinderella, an old one, when she went to the Ball—the many lovely compliments, the good wishes, congratulations—the beautiful orchid the TMA sent to my room—I felt very elated and deeply grateful for the confidence placed in me by the nominating committee and for your vote of confidence—and then I went home. My best friend called and said, “I’ll be right over—I want to see that hole in your head. You must be out of your mind. Do you realize the responsibility of being State President?”

With the honor and privilege of being president came responsibilities and as time went on I traveled approximately four thousand miles over our beautiful state.

My first invitation came from the Pharmacy Student Wives Auxiliary, asking me to be guest speaker at the mock graduation ceremony of the senior wives, at which time the wives received their P.H.T. degree—“putting hubby thru.” This was a very unique occasion and a most enthusiastic group—eager to become a part of their chosen communities upon graduation.

In May, committee appointments were made and confirmed. Handbooks were mailed to all officers with a copy of the 1964-1965 membership list.

In June it was my pleasure to attend the Pharmacist-of-the-Year dinner in Washington, North Carolina, honoring W. Dorsey Welch.

Since our Auxiliary is an affiliated member of the North Carolina Council of Women's Organizations, I attended the Council's Workshop luncheon and also their annual installation of officers luncheon in Chapel Hill.

In August—a meeting with the Editor of “Doings” and material compiled for our September newsletter.

Letters were sent out to all committee members and local presidents urging them to attend Workshop and particularly requesting that they invite the members in their local clubs and respective areas to attend. Skits were mailed to Board members participating in the program of Workshop and material compiled and mimeographed for kits to be given to everyone attending. (I heard one of our past-presidents make the remark that she wrote hundreds of letters during her term of office and now I know what she meant.)

Our annual Fall Workshop was held September 24th. Sixty-three members attended. Reports were heard from the officers and committee chairmen. Role-playing skits were presented on Parliamentary Law, Membership, Projects and Programs. Robert B. Hall, Chairman of the Consolidated Pharmacy Fund, was guest speaker. The adopted project was presented by the Ways and Means Committee and W. J. Smith, Executive Secretary of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association. A tour of the School of Pharmacy was conducted by Dean E. A. Brecht. The Chapel Hill Woman's Pharmaceutical Auxiliary was hostess for the luncheon at the Institute of Pharmacy.

Mr. W. S. Wolfe, President of the Association, presented the Woman's Auxiliary with a check for $50 to be used for any purpose in our work.

The recipient of the Vivian Smith Scholarship this year was Larry Kennedy, senior in the School of Pharmacy.

Our Emergency Loan Fund stands at $1,571.25; our Reserve Fund at $640; and as of March 31st, the Scholarship Fund at $5,530.91.

Before Christmas six visits were made to the local auxiliaries: Cabarrus County Pharmaceutical Society's luncheon meeting at the home of its president in Concord; Western North Carolina Drug Auxiliary in October, a beautiful time of the year to visit in Asheville; Charlotte Drug Club Auxiliary luncheon meeting, as guest speaker, sharing honors with Miss Alice Noble, a noble lady whose memory is the receptacle and sheath of all knowledge.' To the Rowan-Davie Drug Auxiliary's luncheon meeting in Salisbury, at which time they also had a program on traffic safety; to The Apothecary Club in Winston-Salem as guest speaker at their Christmas party and delightful auction sale; and to the High Point Pharmaceutical Auxiliary's Christmas party at the home of one of their members in Thomasville.

In January I represented our organization at the Governor's Safety Council meeting and luncheon in Raleigh. Folders containing information on traffic safety were mailed to all local auxiliary presidents for their use in relaying the program to each member.

February was filled with visits to: the Raleigh Drug Club Auxiliary's twentieth anniversary and charter member tea; three luncheon meetings, as guest speaker of the Gaston County Auxiliary, the Greensboro Drug Club Auxiliary, and a joint meeting of the Mortar and Pestle Club of Durham and the Chapel Hill Pharmaceutical Auxiliary. And, a dinner meeting of the Cumberland County Pharmaceutical Auxiliary, held jointly with the Cape Fear Valley Pharmaceutical Society.

My final visit was made on May 4th—a meeting with the Mortar and Pestle Club at the home of our Convention Chairman, Mrs. Floyd Goodrich.

I have visited the School of Pharmacy and the Institute of Pharmacy on many occasions during the year. Whoever said—"There is nothing less costly or which pays greater returns than the habit of kindly courtesy and consideration of others in our daily life" must have had Mrs. W. J. Smith in mind. My personal thanks to Vivian for letting me "lean on her."

To the officers, committee chairmen and local presidents—it has been a pure joy to work with you, to get to know you. My sincere thanks for your cooperation and the many courtesies extended to me.

To the Auxiliary's Convention Chairman and Co-Chairman, and all who had a hand in this outstanding Convention, my highest praise for the magnificent job you have done.

And—to all the members at large—as members of our Auxiliary—we could not, without your help, do our share in the promotion of a brighter future for Pharmacy.

Mrs. William H. Houser presented Mrs. Markham with a gift of silver from the Woman's Auxiliary as a token of appreciation for her work during the year.

Mrs. Markham, at this time, presented Mrs. Charles D. Blanton, Jr. with the President's traveling pin and gavel.

Following announcements by Mrs. Blanton and Mrs. Goodrich, the President declared the meeting adjourned.

To His Excellency
Governor Dan K. Moore
Raleigh, N. C.
Dear Sir:

In compliance with Article 4, Section 90-57 of the General Statutes of North Carolina, we are pleased to submit to you and to the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association the Eighty-Fourth Annual Report of the North Carolina Board of Pharmacy. This report contains the proceedings of the Board for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1965.

Respectfully yours,
N. C. BOARD OF PHARMACY
H. C. McAllister
Secretary-Treasurer

ADMINISTRATION

Except for the changes and additions in membership and staff as outlined above, the personnel complement of the Board remains the same as it has for the past five or more years. A diligent effort has been made to handle all matters coming to the attention of the Board as expeditiously as possible. During the year, forty-two cases involving disciplinary actions claimed the attention of the Board. These are summarized as follows:

Offense	Number of Cases
FDA convictions	3
Unlicensed personnel filling prescriptions	49
Gross immorality (Substitution)....	12
Excessive use of alcohol	4
Dispensing drugs without authorization	3
Actions taken in these cases were:
Before the courts —Restraining order (Confession of Judgment)		9
Before the Board
Revocation of pharmacist's license	6
Revocation of drug store permit	8
Affidavits of compliance	22
Action held in abeyance	11
Cases dismissed due to inadequate evidence to support the complaints filed with the Board	10
Cases pending	5

MEETINGS

During the year ten meetings of the Board were held. All of these were at the office of the Board, 109 Church Street, Chapel Hill. Examinations for license were held at the June and February meetings as usual.

In June, 1964, thirty-five candidates qualified for admission to the examination; nineteen passed and were registered. They are as follows:

REPORT OF ATTORNEY WOOTEN

North Carolina Board of Pharmacy
 P. O. Box 471
 Chapel Hill, North Carolina
 Re: Annual Report

Gentlemen:

During the past fiscal year 1964-1965, the undersigned has been in attendance at all meetings and functions of the Board of Pharmacy and has undertaken to provide the necessary time in connection with legal matters pertaining to the Board's business during this year. I have discussed with the graduates of the Pharmacy School, the candidates for examination and the applicants for license by reciprocity the regulations of the practice of pharmacy in North Carolina. Much time of this office has been spent in connection with distribution of information to newly licensed pharmacists or candidates therefor in an effort to obtain a better understanding between the licensee and the regulatory body.

The number one problem facing pharmacy at this time is the continued failure or lack of understanding of licensed pharmacists, as well as unprofessional employees, of what is meant by the restriction on the part of unprofessional employees in rendering pharmaceutical services except when acting as an aid to and under the supervision of a registered pharmacist or registered assistant pharmacist. Because of this lack of understanding, there continues to be a large number of violations of the North Carolina law with respect to unqualified persons rendering pharmaceutical services. This condition will continue until such time as professional pharmacists assume the responsibility of professional people in informing the public of the importance of this professional service to the public's health and welfare.

Instead of professional people attempting to find short cuts in the rendering of these important services, the pharmacists of North Carolina should concern themselves more with complete compliance with the State and Federal laws and the highest professional code of ethics commensurate with this vital service.

This office would strongly urge that more members of the profession be invited to attend the monthly meetings of the Board in order to observe firsthand the problems which face the Board on a much-too-frequent basis. It is believed that if each member of the Pharmaceutical Association was to witness, at one time or another, the necessity for the disciplinary actions which are being taken that there would be a greater understanding on the part of all concerned with the problems facing pharmacy at this time.

It has been a pleasure to serve another year as the general counsel for the North Carolina Board of Pharmacy, and we look forward to serving each and every one of the members of this profession in the future.

Respectfully submitted,

Yours very truly,
 Bailey, Dixon & Wooten

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT
609 First-Citizens Bank Building
RALEIGH, N. C.
May 8, 1965

To The Officers & Members of the North Carolina Board of Pharmacy:

Gentlemen:

Pursuant to engagement, we have audited the financial records of Mr. H. C. McAllister, Secretary & Treasurer of the North Carolina Board of Pharmacy, for the period from May 1, 1964 to April 30, 1965, and the attached statement of Cash Receipts & Disbursements presents a Summary of Operations for the fiscal Year.

All Receipts entered on the Cash Book were in agreement with duplicate receipts on file and were properly deposited in the bank. Disbursements for the fiscal year were made for apparently proper purposes and are supported by signed, paid checks, receipted bills, etc.

The Balance on Hand at April 30, 1965 consists of the following:

CASH IN BANKS:

North Carolina National Bank	$19,966.21
The University National Bank of Chapel Hill (Savings)	11,522.32	$31,488.53

INVESTMENTS:

U. S. Treasury Bonds (2½%)	5,000.00
----------------------------	-----------------

TOTAL BALANCE APRIL 30, 1965	$36,488.53

The Cash in Banks was reconciled and verified. The five U. S. Treasury Bonds, 2½%, of $1,000.00 each, were inspected.

The fidelity bond for the Secretary & Treasurer, in the amount of $5,000.00, has been continued to October 1, 1965. Two fire insurance policies of $2,500.00 each, or a total of $5,000.00 on office equipment, were examined.

The records as heretofore, are in a most satisfactory condition and no difficulty was experienced in the verification thereof. We acknowledge the assistance rendered and courtesies extended during the progress of the examination.

Respectfully submitted,
R. L. Price

How to tame an iron-poor tiger

When youngsters balk at taking iron preparations, you can win them over by recommending Zentron® Chewable. Most youngsters love the taste of strawberries, and that's the flavor they get in this tasty hematinic. But good taste aside, Zentron Chewable offers two additional advantages: It eliminates the spillage and stickiness common with liquid hematinics and thus insures full and accurate dosage. In addition, the iron salt in Zentron Chewable is ferrous fumarate. Its effectiveness as a hematinic has been consistently demonstrated.¹⁻⁵ Each tablet contains 20 mg. of readily absorbed iron, 100 mg. of ascorbic acid, and liberal quantities of the B vitamins. Dosage for children two years and older is 1 tablet one to three times daily. Available in bottles of 50.

THE COST OF DRUGS

by C. MACBETH CAIN, Henrietta, N. C.

Are drugs higher than conditions warrant? Why is it that a pocket knife that sold for $1.00 twenty-five years ago sells for $3.00 today? Why is a pair of shoes that sold for $5.00 in 1940 has a price tag of $20.00 today? Are either of these items any better than they were twenty-five years ago? The difference in price lies in the relative cost of production and distribution of the respective eras.

There is no question of the relative value of drugs in the two eras contrasted. From the standpoint of quality and physiological potency, today's drugs are far superior to anything available in the medical field two or three decades ago. A few weeks ago the press hearded as something of note that a reliable pharmaceutical manufacturer had voluntarily reduced the wholesale price of one of its products by twenty percent shortly after the medicinal agent had been introduced to the medical profession. What is so unusual about that?

Reputable pharmaceutical manufacturers, especially within the past two decades, have demonstrated an outstanding performance in providing the public, through research and business ability, with drugs of high quality and medicinal potency at reasonable prices. The most outstanding example in this area is Penicillin. During World War II, when Penicillin was released for civilian use, tablets of 1000 units were dispensed at $1.00. Today, should the same price prevail, an ordinary prescription for twelve tablets of 400,000 units each, would cost the patient about $5000.00.

From the time of the Kefauver Investigation, the public has acquired the impression that by "letting down the bars" and allowing the pharmacist to use his discretion in employing generic drugs rather than brand name products, the cost of medicines would be substantially lowered. Advocates of the shift to generics assume the patient will be protected by a mandatory requirement that the generic drug be "pure."

Purity is not quality. A drug might meet the requirement as to purity but, from the standpoint of medicinal potency, be entirely worthless. A simple illustration: Give ten women the same ingredients—flour, shortening, etc.—and have them make a batch of biscuits. Some will produce biscuits of artistic appeal, good physical texture, and of digestible quality. Others would produce just the reverse. That is the difference between generic drugs and brand name products of reliable manufacturers.

NCPHA President Boone "Tar Heel of the Week"

W. T. Boone, President of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, named "Tar Heel of the Week," was featured in the October 10 edition of The Raleigh News & Observer.

In a 6-col. story written by N & O staff writer Susan Lewis, President Boone discussed pharmacy's future, which he said would be mostly a professional operation for the independent non-chain pharmacist. Boone is converting to such an operation in early 1966.

The concluding part of the feature story covered Tom's biographical background, including his Army career. Pharmacists will agree with the final quote: "You've really got to have a love for this profession because it takes so much time."

Antique Typewriter

Mr. and Mrs. James Paul Greene of Boone have loaned the Institute of Pharmacy a 75-year-old typewriter which has been placed on display in the lobby of the Institute of Pharmacy.

Called "The World Typewriter," the machine has not exactly lived up to its name. A fast operator might be able to get 10 to 15 letter impression per minute. While the machine bears little resemblance to the typewriters in use today, it and others with modifications helped to make possible the efficient typewriters now produced in the millions.

Public acceptance of the pharmacist as a health communicator was firmly established during a recent national survey when patrons stated that next to the physician, the pharmacist was the professional to whom they turned for information about health.

To aid the pharmacist in meeting this professional opportunity for service, the American Pharmaceutical Association is now offering, on an annual subscription basis, a NCPHA endorsed and high recommended "Family Health Information Center" service program.

A significant number of the Centers are now in operation on a nation-wide basis. Percentage-wise, California is at the top, followed closely by Michigan and Ohio. North Carolina is in the 4th spot.

One of the Centers (very popular with visiting groups) is in the lobby of The Institute of Pharmacy, Chapel Hill. Our three cover pictures depict how the Center operates:

The coded reserve supply of literature is arranged so that any specific brochure can be located in seconds. NCPHA President W. T. Boone is shown with the individually boxed brochures.

Where space is at a premium, other filing methods can be used. With a little effort, you can establish your pharmacy as "The Health Information Center" of your community.

Pharmacists interested in subscribing to the APhA Health Education Center Service Program can obtain the details from the NCPHA, Box 151, Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

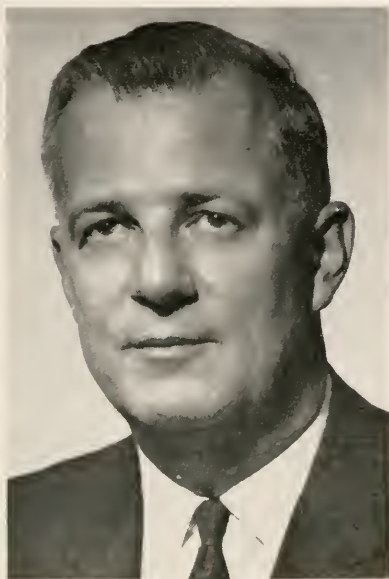

Dean George P. Hager: A Biographical Sketch

Someone has said: "... each man has his own potential in terms of achievement and service." George Philip Hager was elected to be the sixty-fifth president of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy because his colleagues were aware of his potential and impressed by his rectitude. In Dean Hager the Association recognized a man who, cognizant of the currents and undercurrents of professional opinion, could express the purposes and the problems of the Association in clear, nonemotional terms.

Few men in pharmaceutical education in our time have come closer than George Hager to the idea of the whole man: the scientist, the teacher, the leader, the man of action, the family man, and the man of God.

THE SCIENTIST

Born in Baltimore, Maryland, on March 16, 1916, and educated in the public schools of that city, George Hager evinced an early interest in science: Upon the occasion of his graduation from high school, he was presented with the Howard Ingham Chemistry Award.

DEAN GEORGE P. HAGER

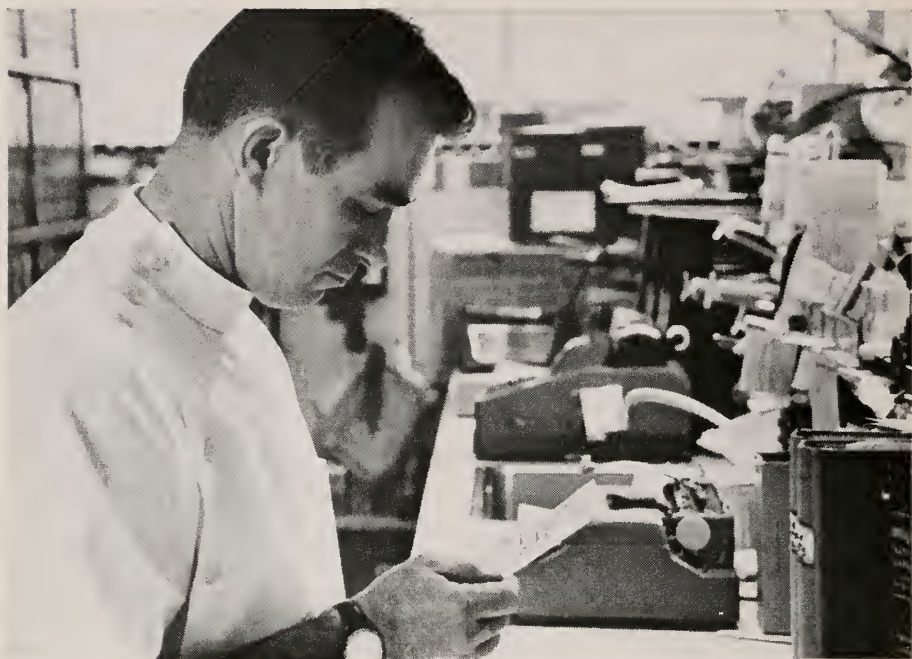

THIS BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH, WRITTEN BY C. BOYD GRANBERG OF DRAKE UNIVERSITY, ORIGINALLY APPEARED IN THE AUGUST, 1965 ISSUE OF THE AMERICAN JOURNAL OF PHARMACEUTICAL EDUCATION. DEAN HAGER AND FAMILY ARE MOVING TO CHAPEL HILL IN LATE DECEMBER AT WHICH TIME ACTING DEAN LARSH WILL TURN OVER HIS DUTIES AT THE UNC SCHOOL OF PHARMACY TO DEAN HAGER.

During his collegiate career in the school of pharmacy at the University of Maryland, George Hager set the lifelong pattern of an earnest and all-encompassing dedication to his work and distinguished himself by receipt of the General Excellence Medal and by election to the Rho Chi Society.

Graduate Student Hager continued his education at the University of Colorado and at the University of Maryland. He received his graduate degrees from the latter University (M.S., 1940; Ph.D., 1942; major: pharmaceutical chemistry; minor: pharmacology and microbiology) where he was elected to a regular membership in Sigma Xi. His formal education was concluded with a year as a postdoctoral fellow in biochemistry at the Northwestern University.

The practical side of Dr. Hager's scientific career began in 1942 with his employment at the Eli Lilly Research Laboratories as a research organic chemist. There he was involved in the synthesis and the proof-of-structure of various chemotherapeutic agents. He left industry in 1945 to return to academic life (about which we will discuss later), but he returned to industry—to the Smith Kline & French Laboratories—in 1955, where he stayed until recalled to the academy in 1957.

The next time you get a prescription for erythromycin ...think seriously about making it Erythrocin®

ERYTHROMYCIN

Not all erythromycins are the same.

All are highly active against the common bacterial organisms. And all share the inherent—and highly unusual—safety characteristics of the antibiotic.

But Erythrocin—the Abbott product—presents this one distinction: It has not been shown to cause liver impairment.

Indeed, in separate studies^{1,2}, Erythrocin was used to challenge patients who developed jaundice following prolonged therapy with erythromycin estolate. In neither study did the patients show any signs of sensitivity.

We're not suggesting that jaundice is a frequent problem with erythromycin estolate. Far from it. The point simply is that Erythrocin has not caused it.

And for some physicians—with some patients—this can be an important plus.

Perhaps you'll want to consider Erythrocin—next time a prescription comes in for erythromycin.

Precautions and Side Effects: Do not use in persons with known sensitivity to erythromycin. Occasional side effects are abdominal discomfort or cramping; nausea and vomiting (often controlled by dosage reduction) and mild allergic manifestations. Serious reactions have been extremely infrequent. If signs of sensitivity appear, proper countermeasures (e.g., epinephrine, steroids, etc.) should be administered and the drug should be withdrawn. If overgrowth of nonsusceptible bacteria or fungi occurs, withdraw drug and institute appropriate treatment if necessary.

DEAN HAGER

At Smith Kline & French, Dr. Hager was the head of a structure-activity coordination unit. His introduction to this theorem and his response to the challenge are told by Dr. Glenn E. Ulliyot, associate director of research and development at SKF and a former coworker with Dr. Hager:

"The major challenge . . . presented to George was the establishment of a system for coding chemical structures so that a structure-activity correlation program for our chemical and biological data could be developed. George accepted this challenge with his usual enthusiasm and made a major contribution to this program which is part of our Science Information Department's over-all activity. I think it is fair to say it was at this time that George developed his very major interest in science information and literature documentation. . . ."

Dr. Ulliyot Continues:

"He is especially enthusiastic about medicinal chemistry and the problems of developing structure-activity correlations. He looks forward to the day when medicinal chemists may be able to predict with a reasonable degree of accuracy the kinds of structures that will have a particular biological activity, and is continually striving to find ways and means of collecting data and of establishing correlations which will make possible the achievement of this goal."

It is clear that George Hager brings to science the fundamental and necessary unity between intention and action, between word and work.

THE TEACHER

The call of the world of education has always been strong in the life of Dr. George Hager. Even in those interludes when his sphere of activity has been other than on a university campus, he has been involved in affairs at least bordering on the academic. Item: While employed at Smith Kline & French, he developed a facility employing electronic equipment as an aid in handling large bodies of information pertaining to structure-activity relationships.

Following a three-year term of employment with the Lilly laboratories, Dr. Hager returned to his Alma Mater in 1945 as assistant professor of inorganic and organic chemistry. In 1948 he was made professor and head of the department of pharmaceutical chemistry.

This brilliant, articulate, outgoing man was a dedicated professor and counselor. The vigor and the devotion with which he approached the task of instructing undergraduate and graduate students are attested to in the voluntary testimony of two of his former students.

Dr. Carl Kaiser, now a senior medicinal chemist at Smith Kline & French Laboratories, recalls his undergraduate student days and his relationship with Dr. Hager:

"I remember Dean Hager as a dedicated and devoted pharmaceutical educator. His students generally regarded him as a strict taskmaster who demanded hard work and a solid effort. Despite these demands he was admired and respected (in some instances almost idolized) by all. He was always available both to graduate and to undergraduate students as a counselor and confidant for personal as well as scholastic problems. As a result of his sincere concern for his students and his desire to impart his knowledge, no problem was ever too trivial to warrant his immediate attention.

Dean Hager was a tireless worker. On weekdays he was always to be found in his office before eight in the morning, and frequently he remained in the laboratory until ten at night. He also worked in the lab a full day on Saturdays . . . Most of Dean Hager's efforts at the University of Maryland were directed toward his teaching responsibilities. Although he carried a particularly heavy lecturing schedule, he also directly supervised most of the associated laboratory courses and recitation sections. In addition he directed the research of a number (five to ten) of graduate students and still found time personally to do laboratory work (bench chemistry) on several synthetic pharmaceutical chemistry research problems. He was a very avid reader of the technical literature, both chemical and pharmaceutical, including many sections of voluminous Chemical Abstracts.

During my association with Dean Hager, he was active in many faculty, alumni, and professional committees as well as various honorary and fraternal organizations. He also produced, directed, and participated in several local television programs concerning pharmaceutical chemistry."

The educative abilities of Dr. Hager have been appreciated by those outside of the boundaries of the pharmaceutical sciences.

Affirmation of this statement is supplied by former graduate student J. Palmer Saunders, Ph.D., associate chief for scientific review and development, division of research grants, National Institutes of Health:

"I first met Dean Hager when I was a graduate student in the department of biochemistry of the University of Maryland Medical School. I had been assigned . . . the task of securing a solid background in practical and theoretical organic chemistry, and (it was) suggested that Dean Hager would be the person best fitted to guide me in these studies. Dean Hager agreed to accept me in his class, and from the very first I was impressed by this inspiring teacher. I was impressed by his tremendous knowledge of the field and of his amazing fund of information on the reactions of organic chemistry, both practical and theoretical.

When I had become qualified for my Ph.D. in biochemistry, Dean Hager was one of the members of my final oral panel. He had an uncanny knack of bringing out the best in a person, and at that time I was amazed at how much I knew about chemistry and, at the same time, was filled with consternation at how much I didn't know. I think this is probably a proper balance for the brand-new Ph.D., and it was Dean Hager at that meeting who brought this point home most forcibly.

Since 1957 George Hager has been dean of the college of pharmacy and professor of pharmaceutical chemistry at the University of Minnesota. His kinetic activity has resulted in a prodigiously productive term and an extension of the excellence and the fame both of the undergraduate and of the graduate programs at the college."

Dr. O. Meredith Wilson, president of the University of Minnesota, has expressed the appreciation of the University administration:

"Dr. Hager serves his own profession as academic statesman and as industrial consultant; he also serves education at large skillfully and devotedly.

Dean Hager and his family have interests which are wider than the college of pharmacy alone. They are all deeply committed to their church. Their concern for their fellow men and their spiritual well-being is perhaps but a natural corollary to their determination to see that nothing that the pharmaceutical sciences can do will be slighted in order to make sure that their physical well-being is also well cared for.

We are very grateful to have Dean Hager at the University of Minnesota as a colleague."

THE LEADER

The personal attributes of Dean Hager which have formed the basis of the effective leadership which he has exhibited have been perceived as: "... his store of knowledge, his powers of logical analysis, his fairness of mind, and his unfailing equanimity and amiability." This accurate judgment of Dean Hager was made by Dr. Edward Wickers of the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council. Dr. Wickers has worked with the dean for a number of years in a project to seek a solution to, "... the problem of managing the vast and rapidly growing store of information about the names, structure, and properties of nearly three million known chemical substances." Dean Hager has been chairman of the committee working on the project—the Committee on Modern Methods for Handling Chemical Information. According to Dr. Wickers:

"The committee's first major contribution to the field was the publication of 'A Survey of Chemical Notation Systems.' As the title implies, this publication surveyed current American practice in the use

This is an ad for a DEAL!

What kind of a deal is this? No screaming headlines about profit or fast turnover...no blazing color pictures of displays...no pretty girls or babies! Why?

Well, to tell the truth this ad concerns a deal about castor oil! Castor oil, ugh! But wait...this isn't just ordinary castor oil, that vile tasting stuff that maybe killed your taste for orange juice when you were a kid. This is a deal for a castor oil that tastes so good, people taking it often don't realize what it is.

This ad, then, is about a deal for NEOLOID™ Emulsified Castor Oil. Lederle. NEOLOID is an "effective, stable, aqueous emulsion of castor oil U.S.P. 36.4% (w/w), of agreeable mint-flavored taste..." NEOLOID is creamy white, doesn't look like castor oil and even the thick oiliness is gone. Taste it yourself, if you think we're kidding.

So what's the deal?

Buy a Display-Pak of twelve NEOLOID 4 fl. oz. bottles for $5.06—the usual cost for 11 bottles. At the list price of 77¢, you'd receive $9.24, for a profit of $4.18... better than 45%. The deal's available through your regular source of supply until further notice.

Now...How can you sell NEOLOID?

Believe it or not, about $1,500,000 worth of castor oil is sold each year. Castor oil is still the preferred agent and is so specified by physicians for pre-x-ray bowel cleaning, as well as for the usual laxative action in constipation. So, when customers ask for castor oil, do them a favor—offer them NEOLOID. They'll be so pleased with NEOLOID, instead of the awful stuff, that you may have done yourself a favor, too, by creating a friend and regular customer. You can recommend NEOLOID with confidence...it's widely used in hospitals.

So, remember NEOLOID when you have to think of castor oil. Check your Lederle catalog for complete information and order a NEOLOID deal or two promptly. Lederle Laboratories, A Division of American Cyanamid Co., Pearl River, N. Y.

DEAN HAGER

of linear arrangements of letters, numbers, and other typographical characters to represent the composition and structure of chemical compounds as an alternative to the conventional descriptive systems of words and diagrams.

An important aspect of this report was that it contained farsighted forecasts of imminent changes in chemical information handling. Clearly foreseen was the advent of computerized systems of storing, retrieving, and correlation information, and with it the need for research in the selection and application of the new techniques. As chairman of the committee, Dean Hager presided over a Conference on Mechanical Processing of Chemical Information held at Airline House, Warrenton, Virginia, March 5-8, 1964, which was convened at the request of the National Science Foundation to plan the directions that should be taken in research. The key recommendation that grew out of the Conference was that the Chemical Abstracts Service should be designated as the agency to create an integrated mechanized system for handling the "hard core" of chemical information and to be the primary source of a service involving the "hard core" for users of all types. This recommendation is now in process of implementation by general agreement of all agencies concerned and with the financial support of the National Science Foundation."

Among the great qualities of leadership is foresight; foresight combined with the fearlessness to propose ideas and to plan research which are ahead of their time but for which there currently is only velleity. That foresightedness and fearlessness reside in President Hager is supported by the statements of Dr. Wiehers and by this observation of Dr. Ulliot:

"George's conviction that we are going to be able to develop real principles for structure to put forth proposals which others may like to advocate but are reticent to do so. One of George's suggestions has been to establish an institute for carrying out a whole series of biological tests and for collecting physical/chemical data on medicinal agents, to code such data, and to attempt to develop structure-activity principles therefrom. This would be a tremendous undertaking, but I think it is often persons like George who ultimately push us into doing exactly what they advocate."

At the beginning of this article there appears a quotation attributed to the great British physicist, Lord Kelvin: "I've thought of a better way." If the family of George Hager were to design a heraldic coat of arms, the passage quoted could serve well as the motto. This phrase, "I've thought of a better way," is characteristic of the leadership of the 1965-1966 president of our Association.

THE MAN OF ACTION

Although the professional concerns of George Hager are involved primarily with the pharmaceutical and the chemical sciences and affairs, his interests are broad and reach far. The emphasis of Dean Hager's absorbing occupation in current events is on the Active role he plays; the concept of passivity is foreign to him.

In addition to the pursuits already mentioned in this sketch, Dean Hager consults or serves in these capacities:

- Member of the National Advisory Committee on Selection of Physicians, Dentists and Allied Specialists
- Member of the Panel on Handling of Toxicological Information, Executive Office of the President, Office of Science and Technology
- Member of the General Research Support Advisory Committee, Division of Research Facilities, National Institutes of Health
- Member of the Editorial Advisory Board, Journal of Pharmaceutical Sciences
- Member of the National Formulary Advisory Panel
- Chairman of the Committee on reorganization, Scientific Section, American Pharmaceutical Association
- Chairman of the Committee on Intra-professional Relations, Minnesota Pharmaceutical Association
- Member, USAN Nomenclature Review Board, United States Adopted Names Council

In addition Dr. Hager has served or continues to serve on several committees of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy, the American Chemical Society, and the American Pharmaceutical Association. He is an active member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American College of Apothecaries, RESA, Phi Delta Chi, Alpha Zeta Omega, and Phi Alpha.

THE FAMILY MAN

In spite of this almost overwhelming work load, Dean Hager is a family man devoted to his wife, Margaret, whom he married in 1938, and to their four children: Philip (22), Priscilla (20), Deborah (17), and Andrew (8).

The dean's hobbies include photography and field and stream sports, primarily family activities. Fortunately, in the Land of 10,000 Lakes, there is abundant opportunity for both hobbies.

Incidentally, the Greeks valued in their Ideal Man, the Artist—the Poet. It may surprise some of the dean's closest friends to know that here, too, he complies to The Ideal. Few of the dean's acquaintances have been permitted to receive or even to read his poetic contributions to the world of literature. One of these fortunate is Mrs. Carl Kaiser who, prior to her marriage to Dr. Kaiser, received from Dr. Hager a touching and personal poem titled "Kaiser, the Man. An Ode from the Chemistry Department."

Another of the hobbies of this versatile man is music, especially the piano. He may not be as proficient on this instrument as his Lutheran compatriot, the popular pianist Roger Williams, but, given time to apply himself through practice, I am confident he would be.

THE MAN OF GOD

In the pursuit of his many educational, scientific, cultural, and civic duties the omniscient George Hager has always left time for devotion and service to his God, both of which are requisite of the complete man.

The current minister to the Hager family, Pastor Robert L. Anderson of the St. Anthony Park Lutheran Church of St. Paul, Minnesota, has written about the dean and his family:

I have known Dr. Hager for approximately three and one-half years. He served as a member of the Board of Deacons of this congregation during the early years of our ministry here. As such, he was a source of real encouragement to me, evidencing great concern for the church and its ministry.

He is an intelligent and knowledgeable man. This has enabled him to give wise counsel to others. As vice chairman of the Long-range Planning Committee of our congregation, he evidenced real vision, a sensitivity to needs, an awareness of possibilities, and a willingness to accept a challenge.

Dr. Hager also taught in the senior high department of our Sunday School for several years. His recent election to the Board of Regents of Augsburg College in Minneapolis suggests the high regard that others in the church have for him.

The Hager family regularly attends the worship services of the congregation and contributes liberally to its program. We are pleased to have families like this in our membership.

We can add only that we, too, are pleased to have families like this in the congregation of pharmacists.

TAR HEEL DIGEST

Asheboro—Construction is underway on a second Mann Drug Store to be located on the corner of Dixie Drive and Cox Street. The store will have 8,000 square feet of space and a parking lot for 75 cars.

Nashville—John Weatherly has succeeded Gerald May at the Nashville Drug Company. May is with Welch's Drug Store, Washington.

Oxford—Major remodeling to the building occupied by Jones Drug Store gives the store twice its former space.

Newton—Billy Mae Smyre has been named assistant manager of Newton Rexall Store.

Conover—Carl Bowman has announced plans for a new building to house the Bowman Drug Company. It will be located about a block from the present operation, which Mr. Bowman established 24 years ago.

Murfreesboro—Paul Whitehurst has opened a new pharmacy—College Pharmacy—on Main Street.

Rocky Mount—Almand's Drug Store has been extensively remodeled. An elaborate new front featuring a wide canopy and new interior fixtures have been installed.

Wadesboro—Ed Walters of Morven has accepted a position as pharmacist with Fox and Lyon Drug Store.

Gastonia—Prior to opening a new pharmacy at the corner of York Street and West Third Avenue, Kennedy Drug Store opened for business on a temporary basis in a metal trailer.

Chapel Hill—Mrs. Steven Lehrer (Lindell Upp, UNC 1965) is employed by Barrows Chemical, Inwood, N. Y.

Gastonia—Narcotics thieves used a complex method to enter Eckerd's Dixie Village store. First the burglar, or burglars, climbed to the roof of the building, then entered an air-conditioning tower and slid down to the store's ceiling, where a hole was punched in the celotex. More than $1,000 in narcotics were removed from a cabinet.

Chapel Hill—The 1965 graduating class of the University of Georgia School of Pharmacy has named Dr. Ben F. Cooper as the outstanding teacher during their professional course of study. Dr. Cooper is a graduate of the UNC School of Pharmacy.

Charlotte—For the second time in less than a week a plate glass window at Hardee's Pharmacy was smashed by rock-throwing vandals. The owner, A. K. Hardee, has had considerable difficulty with "glue sniffers" in his area. Some months ago a home-made bomb was set off at the rear of the store.

Durham—A valuable coin collection was recently stolen from the Kerr Rexall Store in Lakewood Shopping Center. Police believe the thief hid in the store when it closed.

LaGrange—Robert Dewar, at a recent meeting of the LaGrange Rotary Club, discussed the short-comings of discount stores.

Lumberton—Hetgpeh's Pharmacy has expanded into an adjacent building and added the Rexall line.

Mooresville—The Port City Pharmacy, managed by Pharmacist Charles N. Giles, is now open in the Port City Shopping Center.

Denver—An estimated $1,000 in narcotics were taken on October 9 in a break-in at the Denver Drug Company.

Pittsboro—New fixtures have been installed in the McCrimmon Drug Company and the pharmacy redecorated.

Career Exhibit in Use

W. Moss Salley, Jr. was in charge of a pharmacy career exhibit at a Health Careers Congress in Asheville on October 8-9. The same exhibit was on display in Winston-Salem in late October. Hospital Pharmacist John Lowder reports the exhibit and accompanying literature helpful in stimulating interest in Pharmacy as a Career.

During the month, the NCPHA supplied pharmacy career literature to W. R. Adams of Wilson, who assisted with a local health careers day.

Eleven Added to Pharmacist Roll

Eleven pharmacists have been added to the licensed pharmacist roll as a result of examinations held in Chapel Hill in September by the N. C. Board of Pharmacy:

Larry C. Blanton, Greensboro; Robert D. Coffey, Salisbury; Revis R. Eller, Sparta; William F. Farmer, Jr., Warrenton; William Lee Foster, Mocksville; and Miss Mary Lou Johnson, Chapel Hill.

John B. Kennedy, Jr., Durham; Hugh Alan Myers, Lexington; Larry Joe Warren, Raleigh; Flynn Wilford Warren, Jr., Mount Holly; and Mrs. Betsy Clark Williams, Chapel Hill.

Two Pharmacies Completely Destroyed by Fire

Two Eastern North Carolina pharmacies—Thomas Drug Store of Wilson and The Dunn Pharmacy of Dunn—were completely destroyed by fire in October.

H. Grady Thomas, owner of the Thomas Drug Store, has the pharmacy reestablished in a temporary location. The prescription files were saved.

The owners of The Dunn Pharmacy have indicated the pharmacy will not be reopened.

Safe Crackers Get $600 From Brewer Drug Co.

Brewer Drug Company, Pink Hill, lost more than $600 in cash on the night of September 30 when safe crackers made off with the pharmacy's receipts, including old coins, Kennedy half dollars and some silver dollars.

Entry was by way of the front door, which was pried open with a crow bar.

Carolina Pharmacy Sold

Mrs. Edith Conley and Mrs. Tava Arvey have sold their interest in The Carolina Pharmacy, Franklin, to Carter Mason of Pinson, Alabama.

Mr. Mason is a graduate of Howard College. In recent months, he has been associated with the Highlands Drug Store.

Opening in Monroe

James R. Baker, a graduate of the School of Pharmacy of the University of South Carolina, has established a pharmacy—Corner Drugs—in the Monroe building long occupied by Gamble Drugs.

NEWS

from the local-sectional pharmaceutical societies

Alamance

Ivey McDaniel, MSR of Merck, Sharpe & Dohme in the Durham-Burlington area, was guest speaker at the September 15 meeting of the Alamance County Pharmaceutical Society.

The speaker discussed new drugs now being used in the treatment of arthritis.

Buncombe County

Preliminary meetings looking toward the eventual formation of a Buncombe County Pharmaceutical Society have been held in Asheville—one on September 28 and another on October 12.

James W. Adams is serving as chairman of the organizing group which is making plans for a county-wide meeting in November to which all of the county's 97 pharmacists will be invited to attend.

Lenoir County

Dr. Rachel Davis was guest speaker at the September 13 meeting of the Lenoir County Pharmaceutical Society in Kinston.

The speaker discussed physician-pharmacist-patient relationships and complimented the pharmacists for their renewed effort to protect the public from the dangers of self-medication.

Greensboro Drug

The Greensboro Drug Club, at its first meeting of the new year on September 23, had as guest speaker Mr. Jones of the Pilot Life Insurance Company, who discussed "Medicare."

The annual 4-D (druggist, dentist, doctor, detailman) barbecue was held on October 22.

Ben Collins, a former president of the drug club, discussed "Pharmacy as a Career" at a recent assembly at Aycow Junior High School. The talk was well received by the students.

Youngest

The state's newest local pharmaceutical organization—The Rocky Mount, Nashville and Tarboro Drug Club—has these officers:

President: James O. Knight

Vice President: Don Raper

Secretary: Barbara B. Coley

Moore County

Guest speaker at the October 12 meeting of the Moore County Pharmaceutical Association was H. C. McAllister, Secretary of the N. C. Board of Pharmacy.

Mr. McAllister discussed "Where Pharmacy Is and Where It Is Going."

The meeting, held in Southern Pines at the Whispering Pines Restaurant, was "Ladies Night" for the local group.

Greensboro

Al Mebane, III, was installed as president of The Greensboro Society of Pharmacists at a meeting of the Society in Greensboro on September 30. He succeeds David D. Claytor, the immediate past-president.

Other officers are: John Ranzenhofer, president-elect; Wyndham Dukes, vice president; Claude U. Paoloni, secretary-treasurer; and William S. Farrior and Ronald Buchanan, directors for 2-year terms.

The committee appointments for the year were announced. The Society will function with the officers, board of directors and eleven committees.

A slide talk—The Pharmacist as a Health Educator—completed the program.

W. J. Smith, Executive Secretary of the NCPHA, told members of the Greensboro Society of Pharmacists that decisions being made at this time would have a vital influence on their professional lives during the next 20 to 30 years.

The speaker, using as his topic, "Whither Pharmacy?", pointed out the growth of the shopping center pharmacy since the end of WWII and the now developing professional center pharmacy. The impact of Medicare, nursing home operations and utilization of the professional fee concept on the two types of operations will influence Pharmacy's direction in the future, Secretary Smith said.

The meeting, held in Greensboro on October 28, was conducted by President Al Mebane. To secure maximum attendance, the business sessions of the Society do not get underway until 9:30 P.M.

Durham-Orange

A barbecue supper at Turnage's in Durham opened the current organization year on November 1 for the Durham-Orange Pharmaceutical Association. Present were 115 members and guests.

Hosts for the supper were Reaco Products, Peabody Drug Company and N. C. Mutual Wholesale Drug Company.

William P. (Bill) Wells, named Durham-Orange "Pharmacist of the Year" was presented a plaque by D-O President E. A. Brecht.

Thirty "Kennedy 50 Dollar Gold Coins" (halves with a bronze coating) were presented as prizes during a pharmaceutical quiz contest. Typical questions involved pharmacists of the Durham-Orange area.

Editor

The Carolina Journal of Pharmacy
Institute of Pharmacy
Chapel Hill, North Carolina

Dear Sir:

I have just finished reading an article in the current issue of American Druggist entitled "Big Food Wholesaler Launches Plan to Get Supermarkets to Add Full-Line Drug Departments" (including prescription departments). This week I visited a self-service, one check-out counter, sundry store featuring Unicaps, ViTerra, Vi-Daylin, Theragran and Theragran-M at cost plus ten per cent. Among the companies represented in this store were Winthrop, Merrell, Abbott, Squibb, Upjohn and Roerig, not to mention the strictly OTC product companies.

On the other hand, our educational program is carefully being expanded to train more professional people; pharmacists everywhere are encouraged to stress professional status, community service and ethical practices.

I do not see how a professional atmosphere can exist in a grocery store, or how we can continue to support and promote our so-called "ethical" pharmaceutical companies' products if they are allowed to be sold in discount sundry stores.

This situation is partly a result of what we have done ourselves, and partly what we have not done. We have harmed our professional image with "sensational" advertising and with selling products which have no business in a drug store (e.g. fish, fertilizers and furs). We have NOT jointly objected when rightful pharmaceutical products appear in non-professional outlets. We are bombarded with reliability, purity and quality-control, but what about quality distribution?

If pharmacy is to continue as a profession some environmental criterion should be established in the issuing of pharmacy permits, as well as, control of distribution of ethical pharmaceuticals.

Very truly yours,

Christine Manos Dutton, R. Ph.

200 Plus Talks by SKF Speakers in N. C.

Speech makers for Smith Kline and French Laboratories passed a significant milestone recently with delivery of the 10,000th talk in the company's campaign to tell the story of the pharmaceutical industry to the American people.

In North Carolina, Smith Kline and French speakers have given 203 talks before audiences totaling more than 8,100 persons.

About half of these speeches were arranged through pharmacists and physicians.

Logging more than 4,000 hours on platforms in 48 states and the District of Columbia during the past six years, SK&F's trained speakers have addressed more than 400,000 persons face-to-face and reached several million others through radio and television.

Smith Kline and French launched its Speakers Bureau program in 1959 in the belief that one of the best ways to tell the story of the drug industry's role as a member of the health team is to talk to people directly.

"The Speakers Bureau is an immensely successful method of creating better understanding not only of the pharmaceutical industry, but also the other members of the health team, medicine and pharmacy," said G. Frederick Roll, Director of Public and Industry Affairs for Smith Kline and French.

"The speeches themselves do much to clear up misconceptions, and the question and answer periods that usually follow provide an excellent opportunity to discuss in depth questions in the minds of members of the audiences. As a result, we are able to keep in touch with what the public is thinking about our industry and the health team."

UNC PHARMACY SCHOOL NOTES

At the present time, the chapter has 18 active members and 21 pledges.

Kappa Psi

New additions to Kappa Psi fraternity: James Hall, Jim Henson, Tim Kroboth and Mark Williams.

Phi Delta Chi

PDC pledges: Allan Barkley, Raleigh; Ken Burleson, Spruce Pine; Smoot Cranfill, Lumberton; Grady Phillips, Winston-Salem; Glenn Smith, Lexington; David Stuhr, Winston-Salem; Steve Sudderth, Winston-Salem; and Ben Williams, Morganton.

Pharmacy Enrollment Up

There has been a significant increase in the enrollment this fall at the UNC School of Pharmacy. Here are the official figures:

2/5—107 students
3/5— 85 students
4/5— 58 students
5/5— 62 seniors

The Pre-Pharmacy total (147) is larger than anticipated. Those who succeed in measuring up to the scholastic standards at UNC and who enter the 2/5 Pharmacy Class will be joined by an unknown number of students now at one of the state's 40 junior and community colleges.

In the Pre-Pharmacy Group, the fail-out, drop-out or transfer percentage runs to as high as 50%, hence not more than 75 of the present Pre-Pharmacy Class will be 2/5s next year. One major cause of the high loss ratio is that many students come to the University inadequately prepared for the Chemistry courses at the University level.

Faculty Advisor

Dr. J. L. Brannon has been appointed Faculty Advisor to the Student Branches of the APhA-NCPHA. He succeeds Dr. Albert Jowdy who has served in this capacity for a number of years.

Student Branches

by ELLON G. SEAWELL, Secretary

The regular monthly meeting of the Student Branches of the APhA and the NCPHA was held in the auditorium of Beard Hall on October 4.

The guest speaker was F. Regis Kenna, President of the American Society of Hospital Pharmacists, who spoke to the group on "Survival of the Fittest." Mr. Kenna pointed out the differences in hospital and community pharmacy.

Kappa Epsilon

The Annual KE Picnic was held October 6 at The W. J. Smith residence in Greenwood. At the conclusion of the picnic, Mrs. Smith presented a hand-made tablecloth for use by the KEs at social functions.

Among those present at the National KE Convention in Lawrence, Kansas in September was Ellon Seawell.

Kappa Epsilon

The Lambda Chapter of Kappa Epsilon met on October 6, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Smith for the annual K. E. picnic. Invitations were sent to the pre-pharmacy girls.

Due to conflicts, the time for the regular meetings has been changed to the first and third Monday nights of each month at 6:30 P.M.

Plans were made to conduct initiation for pledges on October 18. Committees were chosen to make necessary preparations.

Margaret Shaw and Ellon Seawell gave an amusing talk about their trip to the biannual K. E. Convention in Kansas City which they had attended during the summer. They made several suggestions which the members thought quite interesting.

MSD Promotes Sherrill

James A. Sherrill of Lenoir, North Carolina has been promoted to the newly created position of Senior Professional Representative in the Piedmont, North Carolina area for Merck Sharp & Dohme, the Pennsylvania-based pharmaceutical firm has announced. The new position reflects Mr. Sherrill's "outstanding service and performance over the years," the company said.

Prior to his appointment, Mr. Sherrill served as a professional representative. He formerly attended the University of North Carolina.

Mr. Sherrill and his wife reside at 517 Westview Street in Lenoir.

Attend NARD Meet

About thirty Tar Heels attended the 1965 annual convention of the NARD held in Washington, October 10-15.

The NCPHA's official voting delegates were W. T. Boone of Ahoskie and Charles Blanton of Kings Mountain.

Completes Training Course

Gilbert S. Cashion of Winston-Salem, a MSR for Roerig, has completed a 2-weeks training course at Roerig's New York City headquarters.

Cabarrus

Miss Mary Propst was guest speaker for the September 28th meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Cabarrus Pharmaceutical Society which was held in the home of Mrs. James Mitchener of Concord. Miss Propst spoke on her travels in Europe, choosing for her discussion the country of Spain, and particularly Christopher Columbus. She was introduced by Mrs. Parks Webster, program chairman for the month.

Mrs. Mitchener, president, conducted the business session, and Mrs. Whit Moose gave the devotions.

Greetings were brought from Mrs. Gordon Bane of Gastonia, a former member of the local organization.

Durham

Mrs. Hunter Kelly was hostess for the October meeting of the Mortar and Pestle Club. Mrs. W. J. Smith installed the following officers for 1965-66: Mrs. Kelly, president; Mrs. Ralph Rogers, vice-president; Mrs. W. O. Daniels, secretary; Mrs. Ivey McDaniel, treasurer; Mrs. F. A. Stovall, historian; and Mrs. C. C. Cannon, chaplain.

Appointed to serve with the officers as committee chairmen were Mrs. W. P. Wells, hospitality; and Mrs. Ben Bullock, membership.

Special guests attending were Mrs. Smith and Mrs. David McGowan of Chapel Hill. Mrs. Thurston Yates was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Kelly announced that the next meeting would be held November 16th at 10:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Zack Lyon.

Gaston County

A meeting of the Gaston County Pharmaceutical Auxiliary was held in Gastonia on September 15 with Mrs. Truman Hudson, presiding.

An interesting and informative talk on "Cablevision" by Don Curtis of Bessemer City was enjoyed by the members.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Hudson, William Forrest and W. E. Medlin.

Greensboro

The Greensboro Drug Club Auxiliary held its first meeting of the fall season at the King's Inn on September 28, 1965. After luncheon, Mrs. H. S. Thorp of Greensboro presented the program on Alaska. She had arranged an exhibit of handiercrafts, posters, and informative pamphlets from the forty-ninth state; and she presented slides with an interesting commentary. Mrs. Thorp had prepared a "Sourdough Chocolate Cake" from an original Alaskan recipe for club members to sample and she included in the exhibit copies of this and other recipes of Alaskan origin.

The program was followed by the business meeting, Mrs. D. W. Montgomery presiding. Plans for the annual "3-D" Luncheon for members of the medical, dental, and drug auxiliaries were discussed. The drug auxiliary will be hostess for the event this year, to be held at the Starmount Forest Country Club in October. Mrs. Dale C. Bracker, vice president, is in charge of the entertainment for this combined meeting and has arranged a fashion show with four members from each auxiliary modeling fashions from Laurie's of Friendly Shopping Center.

Plans for a dinner dance in November at the King's Inn were also discussed, after which Mrs. Bracker announced programs for the remainder of the year.

After reports from standing committees, the president urged members to attend the Fall Convocation in Chapel Hill in October.

Greensboro

The Greensboro Drug Club Auxiliary met with the Greensboro Dental Auxiliary and the Greensboro branch of the Guilford Medical Auxiliary for luncheon at the Star-mountain Forest Country Club on October 26, 1965. The drug auxiliary was hostess group for the joint meeting.

Each of thirteen tables was centered with a gilt cornucopia overflowing with fruits and nuts. Trailing ivy completed the arrangement. Table decorations were done by Mrs. D. W. Montgomery, Mrs. C. C. Graham, and Mrs. J. M. Egbert.

Seated at the head table with the drug auxiliary president, Mrs. D. W. Montgomery, were Mrs. W. R. Stafford, Medical Auxiliary President; Mrs. C. Henry Sikes, President of the State Medical Auxiliary; and Mrs. Richard M. Fields, President of the Dental Auxiliary. Other members of the drug auxiliary at the head table were Mrs. D. C. Bracker, Vice President; Mrs. J. M. Egbert, Secretary; and Mrs. M. B. McCurdy.

For the invocation, Mrs. S. W. McFalls, Chaplain, sang "One World" by Geoffrey O'Hara, accompanied by Mrs. R. F. Whiteley at the piano.

During luncheon, a fashion show was presented by Laurie's of Friendly Shopping Center, with Mr. John Ademy of WBIG Radio in Greensboro giving a commentary on the elegant fashions for daytime, casual, and evening wear. The fall motif set by the table decorations was continued in the background music for the show. Four members from each auxiliary served as models. Those from the drug auxiliary were Mrs. C. C. Graham, Mrs. W. S. Dukes, Mrs. J. T. Grose and Mrs. W. P. Brewer. Mrs. D. C. Bracker was in charge of program arrangements.

High Point

The September meeting of the High Point Pharmaceutical Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Hubert Coffee of Thomasville. The group held a picnic dinner, followed by a tour of the Coffee home and a short business meeting.

Mrs. Paul Bibbs was a guest at the meeting.

Raleigh

The Raleigh Woman's Drug Club held its September meeting at the home of Mrs. R. L. Cromley, Jr.

During the business session various money making suggestions were discussed and it was decided to hold a bridge tournament after Christmas, and to conduct a sale of steak knives before Christmas.

Following the meeting, a program was enjoyed.

Raleigh

At the October meeting of the Raleigh Woman's Drug Club, Mr. Twiggs, an attorney, presented a talk on "Wills for Women."

During the business session sample knives were distributed for members to use in soliciting orders.

Plans were discussed for the Christmas Dinner and Dance to be held December 4th at the Carolina Hotel.

Mrs. Jerry Price

Rowan-Davie

September

The Rowan-Davie Auxiliary held its first meeting of the 1965-66 year September 15th at the Holiday Inn Restaurant. Mrs. Frank Skinner, presided. Mrs. Denhal Holshouser gave the devotions.

Mrs. Skinner announced that Mrs. Alvin Morris would not be able to serve as treasurer for the year, and Mrs. Robert Brunson was elected to fill this vacancy. Mrs. Henry Ridenhour installed Mrs. Brunson.

Mrs. Thomas Camp, program chairman, presented the program in the absence of Mrs. Jerry Safris, titled "There Was A Club Woman Who Lived in Her Shoes" which described and exhibited the new Fall Fashions in shoes and handbags.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Robert Hoyle, Mrs. M. H. Hoyle, Sr., and Mrs. John Brown. Door prize was won by Mrs. Robert Hall.

October

The October 20th meeting featured Mrs. Charles Blanton, State Auxiliary President, as guest speaker. Her subject was "Better Club Members and Better Wives."

Mrs. Charl H. Sanders conducted the devotions on the topic of "The Art of Being."

Mrs. Henry Ridenhour, project chairman, announced that she had sent letters to principals of high schools in Rowan and Davie counties, stating the rules for the essay contest. She also said that the Rowan-Davie Drug Association had agreed to pay for prizes, and had paid for printing of the rules.

Mrs. Thomas Camp announced her resignation as Vice-President since she is moving from Salisbury. The Executive Board appointed Mrs. Justin Uffinger to fill this vacancy.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Justin Uffinger, Mrs. Earl Cobb, and Mrs. Frank Skinner. Door prize was won by Mrs. George Albright.

Winston-Salem

The Winston-Salem Apothecary Club met October 7 at the home of Mrs. E. W. Rollins. There were 25 members and six guests present.

A committee recommendation was read by Mrs. Leslie Myers, chairman, suggesting that the Constitution and By laws be amended to read as follows:

"A member of several years standing in the local Apothecary Club, who has done outstanding work during this time and has been approved by the Executive Board, be awarded a certificate of Recognition and Appreciation."

This amendment carried by a majority vote.

A letter from Mrs. Charles Blanton, Jr., State President, was read in which she invited all members to attend the Annual Workshop, to be held October 27th in Chapel Hill.

Miss Annie Lee Singletary, guest speaker, gave an interesting account of her travels as fashion editor for the local newspaper.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Rollins were Mrs. J. H. Ball, Mrs. Leon Cahill, and Mrs. J. M. Darlington.

Winston-Salem Tops in Auxiliary Membership

Winston-Salem leads the state in number of local members affiliated with the Woman's Auxiliary of the NCPHA—56.

Greensboro has 41 members; Charlotte 40 and Raleigh 39.

Others in the top eight are Chapel Hill (37), Durham (26), Asheville (21) and Salisbury (20).

Total state membership of the Auxiliary is about 650.

"Be Like The Rooster"

"Be Like The Rooster"—advised Mrs. Charles D. Blanton, Jr., Kings Mountain, President of the Woman's Auxiliary of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, addressing the Fall Convocation of members and officers, in session at the Institute of Pharmacy, Chapel Hill. "The rooster has a major job to perform," she said. "He awakens the town; he crows, never asking whether the job is interesting, not waiting to be told how wonderful he is, not ashamed of his lack of a melodious voice—he does the job cut out for him, to the best of his ability. He does not wait to be prodded, does not have to be called to his task—he performs promptly, unfailingly, unceasingly."

Mrs. Blanton's talk followed that given by Mrs. W. T. Boone of Ahoskie, President of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, in which he stressed the growing trend toward professionalism in Pharmacy. He explained to the wives in attendance the multitude of duties performed by the pharmacist in his daily practice. He also announced plans for remodeling and expanding the plant of the Institute of Pharmacy.

Committee reports included that of the Ways and Means Chairman, Mrs. William G. Forrest, Gastonia, who spoke of various tentative plans for participation in the Institute program, as well as methods of assistance to the general profession of Pharmacy.

Mrs. Philip Crouch, Asheville, told of plans being made for the 1966 Annual Convention to be held in her city in June, describing arrangements being made for holding a "family" type meeting, an innovation for the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association.

Mrs. Stuart Vanderviere, Chapel Hill, welcomed the Auxiliary members to the Convocation. She is vice-president of the Chapel Hill Women's Pharmaceutical Auxiliary, which served as luncheon hosts.

Officers and members of the Woman's Auxiliary attending the Chapel Hill meeting included Mrs. Blanton, President; Mrs. James L. Creech, Smithfield, 1st Vice-President; Mrs. W. L. West, Roseboro, 2nd Vice-President; Mrs. Billie T. Allen, Williamston, Secretary; Mrs. C. C. Wheeler, Creedmoor, Treasurer; Mrs. William Honser, Cherryville, Historian; Mrs. Philip Crouch, Asheville, Parliamentarian; Advisors Mrs. George Markham, Fayetteville, and Mrs. David D. Claytor, Greensboro.

Also—Mrs. Boone, Ahsokie, wife of the NCPHA President; Mrs. Hayes E. Hall, Asheville; Mrs. Larry Kennedy, Broadway; Mrs. Millard Denson, Burlington; Mrs. Bruce R. Medlin, Cary; Mrs. F. Jackson Andrews, Mrs. M. A. Chambers, Mrs. George Cocolas, Mrs. George Harris, Mrs. A. W. Jowdy, Jr., Mrs. M. L. Jacobs, Miss Alice Noble, Mrs. I. W. Rose, Mrs. Don Skakle, Mrs. W. J. Smith, and Mrs. Vandeviere from Chapel Hill.

Also—Mrs. W. Maurice Owens, Mrs. T. K. Steele, and Mrs. W. A. Stephenson of Charlotte; Mrs. James W. Mitchener, Mrs. Camilla B. Mullinax, and Mrs. Joe Pike of Concord; Mrs. Floyd Goodrich, Mrs. Hunter Kelly of Durham; Mrs. George Markham, Fayetteville; Mrs. Truman Hudson, Mrs. John O. McDonald of Gastonia; Mrs. C. A. Wharton, Gibsonville; Mrs. D. W. Montgomery, Mrs. Frank Pickard, Mrs. R. F. Whiteley of Greensboro; Mrs. Carole Greer, Kannapolis, Mrs. O. O. Grabs, Jr., King; Mrs. Hoy A. Moose, Mt. Pleasant; Mrs. R. L. Alphin, Mrs. H. W. Brege, Mrs. Kenneth E. Handy, Mrs. W. F. Matthews, Mrs. L. D. Morse, Jr., Mrs. H. G. Price, Mrs. R. T. White, Jr., Raleigh; Mrs. Sanford Price, Salemburg; Mrs. Grover Creech, Selma; Mrs. Hubert Coffee, Thomasville; Mrs. Sam Jenkins, Walstonburg; Mrs. Donald Chapman, Mrs. J. M. Darlington, and Mrs. Joe Perkins, Winston-Salem.

of a doctor. The robbery was foiled by a Federal narcotics agent and a Burlington policeman.

Wells Named Director of Mutual

William P. Wells of Durham has been elected a director of N. C. Mutual Wholesale Drug Company. He succeeds O. G. Sawyer, who resigned recently after the closing of Sawyer and Moore's Rx Department.

Banks Kerr was elevated from secretary to vice president. W. L. West was named secretary, and T. J. Ham, Jr. continues as president. Ralph P. Rogers, Jr. is Mutual's treasurer and manager.

Vick to Consolidate Greensboro Operations

Vick Manufacturing Division of Richardson-Merrell, Inc. has purchased 25 acres of land on Highway 421 on which the company plans eventually to build a plant and consolidate all of its Greensboro operations.

Vick now has two plants in Greensboro and uses leased facilities in the Reynolds Building and the Central Carolina Warehouse.

Pharmacy Reporting Network

A pharmacy reporting network (PRN) instituted by a Chicago pharmacist resulted in the arrest of a prescription forger the first week the network was in operation.

Here's how PRN works: Whenever a pharmacist suspects something improper about a prescription presented for dispensing, he telephones descriptive details to two other pharmacists, each of whom calls two more, until—within minutes, all pharmacies in area are alerted.

If a pattern of violation develops, law enforcement officials are notified.

I Believe

As we prepare to close the books on 1965, this credo, slightly revised from an older format, is presented as our holiday message to Journal readers. It came to us in early December from a North Carolina pharmacist:

I believe in the medication I am handling and dispensing, in the pharmacy I am working for, and in my ability to get results.

I believe in working, not weeping; in boosting, not knocking; and in the pleasure of my profession.

I believe that a pharmacist gets what he goes after, and that one deed done today is worth two deeds tomorrow, and that no pharmacist is down and out until he has lost faith in himself.

I believe in courtesy, in good cheer, in kindness, in friendship and in honest competition.

I believe there is something doing, somewhere, for every pharmacist ready to do it. I believe I'm ready—right now!

The Carolina Journal of Pharmacy is published monthly by the N. C. Pharmaceutical Association, Box 151, Chapel Hill, N. C. Subscription rate: $3.00 a year; single copy, 25 cents. Second Class postage paid at Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

Three Winners

Three persons correctly identified the "Pharmaceutical Personalities of the Month" which appeared in the November issue of THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY:

1. E. R. Fuller of Salisbury
 2. Bill Brewer of Greensboro
 3. John W. Andrews of Winston-Salem
- The four persons pictured were
- #1. Robert I. (Bob) Cromley of Raleigh
 - #2. Mrs. Stephen Forrest of Greensboro
 - #3. Dr. Austin Smith of Washington
 - #4. Leslie Myers of Winston-Salem

Now see what you can do with the new list of pharmaceutical personalities on page 8. If you think you have a winner, mail identification to THE JOURNAL.

Attends 44th Reunion

In 1917, The "Sixth Company" was organized in Hendersonville for service during World War I. There were three officers and 112 enlisted men, mostly from Henderson and Transylvania counties.

Recently, the "Sixth Company" observed its 44th reunion. Of the three officers, one remains—Pharmacist Wiltshire Griffith of Hendersonville, who is considered a "father" by many of the soldiers who served under his command.

A pharmacist since 1907, Mr. Griffith has been identified with Hendersonville Pharmacy for many years. He and his son, Wiltshire, Jr., now operate two pharmacies in Hendersonville.

Capt. Claude V. Timberlake, Jr. of the U. S. Navy Department's Bureau of Medicine and Surgery was presented the "Andrew Craigie" Award at the 72nd Annual meeting of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States, held in Washington on November 16.

The Award, consisting of a plaque and honorarium, honors the memory of Andrew Craigie, the first Apothecary General of the military forces, who served under General George Washington during the Revolutionary War. The Award is given annually by Lederle Laboratories, and, in the case of Capt. Timberlake, was for "outstanding accomplishments of professional pharmacy in the Federal Government."

Capt. Timberlake, a native of Youngsville, N. C., is a 1939 graduate in pharmacy of the UNC School of Pharmacy. He entered the Navy as an Aviation Cadet in July, 1939 and was commissioned an Ensign and designated a Naval Aviator in May, 1940.

From May, 1940 to August, 1945 he served on board the U.S.S. Ranger, Yorktown, Wasp, Hornet, Santee and several "Jeep" carriers as a Fighter Pilot and Landing Signals Officer. From 1945 to 1948 he was C.O. of Squadron 5, N.A.S. Pensacola, transferring to MSC in 1948.

His assignments since 1948 include the Military Medical Supply Agency, Brooklyn, N. Y. (now Defense Medical Supply Center), 1948-1954. Naval Medical Field Research Laboratory, Camp Lejeune, 1954-1958. U. S. Naval Hospital, Philadelphia, 1958-1960.

He is currently assigned to the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, Navy Department. He holds the Bronze Star, Presidential Unit Citation, and the Philippine Presidential Unit Citation, European, African, and Asiatic Area Campaign Medals.

Capt. Timberlake is a member of the North Carolina and American Pharmaceutical Associations; Chairman of the Pharmacy Section of the Association of Military Surgeons and Past Chairman of the Military Section of the APhA. He is married to the former Margaret Durfee of Raleigh and now resides with his wife and five daughters in Alexandria, Virginia.

Hospital Pharmacy Project

Preliminary plans for the start of a two-year N. C. hospital pharmacy program, as developed by the N. C. Hospital Education and Research Foundation in cooperation with six medical and pharmaceutical groups, have been formulated by an Advisory Committee (see below). Funding of the program was made possible by contributions from the Duke Foundation, Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation, and the Distribution Department, SKF.

SHOWN ABOVE ARE MEMBERS OF AN ADVISORY COMMITTEE WHO WILL SUPERVISE A 2-YEAR PROGRAM IN NORTH CAROLINA WITH TWO MAJOR OBJECTIVES: (1) TO CONDUCT FOR COMMUNITY PHARMACISTS A FORMAL PROGRAM OF ORIENTATION TO HOSPITAL PHARMACY SERVICE, AND (2) TO ACQUAINT HOSPITAL ADMINISTRATORS WITH THE LEGAL REQUIREMENTS INVOLVED IN OPERATING A HOSPITAL PHARMACY.

THE PROGRAM, WHICH IS EXPECTED TO GET UNDERWAY IN EARLY 1966, HAS BEEN FUNDED WITH A $50,000 CONTRIBUTION BY TWO N. C. FOUNDATIONS AND A PHARMACEUTICAL MANUFACTURER.

STANDING, LEFT TO RIGHT: H. C. MCALLISTER, SECRETARY-TREASURER, N. C. BOARD OF PHARMACY; W. J. SMITH (SECRETARY), EXECUTIVE SECRETARY, N. C. PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATION; AND JOHN T. DEES, CHAIRMAN, PHARMACY LIAISON COMMITTEE, MEDICAL SOCIETY OF THE STATE OF N. C.

How to get along without your drug wholesaler:

1. Add six times your present storage space immediately (you've got to deal in bigger quantities when you buy direct).
2. Make arrangements to receive and process about 25 times as many deliveries as you do now (you'll be dealing with at least that many more different manufacturers).
3. Set aside at least a day a week to write orders, make checks, pay bills, and keep track of the increased inventory.
4. Make up your mind to be less than the "complete" pharmacy (many hundreds of products cannot be bought direct).
5. Make sure you've got plenty of extra capital handy (you can forget all that easy credit you've been used to).

Seem a bit troublesome? Then let's take a look at the other side of the coin. Obviously, your wholesaler takes quite a load off your back. The services he renders are many and valuable. But every piece of business you take away from him makes it just that much harder for him to continue those services. So it's in your best interest to give him all the business you can. Isn't it?

Survey of Pharmacy Students' Practical Experience

In a continuing effort to improve the practical training program, the Committee on Pharmaceutical Education and Standards questioned the students in the School of Pharmacy about their practical experience for this past summer. In September, 1965, 307 students were registered in the school and 287 replied to the questionnaire.

Students registered with the Board of Pharmacy for experience credit totaled 151 whereas 136 were not registered and 20 did not answer the questionnaire. Reasons given for not being registered are: 70 attended summer school; 9 were able to obtain more money in other types of work; 19 said there was no pharmacy job available; 14 preferred another job for unknown reasons; and 24 had miscellaneous reasons for not obtaining experience credit.

In an effort to determine compensation for the work performed, inquiry was made into the hourly wages received before deductions. The interns were also asked if they considered this a fair wage. The accompanying table shows the hourly wages received according to classes and the numbers of students receiving that particular rate. It also shows the number who consider this a fair wage and those who do not consider it a fair wage.

In general, wages reflect educational background and amount of practical experience. A rising senior with credit for most of his required practical experience can make a more valuable contribution to the pharmacy's operation and thus receive a greater compensation; the beginning student with little or no practical experience can not make a comparable contribution to the operation and thus receives a lesser compensation. Most of the students were paid between $1.00 and $1.75 per hour; however, three students received no salary for their efforts.

A similar study made in the fall, 1964 indicated a change was needed in the notebook manual. A revision was prepared by the Committee and adopted for use by the Board of Pharmacy. The revised manual was first used in the summer, 1965. Specific projects were included in the revision related to the student's class year in school; daily write-ups of routine work were almost entirely eliminated.

The students were asked to rate the character of the notebook projects: An overwhelming majority, 126, said they were about right; 8 said they were elementary and 12 said they were too advanced. The degree of endorsement and acceptance of the revised notebook manual is most gratifying to the Committee.

Unfortunately too many students stated they did not have the necessary materials and/or the opportunity to complete each project in the notebook manual in a desirable manner. The necessary materials to which they referred are the various reference sources as a medical dictionary, pharmacology and toxicology manuals, chemical handbook, and contemporary pharmacy references. All pharmacies should have a modern library of standard and recognized references. This is an essential requirement not only in a pharmacy where an intern is trained but in any pharmacy where a good professional practice is conducted.

The year of internship training can be a valuable and beneficial adjustment to the pharmacy student's total educational experiences. It represents an excellent opportunity for the preceptor-pharmacist to orient the student to the practice of pharmacy; to help make the transition from college to practice easier and happier; to mold the student's future behavior and conduct as a practicing pharmacist. This is a great opportunity for the pharmacist to share the responsibility for instructing pharmacy students and it behooves all pharmacists to fulfill a professional obligation by participating in the training program.

The Committee plans to continue its work on the practical experience program by sponsoring regional seminars for preceptors. These will occur in the winter and spring based on the following or similar topics:

Intern's and Preceptor's Legal Obligations

Preceptor's Responsibility to the Intern
NCPA's Interest in Improving the Training Program

Relationship of the School of Pharmacy to the Training Program

The Function and Activities of the North Carolina Academy of Practical Instructors in Pharmacy

All pharmacists who have been or who will be engaged in training students are urged to attend when it is given in their area.

Greensboro Society of Pharmacists Honors Gilmer Buchanan

In recognition of his 37 years of continuous service as a medical service representative for Parke, Davis and Company, the October 28 program of The Greensboro Society and Pharmacists was devoted to honoring G. Gilmer Buchanan. Mr. Buchanan retired on June 30.

In addition to members of the Society and guests, six representatives of Parke-Davis were present for the occasion: Edward M. Burkett, Berl Hull, Frank Vessels, Gilbert Hartis, Joe Gillespie, district supervisor, and Fred Johnson, regional manager.

A certificate presented to Mr. Buchanan read, in part: "This expression of thanks for the many years of faithful and inviolate devotion to serving the pharmacists of our community in the many intangible and priceless ways. Your leadership, foresight, and wisdom have indelibly left their imprints in the annals of Pharmacy."

Al Mebane, III, read a poem which he had written in honor of

Good Old Buck

Good old Buck no longer makes his calls upon the store,

Good old Buck no longer takes his orders any more.

Good old Buck no longer lightly trips into the room

And with his wit and good old smile, rids
the air of gloom.

Good old Buck is gone, they say,
He's resting now, he's had his day.

A younger group of salesmen call,
But they ain't much like Buck at all.

Now Buck has, at last, been put out to pasture,

Could anyone deserve it more, I ask you?
His company's faithful servant ever,
A bore, uncultured, brother, never.

Good old Buck, a most happy soul,
At meetings he's present with his name on the roll.

With a poem he's ready, on most any matter,
What a line of bull, but some call it patter.

When Buck sells you something, you know you've been sold,

From the freshest new drugs, to remedies quite old.

With his price breakdown of 40-15-10 and 2
The cost was unknown, till the invoice got to you.

We'll miss Good old Buck and think of him often,

The rigors of work he managed to soften,
We wish him the best of all he desires,
And hope that his enthusiasm for life never tires."

BCP Society

Frank T. Akins, Jr. of Barefoot and Tatum Drugs, Inc., Asheville, was elected president of the Buncombe County Pharmaceutical Society on November 9.

The meeting, held in the Medical Library of Memorial Mission Hospital, was attended by 26 pharmacists, all now members of BCPS.

Other officers are Vice President, James W. Adams of Adams Professional Pharmacy; Treasurer, M. A. Scott of Skyland Drug Store, Skyland; and Secretary, James W. Harrison.

John Kluttz of Black Mountain, and J. C. McGee and W. T. Sisk, both of Asheville, were named to BCPS's executive board.

Beginning in January, BCPS will meet at 9 P.M. on the third Tuesday of each month in the Medical Library.

Cape Fear

NCPHA Secretary W. J. Smith was guest speaker at the November 17 meeting of the Cape Fear Pharmaceutical Society.

Held in Fayetteville at Hornes Restaurant, it was "Ladies Night" for the sectional pharmaceutical organization. About 40 members and their wives attended the meeting.

Mr. Smith discussed preliminary plans for the 1966 annual NCPHA meeting to be held in Asheville, and certain phases of the welfare pharmacy program and the soon-to-be-implemented medicare and nursing home programs.

Kickbacks on Prescriptions

(Editorial, The Sampsonian, Clinton, North Carolina)

This business of "kickbacks" to doctors from pharmacists who fill prescriptions has been going on for many years. There is nothing new about it. Although a majority of physicians probably look with disfavor on the practice, apparently there is little they can do to stop it in a legal fashion. About the extent of their efforts to halt this practice is a resolution passed now and then at some medical convention. And such a resolution has about as much real effect as blowing into the wind to stop a gale.

What brings the practice to mind is the sentencing of the wife of a Tyrell county commissioner to a prison term for conspiring to kidnap and rob a Columbia, N. C. physician.

The woman pleaded guilty. She gave as her reason for the crime the fact that the physician had demanded a greater "kickback" on drugs than he apparently had been receiving. The woman, who owned a drug store to which the physician sent some of his patients to have their medical prescriptions filled, said that as a result of the doctor's kickback demands, she conspired to rob and kidnap him in revenge.

Now comes the surprising facet of the whole dirty business. The doctor admitted his participation in the kickback scheme. But he defended his position by testifying that the reason he had increased his demand for a greater kickback was that the drug store owned by the woman "charged outrageous prices for drugs."

What the good doctor proposed to do was to help cure her of charging too high prices by contributing to the very thing he said he was against. That's about like a member of a fire department throwing gasoline onto a flaming building in order to help extinguish the fire.

How silly and ridiculous can you get?

Editor's Note: While we do not condone the practice mentioned in this editorial, which incidentally appeared in essentially the same form in other Eastern N. C. papers, we do not agree that kickbacks on prescriptions is widespread throughout North Carolina, as a casual reading of the editorial might imply. Both the Medical and Pharmaceutical Societies oppose practices of this nature, as outlined in their respective codes of ethics, with appropriate penalties for violation of the codes. In this particular instance, Pharmacy's Code could not be applied as the principal involved was not a pharmacist nor a member of the Pharmaceutical Association. Still, this situation is harmful to both professional groups and does nothing to elevate the public's appreciation for medicine and pharmacy.

Guest Speaker in High Point

W. J. Smith, Executive Secretary of the NCPhA, was guest speaker at the November 26 meeting of The High Point Exchange Club.

Meet with Mental Health Association

Members of the Committee on Mental Health of the NCPhA were guests at the December 2 board of directors meeting of the N. C. Mental Health Association, which was held in Raleigh.

In attendance at the meeting were Tom Burgiss of Sparta, chairman; Clyde Alexander of Rocky Mount, Bill Wells of Durham, and W. J. Smith of Chapel Hill.

Tentative plans are for the committee to meet in Chapel Hill in February.

Last year, 40,000 North Carolinians received treatment from the facilities of the Department of Mental Health. The 33 clinics and special centers for alcoholism and for emotionally disturbed children are expected to be increased during the coming year.

Pharmacists and Doctors Meet in Winston-Salem

A county "Congress on Pharmacy and Medicine" was held in Winston-Salem on November 9 under joint sponsorship of the Forsyth Pharmaceutical Society and the Forsyth Medical Society.

Dr. John R. Kernodle of Burlington discussed the objectives of the N. C. Association of Professions and related interprofessional problems. A detailed explanation of HR 2 (Drug Abuse Act) was presented by Rodley Ligon. NCPA Secretary W. J. Smith covered a number of subjects of mutual interest, with emphasis on the importance of refill instructions by the MD.

The pharmaceutical and medical groups agreed to set up a liaison committee to discuss mutual problems. The personnel of the committee will be announced in early 1966.

The program was arranged by Roger Sloop.

Plants Contributed to Institute

Sanford and Jane Price of Salemburg have contributed a number of Azaleas and Sasanquas to the Institute of Pharmacy. The plants were set out in early December in a small garden spot near The Institute.

The plants came from the Laurel Lake Gardens and Nursery of Salemburg, North Carolina, which is owned and operated by Mrs. Price's father.

A local nurseryman, who set out the plants contributed to The Institute, said they were the best he had seen in years. If interested in azaleas, camellias, sasanquas, hollies, magnolias or evergreens, we suggest a visit to the Laurel Lake Gardens, which is located 10 miles west of Clinton and 23 miles east of Fayetteville.

NCPHA Executive Committee Sets Plans for 1966

The Executive Committee of the NCPHA met in Chapel Hill on November 16 with seven of the eight members present: W. T. Boone, who presided, C. D. Blanton, James R. Creech, S. D. Griffin, Hoy A. Moose, W. S. Wolfe and W. J. Smith, Secretary.

The minutes of the August 18, 1965 meeting were approved; a financial report for January-October, 1965 was received; and employee personnel for 1966 were retained on same compensation basis as 1965.

The committee approved alterations to the attic of The Institute of Pharmacy as rental quarters for the State Board of Pharmacy, subject to acceptance by the Board.

President Boone and President-Elect Blanton reported on the 1965 annual meeting of the NARD, which they attended as voting delegates of the NCPHA.

The committee voted to contribute $100 to the West Virginia Pharmaceutical Association.

The NCPHA will sponsor a reception at the Institute of Pharmacy on a Sunday afternoon in honor of Dean Hager and family. The exact date will be set after Dean Hager and family are settled in Chapel Hill.

Secretary Smith reported 93 new members. The total for 1964 was 88.

Health Information Centers. North Carolina is 4th in number of Centers in operation. The cover of the November issue of THE CAROLINA JOURNAL OF PHARMACY will be devoted to the Center in operation in the Institute of Pharmacy.

Nursing Homes. Preliminary work underway with objective of a North Carolina survey on subject. Details expected by January 1.

Committee received report that the 2-year North Carolina Hospital Pharmacy Program had been funded to $50,000 by two foundations and a pharmaceutical manufacturer. Advisory Committee will begin its work in early November.

The NCPHA Committee on Mental Health has accepted an invitation to meet with the Board of Directors of the N. C. Mental Health Association in Raleigh on December 2. Tom Burgiss of Elkin is chairman of the committee.

Thirty-six members agreed to participate in the professional fee survey to be conducted by Dr. Michael D. Jacoff, Department of Pharmacy Administration, University of Rhode Island. Dr. Jacoff will present results of the survey at the 1966 annual meeting of the NCPHA.

The 1966 NCPHA Convention (Asheville, June 12-14) will be a "Family Style Convention" due to the above-average return of survey cards. Special programs will be arranged for the children. The wholesale druggists of the state are being encouraged to charter special buses for their customers who plan to attend the meeting.

Beginning in January, each issue of The Tar Heel Digest will include convention information. The Asheville Chamber of Commerce has supplied more than 10,000 color folders for distribution over the winter and spring months.

The Buncombe County Pharmaceutical Society was organized on November 9. There are 97 pharmacists in the county who will be given an opportunity to affiliate with the Society.

Workmen's Compensation Plan. Secretary Smith reported the plan was dropped after the Dodson Insurance Group notified the NCPHA that it was no longer in position to offer the plan to the NCPHA. The plan is now available to members of the N. C. Merchants Association.

Tentative plans have been made for the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development to entertain the officers and board of directors of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association. The group will tour The Research Triangle, Duke and Carolina, and spend the weekend at Pinehurst. No date has been set but it will be in January if present plans materialize.

"A bit of levity now and then is relished by the saddest men."

Except for Bowl Games, the football season is over and sports writers are busy selecting their All American teams.

My selection is different in that it includes line smashes of mots, punts of puns and plays on words.

Some of these schools may be unknown to you unless you browse around in Almanacs and library stacks or winter issues of the "Sporting News"—or are an alumnus. If your school is left out, just console yourself that maybe a player will make the team next year. There is plenty of good material coming up.

Well, here goes.

Commendation for Welfare

Mr. W. J. Smith, Executive Secretary
N. C. Pharmaceutical Association
Chapel Hill, North Carolina

Dear W. J.,

I read the copy of the letter of R. Eugene Brown, Commissioner, N. C. State Board of Public Welfare, to the pharmacists throughout the state.

It is at least the fifth or sixth printed letter of apology from him since January. R. Eugene Brown does not need to send apologetic letters every month. Never one time have I seen printed anything complimenting his staff for the fine work that they have already done.

I am proud to be a small part of this gigantic load that has been placed on the commissioner's back. Pharmacists should realize that at least seventy five percent of this business is additional business that otherwise would never come through the door and think of the public service image that it is creating for us. These old people through here are beginning to think as much of their pharmacist as they do of their doctor. And remember the little old lady with the cane that walks slowly in once a month to get her digitalis (that she used to hire a taxie and wait hours at the clinic to get) is going home and then telling all her sons and daughters and grandsons, etc. where to go to get their prescriptions filled at "the store that gives her her medicine."

We do not know how fortunate we are to have the opportunity to have something to improve our image that has slipped slowly over the years for various reasons.

Now is it not worth the expense to pharmacists to have to wait 90 to 120 days to get paid till his staff gets straight? It irks me to no end to hear pharmacists complaining about slow payment. It is a good investment. It is just like standing in an army chow line. You might have to wait a while but as sure as night and day, there will be food to eat when we get up to the line. You just have to hurry and wait. The only concern I have is to try to capture enough time in order to get the claims in on time, and was greatly relieved to find out through the local welfare department that if it is a few days after the tenth it is still o.k. So had we rather have a hundred or so dollars tied up (maybe a thousand or so) in the Public Welfare Program, or tied up in individual private accounts that we could not collect but a certain percent of anyway. They never have the money from the start. I believe every pharmacist that has a business sense would know how to answer that.

If we got in a bind because of having money tied up in the welfare program (which is doubtful) and we have to go to the bank and borrow some money, would we carry figures on our individual accounts (which the bank knows there is a definite percentage lost) or would you carry those accounts that always pay at par like the Forsyth Welfare Department dependent Children's account, or the Cancer Service account or whatever state or federal or city sponsored accounts you may have? The percentage lost there is nil. We ought to be thankful for small favors and pray to God and keep our complaining mouths closed.

R. Eugene Brown has also had a pleasant way of telling us we have made lots of mistakes. I noticed a certain claim that had not been paid that I had in for a longer time than the others and when I looked it up, discovered I had billed the program at least four times for thirty Myadec on a doctor's prescription. Now I know better than that, but I did not catch it till months later. I billed the lady's individual account and she was "glad to pay for one occasionally." Now I know to straighten out the mess I made will take time, especially since it was included along with five or six others on the same claim sheet.

Again I say this state welfare program should remind us of the Army's way of doing things. There is only one way to do it. Also us "retired" Army boys should appreciate what R. Eugene Brown goes through, for do you remember that in service no one appreciated what you did no matter how good it was done till you got so it was too much for you at one given time and everyone stomped you in the ground. Let's not stomp R. Eugene Brown and "his" staff. He has got a lot of pressure on him and he is doing the best he can and that is all a "feller" can do.

Let's get behind him and quit complaining and quit writing those complaint letters and if we are still not satisfied, with all our pharmaceutical experience, pricing, etc., we might switch from our present job and go down and join his staff at Raleigh.

Sincerely yours,

Stuart W. Rollins, Partner-Pharmacist

New SKF Policy to Aid in Keeping SKF Drugs in Legitimate Channels

Smith Kline & French Laboratories has arranged with the nation's principal salvage companies for the return of Smith Kline & French products damaged by fire or other mishap or acquired by salvage companies as a result of bankruptcies.

Smith Kline & French is the first pharmaceutical firm to make an arrangement of this kind.

The company said it adopted the policy so that possibly damaged SK&F products will not be distributed and also to help keep SK&F products from unintentionally getting into unauthorized drug distribution channels.

In the future, SK&F products among distressed merchandise, including partially-filled bottles, will be set apart by the salvage company and Smith Kline & French notified. After SK&F and the salvage company negotiate payment, the drugs will be sent to SK&F in Philadelphia where they will be destroyed.

Salvage companies which are co-operating with Smith Kline & French account for about 95 per cent of the salvage of drugs in this country.

Pharmacist Inaugurates Successful Poison Prevention Program

Roger Sloop, Bobbitt's College Pharmacy, Winston-Salem reports more than 200 prescriptions for 1 fl. ounce of Syrup of Ipecac have been dispensed since printed prescriptions were distributed to local pediatricians.

The Rx blanks carry this heading: For Prevention of Accidental Poisoning in Children, and the Sig reads as follows: To cause vomiting in case of accidental poisoning, give two teaspoonfuls immediately. If child has not vomited in fifteen minutes, repeat above dosage one time. (Do not give if child has taken lye, drano, kerosene, gasoline or furniture polish).

As one of a number of professional services to the public, no charge for the prescription is made by Bobbitt's College Pharmacy. Mr. Sloop reports reaction to the program, on the part of cooperating MDs and the public, to be extremely favorable.

- Winston-Salem—Mrs. W. H. Johnson

Asheville

The Western North Carolina Drug Club Auxiliary met for a coffee in the home of Mrs. George F. Bryan with Mrs. Charles A. Beaman as co-hostess.

Members brought donations of food for a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family.

Mrs. Philip Crouch reported on the fall convocation held in October in Chapel Hill. She also called attention to the 1966 meeting of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association to be held in Asheville in June.

Door prizes were awarded to Mrs. James Harrison and Mrs. W. E. Beezer.

Charlotte

The November meeting of the Charlotte Woman's Druggist Auxiliary, held at the Park Road S & W Cafeteria, was opened with a devotional by Mrs. C. H. Smith.

Mrs. John Morton, Program Chairman, introduced W. J. Smith of Chapel Hill, who spoke on "Changing Trends in Pharmacy."

Mrs. Tobie K. Steele, President, presided over the business session which featured committee reports. She also reported on the State Auxiliary Convocation held at Chapel Hill in October.

A gift was presented to Mrs. W. J. Smith, who had been invited to accompany her husband to the meeting.

Durham

Mrs. Zaek Lyon was hostess for the November meeting of the Durham Mortar-and-Pestle Club. Mrs. Frank Franklin of the Durham Drug Company gave a demonstration on the art of unique gift wrapping. She instructed the members in making bows and roses for packages.

Members also exchanged favorite Christmas recipies.

Mrs. Hunter Kelly, president, reported on the fall convocation held in Chapel Hill in October.

Mrs. Ralph Rogers suggested several Christmas projects and the club decided to work with public needy appeals. They will distribute gifts after the December 10th luncheon meeting at Blair House.

Greensboro

On November 23 the Greensboro Drug Club Auxiliary held a dinner dance at the King's Inn in Greensboro. A social hour preceded the buffet dinner. Dancing followed to the music of the Desert Knights.

Members and their guests were greeted by Mrs. D. W. Montgomery, President, and Mr. Montgomery; and Mrs. D. C. Bracker, Vice-President, and Mr. Bracker. Present, as a guest of the Greensboro Drug Club, was Dr. E. A. Brecht of Chapel Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Harold King, also of Chapel Hill, were invited as guests of the Auxiliary but were unable to attend. Mr. King is this year's recipient of the Virginia T. Hayes Scholarship given each year by the Greensboro Auxiliary.

Mrs. Bracker, Program Chairman, was in charge of arrangements for the dinner dance.

Raleigh

Mrs. Leonard Crumpler was hostess at the November luncheon meeting and bridge party at the Raleigh Country Club.

A discussion was held on the remodeling of the Institute of Pharmacy in Chapel Hill. Each club which has a donation of $20 per member receives a "Golden Decorator" Award.

It was noted that Fuquay and Knightdale were missed in the donation of the book, The Profession of Pharmacy.

Rowan-Davie

The Rowan-Davie Drug Auxiliary held its November luncheon at the Holiday Inn Restaurant. Mrs. Justin Uffinger, vice-president, presided. Mrs. Robert H. Milton gave the devotions on the Thanksgiving theme. After reading Psalms 96, she reminded us to THINK about our creation—then THANK God by rededication.

Mrs. Uffinger thanked the hostesses, Mrs. Robert Hall, Mrs. Robert Rauch, Mrs. Vance McGugan, and Mrs. Roy Collette.

The secretary read correspondence from Mrs. W. J. Smith and Mrs. Charles Blanton. Mrs. Robert Brunson gave the treasurer's report.

The speaker, Mrs. Cloma Dooley, was introduced by Mrs. Ed Church. Mrs. Dooley spoke on the subject, "A Coat of Paint Does Wonders," and demonstrated the correct methods of applying cosmetics.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Bobby Lindsay.

Winston-Salem

The November meeting of the Winston-Salem Apothecary Club was held at the home of Mrs. Harley Smith, with Mrs. John Andrews and Mrs. G. C. Hartis, Jr. serving as co-hostesses.

The door prize was awarded to a new member, Mrs. Charles E. O'Linn.

Discussion was held concerning the April Luncheon and Fashion Show. It was decided to extend an invitation to the local Medical and Dental Auxiliaries to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Chapman reported on the Convocation held at Chapel Hill which four members of the Apothecary Club attended. The state project for this year will be redecorating the Institute of Pharmacy to which our club plans to contribute $100.00. The State Association also suggests that we follow up on last year's project and place the book, The Profession of Pharmacy, in the Junior High Schools of Forsyth County. There was some discussion as to whether this book is suitable for the Junior High level so Mrs. Paul Kirkham and Mrs. Paul Barber were appointed to investigate this.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, Mr. Denver H. Lennon showed a film, "With Care and Concern" describing the research, including detection and development processes, entailed in bringing new drugs on the market.

UNC PHARMACY SCHOOL NOTES

If Interested in Employing a '66 Graduate of the School of Pharmacy

The graduating class at the School of Pharmacy totals 61.

Of this number, 27 will qualify for the practical examination in September, 1966 and hence will be eligible for license to practice pharmacy in North Carolina at that time.

An additional 30 members of the '66 Class will complete their 12-months practical experience by March, 1967.

If interested in employing a member of the '66 graduating class, write

Mr. Larry Baber
116 Polk Street
Chapel Hill, N. C.

Mr. Baber is a member of the Class. He is compiling general information about each member of the XX Class and has agreed to act as an agent in bringing prospective employer and employee together.

Where personal conferences are desired, either in Chapel Hill or elsewhere, Mr. Baber will assist in setting up a mutually acceptable date for both parties.

NCPHA-APhA Student Branch

Four officers of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association—President W. T. Boone of Ahoskie, President-Elect C. D. Blanton, Jr. of Kings Mountain, and Vice-Presidents S. D. Griffin, Jr. of Burlington and James Creech of Smithfield—were guest speakers at the November 16 meeting of the Student Branch of the NCPHA and APhA.

President Boone emphasized the growing trend towards professional pharmacies. Mr. Blanton urged the students to take an active part in community life; to be a working member of their church, their civic club, and business and professional organizations.

Mr. Griffin discussed the rapid rise of "Third Party Rx Payment Plans" (welfare, insurance, government) and the necessity of working with such groups and agencies in order that the professional and economic rights of pharmacists be protected.

"Interest" was the key topic of Mr. Creech's remarks—interest on the part of the student and future pharmacist in his school, the pharmacy where employed, and his community.

Fake Pharmacy Students Push Magazine Subscriptions

Magazine salesmen claiming to be working their way through pharmacy school are in circulation once again. Reports of such activity have come in from Gaston County and elsewhere.

Pharmacy students are at Chapel Hill, not scattered over the state selling subscriptions to magazines. If such an alleged student comes to your attention, ask for verification of his student identification; also report to either the School of Pharmacy or the NCPHA.

Most towns now require such solicitors to register their names and addresses prior to offering their services/merchandise. No magazine soliciting pharmacy student group is so registered in North Carolina.

DEATHS

CLYDE EUBANKS

Clyde Eubanks, Chapel Hill pharmacist, died November 23 in N. C. Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Eubanks, whose professional career dated back to 1892, was the oldest pharmacist in the state at the time of his death—94 years. He was known by hundreds of North Carolina pharmacists and thousands of University alumni, who fondly remember the character of the man and the apothecary-type operation he was associated with in Chapel Hill.

Mr. Eubanks' professional, business and religious record is well known. His service included President of the NCPHA, The Bank of Chapel Hill (now N. C. National) and the University Methodist Church in numerous capacities.

The survivors include a son, Paul; two sisters and 23 nieces and nephews. Burial was in the Old Chapel Hill Cemetery.

CHAPEL HILL INSTITUTION

Clyde Eubanks qualified in every respect as a Chapel Hill institution. He had been in business here for nearly three-quarters of a century and his drug store was a landmark. He was known far beyond his business and social circles. And, as it is with all good institutions, he was respected.

In some ways, he made a long-range lie out of that old saw that goes "As the twig is bent . . ." When he first arrived in Chapel Hill in 1892, from his birthplace in Chat-ham County, the nation was in a depression. Times were hard and money was scarce. The University had 400 students, a faculty of 25, and an annual appropriation from the State of $20,000.

"There wasn't a single brick building on Franklin Street then," Mr. Eubanks recalled a year or so ago. Chapel Hill didn't even have coal. Woodmen cut cordwood and sold it to the students, who stacked it in their rooms. "They never left their wood outside," Mr. Eubanks said. "If they did, it evaporated."

Those hard times profoundly influenced young Clyde Eubanks. They instilled in him a permanent belief in hard work, thrift, and in exhausting all efforts to provide for yourself before turning to others for help. The depression of the 1890's taught him the value of a dollar, and for the rest of his life he hated to see anybody waste money, on anything.

He had a pretty good education himself, having attended a pharmacy school in Raleigh and classes at the University here, and although he had chosen a university town as his own, he set more store by hard work and common sense than formal education. He was a self-made man and he looked for others to do the same. Through the years in Chapel Hill he helped many people, but invariably they were always people who were honestly trying to help themselves.

His drug store, in the fifty years it was located in the middle of the business district, reflected Clyde Eubanks's personality. Nobody had any doubts that it was a drug store. There were no True Confessions on the rack, milk shakes and gimeracks. There were just pharmaceuticals, some of them in old glass-stoppered bottles arrayed on fine old oak shelves, a big upright scale where you could weigh free, and a bench in front that served alternately as old Doc Brack Lloyd's office and as a gathering place for those who wanted to talk politics or whatever.

Mr. Eubanks was not a garrulous man himself and his interest in politics was decently restrained. Before World War I, he served for a while on the Town Board of Aldermen, and he helped form the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Merchants Association. But, without doubt, more political careers were launched and buried, more projects birthed and nursed in his drug store than any other place in Town.

In recent years, a change became apparent in Clyde Eubanks that seemed somehow at odds with the man the depression of the 1890's had made. It was this change, perhaps, that caused one of his old friends to describe him as "a peculiar mixture of a man." He still clung to all of the old verities that he had always lived by—honesty, hard work, thrift, self-help—and, whether through thrift or conviction that the old things were often better than the new, he still drove a vintage Ford. But there had been a fine mellowing. He was much more tolerant of weaknesses in others, more understanding of their failures and foibles, and there was a gentleness about him that could not be explained simply as age. The austerity of his younger years had been replaced by a warm kindness that was plain and unmistakable. You could see it in his face, especially when Carolina students from years long past dropped by his drug store to pay their respects, as hundreds of them did.

Clyde Eubanks undoubtedly never thought of himself as a Chapel Hill institution and he would have had small truck with those who tried to convince him of it. And that, too, is one of the many reasons why he was.
